COMMON COUNCIL'S HEAD, R. I. TOLLES

City Fathers Organize for 1904, and Transact Routine Business at First Meeting.

A FEW CHANGES MADE

GLOAK SUCCEEDS TOLLES AS CHAIRMAN OF STREET COMMITTEE.

Garriques Head of Alms Committee and Wilson Chairman of Auditing Committee—Mayor's Message to be Read Monday Night.

The Common Council for 1904 met last night for organization, all of the members being present except Mr. Garrigues. Only such business as was absolutely necessary was transacted and the session was a short one. Ralph I. Tolles was elected president, succeeding James F. Buckle, who retired with the old Council.

Mr. Lee gave notice that at the next meeting he would move that the rules for 1903 be adopted for the coming year. The bonds of Constables Amos Moffett and Peter Weaver were received and filed. The petitions referred from the old to the new Council were turned over to the proper committees to be reported upon later.

Mr. Gloak, the new chairman of the streets and sewer committee, offered a resolution appropriating $2,000 for the street work until regular appropriation is made. Mr. Daniel offered a resolution designating The Daily Press and the Courier-News as the official newspapers of the city for the coming year. Jacob Dunham was reappointed janitor for the coming year at the usual salary, and George B. Wean was also reappointed stenographer and copyist for the year at a salary of $400.

Accompanying the annual report of the Board of Health, which will be called up at the next meeting, was a communication from Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, secretary, stating that the trap in the police headquarters is not sanitary and requesting that it be made so. The matter was referred to the police committee with power.

President Tolles announced the following as the standing committees for the year:

Finance—Leslie M. Daniel, Clarence L. Murphy, William S. Bullock, J. Stephen Higham, William A. Garrigues.

Streets and sewers—William L. Gloak, J. Stephen Higham, Robert L. Lee, Theodore D. Wilson, William S. Tyler.

Fire and buildings—Robert L. Lee, William S. Bullock, Frank DeW. Randolph, William A. Garrigues, Leslie M. Daniel.

Police—Frank DeW. Randolph, William L. Gloak, Clarence L. Murphy.

Lights and trees—Clarence L. Murphy, J. Stephen Higham, William L. Gloak.

Alms—William A. Garrigues, William S. Bullock, Theodore D. Wilson.

License—William S. Tyler, Frank DeW. Randolph, Robert L. Lee.

Auditing—Theodore D. Wilson, William S. Tyler, Leslie M. Daniel.

It will be seen that no changes are made in the chairmanship of the finance, fire and buildings, police, lights and trees and license committees. William L. Gloak succeeds Mr. Tolles as chairman of the streets and sewer committee and William A. Garrigues takes Mr. Gloak's place as chairman of the alms committee, while Theodore D. Wilson is chairman of the auditing committee.

There being no further business the Council adjourned to meet Monday night, when it is expected that the mayor's message will be received and the appointments made.

Councilman Tyler did not fare well in the make-up of the committees.

Few Birthdays.

There is one boy in North Plainfield who celebrated the arrival of 1904 with more vim than his fellows Franklin Lowe, of 67 Fairview avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. The annual Christmas party under the auspices of the Junior department of the First Baptist church Sunday-school, Thursday afternoon, closed the Christmas festivities at this church. The programme opened with the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers." Helen Meyers gave a recitation and Hazel Marsh a piano solo. Ten girls sang a Christmas carol, the whole department joining in the chorus. A recitation given by Helen Pierce and the singing of a Christmas carol preceded the reading of a story, "Why the Chimes Ring," by Miss Cairns. DISCOURAGED MAN ENDED HIS OWN LIFE

James Ray, a Machinist, Took Carbolic Acid and Died in An Hour.

UNABLE TO GET WORK

STOMACH PUMP USED, BUT MAN DID NOT RALLY.

Brooded for Long Time Over His Inability to Get Employment—Machinest by Trade—Left Relatives in Ireland.

By drinking carbolic acid in his tea because he could not get work, James Ray, who boarded at the house of Eden Boice, of Central avenue and West Third street, killed himself New Year's eve. At 6 o'clock in the evening Ray bought a bottle of carbolic acid at one drug store and rough-on-rats at another. When he reached home, he asked for a cup of tea and poured into it the acid, explaining, when questioned, that it was whiskey, and that he wanted something for a bracer to warm his stomach. By 7 o'clock the man was dead in spite of the fact that Dr. Albert Pittis was quickly on the spot and operating over him with a stomach pump. Ray did not seem to suffer excessive pain, apparently escaping the extreme agony which usually accompanies the death struggles of those who murder themselves by drinking carbolic acid.

Ray was sixty-eight years of age and came to this country from Ireland when sixteen years old. He was a machinist, and came to this city twenty years ago from Connecticut. He was employed first at Potter's Press Works and later at Walter Scott's Press Works, which place he left about three months ago on account of trouble in his leg. Recovering, he returned and asked for a position but on account of his age, he is said to have been refused. Over this Ray brooded until he decided that death was the best solution to his troubles. Ray had boarded at the house of Eden Boice for the past seventeen years. He had been drinking heavily of late.

The dead man leaves no relatives in this country, though he is said to have two brothers in Ireland. The funeral will take place from Coles's undertaking rooms probably tomorrow afternoon.

ILLUMINATED ASBURY PARK.

Commissioners Plan to Have Over 3,000 Lights on Beach Front.

According to the present plans of the beach commissioners Asbury Park's beach front next season will be a veritable fairyland from the standpoint of illumination. Already much work has been done toward bringing this about and the present estimate of the board places the number of lights to be in service on ordinary occasions as 3,357 incandescents and 65 arcs. Twenty of the latter will be what is known as incandescent arcs. In all probability this number will be largely increased, especially the incandescents, as no provision is made for pier lighting for illuminating a possible structure at Eighth avenue.

NEW YEAR'S HANDICAP.

Exclamation Led the Field at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 2.—C. R. Ellison's Exclamation, a cast-off from Captain S. S. Brown's string, scored decisively in the New Year handicap, worth $1,150 to the winner. Rainland was a strong favorite, with the winner second choice. Aggie Lewis and Wreath of Ivy set too hot a pace for Exclamation, and he was outrun for the first half mile. Turning into the stretch, he forged to the front and despite considerable interference won out very handily by two lengths from Aggie Lewis, who outgamed Wreath of Ivy. Bard of Avon was run up to $800 and bought in. Any Day, Hands Across, Rainland and Edward Hale were the beaten favorites.

First Race—Docile won, Short Cake second and Any Day third.

Second Race—Tioga won, Sly Boots second and Begone third.

Third Race — Morning Star won, Frank Bell second and Hands Across third.

Fourth Race—Exclamation won, Aggie Lewis second and Wreath of Ivy third.

Fifth Race—Bard of Avon won, Ginspray second and Felix Bard third.

Sixth Race—Sabot won, Ethel Wheat second and Edward Hale third.

A Night of Knockouts.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 2.—Seven hundred members of the Eureka Athletic and Social club witnessed five knockouts here. The star event was between "Young Peter Jackson" of this city and "Cyclone" Bill Larry of Philadelphia, both colored. It was a fierce battle, and Jackson put Larry to sleep in five rounds. Jimmie Farren knocked out Leon Croney in two rounds. The bout was for the bantam weight championship of the state. Ed Hammond, colored, sent Young Washington, colored, to dreamland in the first round. He then took on Al Washington and sent him to the rosin covered floor in three rounds. Kid Reason, colored, knocked out Kid Smith, colored, in the third round.

Champion Travis Won Again.

PINEHURST, N. C., Jan. 2.—Travis, the amateur champion, was the only one of the favorites who came through the semifinal thirty-six hole match play round in the inauguration tournament a winner. John Moller, Jr., of Lakewood lost to W. C. Fownes, Jr., of the Highland Golf club of Pittsburg in the semifinals for the first cup, and John M. Ward of the Fox Hills club lost in the semifinals of the first consolation cup to O. McCammon of the Chevy Chase club of Washington. Travis and Fownes play the finals for the first cup today. C. B. Fownes of the Highland club is the runner up to McCammon in the first consolation cup.

Racing at Ingleside.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—In the presence of a record breaking crowd Proper won the New Year handicap by a nose from Fossil at Ingleside. The event was the feature of a good card, and a field of nine faced the barrier, with the Jennings pair, Proper and Dainty, heavily played favorites, Oarsman being the second choice. Fossil led until the last jump, when Proper, who had been second all the way, got his nose in front. Oarsman was a close third. The handicap had a value of $3,430, of which $2,770 went to the winner.

Good Sport at Ascot.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 2.—About 6,000 persons attended the races at Ascot. The feature of the card was the Pasadena handicap at a mile and a furlong, worth a total of $1,180. The finish in this race between Haviland and Bragg was one of the most exciting seen here. The two horses ran the last sixteenth without an advantage of six inches, and Haviland barely was able to win by inches.

Fredericks Got the Decision.

PORT HURON, Mich., Jan. 2.—Kid Fredericks of Buffalo got the decision over Cy Flynn of Buffalo in a fifteen round bout before the Port Huron Athletic club here. The men fought at 138 pounds.

AHLMANN'S DEFAULT

Bonds of Staten Island Bank Are Being Searched For.

MISSING SECURITIES BROUGHT DEATH

Cashier Who Killed Himself In New York Charged With Defalcation to the Extent of $180,000—He Was Highly Esteemed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—In an effort to solve some of the mystery surrounding the suicide of Otto Ahlmann at the Albemarle hotel officials of the Bank of Staten Island, which was owned by the dead man, will today begin a search for Mr. Ahlmann's safe deposit box. It is believed that some papers may be found there that will shed light on what he did with the bank funds he is charged with stealing.

A. C. Judson, state bank examiner, and his two assistants worked all morning over the books of the wrecked bank, several of the officials aiding them.

"I have found the books of the bank to be in excellent condition," Mr. Judson said. "The only irregularity so far discovered is that bonds worth $180,000 which were in Mr. Ahlmann's possession have not been found. It is possible that some of these may be found when Mr. Ahlmann's safe deposit box has been found, but I doubt it.

"The fact that he killed himself when a demand was made for the securities makes it apparent he could not produce them. The bonds were all high class and could have been turned into money at any time. We have not yet learned when the bonds were sold or to whom, but efforts will be made to have light shed on the subject."

The alleged defalcation comes as a great shock to the people of Staten Island, as the large business done by the bank was principally attributed to the confidence which depositors placed in the integrity and uprightness of the cashier.

Besides the financial trouble in which it is supposed Mr. Ahlmann found himself a further reason is advanced as a possible motive for his having taken his life. For some time he had been paying devoted attention to one of Staten Island's wealthiest and most beautiful young women, but his love was not returned.

No banking institution in Staten Island was rated higher than "Otto Ahlmann's bank," and no man in the island was more highly respected or implicitly trusted. He was fifty-four years old, a bachelor, a native of Frankfort, Germany, where he has many wealthy relatives; a devotee of outdoor sports, particularly cross country riding. He was exceedingly conservative and reserved in all his affairs, both business and social. He lived at the Richmond County Country club at Dongan Hills and mingled in the most exclusive social circles of Staten Island.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 2.—William J. Bryan will fight the attempt of Mrs. Grace Imogene Bennett, widow of Philo S. Bennett, to have him removed as executor of Mr. Bennett's estate and has entered a demurrer to her complaint. Bryan, his wife, to have construed those portions of the will vesting in them as trustees the distribution of certain trust funds. He seeks advice and protection of the court because of previous litigation.

Wrecks on Newfoundland Coast.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Jan. 2.—The schooner Clara Mason, laden with codfish, bound for Europe, was driven ashore at Bonavista during a gale and became a total wreck. The crew took to the rigging when the vessel struck and remained there for several hours before they were rescued. They were severely frostbitten. A quantity of wreckage has drifted ashore near Cape Bacalieu, and it is feared that another and worse marine disaster has occurred.

Russia's Official Denial.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 2.—The foreign office here has officially stated that nothing has been done in connection with a reply to Japan. He says an answer to these proposals has not yet been made.

PLAYHOUSES CLOSED

Mayor Harrison's Firm Stand For Asbestus Curtains.

NINETEEN THEATERS ARE UNDER BAN

Chief of Police Causes Arrest of Twelve Iroquois Employees, the Charge Against Them Being Manslaughter.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Mayor Carter H. Harrison ordered Building Commissioner Williams and Chief of Police O'Neill to inspect all city theaters and ascertain whether they were protected by an asbestus curtain or not, and on their report he has closed nineteen theaters, some of them being among the leading and most popular playhouses of the city.

The act of the mayor was based on one single violation of the ordinances which are intended to protect the patrons of the theaters from just such an occurrence as that which cost so many lives. This was that every one of these places had omitted to supply an asbestus curtain. The theaters ordered closed are:

Howard's, Sam T. Jacks', Marlowe, New American, Olympic, Academy of Music, Alhambra, Avenue, Bijou, Chicago Opera House, Columbus Stock, Thirty-first Street, Criterion, Fiegenbaum's, Milwaukee Avenue, Garrick and Glickman's.

In addition to these the London Globe museum and the Clark Street museum were also compelled to close their doors.

The Chicago Opera House and the Olympic theater are vaudeville houses of the highest class and probably do as much business in point of numbers as any of the theaters in the city at single performances. They give, however, a matinee every day in the week, and it is seldom that seats can be obtained for any performance at the time of opening. In addition to this they have been accustomed to selling large numbers of tickets for standing room, and as a general thing more people are within these places of amusement at an average performance than can be found at any other playhouse in the city.

The Garrick theater, which was ordered closed, is a small playhouse on the northwest side of the city and should not be confounded with the larger theater of the same name situated on Randolph street, one block west of the Iroquois.

The inspection ordered by the mayor was carried out by Building Commissioner Williams and Chief of Police O'Neill. The scope of the investigation included no other feature than asbestus curtains. The mayor instructed Commissioner Williams to report to him promptly at the conclusion of his investigation, declaring that it was his intention that no theater should be allowed to open its doors in Chicago hereafter unless it was provided with an asbestus curtain of standard quality that would work at all times and under all conditions.

"It may not be possible," said Mayor Harrison, "to prevent loss of life when audiences rush for the doorways, but I have determined to see that every precaution is taken to prevent such occurrences as will alarm the people and start them on a rush for the exits. It is all very well to say that the great loss of life in the Iroquois theater was due to the fact that the people lost their heads and crowded into the doorways and aisles like maniacs, but the fact remains, and it cannot be denied, that there would have been no panic if the apparatus in this theater, which, judged by all ordinary standards, was the best equipped playhouse in the city, had been in proper working condition. There is no getting beyond that fact. From all the evidence now in hand it is clear that if the asbestus curtain in this theater had been in the condition it should have been there would have been no loss of life, comparatively speaking."

The report of Building Commissioner Williams showed that the Academy of Music, with a seating capacity of 2,000, had a curtain of burlap. The Alhambra, with a seating capacity of 2,300; the Avenue, 600; the Bijou, 1,300; Clark Street museum, 270; Criterion, 1,400; Fiegenbaum's, 400; Howard's, 900; Marlowe, 1,300, and New American, 1,400, all had curtains of linen. The curtain in the Chicago Opera House was of burlap, covered with fireproof paint. In the Columbus Stock theater and in Sam T. Jack's it was of canvas. The Olympic theater, with a seating capacity of about 1,600 people, has a curtain of canvas.

"There were other glaring defects," said Building Commissioner Williams, "which were noticed in some of the houses, but we were not paying particular attention to them, although I noted them, and the theatrical managers will be compelled to remedy them as soon as possible."

Such a day of mourning Chicago never before witnessed. In every portion of the city almost it seemed as though there were funerals going or undertaker wagons arriving with dead who were being brought to their homes for the last time.

Twelve persons, employees of the theater, have been arrested by order of Chief of Police O'Neill. The charge against them is at present that of being accessory to manslaughter. They will be held pending the verdict of the coroner's jury.

Seven of the men arrested are: William Carlton, stage manager; Edward Cummings, stage carpenter; Frank Jandraw, R. M. Cummings, E. Engle, Thomas McQueen and S. J. Masoni.

The last five are stage hands and scene shifters.

Among the other stage attaches arrested was William McMullen, the operator of the light which started the fire. Wilson Kerr, a flyman at the theater, was also placed in a cell.

Fifteen members of the double octet which takes part in the song "In the Pale Moonlight" have been placed under arrest by the police, Miss Romaine being the sole one who has so far eluded the detectives. They are wanted as witnesses, there being no other charge against them.

LOW SAYS FAREWELL.

Hundreds Throng City Hall to Greet Mayor McClellan.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Mayor Low's administration of New York city's civic affairs has come to an end, and after saying farewell to the city hall and its inmates he left his office and proceeded through the corridors of the old building, reduced in size by one-half by the elaborate display of holiday greens and palms, carrying with him the much worn pigskin handbag which

This bag was filled to the bursting point with personal papers and books which he was transferring from his private desk to his home.

Throughout the day the scene in the public corridors and private offices of the building was one of confusion and anxious excitement. Hundreds of Tammany braves thronged the corridors waiting for Mayor Elect McClellan and discussing the changes that Tammany's victory has brought.

KAISER'S GOOD WISHES.

State Silver Service Will Be Sent to the St. Louis Exposition.

BERLIN, Jan. 2.—Emperor William informed Ambassador Tower at the time the ambassador was offering his New Year's congratulations that he had telegraphed to President Roosevelt his sorrow over the Chicago disaster. Both the emperor and empress supplemented the cabled condolences by personal expressions to the ambassador.

The emperor also told Mr. Tower that, besides the loan of works of art from the palaces, he intended to send to the St. Louis exposition the great silver service used on state occasions which was presented to his majesty on his accession to the throne by the cities of Germany.

Emperor William is more interested in the success of the St. Louis exposition, Mr. Tower says, than any public man in Europe with whom the ambassador has talked on the subject.

The emperor was cheerful and lively at the reception and spoke easily and naturally. Mr. Tower thought he looked better than when he was at Kiel in June, having had a long period of rest and careful living.

Emperor William has sent President Roosevelt his best wishes for the happiness and prosperity of the American people.

The conversation, which lasted twenty minutes, took place in the marine room of the palace, where the Russian, French, Austrian, Italian, British and Spanish ambassadors also met the emperor, who came to them after he had received the congratulations of the cabinet ministers, generals and others of rank.

Archbishop Anti-American.

ROME, Jan. 2.—The appointment of Mgr. Nozaleda, former archbishop of Manila, as archbishop of Valencia is widely commented on. The new position by tradition entitles Mgr. Nozaleda to the red hat, and if this honor is bestowed upon him the Sacred college will have a member whose anti-American sentiment is well known.

All Broke Up

It's a "bad break" to buy anything but reliable clothing—cheap overcoats go to pieces along with your self-respect.

Sometimes, though, it is hard to tell the gold from the dross.

But there's one sure way. Buy a Watson overcoat—you'll find no "wolf in sheep's clothing" about it—no shoddy masquerading as wool.

And Watson overcoats are as genuinely good in fit and style as in fabric.

The price won't "break" you—$10 to $35.

Our clothing is kept fresh and trim—on hangers.

Some of our overcoat sizes have been "broken"—record-breaking sales have done it.

And we've "broken" the prices to close out the e lines.

A STUBBORN BLAZE.

Murray Hill Hotel Fire Caused Stampede of Guests.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—A stubborn fire on the top floors of the northeast corner of the Murray Hill hotel, in Park avenue between Fortieth and Forty-first streets, caused that portion of the hotel to be emptied of guests and created a panic.

The excellent precautions that had been taken against just such a calamity and the judicious handling of the frightened guests by the employees and the firemen prevented dangerous disorder and possible loss of life.

A woman suffering from pneumonia was carried out through the smoke. Mrs. Le Clair Jacques, wife of the son of Proprietor W. L. Jacques, ran through the smoke with her three-year-old boy wrapped in blankets and got him safely to a room in another part of the building.

The fire started in room No. 685, occupied by a guest whose name is kept secret by the hotel people. The apartments of Mr. Jacques and his son are in suits near this room. The flames spread to their suits and gutted them. Then the fire spread to the upper floors and out through the roof.

Two hundred men and women were in the dining room when the first engines arrived. They were assured that the fire was in the Grand Union hotel. But a few minutes later, when the water from above and the dense black smoke commenced to pour into the dining room, several women, who had first seen it, screamed, and there was a panic.

In the mad rush for the door it appeared that many must be crushed, but the head waiter caught and held those who tried to pass him, and in that way he and the waiters prevented the jamming at the door. Amid much screaming and the greatest excitement all got out.

CONFESSED MURDER.

Young Burglar Confesses to Murder During Robbery of Store.

DENVER, Jan. 2.—Fred Arnold, eighteen years old, has confessed to complicity in the murder of Mrs. Youngblood and the probable fatal shooting of her son Robert while attempting to rob the little grocery store kept by Mrs. Youngblood and her husband in Valverde, a suburb of Denver. Arnold's confession implicated Newton Andrews, aged twenty, and Charles Peters, twenty-four years of age, the former of whom is said to have fired the fatal shots. Both are under arrest.

The young men drove to the Youngblood store and gained admission by asking permission to use the telephone. They tried to hold up the elder Youngblood; but, although sixty-four years of age, he resisted until stunned by a blow on the head from a revolver. His wife and son, who came to his rescue, were shot down, the former dying almost instantly and the latter receiving a probably fatal wound in the head. He has a wife and four children.

Arnold has confessed that two men named Andrews and Newton and himself were concerned in the crime. Arnold declared that the shooting was done by Andrews. The prisoners are young men formerly employed in the cotton mills which were closed several weeks ago.

Rockefeller Extends Time Limit.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 2.—John D. Rockefeller has extended the time in which friends of the University of Nebraska may take advantage of his offer to donate $67,000 for the construction of a $100,000 building for the university. The original time limit has been reached, but on account of local opposition to the gift the university has thus far been unable to raise the $33,000 conditioned in Mr. Rockefeller's offer. The extension of time is indefinite, and the university authorities are hopeful of being able to meet the requirements.

Ex-Senator Cannon, who publishes a newspaper in Utah, in a recent issue charged that Mr. Smoot was here to represent the Mormon church. Mr. Cannon is himself a Mormon, but is believed to be hostile to Mr. Smoot, his successful rival in the contest for senator.

Bethlehem Depot Burned.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Jan. 2.—Fire has gutted and badly damaged the large Union depot of the Lehigh Valley and the Philadelphia and Reading railroads. The United States Express company removed safely all valuable packages and over $200,000 in money to the Wilbur bank. The railroad officials decline to furnish an estimate of the damage, but it will amount to many thousand dollars.

PANAMA NOW QUIET

Colombia Awaits Return of General Reyes.

NAVAL AUTHORITIES KEEPING WATCH

Disturbed Condition of the Country Is a Sufficient Reason For Any Movement of the Bogota Troops.

PANAMA, Jan. 2.—The situation on this side of the isthmus is quiet and satisfactory to the naval authorities.

Reports from Darien do not give any evidence of Colombian activity or the presence of Colombians in Panamanian territory. Darien miners who came here a fortnight ago have returned there to resume work.

The thirty American marines and bluejackets who remain at Yaviza have artillery and two armed launches with which they are patrolling the rivers. Panamanian soldiers continue scouting from Yaviza through the Darien district. The United States cruiser Boston is in San Miguel bay supporting the Yaviza outpost. The Wyoming is indulging in target practice, and the Concord and Marblehead are both at Panama.

The Yaviza and Real Santa Maria outposts were materially reduced because there was no necessity to keep the large forces there, as they are simply observation outposts, and thirty men can do the work as well as 200.

Persons best informed concerning the military situation along the Darien frontier do not expect any Colombian aggression for the present. They are of the opinion that the situation is likely to remain as it is at present until the canal treaty is approved by the congress of the United States or until General Reyes returns from Washington. This opinion prevails, notwithstanding reports of concentration of Colombian troops at Barranquilla and the fact that Colombia doubtless is moving troops toward the Atrato river.

The disturbed internal conditions of Colombia are thought to give a sufficient reason for these movements of Colombian troops, but the naval authorities are in nowise remitting their activity or preparedness.

President Zelaya of Nicaragua has cabled the junta saying that it gave him pleasure to recognize Panama upon New Year's day. The recognition by Nicaragua has caused much satisfaction.

False Report of Sea Fight.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Assistant Secretary Darling of the navy department said that he had received no news whatever with reference to the rumored sinking of a Colombian vessel by an American warship and that he believed the rumor was without foundation in fact.

Fire Destroyed Two Blocks.

ANSONIA, Conn., Jan. 2.—Two business blocks in the center of the city have been destroyed by fire, involving a loss estimated at $75,000. The entire fire department was called out to cope with the blaze, which threatened at one time to sweep the entire business section. The burned buildings were a handsome block owned by Herman Rosenthal and a smaller block owned by George Hotchkiss. The loss on the Rosenthal block is about $50,000. Fire was discovered in the jewelry store of H. Hirsch in the Rosenthal building, and before the firemen had arrived the whole front of the store had been blown across the street by an explosion, apparently of gas. The blaze enveloped the block and was not checked until the Rosenthal block and the Hotchkiss building just south of it had been destroyed. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Commissioners Found Not Guilty.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 2.—Former License Commissioners Patrick P. Murphy and J. T. Lodge of Chicopee have been found not guilty of conspiring to solicit bribes from liquor dealers and others in 1902 and 1903. The trial extended over three days, three Chicopee liquor dealers testifying that they paid bribes to the commissioners and the commissioners in turn denying the charge completely.

Oilfields Purchased.

MARIETTA, O., Jan. 2.—The South Penn Oil company, composed of Pittsburg capitalists, has purchased the oil leases and property of the United States Oil Well company, the consideration being $650,000. The leases are located in the Moores Junction, Scio and Metamoris fields in Ohio and St. Mary's and Salem fields in West Virginia and have a daily production of 530 barrels.

Artist Prisoner Strangled Himself.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 2.—T. Russell Griffith, a portrait artist, has committed suicide in his cell in the county jail. He first tried to sever the arteries in his wrists and throat with a key. Failing in this, he picked a quantity of wool from his blankets, with which he plugged up his nostrils, and then he stuffed his handkerchief down his throat and slowly strangled to death.

FIRST REPORT OF COUNCIL'S P. S. C.

Synopsis of Result of Telephone Competition Investigation Made by Committee.

WHY IT WAS DENIED

REPORT RECITES RECOMMENDATIONS AS TO LIMITATIONS.

That the time is not ripe for the granting of the application of the Central New Jersey Telephone Company to operate in this city was the conclusion reached by the committee of the Common Council on public service which acted upon the application. William S. Tyler, chairman, James F. Buckle and Ralph I. Tolles composed the committee.

The report submitted by the committee relates to the general question of the relative advantages of having two mutually independent telephone companies competing in the same territory and to the merits of the particular application before the Council. Much of the report is concerned with telephone history, the struggles of independent companies against the Bell companies.

A resume of an extensive correspondence by the committee with business men in several States is given and shows a general sentiment of approval of the double system. It was found that the Central N. J. Telephone Company has as yet obtained but one important franchise, New Brunswick, although several applications are now in the hands of governing bodies of other towns.

In explaining its decision that the time for granting the applications is not ripe, the committee believes that no advantage can result from hasty action. In explanation it calls attention to the automatic system of operating the exchanges, doing away with "central" operators and making absolute secrecy and promptness assured through a plan of mechanical levers. This plan which is now undergoing extensive improvements is the one contemplated by the new company in Plainfield and according to the committee "nothing will be lost by awaiting the further developments of the immediate future."

The committee believes that the multiplication of wires, poles and conduits in the streets is a growing menace to the beauty, convenience and safety of the city, and that no further privileges in this regard should be granted until proper provision can be made for the including of all wires in one system.

Two telephones where required in one place of business are usually less convenient and slightly more expensive than one, but one telephone usually costs less than before and is greatly improved by the presence of competition, both in the equipment furnished, and in the courtesy shown to patrons. The persons requiring both systems represent a small proportion of the population, and even they receive all the benefit coming from the enormous increase in the number of telephone users, which universally follows the advent of a competing company. The fallacy that to obtain complete service one must employ both companies is apparent if we consider the universal experience of other places, that the old company never falls off in the number of its subscribers, but increase that number as never before, so that a subscriber receives more and not less at the same or lower cost. The company merely adds still further to the number.

The report calls special attention to the fact that undue importance is given in popular contemplation to the presence or absence of long distance connections, inasmuch as statistics show that more than 95 per cent. of all calls are local. The committee believes that a purely local company maintained by home capital would probably give better satisfaction to the public than any larger foreign corporation could, and could obtain the benefit of long distance service quite as soon, when available to any other.

The report calls attention to the fact that under the terms of the franchise granted to the N. Y. and N. J. Telephone Co., the city has no power to direct or control the affairs of the company, and that no improvement can be looked for except in the beneficial effects of competition.

The report then enumerates the committee's recommendation, with respect to the proper limitations to be placed upon any new company, as follows: Franchise to be limited to 25 years; time limit for commencing and completing construction; rate limitation substantially below present charges; right of inspection and control for protection of city's interests; certain number of feet of wires to be placed under ground every year; free telephones in city offices including long distance service within one hundred miles; provision against selling out to competitor; proper bond for the performance of the company's obligation; forfeiture of charter for failure to live up to agreements and ordinances; fair proportion of profits to be reserved to the city; right to the city to purchase the plant after a stipulated number of years.

—Papers are returnable Wednesday, in the contract case of Arnold against Waltmann in Justice Huff's court. The case of Mints against Satterlein, landlord and tenant, will be heard Tuesday in the same court.

—Many of the conductors and motormen on the local trolley cars have received their new coats and caps. The caps are different from those formerly used, a straight instead of a curved peak being the new style.

—James M. Codington, of Summit, and Miss Lillian Wickoff, of Griggstown, were married at the home of the bride, Tuesday afternoon. There were many people present from this city. He is a relative of Former Judge William R. Codington, of this city. The bride teaches school at Summit.

MEN OF THE HOUSE

Gossip from Around the Speaker's Chair in National Congress.

PARLIMENTARY LAW AUTHORITY

The Value of Asher Hinds—Indiana Prominently Figures in National Legislation—Heads of Important Committees.

Washington.—The indispensable man is not numerous, but scarce as he is one is to be found in the speaker's room in the house of representatives. Asher Hinds has been clerk at the speaker's table ever since Tom Reed began to wield the gavel away back in the Fifty-first congress He came here from Maine where he had been writing editorials on the Portland Press and he slipped right into the czar's habits and moods. He is a young man still, considerably under 40, and when Reed picked him up he was barely more than a boy; but he hadn't been in the harness a single session before he was looked upon by the older members as an authority on parliamentary law; and before two congresses had passed there was nobody else about the capitol who could compare with him.

Popular Conception of Mr. Hinds

Reed himself depended on Hinds absolutely. The great speaker was not much of an adept in the intricacies of parliamentary law and didn't pretend to be. He was concerned in reaching results and having made up his mind what he wanted to do he had a way of turning to the experts about him for information as to how he might do it. Hinds was always able to find a way and the speaker never hesitated in following out Hind's suggestions no matter where they might lead.

There has not been a republican speaker since who has not been even more dependent on Hinds than Reed was. When Reed was in the chair he noticed that whenever the house got into a parliamentary tangle Hinds would hie himself to the speaker's room and hurry back with some loose sheets of paper, upon consulting which a way out was sure to be found. This had happened several times when it aroused Reed's curiosity. He inquired about it and discovered that his clerk had spent his spare hours collecting all the precedents and decisions of speakers from the beginning of the government—work which nobody had ever had the intelligent industry to undertake before.

Hinds had a drawer full of these papers and as soon as the house leaders found out about them they passed a resolution to print them and put them in permanent form. Hinds' book is now the standard work on parliamentary precedents.

A Reincarnation of Reed.

It is a frequent subject of remark among habitues of the house that Hinds seems to be almost a reincarnation of Reed. It may be simply the strain of common ancestry among Maine seafaring folk, but there are certainly several striking points of resemblance.

Does a Reportorial Stunt Now and Then

Hinds is not quite as big physically as Reed was, but he is plenty big enough; and to look at him from the rear as he ambles up Pennsylvania avenue one might well imagine himself watching the resurrected speaker's rolling gait. Hinds has the same easy drawl supplemented by the same hard sense and delicious humor. His face is of the keen Yankee type, so that here the resemblance ceases. Nobody who remembers Reed can ever forget the vacant moon-like expression which used to characterize him in his moments of repose.

At home during the recess of congress Hinds not only writes the editorials for his paper, but he occasionally hustles out on an important local assignment. Last summer he thought he would look after the army and navy maneuvers, which centered about Cushing's Island in Portland harbor.

Indiana in the House.

Indiana is to play an important part in the house of representatives as long as Cannon is speaker. The old stand-bys, like Payne, Dalzell and Grosvenor will still continue in their positions won by seniority, but a new element has come in of younger men who have been loyal adherents of Cannon and who will be his counselors now.

Cannon Is Kind to Indiana

Conspicuous among these are Hemenway and Overstreet of Indiana. Hemenway is to be chairman of the appropriations committee and Overstreet is to be chairman of the reorganized committee on post offices and post roads. But their influence does not arise from their chairmanships. It arises from their close personal relations with the speaker and his confidence in their judgment.

When the speaker came to look over his committees almost the first thing that struck him was the necessity of completely reorganizing the postal committee, the chairman of which had failed of reelection and the other members of which were almost without exception subject to some failing which made is inadvisable to put them at the head of a committee which was destined to handle a very knotty and disagreeable situation. So he decided to go outside the committee for a chairman. He didn't have to look long before he hit on Overstreet.

Overstreet was secretary of the republican congressional committee last year when the figures he made before election were almost exactly verified by the results. He is a mighty cool politician, as well as a very clean-cut fellow every way and one of the most popular men in the house.

The Appropriations Chairman.

Hemenway is a different type, with fewer popular qualities and less of the politician's art. Cannon's confidence in him has grown through years of intimate relationship while both were members of the appropriations committee.

Not a Chummy Fellow

For several congresses Hemenway has been Cannon's right hand man on that committee and he possesses some of the sterling qualities that have gone to give Cannon so high a place in the esteem of the house. He has the Indiana faculty for close calculation. He is not a chummy fellow and for that reason he may never gain a popular hold on his party, but he is bound to grow as long as he remains a member of the house and he will become more and more a factor in legislation.

Hemenway will hardly develop into a floor leader, for he lacks the snap and pugnacity of a born debater, but he will always be looked upon as safe. He, too, is young enough to look forward to a career, but his ambition lies in the direction of the senate or the governorship of his state. Hemenway and Overstreet come from adjoining counties.

The Landis Brothers.

Two other Hoosiers who are going to attract attention are the Landis brothers. One of them has been in the house for three congresses and is known as a witty and formidable debater and a thoroughly good fellow. He went to Boston two or three years ago and made a hit there before one of the political dining clubs of that town, which is even now remembered. He has a faculty for telling stories that nobody who hears them can by any possibility forget.

Brothers of Different Physique

His brother, who is just beginning his first term, is like unto him in mental alertness, though there is little resemblance physically between the two. Charlie, the older, is a little over 40, stocky in build with iron gray hair.

Fred, the younger, is the baby of the house, with his 29 years. He is tall, angular and thin as a rail. He had already made a reputation as a story teller and wit. His quaint expressions are quoted in the republican coat rooms.

There is another brother, Kenesaw, who used to be private secretary to Walter Q. Gresham, when Gresham was secretary of state in Cleveland's second administration. The way Kenesaw shook up the dry bones of the state department during his brief incumbency was a caution. He is a lawyer now in Chicago and he can hardly have more friends there than he left in Washington. Both Charlie and Fred Landis are newspaper men.

LOUIS A. COOLIDGE.

Two New York Hotels.

Only two hotels in New York refuse to keep their register of guests open and publicly accessible. These are the Fifth Avenue and the Waldorf-Astoria. The Fifth Avenue is a favorite resort of politicians, and its guests sometimes prefer not to have it known that they are there. The Waldorf-Astoria has made its way with leaders in haute finance, with important and unimportant persons, diplomats and men like Dr. Amador and M. Varilla with republics in their brains. The books are not accessible to the public; lists of guests cannot be transcribed. This is not only intended as a protection to the guests, but as a protection to the office staff. Many business houses send circulars to "hotel arrivals" when they can get the names, and at the Waldorf this would mean each morning the sorting of some 1,500 additional pieces of mail. The law only requires that a register shall be accurately kept, so that the police or authorized officers of government may consult it.—N. Y. Post.

American Capital in Canada.

American capital is rapidly invading part of the dominion near Sherbrooke, and the near future will see the erection and equipment of many large manufacturing plants, which will greatly increase the wealth and business of the section and promote trade with the United States.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,600,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

MODISH HATS.

Smaller Shapes Copied From Old Paintings—Shaded Effects.

In contrast to the exaggerated shapes some very small hats are being worn. These are copied from old paintings and mediæval prints, and one sees the quaint Louis XI. shapes and the furred bonnets of the middle ages converted into bewitching headgear for the modern woman.

Shaded effects are much used just now on hats and gowns, but especially on the former. The favorite combination is a deep tone of purple combined with ox blood red, shading into bright cerise. When carefully managed this is most effective, and an easy way is to trim a deep purple French sailor shape with a wreath of these shaded roses.

Bird of paradise plumes are again in vogue, and so are feather tips and aigrets, now that millinery is less flat than formerly. Cocks' plumes are perhaps the leading millinery ornament, but their downfall is soon predicted, because they are all too popular. They come in every shade conceivable from the palest heliotrope and pale gray to brilliant red and are placed on the hat in such a manner that they droop on the hair, forming a pretty contrast.

In the illustration is shown a tailor made hat of white felt trimmed with knotted velvet ribbon and a shaded wing under the brim.

FASHION'S FRILLS.

The New Moleskin Coats—The Season's Stocks Plainer.

The very fancy stock has been relegated to the ranks of forgotten neckwear. Instead we have the rather severe cravat with the street tailor made and the soft tie of lace or of chiffon to wear with the dressy visiting costume. Little stocks of white taffeta or chiffon have rounded ends, and these are embroidered with French knots in black or white silk. This is about as elaborate a piece of neckwear as the smart woman cares to wear.

The clasps on some of the fur stoles are very handsome, being of gold or silver, richly jeweled. This is especially the case with the stoles of ermine and fine sable, where the price of the clasp is often a serious item. Occasionally muff buckles are seen to match, the fullness of the top of the muff being drawn up through one of these jeweled affairs.

Coats of moleskin are made with the skins vandyked into little points, and this gives a very handsome effect. Such coats are three-quarters in length and loose, the full sleeves being held in with cuffs of embroidery or lace and the coat being faced for some distance back with the same trimming.

The French are trying to inaugurate a theater headdress not unlike the Dutch cap, only much tinier. It is composed of a band of lace embroidered in silk or gold and having a gold or a silver rose on each side of it. This is fastened directly back of the pompadour and gives a very jaunty effect when worn by the right person.

Gold and silver flowers are the latest, by the way, in hair decorations.

The illustration shows a gown of brown cloth trimmed with bias bands of chiffon velvet.

A SERVANT PROBLEM

It Was a Stumbling Block in Chicago for Several Years.

SOLUTION IS NOW IN SIGHT

Wages Are Dropping Back to Normal Figures—The Churches of the Business District — Other Chicago Gossip.

Chicago.—The servant girl problem of this city is solving itself much to the satisfaction of the mistress. The wave of prosperity which struck Chicago a few years ago brought with it a demand for servants which the supply was inadequate to fill. Families which had existed for years without knowing the luxury of a servant suddenly found one or more indispensable. Matrimonially inclined couples added the item of a girl's wages to their estimated household expenses, many mechanical tradesmen, office clerks, small merchants and others who had never before employed household help were in the market for girls.

A New Importation

With the increased demand it was inevitable that wages should go up. The competent girl, who a year before had been content to work for $2.50 a week soon found that she could get $3.50. Another employer would give one dollar a week more than that and still another would offer a raise of another dollar, and so it went until the limit was virtually taken off entirely, until eight dollars per week was not unusual, and still the supply was inadequate.

Such has been the condition for something like the last five years. Wages have been constantly going up, but now the tide has turned and wages are going down again. The "Want" columns of the newspapers now contain more inquiries for places than there are places to fill. For this there are possibly two or more reasons. One is that there has been an increase in the number of girls coming to the city from Europe. The high wages have attracted an increased immigration from Sweden, from Germany and other countries of Europe which supply our servant girl population. Another is the closing of near-by manufacturing plants such as the laying off of a large number of men at the South Chicago steel mills. The girls of the families of these discharged men must now become wage earners, and they are turning to house work, and so helping to solve the vexed servant problem.

Where It Hurts Most.

To the class in particular this change in the supply and demand of servants comes particularly hard. That is to the work-seeking mother. To the woman with a child who must work that both might live the stringency in the servant market has been a boon.

Hard to Find Work

The hardest problem any large city has to solve is the care of homeless children. When the child has a mother and both must be cared for the difficulties of the problem are increased. There are thousands of women in Chicago, mothers of children, who are begging for employment that will enable them to support their babies.

The Children's Aid society undertook to find homes for mothers and babes; homes where the mother could earn wages as a servant, and at the same time keep her baby with her. The socity found the undertaking easier to plan than to accomplish, but the unusual demand for servants helped in the solution.

There are advantages attached to the employing of a woman with a child that are seldom thought of. As a rule she does not demand as high wages as the girl; she has no outside interests and does not ask afternoons and evenings out, nor has she "company" to entertain. Many of the families who have employed this class of help say the advantages more than offset the disadvantages, but the mothers and babies will not find it so easy to find a home and employment with the supply of servants exceeding the demand.

The Downtown Church.

Chicago has comparatively few great institutional churches, though the idea is growing, and in time may become more deeply rooted here than in New York. Peculiar among the churches of this class at the present time is All Souls, located on Oakwood boulevard on the South side, and just now erecting a handsome new edifice, more club house than church.

A Downtown Church

Fifty years ago many of the largest and most influential churches of the city were located in what is now known as the downtown district, but business has driven all but a very few of them out. One that has withstood the pressure of the commercial interests is the First Methodist, and this may in time become to Chicago what Trinity is to New York, though at the present time it is in no sense an institutional church. At one time the leader of the denomination in point of membership the First Methodist has to-day but little more than 200 communicants, though the value of its property, a business block at Clark and Washington streets, in the center of which is its auditorium, is worth considerably more than half a million dollars, an average of something like $3,000 for each member. Some idea of what this enormous property valuation means may be had by comparison with the Englewood Methodist church, which has a membership of more than 1,000 communicants and owns property to the value of $45,000. The First Methodist proposes in time to replace its present structure with a large sky scraper business block, and in this new building considerable space will be reserved for class rooms, club rooms and other features of the institutional church.

Grace Episcopal, now just on the edge of the business district at Fourteenth and Wabash, was once the fashionable place of worship of that denomination, and though its membership has removed to other sections of the city it proposes to stay as a haven for the element that has grown up around it. To enable it to do this an endowment fund of $100,000 is now being raised. The doors of this church are now open every night in the week, and it is the bright spot in an otherwise dark district.

Clothe Needy School Children.

The charitable organizations of Chicago are practically numberless. Some of them are peculiar and some scarcely worthy of recognition by a charitably inclined public, but unique among them all is the School Children's Aid Society, the object of which is to clothe destitute children so that they may attend school.

Contributing Their Pennies

The compulsory education law of Illinois theoretically at least forces every child below the age of 14 years, and under certain conditions below 16 years, to attend school. It is the duty of truant officers to enforce this law, but children improperly dressed cannot be sent to school. It is a case of where exceptions must be made to fit conditions. That the conditions might be made to fit the law the School Children's Aid society was organized in 1887. Each year the children of the schools, of whom there are more than 300,000 in the primary grades, are asked to contribute to this fund. The contribution is asked for as a Thanksgiving offering, and is collected the day before Thanksgiving day. The pennies, the nickels, the dimes and a few larger coins contributed grows a fund that in the aggregate amounts to about $5,000 annually.

With this sum sufficient clothing was purchased last year to enable 3,579 needy children to attend school. To them were given suits, skirts, dresses, underclothing, shoes and stockings. No applicant was turned away empty handed, though not all could be supplied with all that was asked. With the fund new clothing is purchased, for boys ready-made clothing is bought, and for girls the material for dresses and skirts, this being made into garments by different church sewing societies and the Needlewoman's guild.

From this fund the society distributel last year 3,368 pairs of shoes and stockings, 454 dresses and skirts, 831 suits for boys, 433 extra trousers and fleece-lined underwear to all that needed it.

Chicago "Kosher" Meat.

An industry that represents an output to the value of $2,600,000 annually is not small, and yet such an industry exists in Chicago and is but little known outside of a limited circle. It is the killing of "kosher" meat at the stockyards.

Killing "Kosher" Meat

The Jewish religion demands that all meat eaten by the followers of the church be killed either by Jewish rabis or under their inspection. To this religious demand four of the large packing plants at the stockyards employ Jewish rabbis, the chief of which force must of necessity be a member of the cabinet of the Rabbi Acot of the United States, Rabbi Ridwiz.

Rabbi Ridwiz is a newcomer to Chicago, and a new head of the church. When he reached the city Rabbi Album, the chief of the Jewish meat slaughterers at the stock yards declined to recognize him, and a ban was pronounced upon stock yards meat. This brought about a boycott of stock yards meat on the part of the Jewish Butchers' association, which lasted for some two weeks. The packers, seeing they were losing valuable business, proposed peace overtures. Rabbi Album became a member of the cabinet of Rabbi Acot, Ridwiz, the boycott was raised and the slaughter of approved "kosher" meat again goes on as before. The product is sold largely in the Ghetto district.

HAS A GOOD RECORD.

John Sharp Williams Well Liked by His Colleagues.

New Minority Leader in House of Representatives Abundantly Able to Take Care of the Interests of His Party.

If he lives until July 30 next John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, the democratic leader in the house of representatives, will be 50. He is of slender figure, and a trifle above the medium in height. He has a whole lot of woozy hair and a striking disregard of fashionable clothing.

From boyhood Mr. Williams has been a hard student, and all his mature life an industrious reader of high class literature. Although never of a decidedly robust constitution, he has not at any time been regarded as an invalid. At present he appears to be in good condition physically for the arduous duties recently imposed upon him with unanimity by his party associates.

Mr. Williams received a thorough educational training. He studied at the Kentucky military institute, and later at the University of the South, at Sewanee, Tenn., and at the University of Virginia. Then he went abroad and attended Heidelberg university.

While at Heidelberg he mastered German sufficiently to converse fluently in it. He also studied French in his youth, and since leaving the universities he has kept up his researches both in German and in French. Since his selection for the minority leadership, though, Mr. Williams has been somewhat amused to read that he is able to read and speak half a dozen languages.

He was born at Memphis, Tenn. His mother died when he was quite young, and his father, who was a colonel of Tennessee volunteers in the confederate army was killed at Shiloh. His home is at Yazoo, Miss., where he has practiced law and engaged in planting cotton. He and his brother are joint owners of about 8,000 acres of land in the Yazoo country. This property has not been divided in many generations.

Mrs. Williams never held any public office prior to his election to congress in 1892.

Mr. Williams does not pretend to be a good parliamentarian. On the contrary, he has before and since his election as the minority leader candidly admitted that he is lacking in this capacity.

JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS.
(Leader of the Democrats in the House of Representatives.)

But Judge De Armond, of Missouri, is acknowledged to be a shrewd, careful and able parliamentarian. That is why at the request of Mr. Williams he was appointed by Speaker Cannon a member of the rules committee. Throughout the congress, and especially during the session preceding the presidential election, Judge De Armond will virtually be at the elbow of the minority leader.

The New York Sun says that it is conceded on all sides that Mr. Williams is amply fortified by experience and ability to take care of himself and his party in any partisan debates that may arise. His mind works quickly, he purposes to be ever watchful, and those who have measured lances with him know that he is no slouch in discussing the welfare of the nation.

A talk with Mr. Williams impresses the interviewer with the fact that if he has the support of his party he does not propose to engage in filibustering to the extent of wasting the time of the house. His policy will be signally different from that of some of his predecessors.

He purposes, however, to put the republican party on record at every stage, so that the country may know what is actually being done in the popular part of congress. This he believes can be done speedily and in order without a resort to tactics that prevailed in former congresses, when the rules were more lax and permitted filibustering to a degree nothing short of ridiculous.

Haunted by Flock of Geese.

Twenty years ago an unsuspected man in Lexington, Ind., stole three geese from a neighbor. The despoiled farmer has just received five dollars from a resident in Washington, D. C., confessing the theft, and thus making financial reparation. He states that for years he has been unable to sleep well, as a flock of geese always haunted his dreams, no matter where he slept.

Not a Common Criminal.

A Pittsburg minister was in the county jail doing missionary work among the prisoners. He found a darky scrubbing the floor on one of the upper corridors, and asked him if he was in for disorderly conduct. "No, sah," indignantly replied the negro. "I's no common criminal; I's a highway robber."

Miss Elsberg Engaged.

At the masquerade dance given by society folks in the Casino New Year's eve, announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Adelaide M. Elsberg, of Prospect place, and Wallace Macdonald Brown, of Brooklyn. Both are prominent in society in this city. Miss Elsberg and Mr. Brown are both members of the Park and Park Golf Club and the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. THESE DIDN'T SWEAR OFF

SAD SPECTACLES AT POLICE COURT NEW YEAR'S DAY.

Plainfield's offenders against law and order bade farewell to the dying year with a final mad fling to sobriety and welcomed the new with the tipping of wine cups, flourish of knives, and all the regular and usual accompaniments of drunken passion. There were seven cases before the city judge yesterday morning and eight this morning, and in addition an Italian fracas that sent one man to the hospital with a broken arm and severe cuts.

Antonio Sentangelo was brought to police headquarters last night by M. Calucci. He was suffering from a broken arm and scalp wounds which resulted from a fight with several other Italians on St. Mary's avenue.

James Wilson, colored, disorderly by fighting and drawing his knife on John Daniel Thursday night, was fined $5 yesterday morning by City Judge Runyon. Daniel received suspended sentence. William J. Anderson, drunk and disorderly, was fined $5. B. M. Waldron, so ossified that it was thought he would die, was released on suspended sentence.

William Perkins, colored, saw a chicken and several turkeys temptingly arranged in a store window on West Third street and broke through the glass to get at them. He was fined $8. William Barlow, peddling without a license; suspended sentence. Thomas Flynn, drunk and disorderly, flourishing a loaded revolver at a ball on North avenue, $5. Cases this morning were: John Kiely and his wife, Kate Kiely, disorderly, the latter addressing unpleasant epithets to Patrolman Higgins, husband released on suspended sentence; wife $3. Thomas Heffernan, drunk and disorderly, $3. Patrick Donnelly, $5 for being drunk and fighting with Tobin. Tobin $5. Robert Donnelly for resisting officer when Patrick Donnelly was arrested, $5. Case of Thomas Connors, non-support, adjourned to Monday. Frank Drake, drunk and disorderly, $5 or twenty days, fine not paid.

BURGLARS GET SOME BOOTY

M. C. VAN ARSDALE'S HOME ENTERED AND $75 WORTH OF GOODS TAKEN.

Burglars entered the home of Councilman Morris C. VanArsdale, of Norwood avenue, New Year's eve, and departed with about $75 worth of goods, including a diamond ring belonging to Mrs. VanArsdale, it being her engagement ring.

The burglars opened a front window, using a quarter-inch chisel. Mr. VanArsdale and his family had gone out to make a call. The house was ransacked. Three watches, the diamond ring, various articles of jewelry and two neckties composed the booty. When the family went away they took their dog with them. The matter has been reported to the police. It is believed that the burglary was committed by local men. A reward is offered for the return of the ring.

GERMANS DANCE.

Gesang and Turn Verein Welcomes New Year in Saengerbund Hall.

Seldom has Saengerbund Hall held so large an assemblage as it did Thursday night when the annual dance of the Gesang and Turn Verein took place. Members of the German Singing Society, of Lincoln, also of the Singing Society Aurora, of New Brunswick, were also guests of the local society. The president of the society, William Gardner, presented the leader, Mr. Eichorn, of Elizabeth, with a pretty silver tea service. The Plainfield Trust Company

A BRIEF SUMMARY

At this, the close of our first calendar year, we think it an opportune time to make public a brief statement of what has been accomplished by this Company in the eighteen months of its existence.

It has been its fixed policy to allow depositors to share liberally in its earnings. To that end three per cent. interest has been paid on both savings and checking accounts,

The accompanying comparative statement of deposits, showing the rapid increase of the Company's business since its inception, may, we think, be taken as a fair indication of a satisfactorily rendered service, and an appreciation of progressive banking methods.

CONGREGATION HEARS THE PASTOR-ELECT

Rev. A. E. Finn Preaches His First Sermon as Minister of Park Ave. Baptist Church.

MAKES AN IMPRESSION

DURING THE SERMON HE GIVES A TEXT FOR THE YEAR.

Large Congregation Greets New Pastor, Who is a Very Forcible Speaker—Lord's Supper Observed at Close of Regular Service.

Rev. A. E. Finn occupied the pulpit of the Park Avenue Baptist church yesterday morning for the first time since he was called to the pastorate. Considering the weather there was a large congregation present and everyone was favorably impressed with the new minister. He is a young man, full of energy and zeal. Being a forcible speaker he holds the close attention of all. Yesterday he did not use notes and this added to the interest of his discourse.

Rev. Mr. Finn took for his text Micah 6-8—"He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God." In selecting this verse he said that in his charge and relationship he would like to have his people accept it as the text for the year. His discourse was a short one, yet in the few words spoken he impressed upon all the necessity of living just and upright lives, showing mercy and walking humbly before God. He briefly outlined how one can be benevolent, merciful and compassionate, citing incidents in the Bible and in every day life to illustrate his text. He referred to a man formerly at the head of the big steel trust, who was spoken of at one time as the model of a self-made man, but who descended the ladder of fame almost as quickly as he had ascended it, until today nothing but pity is expressed for him. He urged all to measure the results of the year by what they had done, rather than by so many statistics and records kept on file.

At the close of the preaching service there was the observance of the Lord's Supper.

NEW YEAR'S THOUGHTS

REV. DR. EARP PREACHES INTERESTING DISCOURSE AT GRACE M. E. CHURCH.

"Some Thoughts for the New Year" was the subject of an interesting and helpful sermon preached last night by Rev. Dr. Edwin L. Earp, pastor of the Grace M. E. church. His text was taken from Mark 13:37. The pastor said that at this time of the year it is essential that people take an account of their lives. He asked his hearers to look in retrospect and at the future and what it would probably bring forth. He advised an examination to ascertain if all is well with the soul, to see if we have the proper courage of our convictions and the necessary faith to make the most of opportunities.

Rev. Mr. Earp cautioned his congregation to prepare for the new year by being near to God. He dwelt particularly of the value of daily devotion in spirit and of being willing to change one's opinions to those of others who have tasted better success, and not to rely too much on fads as seems to be the growing custom.

At the morning sermon two children were baptized and four new members were received into communion, two by letter and two from probation.

Borough Council to Meet.

The Borough Council meets tonight in its chambers on Somerset street. It is probable that it will be a meeting of special interest to the firemen as the ordinance relating to the fire limits will probably be passed on its third reading and the paid department ordinance, will it is expected, be submitted by Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed.

JUDGE REUNITED COUPLE

MARITAL WOES OF MR. AND MRS. EDWARD DRAKE HAPPILY ENDED.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Drake were reunited this morning through City Judge Runyon after a several weeks separation due to matrimonial differences. Mrs. Drake accused her husband of non-support but showed through her testimony that his main fault was staying out nights. Drake's claim was that he had always supported his wife until three weeks ago when she left him, taking with her all the furniture. He said he was willing to return and the case was dismissed. Drake is an employe of the local street railway company. He was represented by F. J. Blatz, Esq., and Mrs. Drake by W. G. DeMeza, Esq.

REVIVAL AT HOPE CHAPEL

MR. GREENWOOD SPEAKS AND CHOIR OF FORTY-FIVE VOICE FURNISH MUSIC.

L. B. Greenwood began his series of revivals at Hope chapel last night with a strong sermon on the "Great Corner Stone of Redemption." He indicated the changes that result in man's character and soul from an adoption of the Chrisitan life, the stimulus and uplift that Christianity gives to thought and morals and the higher ideals it inspires. His remarks were in general introductory to the talks he will give during the next two weeks. He spoke forcibly with a great readiness of illustration and incisiveness of expression.

Music was furnished by a special volunteer choir of forty-five voices. Mr. Greenwood sang two solos, "I Am Redeemed" and "When the Mists Roll Away." William N. Runyon played the piano. Meetings will continue daily at the chapel, in the afternoon at 3 o'clock and in the evening with a song service at 7:45.

MRS. IRVING BROWN'S TEA

ENJOYABLE AFFAIR SATURDAY AFTERNOON ATTENDED BY SOCIETY FOLK.

De Haven, while assisting in the dining room were Miss Clara Case, of New York; Miss Margaret Goddard, Miss Elsie Goddard and Miss Josephine Lapsley, Mrs. James R. Blake assisted. The decorations were chiefly pink, there being a profusion of pink roses in the dining room. The second tea will be given Saturday afternoon, January 9.

Alleges Non-Support.

Thomas Connors, arrested on complaint of his wife charged, with non-support, was held in $200 this morning by City Judge Runyon to furnish support. Mrs. Connors alleged cruelty and abuse and her husband claimed he had been driven from home by his wife and that he had always been willing to support her.

The Union Veterans' Union plans to hold a joint installation of officers in the rooms on East Front street tomorrow night. Representatives from lodges in New York and Jersey City will be present.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT BOUND BROOK

Four Business Houses Swept by Flames Near Midnight on Saturday.

LAMP CAUSED TROUBLE

TOTAL LOSS ESTIMATED AT $15,000, COVERED BY INSURANCE.

Wind and Cold Baffle Firemen in Their Work—Successful Effort in Saving Thirty Tenement Houses—Field Bros. Owned Buildings.

Shortly before 12 o'clock Saturday night a disastrous fire occurred in A. G. Inderlid's bakery on Main street, Bound Brook, and before the flames could be gotten under control, the bakery was destroyed, also Applegate & Grace's meat market, G. A. Cain's grocery and Antonio Muso's fruit store. All three places of business adjoined one another on Main street, opposite the trolley car barns, and were owned by Field Brothers.

The fire started from a large overheated lamp being used in the bakery. The fire department responded quickly, but fully twenty minutes were lost by the firemen in getting water on the fire. The water from the hydrant was turned on before the hose was run off the reel and this caused the delay. The firemen seeing that it was useless to try and save the burning property, directed their efforts to saving thirty tenement houses closeby. These did not ignite.

The loss on the four buildings and contents is estimated to be $15,000, but all were well covered by insurance. The firemen were greatly handicapped in their work by the severe snow storm and hurricane of wind.

The occupants all suffered in the recent flood, while O. K. Inderlid had a fire in his home two months ago, destroying most of his household goods. The owners as well as the tenants were insured, and Field Brothers will rebuild at once.

Tomorrow night Mable Heath will be the attraction and on Wednesday night by special request Miss Lester's favorite play, Jack Sheppard, will be presented, with a special matinee for ladies and children at 2:30 o'clock. There will be a change of specialty every evening between the acts.

CLEARING AWAY THE "BEAUTIFUL SNOW"

Street Commission Department Men at Work Early Yesterday Morning.

MERCURY BELOW ZERO

RAILROAD AND TROLLEY SERVICE DELAYED BY THE STORM.

City's Men Shovelling Snow From Sidewalks of Residents, Who Will Have to Pay Municipality—Few Accidents Are Reported.

Saturday's snow storm, the heaviest of the year, gave Street Commissioner Gavett's men plenty of occupation Sunday morning. A gang of men started to work at 4:30 o'clock in the morning and continued all day removing the "beautiful" from in front of the city park, city buildings and vacant lots and from the street-crossings. The snow on Front and Richmond streets and Watchung avenue is being carted away by the city gang, the expense being shared by the street railway company, whose tracks run on those streets. Storekeepers and householders who failed to observe the city ordinance in regard to clearing the sidewalks had their walks cleared by the city at the expiration of the five hour limit and will receive their bills later. It is estimated that nine inches of snow fell in this city.

The street railway company and Central Railroad had lots of trouble as the result of the storm. Trolley cars were run at infrequent intervals with no attempt to keep to the regular schedule. All the trains were from half an hour to an hour late and in one or two cases it required almost an hour to get from here to Elizabeth. The storm made fine sleighing yesterday and today.

It is promised that the extreme cold of yesterday and today will not last through tomorrow. Last night and all day yesterday the thermometer hung about the zero mark. At 6 o'clock yesterday morning it was four below and at noon nine above zero. At midnight last night it was three below. Many pipes were frozen and this morning plumbers were kept busy attending to hurry calls from all over the city.

Slippery sidewalks caused lots of falls but no serious accidents. Dr. J. T. Fritz was thrown heavily on Park avenue but without serious results.

BASEBALL TEAM'S BAZAAR

ST. MARY'S BASEBALL CLUB TO HOLD FAIR IN FEBRUARY.

A fair will be held under the auspices of the St. Mary's Baseball Club in the T. A. B. Hall during the first week in February. This was definitely decided upon at a meeting of the baseball team held in the West Fourth street hall yesterday afternoon at 2:30. The matter of forming a representative baseball team for this city during the coming season was also discussed and the members and others interested looked upon the scheme as a feasable one and the consensus of opinion seems to be that such a team would receive the support of local people. Another meeting is to be held Thursday night at the hall when the matter will be discussed further and other arrangements will be made for the fair. Those who are at the head of the movement are Clinton Shannon, Victor Troice, John King and Thomas McDonald.

Mr. Ruckman's Funeral.

The funeral of William Ruckman, the mail carrier who died form injuries received from being struck by a train at the North avenue station last Thursday, will be held this afternoon at the home of Mr. Ruckman's daughter, Mrs. George Nelson, of 29 Somerset place. Rev. E. L. Earp will officiate.

Greetings From Abroad.

Wade Hampton's Grandson Here.

Wade Hampton, grandson of Gen. Wade Hampton, former Governor of South Carolina, a prominent general in the Confederate Army during the Civil War and at one time a United States Senator, is a guest of John Bushnell, of Central avenue.

GREAT TRIBUTE PAID PLAINFIELD SCHOOLS

In Story in World's Work on Suburban Schools Unstinted Praise is Given.

THE INVESTIGATION

PLAINFIELD PUPILS BEST READERS IN ENTIRE SUBURBAN DISTRICT.

Small Salaries Given Progressive Pedagogues Here Drives Them Elsewhere—Elizabeth Schools Worst in Existence.

High tribute is paid to Plainfield's public schools in an article on "The Public Schools About New York" appearing in the current (January) number of "The World's Work." The article is one of a series containing the results of a first-hand investigation of public schools.

In general terms the writer, Adele Marie Shaw, asserts that suburban schools are better than city schools. She refers to the inadequate salaries paid teachers in New Jersey and in her comment on many New Jersey schools, particularly in Elizabeth, is not at all complimentary.

Describing her work she says: "I have visited eight of the towns and cities that are New York's neighbors to see in operation the outside schools where new ideas are often given the earliest chance. In all except Newark and Elizabeth, New Jersey, I found a higher average in the quality of teachers and teaching than I had found in the elementary grades of the once Tammanyized system of Greater New York."

In referring to teaching children the art of expression, the writer emphasizes the importance of enunciation and expression which "means mental qualities that effect more than reading." She says: "I heard good reading—reading that was reading and not intoning—in many of the suburban schools, but the best I have heard in any class-room was in the Washington school in Plainfield. The principal, Miss Humpstone, gave the reading lesson herself, and though the subject, Boston, was not especially inspiriting to New Jersey children, I was sorry when the bell struck for dismissal." She also refers to the use of the Speer method in arithmetic in this city.

Remarking on the attention to the physical development of New Jersey school children, the writer states that "East Orange and Plainfield believe in physical training, though Plainfield's gymnasium is still to come, and Miss Jackson, who is responsible for the bodies of the whole school population, has sufficient enthusiasm to inspire an even larger army."

Less pleasant facts about New Jersey schools are brought out in the course of the article. Of Trenton's schools it is said: "The public schools of Trenton reflect the penuriousness of that city's policy. They are generally ill-equipped, old-fashioned and depressing.

"Salaries are not generous in any of the towns I visited. Teachers have classes far too large and the introduction of improved methods leaves the teaching force in a worse plight than before. * * * The natural tendency in the more thickly settled, less desirable residence cities is to leave in possession a less progressive set of teachers, and in the more attractive towns, like Plainfield, Montclair and East Orange, to send at least a certain proportion of the best teachers yearly in pursuit of larger salaries elsewhere. * * * In matters of education, the State of New Jersey is particularly stingy."

The writer speaks of the matter of poor ventilation of school buildings which prevails in many cities, but states that "in Yonkers, in a Plainfield school, and in the East Orange High School things were better."

Elizabeth schools are called "the worse of all that I have visited," excepting the poorer New York city schools. The lack of interest in the schools evinced by many Elizabeth teachers is contrasted to the spirit exhibited "when I had seen Miss Bullock, Miss Day and Miss Humpstone, at the Plainfield schools."

Of the illustrations in the article two are of scenes of Plainfield schools.

Firemen to Meet.

The regular monthly meeting of Warren Engine Company will be held tomorrow night. The West End Hose Company meets tonight. Matters pertaining to the proposed paid fire department in the borough will probably be discussed at both meetings.

JAMES S. EMERY IS DEAD

AT AGE OF THREE SCORE AND TEN LOCAL RESIDENT PASSES AWAY.

James S. Emery, aged seventy years, a resident of Plainfield for some time past, died this morning at 5 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hinkle, of North avenue. Death was due to consumption, he having been ill for some time. Mr. Emery was born near Clinton, Hunterdon County, and funeral services and the interment will be at that place.

Mr. Emery leaves four daughters, Mrs. Hinkle and Mrs. John Neighbor and two sons, Watson and Adolphus Emery, of this city, one daughter lives in Bound Brook and another in Irvington. For a time Mr. Emery kept a fruit store on Somerset street.

BACHELORS BEAT BENEDICTS

UNMARRIED MEN WIN BOWLING MATCH ON PARK CLUB'S ALLEYS.

The Bachelors and Benedicts of the Park Club met for the first time this season, Saturday night, on the alleys in a series of three games. The Bachelors won the first two games and the Benedicts won the third. There was plenty of enthusiasm on both sides. These bachelors bowled all three games, excepting Max Munger, who bowled for William Townsend in the last game: Walter Long, Morgan Townsend, William Townsend, Herbert Rogers, Frank Rogers, William DeLong and Max Munger. These were the benedicts: S. St. John McCutchen, William McCutchen, F. O. Ball, F. H. Ball and Dr. C. R. Thiers. The scores were lost in some way during the evening, but they were all good ones, over 800 being rolled in one of the games by the Bachelors.

TRUST CO.'S FINE SHOWING

AN EIGHTEEN MONTHS OLD INSTITUTION MAKES SPLENDID SHOWING.

The report of the condition of business at the Plainfield Trust Company at the close of the year indicates a remarkable growth and prosperity for the institution. The resources of the company are $1,007,571.89 and its surplus and profits amount to $101,090.43, unusual figures for so young a concern. The comparative statement of the amount of deposits in the company during the past eighteen months is significant as showing the increase of the company's business. In July, 1902, the deposits were $163,879.72, and in December, 1903, they were $806,359.34. The capital is $100,000. The officers of the company are O. T. Waring, president; A. V. Heeley, vice president; H. A. McGee, vice president; J. Herbert Case, secretary and treasurer; Edward F. Feickert, assistant secretary.

CHURCH CELEBRATES ITS SEVENTH YEAR

The Anniversary Services in the Monroe Avenue M. E. Church Well Attended.

THREE MINISTERS SPEAK

REV. F. E. WHITESIDE REVIEWED WORK OF THE CONGREGATION.

Anniversary Sermon by Rev. Dr. W. C. O'Donnell, a Former Pastor—Music by a Male Quartette—Short Talk by the Pastor.

The seventh anniversary of the organization of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church was fittingly observed yesterday by the congregation in special services both morning and evening. The attendance was large in spite of the cold weather and the church was made especially attractive by elaborate decorations. The singing was a special feature at both services.

Rev. Francis E. Whiteside, of this city, preached the sermon in the morning. His discourse was a review of the history of the church organization. He told interestingly how the church had prospered in a rapidly growing section of the town. That its need is felt in the community was shown, the speaker said, by the fact that it has flourished from the start. It has taken, he remarked, a prominent part in the upbuilding of that part of the city. It has attracted the attention of the young men in that locality and they have formed a society in the church which has done a wonderful amount of good. The closing year shows even greater possibilities for the church and the societies in it. The sermon was interesting and was ably delivered. The pastor, Rev. John McMurray, made a few remarks at the morning service. The service at the Sunday-school session was one of praise.

In the evening, Rev. Dr. W. C. O'Donnell, pastor of the Westside Avenue M. E. church, Jersey City, preached the anniversary sermon. Dr. O'Donnell is Rev. Mr. McMurray's predecessor at the Monroe Avenue church and his sermon was one of congratulation to both pastor and congregation.

The music during the morning and evening services was especially fine and was rendered by the male quartette composed of John W. Gaub, John P. Tompson, Juhan Babcock and Walter M. McGee.

REV. MR. LEGGETT'S TALK

MISINSTER MADE THREE ADDRESSES WHICH WERE WELL RECEIVED.

Rev. Lester Leggett made his appearance again in a Plainfield pulpit yesterday and the impression he left upon his hearers was most favorable. He spoke in the afternoon and evening at the East Third Street chapel, preaching in the evening on the subject "The Spirit of Christ." He opened his remarks with a few words of greeting, as he undertakes the leadership of the chapel for the next four months, preparing the way for a permanent pastor. In the afternoon Mr. Leggett described "Man at His Best" at the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A., pointing out the heroism of the true Christian life. Mr. Leggett is most pleasing as a speaker and illumines a strong discourse with pithy illustrations.

Election of Officers.

August Wolf, Joseph Haurand and Antone Stenzenberger, constituting the finance committee of the Gesang and Turn Verein inspected the books of that society yesterday and are preparing a report which will be submitted at the annual meeting Thursday night. Officers will be elected at that time.

New Church Members.

At the communion service held at the First M. E. church yesterday morning, two members were received by letter and one on procation. Eight members were received at the communion service in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, one on confession and seven by letter.

Belated New Year's Vows.

Edward Long concluded that the supposed joys of getting "corned" were a snare and a delusion this morning in the city court and Judge Runyon decided to give him another trial. Augustus Zeller, who was also drunk Saturday night, likewise received suspended sentence.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

Accompanying an excellent photo of Joseph T. Ross, a popular passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central, there is an interesting sketch in the last issue of The Railroad Employee. In part this article states, "that a year and half ago Mr. Ross was selected to run one of the Central's fast flyers on the Royal Blue Line, between New York and Philadelphia, over which he still runs with Engineer Arthur Kirkendall and their pet race horse, 593, which has no equal." Mr. Ross lays claims to having been one of the youngest passenger brakeman on the New Jersey Central. In March he will have completed twenty-five years continuous passenger service with the Central.

AMUSEMENTS.

Over in Newark, at Proctor's Theatre, the programme next week will be headed by that famous minstrel star, George Primrose, and the Foley Twins. Mr. Primrose will present a unique singing and dancing specialty, in which he will present some of his latest songs. Palfry and Hilton, novelty cycling comedians; Barnes' famous animal actors, a revelation in brute intelligence; the Four Otts, in a farcical comedy sketch, entitled "The Smart Set;" Eckert and Berg, in a quaint litle Japanese operetta, entitled "Little Pee Weet;" Ramza and Arno, eccentric comedians; Laura Bennett, describing her "weddin' tower;" LaBelle Blanche, the juvenile impersonator, and a dozen other strong holiday attractions will complete a highly interesting programme.

The prevailing rates for seats at the New York theatres has been the subject of wide discussion in the press and among playgoers during the past year. It has been made clear that public sentiment demands a lower tariff at the first-class theatres. Harrison Grey Fiske, manager of the Manhattan Theatre, is convinced that the $3 scale of prices is excessive. Mr. Fiske makes the following statement: "I am satisfied that a large number of persons, irrespective of the question of personal means, feel that $1.50 is quite enough to pay for an orchestra seat, unless in an exceptional case, such as the engagement of some great foreign artist imported at heavy expense and exploited under a continuous large outlay. I purpose to adopt that scale for the best seats in the Manhattan Theatre hereafter, beginning with the engagement of 'The Virginian' on Tuesday, Jan. 5 I have consulted with Mr. Kirke LaShelle, manager of 'The Virginian,' and with the managers of other attractions that are to appear at the Manhattan, and I find that their views entirely accord with my own."

LITERARY.

In the January Pearson's is another of Mr. Edward N. Vallandigham's capital political aricles; this one telling how Polk defeated VanBuren in the Democratic National Convention in 1844 after an exciting struggle, and how, although a man comparatively little known outside his own State and opposed to Henry Clay on the Whig side—a man of life-long popularity, longer conspicuous in public service than any other man then engaged in politics—he was also victorious at the polls. Polk was truly a "dark horse." This series of political stories in Pearson's is excellent, explaining, as they do, some really dramatic incidents which, in view of their real importance and the effects they have had upon our national history, are comparatively little known.

The Red Book.

The January Red Book is characterized by its usual high standard of excellence in cover, illustrations and stories. Seventeen portraits introduce the pictorial features, nine of them photographic studies by American artists, and eight selections from Paris studios. The stories, a dozen or more, are invariably readable, clever and original. Among the authors represented in this number are Arthur E. McFarlane, Harriet A. Nash, Rafael Sabatini, Annette Kittredge, Frederick Walworth, Marion Short, Kemlo Watson, Mary E. Fitz Gerald, John Harwood Bacon, Ida Alexander Frederic Johnston and Bradley Ford. These stories are illustrated throughout and the color printing, convenient form and typrographical excellence of the magazine make it one of the most welcome of all the periodical list.

Fowler Library Fiction.

A number of Jersey newspapers are returning thanks to Congressman Charles N. Fowler for volumes received from him. Can it be possible that he is distributing around his district that library which the city of Elizabeth was promised, but did not accept?—Newark Evening News.

DEATH IN THE STORM

Blinding Snow Causes Several Fatal Accidents.

RAILROADS WERE BADLY TIED UP

Collisions at Newark, New Haven, Brewster, Utica and Bolton Result In Fatalities on Various Railways.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Death came with the terrible snowstorm which has descended upon New York city and the surrounding country. Injuries, some of them serious, were numerous, and with the weather expected to turn much colder great suffering must follow.

At the Newark avenue grade crossing, the most dangerous spot in Jersey City, the Butler accommodation train of the New York, Susquehanna and Western railroad struck a trolley car bound from Jersey City to Newark. Six were injured, one woman, Mary Hannigan of Newark, so seriously that she is expected to die.

The heavy fall of snow made traveling dangerous, and such trains as were sent out were compelled to feel their way through the blinding darkness. Four men shoveling snow from the tracks of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad near New Haven were struck by an express train and killed.

Snow fell without cessation during the day, the storm increasing in violence at night. The surface lines were in trouble, and traffic was delayed in every part of the city. Few cars were running, and the Manhattan elevated was keeping its trains moving with great difficulty and on a slow schedule. In Brooklyn the conditions were even worse.

Every railroad running into this city or ending across the Hudson had difficulty with its trains. No attempt was made to observe time tables. Many trains were abandoned entirely, while others were pushed out into the country with extreme difficulty.

While standing at the railroad station of the Harlem division of the New York Central railroad awaiting orders at Brewster, N. Y., the Chatham express, consisting of a combination smoker and baggage car, one Pullman and three day coaches, was telescoped from the rear by the locomotive attached to the Pawling local, and Charles Roberts of Pawling, a passenger on the express train, sustained severe injuries.

The fast mail on the New York Central railroad, six hours late, ran past Utica, N. Y., because the air brakes failed to work and crashed into four express cars being shifted by a yard engine. The wreck blocked traffic for some time. Engineer F. Murphy of Albany was killed, the handrail of his engine being driven through his head.

While two engines were pulling an Erie passenger train through the deep snow the forward engine was derailed near the Newburg (N. Y.) station. Fireman John F. Miller of Newburg had both legs crushed and died in the hospital. Engineer Samuel M. Headley escaped with three broken ribs and bruises.

The Montreal express for Boston ran into a freight train on the Central Vermont railway near the Bolton (Vt.) station, and Engineer Charles Holland, who jumped, was critically injured. The passengers were unharmed. The passenger locomotive was wrecked and traffic delayed several hours.

Peter Johnson, address unknown, was found dead in the snow near the Richmond County club golf links on Staten Island.

Mrs. Frances Jeannette, seventy-five years of age, may die as the result of exposure to the cold. She was found near her home in Staten Island with hands and face frozen.

Three boys about ten years of age, two named Loundberry and the third named Dutcher, were frozen to death on the bay at Bayport, Mich., during the terrific storm. The boys were fishermen's sons and had gone out to their parents' fish shanties on the ice. They became lost in the blinding snow.

Japan's Demand Upon Russia Regarding Korea.

RUSSIA TO BE SUPREME IN MANCHURIA

Czar's Government Feels That It Cannot Grant More Than the Concessions as to Trade In the Peninsula to Japan.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The despondency in connection with the situation in the far east is at last beginning to be felt on the Paris bourse, with a result that Russian bonds, which have only fallen about 3 per cent since September last, are now affected by the depressing influences surrounding the foreign market.

On the Stock Exchange Chinese securities have been heavily sold on Berlin account, but the Berlin boerse is still optimistic.

Diplomatic circles confidently expect that the Russian answer to the Japanese proposals will be handed to the Japanese foreign office by Baron de Rosen, Russian ambassador to Japan, within a very few days.

The conciliatory attitude of both governments inspires belief that the answer will pave the way to further negotiations, if indeed it does not directly lead to a pacific settlement of the trouble. The characteristic note in the press is the doubt about the attitude of the United States in the event of a war between Russia and Japan. The Russian press elaborates upon American power in the Pacific in the proximity of the Philippines and Formosa and says that it is no secret to any one in Europe that the position of the United States in the east Asiatic crisis remains highly problematical.

A leading newspaper expresses ill will toward the United States about the alleged instructions given American consuls in Russia to report on the prospects of renewed anti-Semitic disorders and in a curious editorial opposes the sale of the Manchurian railway, whether to the United States or to China, which, it declares, is advocated in some quarters.

An order of the day published by Admiral Alexieff, Russian viceroy in the far east, after a parade at Port Arthur unstintedly praises the troops and declares that some who had just finished a twelve days' march had arrived in magnificent condition.

Russian officials say Chinese attack is unlikely, as Russia has 2,000 Cossacks and 2,500 Mongolian soldiers at Urga.

It is learned from a high official source that Japan in her last note to the Russian government announced that the minimum proposition which she can accept from Russia are rights in Korea equal to those claimed by Russia in Manchuria. In return, it is said, Japan agrees to recognize the supremacy of Russia in Manchuria. To this proposition the Russian government will not give its approval, feeling that Japan should content herself with modifications in the form of concessions in Korea for her commerce.

A meeting of a most serious nature was convened by the Russian emperor at Tsarkoe-Selo which has been kept very dark. Those present were the Grand Duke Michel Nicolaivich, president of the council of the empire, all the senior grand dukes and a few of the most trusted councilors.

At this meeting, according to the strong desire of the emperor for peace, a plan was worked out which at this eleventh hour may yet save the situation and avoid the devastation and horrors of war. The emperor's idea is that Russia would guarantee the integrity of China on the understanding that her protectorate over Manchuria is recognized, and Japan would then be allowed to fulfill her wishes as regards Korea.

Under the impression that the laying of the foundations of the Standard Oil company's new premises at Chefoo was a bluff designed to cover the erection of a fort Russia sent a cruiser to investigate the matter. The officers landed and took measurements, after which they proceeded to Port Arthur. In well informed circles it is alleged that Russia covets Chefoo."

China Would Help Japan.

TIENTSIN, China, Jan. 4.—As a result of Japan's inquiries as to China's attitude in the event of war, it is stated that the throne has issued secret orders to Chinese troops to assist the Japanese. It is proposed that a Chinese army of 40,000 men under Japanese officers would in that case proceed to the Liaotung peninsula. It is said that King Edward greatly admires the Japanese and is using every effort in the direction of peace.

Fire at Wilson, N. C.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Jan. 4.—Fire at Wilson, N. C., has caused a loss of $125,000. The Cooper-Watson tobacco warehouse, the Center warehouse, Woodward & Jones' tobacco warehouse, Lewis & Cook's barroom, W. H. Morris' grocery store, John Y. Moore's livery stable and other smaller buildings were destroyed.

Macedonia's New Governor.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 4, 1904.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Attention is called to an excellent communication regarding the proposed colored orphanage, which is printed in another column.

The days of billboard advertising are going. In the first place, an appeal to a prospective patron by way of the billboard is to offend him, for he resents the assault upon his vision that is made here and there throughout the country. No man willingly patronizes that which he has feelings of resentment against.—Press and Printer.

The Councilmanic public service committee's report on the application of the Central New Jersey Telephone Company for a franchise in this city no doubt meets with the general approval of the public. The recommendations concerning provisions to be made for the city's interest in any agreement with any promoters seeking franchises here demonstrate that the committee has given the subject careful study.

In the current number of The World's Work, Plainfield's public schools receive merited praise in the course of an article on suburban schools. The complimentary notices are not only flattering to Superintendent Maxson, Principal Travell and the Board of Education but to the entire body of citizens of this municipality. Some noteworthy extracts from the article in question are published in another column.

A statement of the Plainfield Trust Company's condition of business, at the beginning of the new year, which is made public today shows the wonderful progress and great strength of that young banking and savings institution. The amount of deposits has grown from $168,379.72 in July 1902 to $806,359.34 at the present time. Although its capital is but $100,000 its surplus and undivided profits already aggregate $101,090.43. This showing reflects great credit on the board of directors, especially J. Herbert Case, the secretary and treasurer of the institution.

With the growth of public confidence in advertising it has become amazingly productive, so that the real problem is not so much to attract business as to take care of it. Some of the best advertising printed today is far ahead of its organization for taking care of results, and therefore there is prodigal waste. The better the advertising the more detail it produces. You will see in general mediums a new line of publicity appear for a season, attract attention and then drop out of sight. The general supposition is that it did not pay, and people wonder why. As a matter of fact, the advertiser has got more business than he can attend to in the majority of such cases.—Printers' Ink.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Scotch Plains was snowbound Saturday night for the first time this winter. The trolley company was unable to cope with the driving sleet and snow. During the early afternoon cars began running any old way and by night the line was practically blocked. This forced those who are in the habit of doing their shopping out of town to stay at home. Early yesterday morning the Township Committee had the snow plows at work cleaning the sidewalks through town so that the residents could get around once more. The blockade on the trolley was raised during the morning and cars were able to run but the company was unable to keep to their schedule.

Funeral services over the late William R. Roulstone, who died Friday at the home of Mrs. Noah Terry, near Terrell road, were held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock from Coles' undertaking parlors, Plainfield. Nearly ten years ago he was stricken with blindness, but that did not deter him from making his regular weekly visits to the village. The Terry farm is located near Netherwood, over two miles from the village, but Roulstone, aided only by a cane, was able to make the journey to the village and could tell the difference in the stores in town.

Former Postmaster Wallace Vail, of Clinton avenue, is still in a critical condition. He has been unconscious during the past two days and no hope for his recovery is entertained. His illness is due to organic heart trouble. Mr. Vail has been seriously ill about ten days, although he has been detained at home for a month.

KILBURN'S REPORT.

Shipbuilding Trust Officials Transgressed the Law.

LOANS MADE WITHOUT SECURITY

President of the Company and Another Got Nearly $1,750,000, and the Trust Guaranteed $2,000,000 More.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 4.—Drastic comment upon the conduct of the Trust Company of the Republic in connection with the affairs of the United States Shipbuilding company is a feature of the annual report of Superintendent Frederick D. Kilburn of the state bank department, just made public. "Upon the first intimation that the trust company had made unusual commitments in the case," says Mr. Kilburn, "a special inquiry was instituted by me to ascertain the facts, and I was amazed to find that undertakings had been entered into and liabilities incurred which not only jeopardized the solvency of the trust company, but flagrantly transgressed the law. The company had made numerous loans without collateral other than shipbuilding stock and securities, one of them to Mr. Dresser, the president of the company, and to Mr. Nixon for nearly a million and three-quarter dollars. It had, besides, guaranteed loans made by other institutions to Mr. Dresser and Mr. Nixon amounting to $2,000,000. I required, under the alternative that the company be referred at once to the attorney general for proceedings in insolvency to be instituted against it, that there be some very thorough straightening out of the trust company's affairs. The direct loan to Mr. Dresser and to Mr. Nixon was excessive under the law regardless of Mr. Dresser's official relation to the company, and to him it was more than ten times the amount that could lawfully be loaned.

"Under my insistence a half million of it was soon repaid, the loans for $2,000,000 guaranteed to other institutions were taken up, and later the balance of the Dresser and Nixon note to the Trust Company of the Republic was paid in full. This seemed to me a far better proceeding than to refer the company to the attorney general summarily, for it recovered nearly $4,000,000 that in the other alternative might have proved a loss. Moreover, one plan for reorganizing the shipbuilding trust would have involved a loss of $600,000 to the trust company if carried through, which, however, was objected to and finally abandoned.

"It was impossible, however, to avert all of the consequences of the ill judged and reckless commitments in which the company had become involved, and it preserved its solvency only by cutting its capital in two. Its losses on account of investments in the shipbuilding folly and from loans upon shipbuilding collateral aggregated nearly $900,000 and, with other minor losses and depreciation in investments, wiped out the company's entire surplus and necessitated the sacrifice by stockholders of one-half of their holdings. Over a million dollars was charged to profit and loss."

Hotel Wrecked by Dynamite.

WOODBRIDGE, N. J., Jan. 4.—An explosion wrecked the hotel and hall of Joseph Galaida and more or less seriously injured thirty persons at Keasby, four miles from here, while the St. John's Benevolent society was celebrating its anniversary by a dance. There were about 500 in the hall, and one of the two exits was closed by the wreckage. The people became panic stricken and fought to get out, many being trampled on and seriously injured. It is believed that some one with a grievance against Galaida or the society used dynamite. The walls of the building were blown apart.

Roosevelt Asked to Interfere.

BOSTON, Jan. 4.—Resolutions asking President Roosevelt and congress to use their influence with Russia to prevent another massacre of Jews in Kishineff were adopted at a mass meeting of Hebrews in the North Russell Street synagogue. The speakers were Samuel Borofsky, who presided; Rabbi Hirschberg and R. M. Kallen, instructor of Hebrew at Princeton university. They declared that they had received reliable information that a massacre of the Jews in Kishineff had been planned for Thursday next.

Great Ice Jam at Niagara.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 4.—The ice jam on the American side above Niagara falls continues to pile up. Thousands of visitors are here to witness the unusual sight of a practically dry river bed between the American shore and Goat island and also in the channels between the Three Sister islands. A tremendous volume of water is being forced over the Horseshoe falls. The jam is from twenty-five to thirty-five feet high and extends out into the river about 2,000 feet.

From Prison to Soldiers' Home.

BATH, N. Y., Jan. 4.—John S. Downing, who was pardoned by Governor Odell and released from Sing Sing prison on New Year's day after serving twenty-four years of a life sentence for manslaughter, has been admitted to the State Soldiers' home. During the civil war Downing was a sergeant in the Fifty-first regiment, New York infantry.

Alleged Burglar Shot.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 4.—Arlie Barnes of this city, suspected of complicity in the recent burglary at the Erie station at Union, this county, was located at Laceyville, Pa. Barnes took refuge in a schoolhouse and refused to surrender. The officers fired into the building, shooting Barnes in the stomach, inflicting a probably fatal wound.

ALL PLAYHOUSES SHUT.

Chicago Mayor Determined to Guard Against Another Disaster.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Every theater in the city has been closed by order of Mayor Harrison, who declares that none shall be reopened until he is satisfied that there could be no repetition of the Iroquois fire disaster, in which 587 men, women and children perished.

The city is in mourning, as it has witnessed the burial of the hundreds who lost their lives last Wednesday, and all day sorrowful corteges moved toward every cemetery.

There was a hasty rush of theatrical managers to the office of Mayor Harrison in the effort to secure the withdrawal, or at least a postponement, of the order, but their reception was of an exceedingly frosty nature.

The fact that the asbestus curtain in the Iroquois theater was so badly wrecked by the fire that charred portions of it have been carried away by various investigating committees caused the mayor to decide that asbestus curtains could not be relied upon to afford the most complete protection.

It was announced that all the theaters in the city must hereafter comply with the following provisions before they will be allowed to open:

Steel roll curtains, wide exits, no combustibles of any kind in the house furnishings, fireproofed scenery, no calcium or "spot" lights to be used on the stage, skylights above the stage provided with automatic lids to permit the egress of smoke, fire and gas; separate stairways, each exit having its own stairs to the street.

At a special meeting of the council the building ordinance was amended so that hereafter all theaters must have thick brick walls between the stage and the auditorium.

From all indications the meeting of the city council tonight will be taken up entirely by the introduction of resolutions relating to the fire in the Iroquois theater. Ordinances will be presented covering almost every detail of the management and equipment of a theater. Alderman Dunn will introduce an order forbidding members of the city council to accept passes either from railroads or places of amusement.

TRAVIS THE CHAMPION.

Luck and Steadiness Upheld the Golf Crack.

PINEHURST, N. C., Jan. 4.—W. J. Travis won the final thirty-six hole round of the "inauguration tournament" here, but at various stages of his match with W. C. Fownes, Jr., of the Highland club, Pittsburg, it looked very much like a victory for the winner of the latest Atlantic City tournament. Luck and steadiness, however, were with the champion, and he pulled out a victory by a score of 2 up and 1 to play.

D. M. Cole of the Takoia club, Westfield, Mass., after a hole for hole battle defeated W. E. Marcus of the Montclair Golf club, New Jersey, by 2 up and 1 to play in the second cup division, and F. J. Bailey of the Chestnut Hill Golf club, Chicago, had the only walkover of the day in his match for the third cup with F. Walter Hentz of the Mount Airy club, Philadelphia, 9 up and 7 to play.

Ice Yachting.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Jan. 4.—Ice yachting is now enjoyed on the South Shrewsbury, even though snow covered the ice in spots twelve inches deep. Frank L. Sheppard, general manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, with a party of fourteen, came down for a day's sport on the ice. Mr. Sheppard is a member of the Shrewsbury Ice Yacht and Boat club, and he and his guests were taken over the fifteen mile course in record breaking time.

A Great Billiard Run.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—At the Liederkranz club Ferdinand Poggenburg in a 500 point game against a club member at fourteen inch balkline billiards averaged fifteen and made a run of 142. This is the highest run the Liederkranz champion has ever counted in practice. His best run in tournament play is 119, made this season.

Fire Wiped Out Girls' Academy.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 4.—St. Catherine's academy, a Catholic school for girls, located near Springfield, Ky., has been burned to the ground. The loss is about $200,000. Between 75 and 100 girls were in the school when the fire broke out. So rapid was the progress of the flames that the pupils barely escaped with their lives. All of the buildings connected with the institution were destroyed.

Sudden Death of Lawrence Depew.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 4.—Lawrence Depew, brother of United States Senator Chauncey M. Depew of New York and one of the most prominent citizens of this city, fell dead at the threshold of his home. Death was ascribed to heart disease. Mr. Depew bore a striking personal resemblance to Senator Depew.

Reprimand Caused Two Deaths.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Angry because he had been reprimanded by his sister-in-law and ordered from her home, John Pollak, a Bohemian, shot the woman twice, killing her instantly. After committing the murder Pollak shot himself through the mouth. He died in a few minutes.

Moccasin Hauled Offshore.

CAPE HENRY, Va., Jan. 4.—The submarine boat Moccasin, previously reported ashore at Currituck Beach, N. C., is now afloat two lengths out and, secured in this position, will probably be floated safely after the storm raging here moderates.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair; not so cold; west winds.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

WHAT IS WORN.

Wide Cuffs on Coats—Chinese Lamb the Latest In Fur.

The very widest possible cuffs are used on coats, and these are lined with white satin slashed and filled in with yellowish or cream white lace.

The three-quarter loose coat and the little loose coat reaching to the waist line and merely belted in at the back are both very smart.

Most of the trimming of hats seems to be on the underside of the brim or drooping on the hair.

Cluny lace and moleskin are mingled in fancy neckwear to go with rather severe tailor made suits, and white chiffon neckwear is decorated with touches of ermine.

CLOTH TAILOR MADE.

Some beautiful evening gowns are carried out in royal blue net trimmed with sequins of the same color, and an equally good effect is obtained in brown net having bronze sequins. The waist of the latter gown would be smart enlivened by a few shaded orange flowers.

White Chinese lamb is the latest thing in fur. It is very effective, closely resembling the baby lamb, but is of a much flatter description. These coats are usually made three-quarter length and lined with delicately tinted Persian brocades.

The picture shows a fine cloth tailor made. The blouse has an inner vest of spotted panne, and the skirt is tucked on the hips and finished with three bands around the bottom.

FOR THE WINTER MONTHS.

Costumes For the House and For the Street.

Afternoon reception gowns are made in all the lighter clinging fabrics trimmed with tiny gaugings, plaitings, ruchings and entre deux of lace.

Very attractive little ties are made of fur in sable, ermine or moleskin.

UP TO DATE NIGHTGOWN.

These fasten in a loose knot around the throat and are finished off in black and white or with fringe or frills of chiffon to match.

Although some people do not like them, dressmakers continue to trim frocks with ruchings of taffeta or satin. On the heavier gowns some of these are very broad and have an edging of fur. Between these ruchings there are bands of gauging two or more inches wide, and in many cases velvet is used as well. So dresses are quite elaborately worked up.

The three-quarter length coat still continues to be the favorite because it is easier to walk in and because it shows an attractive glimpse of the gown underneath. These three-quarter coats are particularly becoming worn with a much frilled skirt, the frills just showing below the coat.

The picture shows an extremely up to date nightgown made of white china silk. It has a yoke of embroidery and insertion and very wide sleeves held together by ribbon bows. The ruffle at the bottom is a pretty addition and gives a flare around the feet.

IN THE SENATE.

After Two Weeks' Recess the Canal Treaty and Smoot Cases Reopen.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—After a recess of more than two weeks the senate resumed business today without any definite programme. The senate has no settled programme for the entire session beyond the passage of the appropriation bills, the consideration of the Panama canal treaty and the determination of Senator Smoot's case.

Notwithstanding the fact that the canal treaty is not at present in the senate, there is little doubt that the canal question will form the leading topic for discussion. Senator Lodge will speak on this subject tomorrow, and he will be followed by other senators who antagonize the attitude of the administration. Senator Lodge will uphold in an elaborate speech the right of the president to recognize the independence of Panama at the time and in the manner in which President Roosevelt gave that recognition. Senator McComas also has intimated his intention to discuss this subject. Senator Morgan is prepared at any time to speak, but his present intention is to wait until the treaty is reported from the committee on foreign relations and then to discuss it in executive session.

The committee is expected to report the canal treaty by the middle of the week.

The committee on military affairs probably will report the nomination of General Leonard Wood to be major general at the first executive session of the senate. A meeting of the committee has been called for today, with the understanding that a vote on the nomination shall be taken immediately.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—When the house reassembled today after its vacation it was confronted by an almost bare calendar. Only a few items of legislation have been reported by committees. The disposition in the house is to take up no matters of general interest outside of appropriation bills, and there is no appropriation measure in shape to be reported from committee. The legislative, executive and judicial bill will be the first to receive attention by the house, but there is no expectation that it will be reported from the appropriations committee before Friday or Saturday. In the meantime the house will consider private pension bills and other questions.

STRONG RE-ENFORCEMENTS.

General Elliott Inspecting the Country to Form Camps.

PANAMA, Jan. 4.—Strong re-enforcements have been sent to the Bayano districts.

M. Moet, the French charge d'affaires, will be officially received by the provisional government this afternoon.

The United States converted cruiser Dixie has arrived at Colon.

Brigadier General Elliott of the United States marine corps has gone to Empire Station, on the Panama railroad, and will inspect that and other stations along the railroad line for the purpose of selecting a suitable camp for the marines from the Dixie. The marines will be landed today.

The United States cruiser Topeka and the torpedo boats Truxton and Stewart are on their way to Colon.

Two Dead, Thirty Hurt, In Wreck.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 4.—A broken rail caused the derailment of three cars of an eastbound passenger train on the Western Maryland railroad, causing the death of two persons and the serious injury of a number of other passengers and trainmen, the number of injured being placed at thirty. The ladies' coach, which was the last of the train, rolled over and over down the mountain side a distance of eighty feet and landed bottom upward eighty feet below.

DEATH OF LONGSTREET.

The Famous Confederate Commander Passes Away at Gainesville, Ga.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 4. — General James Longstreet, soldier, statesman and diplomat and the last lieutenant general of the Confederate army with the exception of General Gordon, has died at Gainesville, Ga., from an attack of acute pneumonia. He had been ill two days.

General Longstreet was a sufferer from cancer of one eye, but his general health had been good until last Wednesday, when he was seized with a sudden cold, developing later into pneumonia of a violent nature. He is survived by his wife, four sons and a daughter. He will be buried in Gainesville, which had been his home since the civil war.

General Longstreet was born in South Carolina in 1821 and was graduated from West Point in 1842. He saw active service in the regular army in the Mexican war, gaining the rank of major. He served in the Confederate army as brigadier, major and lieutenant general, commanding the first corps of the Army of Northern Virginia, 1862-65. He was wounded by his own troops in the Wilderness in May, 1864. After the war General Longstreet became a Republican and held several offices under the federal government, among them that of minister to Turkey. Since Nov. 2, 1897, he had been United States commissioner of Pacific railroads.

DIETRICH TRIAL OPENS.

Legal Fight Begun as to Which Count Shall Be First Tried.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 4.—This morning the trial of United States Senator Charles H. Dietrich opened in the federal court. Senator Dietrich has been indicted on three different counts—for alleged conspiracy with Postmaster Fisher of Hastings, for the alleged illegal leasing of buildings and receiving benefits therefrom while a member of the United States congress. The two former indictments were named as the ones to come to trial first, and a legal battle as to which of the two will be tried first has been opened by attorneys. Senator Dietrich's counsel has already stated to the court that he will attack the validity and sufficiency of the conspiracy count.

District Attorney Summers announced his wish to try Senator Dietrich first on the conspiracy charge, while the senator's counsel insisted that the court should try first the case on the indictment charging direct violation of the statute.

General Moffitt Dead.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Jan. 4.—General Stephen Moffitt, one of the most prominent men in northern New York, is dead at his residence, about two miles north of this city. General Moffitt was born in Clintonville, Clinton county, N. Y., in 1837. When the civil war broke out he was the first man to enlist in the Ninety-sixth volunteer regiment. At the time of his death he was president of the Plattsburg National bank, president of the Commodore Macdonald club, assistant treasurer of the Catholic Summer School of America and a member of the Loyal legion, Walter H. Benedict, G. A. R. post No. 366 of this city and of the Society of the Army of the Potomac. He was a very wealthy and charitable man.

Trouble In the Caucasus.

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—It is reported that conditions in the Caucasus have become intolerable, owing to the Armenian revolutionary movement and the excesses of the brigands. The Grand Duke Nicholas has arrived at St. Petersburg for the purpose of explaining to the czar that Prince Galitzin, the governor general of the Caucasus, is unequal to dealing with the situation. The trouble is the result of an imperial decree confiscating the entire property of the ancient Armenian church in Russia.

Wos y Gil Goes to Santo Domingo.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Jan. 4.—Thirty of the followers of General Wos y Gil, former president of Santo Domingo, including all the Dominican revolutionary generals now here, sailed at noon today on the French steamer St. Simon, going direct to Puerto Plata. From there they will hasten to join General Jiminez before Santo Domingo. They declare themselves confident that they will be able to overthrow the government of President Morales.

The Scorpion at Puerto Plata.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Telegrams were received at the navy department announcing the arrival of the gunboat Scorpion at Puerto Plata and the departure from that port of the cruiser Detroit for San Juan to replenish her coal supply. The gunboat Newport is at Santo Domingo city. None of the telegrams gives any fresh information regarding the political situation in Santo Domingo.

Against An Orphanage.

Editor, The Daily Press:

It seems to me that the question of a colored orphanage at Netherwood has assumed unwarranted proportion in the public mind and has provided a good deal of sentiment against the colored people which they, as a whole, have done nothing to deserve.

So far as I know there has never been a private conference among the intelligent colored leaders on this subject, nor have there been any representative public meetings at which the colored citizens of Plainfield have discussed it. Whatever steps have taken by the projectors of this scheme cannot therefore be charged to the action of such leaders nor to that of the colored people as a body, for neither have had anything to do with it.

I am in hearty sympathy with every right move to improve conditions in Plainfield, and especially those of my own people, when that does not interfere with public interests. But I am thoroughly opposed to spite work and to that other sort of evil which the newspapers style as "graft." Neither of these, in my judgment, is in harmony with good works.

I am free to say that for various reasons, the idea of a colored State orphanage in Plainfield, does not commend itself to me as wise. I do not believe, for one thing, that such an institution would be for the best interests of Plainfield and, as any other citizen, I would for that reason protest against it. It would draw into this city from other parts of the State a number of orphans and foundlings for whose education, employment and material support Plainfield would be responsible. And instead of assisting the local charity organizations in their work of relieving the poor and needy, it would simply increase the difficulties of that problem.

Again, I would not favor the proposed orphanage for the reason that it includes too many objects—an orphanage, a bureau of intelligence, departments for the unemployed of the city and from the South—all in the name of charity. Whatever the real character of such an institution might turn out, one thing is certain that is, it would be exceedingly difficult for such a jumble of enterprises to maintain long a good reputation.

But another very serious objection which I would offer to this scheme, is, that those back of it seem to be eager to make enemies of the white people whose friendship in such an enterprise would be indispensable. To erect a colored orphanage in the most valuable home section, in a distinctively white community and in spite of their protests, would not only be one of the grossest insults to the city of Plainfield but would be harmful to every public interest of the colored people. It would minimize the streams of benevolence which flow into many of their private homes and churches, and would create a breach of public confidence and of public sympathy which would require many years to repair.

PLAINFIELD LIQUOR LICENSE FEE, $1,000

Mayor Jenkins Urges This Rate and Opposes Any Increase in Number in City.

HIS ANNUAL MESSAGE

OPPOSES MUNICIPAL COLLECTION AND DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE.

Dwells at Length on School Legislation As Effects the Proposed $125,000 High School Here—City Finances in Good Shape.

In his annual message delivered to the Common Council last night, Mayor Jenkins opposed the increase in the number of liquor licenses and urged that the fee be increased to $1,000 from $750. He took a stand against the proposed systematic collection and disposal of garbage and dwelt at length upon the proposed new high school cautioning the Common Council to exercise care in the matter of the bonds to be sold to defray the expense in the erection of the institution. He also called attention to the fact that under the Meeker law the members of the present Board of Assessors hold office until next year.

This is the full text of his message:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
Plainfield, N. J.,
January 1, 1904.

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

Gentlemen:—The several adminstrative departments of the city government have, during several years last past inaugurated such reforms and acquired such increased efficiency, and withal have been conducted so admirably, that there are comparatively few matters to which I need at this time to direct the attention of the Common Council. The condition of the city finances at present is highly satisfactory. Starting with a balance of $31,344.48 in the general fund, the last Common Council met all the usual expenses chargeable to that fund, and in addition to that furnished the moneys expended for permanent improvements in connection with the installation of the police call sytsem, the police patrol wagon, the equipment of the police station with eight new steel cells, the purchase of six water-sprinkling wagons, and the expense of sprinkling the streets, in all involving an expenditure of about $12,200, and at the close of the year had in hand a balance in the general fund of $27,123.24.

The fire department has increased its permanent equipment by the purchase of a combination wagon, and the amount remaining unpaid of moneys borrowed by that department in anticipation of taxes already assessed is the sum of $7,000. The other departments, as will appear from the reports on file with the City Clerk, owe no borrowed money and have all kept within their respective appropriations.

Taxes.

This city has up to this time availed of all the powers conferred upon it by its charter and the general laws of the State looking to the vigorous enforcement of the collection of unpaid taxes and assessments, and its success in this direction has won the unstinted approval of our citizens. The Legislature which met last winter revised the laws governing the assessment and collection of taxes. The law went into effect on the twentieth day of December last, and in many of its features effected radical changes. All city ordinances in conflict with that statute are so far forth repealed. Taxes in this city will hereafter become delinquent on the twentieth day of December instead of one month earlier; the collector is no longer required to make return of delinquents for taxes from 1903 on, to the city judge; the city judge as to such taxes is no longer required to issue warrants, but instead thereof the collector is authorized and directed to issue transcripts of the assessments on his duplicate, which shall have the force and effect of warrants. Other changes with respect to the method of enforcing the collection of taxes by seizing and selling the personal property of delinquents and by arrest and imprisonment of delinquents for non-payment of personal property taxes have been effected by the statute referred to, and all these changes tend to the simplification of procedure, and if possible, make it more imperative upon the collecting officer to see to it that all citizens, and not merely those who pay voluntarily, shall contribute

HARMONY RESTORED IN BOROUGH COUNCIL

Charles A. Lee Explains His Words and Robert Clark, Jr., Does Not Resign.

THE NEW FIRE LIMIT

ORDINANCE PASSED ESTABLISHING NEW BOUNDARIES.

Borough Must Pay Cost of Insurance and Storage of Voting Machine—Treasurer's Report Excellent—The Routine Business.

Councilman Robert Clark, Jr., did not offer his resignation at the meeting of the North Plainfield Common Council last night as some supposed he would. Oil had been poured upon the troubled waters and Councilman Charles Lee's explanation of his words which passed in heated discussion at the last meeting served to bring about harmony at last night's session.

Although the meeting was a short one many matters of importance were transacted. The fire limit ordinance was passed on its third reading and was adopted without a dissenting vote. The report of the collector and treasurer, George F. Brown, showed that there was an unusually large balance on hand in the treasury for this time of the year. The amount now on deposit to the credit of the borough is $14,886.26, which the Mayor declared, is more than has been in the treasury at this time of the year in five years. This is explained from the fact that the taxes have been paid more promptly this year since the boorugh has taken measures to see that all delinquents come to time.

The treasurer's report is this: Taxes and interest, including sidewalks, $16,264.39; Board of Health, $189.30; special school tax, $8,613.80; recorder fines, $3; Plainfield Gas Company, franchise tax, $153.20; Plainfield Water Supply Company, franchise tax, $339.01; disbursements, $21,061.40; cash on hand, $14,886.26; borough fund, $11,588.68; engine house fund, $3,297.58. Street Commissioner James K. Arnold reported that during the month of December $14.75 had been spent on the streets in cleaning gutters. Councilman Clark reported that $33.96 was spent for the fire department and $442.04 for street lighting. It was decided to hold up the bill of the Standard Paving Company until repairs can be made. It appears that there is too much slope to the sidewalk and that when there is ice upon it it is dangerous to pedestrians. It is the intention of the Council to see that this defect is remedied.

North Plainfield will be obliged to stand the expense of storage and insurance for the new voting machine now located in Robert Trewin's barber shop on Somerset street. A communication from Trenton, which was read at the meeting, stated that the borough should make arrangements for the storage and insurance of the machines, the expense incurred thereby to be borne by the municipality.

Councilman Nichols moved that warrants be drawn for the payment of bills amounting to $100. A resolution was passed appropriating $100 for the services of an expert accountant to audit the books of Collector Brown. Councilman Nichols and Mayor Smalley both paid a high tribute to Mr. Brown and said that they have always found his books in an excellent condition. It has been the custom of the borough to employ an auditor each year. Councilman Lee reported that there have been nine arrests and the borough and $3 have been collected on fines. Councilman Lee moved that claims amounting to $24 in the police department be paid.

The next Council meeting will be held Friday night, January 15.

Mr. Dolliver Advanced.

G. Q. Dolliver, of Fairview avenue, has been appointed general inspector of ties, timber, piles, etc., of the Central Railroad of New Jersey with an office at Elizabethport. Mr. Dolliver has been in the employ of the road for more than twenty years and his appointment is viewed with high favor alike by officials and employees of the road.

Installation and Banquet.

There will be a joint-installation of the officers-elect of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., and the Woman's Relief Corps on Tuesday night, January 12, at which time an entertainment will be provided for members of nearby Posts and Relief Corps. A banquet will follow the installation.

SCHOLARLY WOMAN DISCUSSES BURKE

Miss Mary T. Blauvelt Pictures Great English Statesman to the M. A. Club.

LECTURE AT THE CASINO

EDMUND BURKE, PESSIMIST, OPPOSED ALL CONSTITUTIONAL REFORMS.

Lecturer, Professor in Young Ladies' Seminary at Farmington, Conn., Author of "The Developement of Cabinet Govt. in England."

A woman who wrote "The Development of Cabinet Government in England," used as a text book in Oxford University, is a woman considered eminently qualified to discuss Edmund Burke, one of England's greatest statesmen. Such a woman is Miss Mary Taylor Blauvelt, a professor of history in the Young Ladies' Seminary at Farmington, Conn., who lectured before the Monday Afternoon Club at the Casino yesterday afternoon. The talk was not biographical in style but rather a vivid picture of the English parliament in the latter part of the eighteenth century.

Miss Blauvelt described Burke as "the apostle of expediency," not regarding legal right or moral right unless circumstances favored a possibility of success. He was a great advocate of party government but was opposed to constitutional reform, venerating all that was old. At the crisis of American affairs Edmund Burke opposed the taxation by the English government of the colonies as not expedient and much impassioned eloquence is on record as an expression of his opposition to the treatment of the American colonies by the King of England.

The sad close of Burke's life in the days of the French Revolution, Miss Blauvelt attributed to his lack of faith in God and men, engendering a doubt of the ultimate triumph of truth and right. Miss Blauvelt was a student at Oxford University and her observations of that seat of learning were most interesting.

The novelty of having women call for them at their houses and being escorted to the dance, there to be asked to trip the light fantastic toe, was experienced last night by a number of the young men identified with the Park Club. The affair was a leap year dance, arranged by the women of the club, and it was a success in every detail.

The decorations were an attractive feature of the event. The ball room was arranged with festoons of Christmas greens and garlands and wreaths. Dancing was started at 9:30 o'clock and continued until 2 o'clock.

Laurens VanBuren led the cotillion which took place shortly before midnight. The favors were roses for the women and pink and white carnations for the men. Other favors were Hiawartha cards, Japanese fans, lanterns, horns, whistles and many other musical toys.

MERCURY THIRTEEN BELOW ZERO MARK

Coldest Morning Experienced in Thirteen Years According to John Neagle.

20 BELOW IS REPORTED

BITING COLD WEATHER CAUSES MUCH TROUBLE IN THE CITY.

Trains and Trolley Service Delayed—Mishaps of the Day—One Thermometer Twenty-five Degrees Below.

According to Weather Observer John Neagle, the lowest temperature, of which he has any record during the past thirteen years, was noted this morning, the mercury dropping to 13 below zero. There is a record of 8 below zero on January 17, 1893, and another record of 9 below on February 10, 1899.

Other reports of low temperatures were received from all parts of the city. D. W. Litteli reports that in the vicinity of his home in West Seventh street, there were three thermometers that recorded 20 below zero at 5 o'clock this morning. Other reports vary from 10 to 25 degrees below zero.

It was found necessary yesterday to run the trolley sweeper and plough over the local lines several times to make the operation of the cars on schedule time possible. As it was the cars had some difficulty in making the usual trips.

Reggie Conger, a lad living on Mountain avenue, froze the fingers on his hands yesterday while playing out of doors. He stopped at George VanHorn's home on Summit avenue and there discovered the condition of his hands. The proper remedies were applied.

Some of the factories in this city were temporarily disabled yesterday morning on account of the cold weather having frozen a number of water pipes. Trouble was experienced at the Campbell Press Company shop, Scott Press Company Works and at the Aluminum Plate Company.

The water pipes in the house at 510 Madison avenue froze last night and subsequently burst, with the result that the cellar was flooded with water. Michal Armstrong, the plumber, was called to the residence at an early hour to repair the damage.

The condition of the snow on Park avenue, near Hillside, is reported to have made considerable trouble. It is piled high on both sides of the street and has caused three upsets of sleighs this morning.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Darby, of Alton, announce the engagement of their daugter, Miss Edith Marion Darby, to Edward P. Simon, of Philadelphia. Mr. Simon is a member of the firm of Caldwell & Simon, architects, of the Quaker City.

Pupils Promoted.

Central Office Manager.

G. A. Turbert, who has been associated in the "central office" of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company at Newark, has been transferred to Plainfield, where he is now central office manager at the local telephone exchange.

Borough Schools Open.

The North Plainfield schools opened this morning after the Christmas and New Year vacations. Full attendances are reported in the lower grades where the children, in some cases, were kept at home on account of the cold weather.

False Report.

An erroneous report has been in circulation during the past few days that Percy Cannon, of East Second street, had committed suicide. The death of a blind man in Fanwood is believed to be responsible for the false report.

Partnership Dissolved.

The partnership lately subsisting between M. Gaiman and S. Berkowitz, trading under the firm name of Boston Cloak and Fur Store, was dissolved by mutual consent yesterday. Mr. Gaiman will continue the business at the same place.

Augustus Dangler, of Park avenue, has returned from a visit to Chicamauga, where he has been visiting familiar battle fields.

WALLACE VAIL DIED; AGED SEVENTY-FIVE

Former Postmaster Passed Away This Morning; Death Due to Heart Trouble.

WAS ONCE INFLUENTIAL

ACTIVE IN LOCAL POLITICS FOR A NUMBER OF YEARS.

Retired From Municipal Affairs After Being Defeated for Sheriff Recently Ended Business Career—Arrangements for Funeral.

Wallace Vail, for years a leading citizen of Plainfield, lies dead at his home at 1214 Dunellen avenue. He passed away this morning at 1:20 a. m. after fighting against an attack of heart disease for several weeks. Few men have wielded the power and influence here that he did.

He was seventy-five years old and until he retired from active business five years ago was one of the leading business men in local real estate circles. Coming here with his parents from Bound Brook at an early age. He received the greater part of his education in Plainfield. Before he was scarcely of age he began to take an interest in politics.

Some have said that the work of Wallace Vail in politics in this city was the cornerstone to the present stable government here. He was progressive and enterprising. There was nothing that came up in the way of an improvement to the city but that Wallace Vail was not at its head.

He was a staunch Republican. For thirteen years he served as Postmaster under Lincoln and Grant, succeeding Elston Dunn. So great was his interest in municipal affairs that his wife practically took charge of the mail service in order that he might look after other interests. He was frequently a member of the Election Boards. He ran against Nathaniel Thompson for sheriff of Union county but was defeated. This defeat crushed him perceptably and his interest in politics began to wane and the beginning of the end of his power and influence was apparent. He retained an active interest in the fire department. As an active member in the Gazelle Engine Company he was an enthusiastic fire fighter and for several terms held positions on the fire boards. He was a member of the Exempt Firemen's Association of this city up to the time of his death. He led the agitation for a steamer for the fire department.

In the face of much opposition Mr. Vail also led the movement to macadamize the streets of this city. He believed in good roads and he wanted Plainfield to be a model city. He was connected with the Telford Paving Company and laid the first street of macadamizing in this city. As payment he accepted a lot in the southern part of the city.

There are many people in this city today who owe much to Wallace Vail for he has more than once sent coal and food to those who suffered. Charity was part of his nature but he made no display of it. During the heighth of his power as a politician and leading citizen he was generally considered one of the wealthiest men in Plainfild. One man said that morning when he heard of Mr. Vail's death that "he at one time carried the Republican party in his vest pocket but his loose change he kept in the pocket with a hole in it."

Mr. Vail was a lover of fast horses. Since he was a young man he always had a number of thoroughbreds. His stables were always well stocked and at one time he dealt in horses.

Mr. Vail's full name was William Wallace Vail. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Vail, whose old homestead is still located at the corner of Central avenue and West Seventh street. He also lived at one time at the corner of West Fourth street and Central avenue. Besides his wife, who was a Miss Hulda Sturtavant, he is survived by only one sister, Mrs. Trueman Moffett, of Philadelphia.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 from his late residence at the corner of Dunellen and Clinton avenues and the interment will be in Evergreen cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. J. B. Bryan.

Carried a Gun.

Tomaso Carusso was arrested by Patrolman McCarthy last night in the West End for acting in a suspicious manner. He was found with a loaded revolver in his pocket.

COMMON COUNCIL ACTS ON MESSAGE

All Appointments Made by Mayor Confirmed Without a Dissenting Vote.

THE LICENSE FEES GO UP

AN ORDINANCE AFFECTING SALE OF LIQUOR AWAITS FINAL ACTION.

Board of Health Recommends Municipal Collection of Garbage—Commissioners of Assessment and Board of School Estimate Named.

The various appointments by Mayor O. L. Jenkins were confirmed and his recommendation that the liquor license fees of both retail and wholesale dealers be increased, that of the retailers from $700 to $1,000 and the wholesalers from $500 to $800 a year, were concurred in through an ordinance adopted on first and second readings changing the amount of the fees. The ordinance was ordered advertised and will come up for final adoption at the next regular meeting in February. All of the members of the Council were present. The session was one of unusual length for the reason that during an executive session of nearly an hour and a half, the question of license fees and the fixing of the several salaries for the coming year, were discussed, thereby doing away with the plan of holding a special conference for the purpose of fixing salaries.

The first business was that of accepting the resignations of Townsend Rushmore, R. A. Meeker and H. W. Marshall as commissioners of assessment in sewage matters. This action was taken so that a new commission could be appointed, it having been determined that Mr. Marshall cannot serve by reason of the fact that he owns one of the properties affected. The new commission appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the Council is composed of R. A. Meeker, Townsend Rushmore and James F. Buckle.

After the filing of the bonds of Collector F. H. Smith and Constable J. H. Manley, the Mayor's message was read. The full text appears in another column. Following the message were the appointments. Andrew J. Gavett was appointed street commissioner to succeed himself, while William Craig was appointed to succeed W. W. Corlell as a commissioner of appeal. Craig A. Marsh was reappointed corporation counsel and Dr. T. S. Davis and F. W. Dunn were reappointed members of the Board of Health for a term of two years.

These special policemen were appointed: William Harding, S. R. Hope, Charles Harris, Henry Pugh, Jesse Scull, Joseph Morrison, George Dean, D. F. Stewart, William Downs, J. H. Conroy, Edward Martin, Alexander D. Ayers, Charles Geise, Robert McCormick, Nathan J. Pollard, William Forrestel, Thomas O'Gorman, Thomas Clarkson, William Addis, Sr., Frank Keiso, Isaac Kennedy, Edward Maynard, William J. Eakins, Edgar Brokaw, Lewis Peterson, Edwin Dobbs, Jeremiah Cash, James Babbitt, James Bulmer, Fred Winn, Jacob Wagner, Jacob Kriney, Charles J. McCarthy, Frank Vanderhoff, Thomas Morcum, Fred. W. Pearce, Peter Hamilton, Jacob C. Dunham.

A report from the Board of Health stated that it had been determined that $3,750 would be needed for health purposes during tthe coming year, exclusive of any amount for the treatment of small-pox, and the Council was asked to appropriate that sum for the use of the Board. The matter was referred to the finance committee. The fifteenth annual report of the Board of Health was also presented, a portion of it being read. The report of the Board on the question of municipal collection of garbage was referred to the streets and sewer committee for further consideration.

Dr. Charles B. Lufburrow, the city physician, presented his annual report showing that he has made 432 visits and that proper treatment has been given to the city's poor when needed.

Mr. Daniel offered a resolution fixing 10 per cent. as the amount of interest to be added to all taxes delinquent after December 20 last. The law provides that it must be fixed between 7 and 12 per cent. The new law also provides that the governing body of the city shall fix the salary of the tax collector and on Mr. Daniel's motion the salary of Collector F. H. Smith for the coming year was fixed at $2,250, an increase of $250 over that

The stewards have ordered the refusal of the further entry of the mare Calcutta, the property of W. D. Bernhardt & Co. The action is based on a race when the mare ran second to Oclawaha. Her appearance and action gave rise to suspicion as to the use of stimulants. The stewards also ordered the suspension from all privileges of W. HUNDREDS CLOSED.

Chicago Public Halls Are Officially Sealed Up.

ARE WORSE TRAPS THAN THEATERS

Fuller Company's Wrecking Crew Destroyed Evidence of Skylight Defects at Iroquois—Chief Usher Dusenberry Arrested.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—As a result of the Iroquois theater fire and panic, in which 590 persons lost their lives, Building Commissioner Williams has issued an order closing all the public halls, dance halls and all similar places of public assemblage until an inspection has shown that they are complying with all provisions of the building ordinance. All the theaters have already been closed. This leaves Chicago churches and lodge halls alone open for public gatherings.

As there are upward of 400 halls in Chicago, ranging in size from those that will accommodate fifty persons to those with a seating capacity of 500, this order will affect probably as many persons as the theater closing order. Protests were numerous, but the building commissioner was inflexible. He said:

"Many of these halls are worse than any theater in Chicago, some of them are put up with no restrictions such as govern theaters, and many of them are fire traps of the worst kind."

Mayor Harrison and seven aldermen who have been appointed members of the city council committee to control legislation in relation to theaters met, with theater managers, every playhouse excepting the Great Northern being represented.

The managers asked if they could not open their houses and sell seats on the lower floor only, but the mayor and aldermen refused this request. It was declared that all the places must remain closed until the ordinance requirements had been fully met.

Attorneys for the fire department secured from five witnesses corroboration of the charge that a wrecking crew of the Fuller Construction company had destroyed the stage skylights on the day after the disaster.

Fire Inspector Fulkerson said: "It was the intention that these skylights should open automatically to allow the escape of heat and smoke and create a draft which would draw them upward instead of allowing them to pass over the audience, but from the information I have I am positive that the opening of the skylights was impossible because beneath each section of the lights had been placed pieces of scantling, which remained there until removed by employees of the Fuller Construction company on the Thursday afternoon following the fire. It has been said by Powers and Davis, managers of the Iroquois theater, that the house was not filled on Wednesday afternoon at the time of the fire. This assertion was contradicted by Manager Edwin H. Price of the "Bluebeard" company.

"I should say," said Mr. Price, "that between 90 and 100 tickets were sold after the theater was filled. The day's receipts amounted to something more than $1,700."

Little result followed the examination of several men of the double octet, which was on the stage when the fire broke out.

"We kept on singing and dancing and did not even know that there was a fire until sparks fell on the stage and two girls of the double octet fainted," said William Sleck. "It is the rule of the stage that we are fined if we turn our faces for an instant from the audience. All I know is that we stuck to our work until we had to run for our lives."

Sleck's story was corroborated by the other six men.

The police arrested George M. Dusenberry, chief usher of the theater, on a charge of manslaughter. Dusenberry declares that he tried to hold back the rush of spectators and helped to save thirty women from the jammed front exits.

Benjamin Solomon, a boy who rented opera glasses in the upper balcony, declared that all the ushers and attaches closed the doors and shouted to the spectators to remain seated, as there was no danger.

Coroner Traeger is looking for the chief scrubwoman of the theater, who, it is said, carried all the keys to the doors and exits of the balconies. She will be arrested when found.

"THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE"

MARKET & HALSEY STS.

January Clearing Sale.

Greater in Every Way Than Any Other Past or Present.

THE most decisive price lowering and absolute disregard of value or retailing precedent that has ever been known. Tremendously heavy stocks—thousands of dollars' worth of wantable merchandise of every description, involving our overstocks, together with the surplus and samples of many makers, secured for half, less than half and a mere fraction of actual worth or cost of production. Departments and aisle tables all over the store carry loads of bargains that are positively not matched anywhere.

Sale of Muslin Underwear.

Quality Standards Maintained, and the Prices are Lower Than Ever.

LARGER, better and more widely varied assortments than shown at any time gone—a superb and matchless gathering of the worthiest and most beautiful from manufacturers who have won fame for the superiority and never varying excellence of their productions. All made in perfectly clean and well ventilated workrooms by skilled and properly paid labor, and there's not a badly fashioned, skimped or poorly finished piece in the entire vast collection.

That markings are considerably lower than the present extremely high price of raw cotton seems to warrant may be attributed to the fact of our having placed many orders prior to the advance to the purchase of several thousand sample garments at substantial concessions and a temporary discarding of all profit on innumerable lines.

We court comparison and can prove beyond any possibility of a doubt that there is not a store anywhere so perfectly qualified to economically, and withal satisfactorily, fill every muslin underwear requirement. As an extraordinary inducement during the continuance of this sale

DEMOCRATIC FEAST

Colonel McClellan, Mayor of New York, Honored.

HE ASKED FOR UNITED, LOYAL PARTY

We Stand For Right and Justice and That We May Restore the Rule of the People In Its Truest Sense.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Democrats of prominence from the city, state and nation assembled here last night at the dinner in honor of George B. McClellan, the newly installed mayor of New York city, among those present being Richard Olney of Massachusetts, ex-Governor David B. Hill of New York, Congressman David De Armond of Missouri, Charles A. Towne, ex-senator from Minnesota; ex-Governor R. E. Pattison of Pennsylvania, William A. Gaston of Boston and Charles F. Murphy, now leader of Tammany Hall. Grover Cleveland, Judge Alton B. Parker, Senator Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland and Senator John T. Morgan of Alabama sent letters of regret. The speakers included Mayor McClellan, Richard Olney, David B. Hill, Charles A. Towne and Congressman De Armond.

Ex-President Grover Cleveland sent his regrets at not being able to be present.

Mr. McClellan, introduced as "the illustrious son of an illustrious sire," said in part:

"It was my good fortune two months ago to lead the Democratic party to victory in this city. It was my fortune to be the standard bearer in the first successful skirmish preliminary to the great battle which is to be fought this year, and so in hearing your cheers I feel that they are not intended so much for the man who stands before you as for the cause which he had the honor to represent. And for that cause I ask you to join with me in sending from this great Democratic gathering, in this great Democratic city, the glad news to our brethren throughout the land that we Democrats of New York are resolute in our purpose to wrest the state and nation from Republican misrule. Because we are capable of much, much is expected of us; because much has been given to us, much will be required. Let us, then, at the beginning of this presidential year, present to the country the spectacle of a united and loyal party striving earnestly to be worthy of the name of Democrats. Wherever they are—in the east or the west, in the north or the south—let all Democrats hear our avowal. Sinking every sordid and selfish and unworthy motive, united for a common object and in a common cause, as were our forbears in the days gone by, we stand for right and justice within and without the boundaries of our country, that we may restore the rule of the people in its truest sense and insure to ourselves and to posterity the blessings of liberty."

Congressman De Armond and former Senator Towne both spoke enthusiastically of the Democratic outlook. At the conclusion of his address Mr. De Armond read a message of greeting from William J. Bryan sent by wireless from the White Star liner Celtic, on which Mr. Bryan is a passenger returning from Europe.

The message, which was received when the Celtic was off the Nova Scotian coast, read: "William J. Bryan sends greetings to the Democrats assembled at Sherry's. I wish you a happy new year and hope you will have a brilliant success. My heart is with you. Do not forget the western Democrat who polled 6,500,000 votes in 1900."

Tremendous applause followed the reading of Mr. Bryan's words.

Fire In Iowa Capitol.

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 5.—Fire gutted the northwest wing of the state capitol, causing a loss of $500,000. The chamber of the house of representatives is a charred mass of debris and cannot be repaired in time for the approaching session of the legislature. At one time it was thought that the entire building was doomed, and Governor Cummins ordered the contents of all the offices removed. It was announced last night that the convening of the legislature would not be postponed, but would meet a week hence in temporary quarters.

Explosion Killed Fireman.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5.—A locomotive on the Reading railroad has exploded near Woodbourne, killing Frank Austin, the fireman, and fatally injuring the engineer, Alfred Finger, and a brakeman, Harry Scheets. When two miles beyond Woodbourne the boiler without warning blew up, and Frank Austin, who was in the cab of the engine, was carried 250 feet by the force of the explosion. He was instantly killed, both his neck and back being broken.

J. Wesley Johnson's term as president of the First National Bank will expire next Tuesday and we regret to learn of his decision to step out of the office. His refusal to accept another term will be received with disappointment not only by the stockholders and depositors but by the general public, which has witnessed the upbuilding of that strong banking institution under his administration. The public's confidence in him has always been great and for this reason alone he is an admirable man in any executive position, particularly of a banking concern.

CO. K'S ANNUAL INSPECTION

MAJOR DUNGAN WARMLY PRAISED THE CAPTAIN FOR ITS EXCELLENCE.

The members of Company K did themselves proud last night at their annual inspection going through the evolutions with their customary precision and eliciting high praise from the inspecting officer, Major Nelson Y. Dungan, of the Second Regiment. The company bears the reputation of being one of the best drilled in the State and it upheld its reputation finely last night, its performance being all the more remarkable because, as always, it was handicapped by its cramped quarters. Captain Martin was in command.

The features of the drill was the execution of more difficult company movements by a reduced squad of picked men. One of the best features of the drill was the full attendance of the members of the company. With sixty-two men on the roll-call, fifty-eight were present for the inspection last night.

At the conclusion of the inspection, the floor was cleared for dancing which continued until the early morning hours. The dance was given by Capt. Martin in recognition of good work accomplished by his men. Carpenter's orchestra furnished the music.

In accordance with previous custom, Mr. Tyler nominated the two members who are to serve as members of the Board of School Estimate from the Council. They were L. M. Daniel and Robert L. Lee. They were elected and together with two members from the Board of Education and the Mayor will constitute the Board.

By this time the temperature of the Council rooms had dropped from 75 to about 50 degrees, it being uncomfortably cold. This brought forth a resolution from Mr. Lee, which was adopted, that the owners of the building be notified by the city clerk to keep the rooms at the proper temperature, that is 70 degrees or over, when in use. Mr. Tolles added "all night if the Council is in session that long."

Mr. Tyler then introduced an ordinance, as chairman of the license committee, changing the license fees, that is striking out the fee $700 for retailers and making it $1,000 and striking out the fee of $500 for wholesalers and making it $800. The ordinance was adopted unanimously on its first and second readings and ordered advertised.

MORE BIRTHS THAN DEATHS

HEALTH REPORT SHOWS ONLY 131 MARRIAGES RECORDED IN 1903.

There are many things of importance contained in the fifteenth annual report of the Board of Health presented at the meeting of the Common Council, last night. The vital statistics show that the death rate of the city for 1903 to be 15.91 per thousand, the lowest since 1899. The number of births was 23.05 per thousand, the birth rate exceeding the death rate by 7.14 per thousand.

In the annual report of the health officer, L. R. Thurlow, he suggests as the two greatest needs of the city, first a thorough sanitary survey of the city and second, a municipal control of the collection and disposal of garbage.

There were 261 deaths during the year and 378 births. There were 131 marriages recorded, of which 119 were white and 12 colored. This represents a rate of 7.99 per thousand.

There were 307 cases of communicable diseases reported, forty of which resulted in death. There were a fewer number of typhoid fever cases reported during 1903 than the year previous, twenty-nine being the number with seven deaths, a mortality of 24.1 per cent. The mortality is extremely high, due to the fact that very malignant forms of the disease were contracted outside of Plainfield, Philadelphia especially, which proved fatal. In every case the source of infection of the disease was traced to sources outside of Plainfield.

There was an unusually large number of cases of diphtheria during the year. At times the disease was almost uncontrollable, especially at the opening of the fall term of the public schools. In all fifty-four cases were reported, and a thorough exercise of care and prevention was established. There were sixty cases of chicken-pox reported, none of which resulted in death. There were forty-eight cases of tuberculosis, a small percentage supposed to exist in Plainfield. The Board hopes to more fully control this disease.

But three cases of small-pox were reported with no deaths. The source of infection in these cases was from a travelling musician who came from New Brunswick. The report refers to Plainfield's ice supply, the product being declared good. Inspections of the various bakeries resulted in the alteration of plumbing and a betterment of condition. This was also true of the fish-markets. The system of dairy inspection was continued during the year with very good success. The use of preservatives was discovered and stopped.

From the standpoint of mosquito breeding, Plainfield itself is a clean city. Rain barrels and cesspools constitute the most trouble in Plainfield. During the coming year the work of exterminating these pests will be continued.

In the analysis of the water used in Plainfield none was found to be of such poor quality as to necessitate closing. The water supply is good. The Board, states that it hopes during the coming year to find a solution of the garbage problem which is now in the hands of the street and sewer committee of the Council and it is hoped to bring this very important matter under the direct control of the city. The Board also hopes to have every house along the line of any sewer connected therewith and privy vaults and cesspools filled up and abandoned. Also to have a thorough sanitary survey of the city.

Work on New Directory.

Mr. Wand, of the Wand Directory Company, has returned to Plainfield to again begin the task of compiling another directory. It is his purpose to have the book completed early in April, thereby getting all of the new addresses. He asks for the hearty co-operation of the people of Plainfield and North Plainfield in his efforts to publish a better directory than ever.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

[OFFICIAL]

Roll call showed all members present except Freeholders Cady, Klee and Wahl.

The minutes of the previous regular meeting of March 5th, 1903 (the reading of bills being omitted) and of the adjourned meeting of November 19th, 1903 (the reading of bills being omitted) were on motion approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS, PETITIONS, ETC.

The following petition was presented and read.

To the Honorable Board of Chosen Freeholders in the county of Union, State of New Jersey.

Gentlemen: We, the undersigned, being the owners of at least two-thirds of the lineal feet along the road hereinafter mentioned, to wit: That portion of Springfield avenue beginning at Union avenue in the township of Cranford, and running thence to the boundary line between the township of Cranford and the township of Westfield from said boundary line past the intersection of said Springfield avenue with Broad street in town of Westfield and the residence of Mr. Daniel Fink to the Marmahiggin brook, and thence on past the Branch Mills Union Chapel to the boundary line between the town of Westfield, borough of Mountainside and the township of Springfield past the residence of Messrs. Enoch D. Miller, John Woodruff, Mrs. Meyer, Smith Russell and Mr. Trivett, and thence along the turnpike road past the Baltus Roll golf links over the mountains to the city of Summit line, said road here described being at least four miles in length.

Do hereby petition your Honorable Body to cause the said road above described to be improved by the construction of a macadamized road hereon in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 97 of the laws of 1903 of the State of New Jersey, entitled "An Act to provide for the permanent improvement of public roads in this State."

Dated Nov. 5th, 1903.

The foregoing petition was signed by George W. Donaldson and sixteen others representing 7288 lineal feet.

On motion of Freeholder Farrell it was received and placed on file.

The following communication addressed to Freeholder Adams was read:

Cranford, N. J., Nov. 18th, 1903.

Mr. E. K. Adams,
Freeholder Union County,
Cranford, N. J.

My Dear Sir: At a meeting of the township committee, held Nov. 18th, 1903, the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, It has been proposed that Springfield avenue leading from Union venue in the township of Cranford, to the town of Westfield, northwesterly be improved under the state road act and whereas this improvement is highly desirable and will be of great benefit to the township and the section through which it passes.

Resolved, That the township committee heartily endorse the improvement and recommend that Freeholder E. K. Adams use every endeavor to secure the same, and further

Resolved, That a copy of the above preamble and resolution be forwarded to the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, N. J.

Yours respectfully,
G. S. Everett, Township Clerk.

On motion of Freeholder Farrell received and placed on file.

The following communication was submitted by County Attorney Codington:

New Jersey Supreme Court.

Gustave Deuscher, Plff., vs. John J. Higginson and J. Hall Shannon, partners, etc., as Higginson and Shannon. The Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, and Mayor and Council of the borough of Roselle Park, Defendants. In Tort Damages $3,000.

Dec. 3, 1903.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Gentlemen: In the early part of October last, Gustave Deuscher brought an action against this Board and others, for the recovery of $3,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by him on Westfield avenue in the borough of Roselle; charging that said injuries were received through the neglect of the Board of Freeholders to properly protect an opening which had been made in said street.

The Summons and Declaration were handed to me by the Director of this Board, with instructions to look after the matter. On Nov. 6th I filed a demurrer on behalf of this Board.

The counsel for the plaintiff, conceding that the demurrer was good, has forwarded to me a discontinuance of the case, which I have signed and returned to him.

The discontinuance, however, only applies to the Board of Freeholders, and the Attorney for the plaintiff will prosecute the suit against some of the other defendants.

Very respectfully yours,
W. R. Codington, County Attorney.

On motion of Freeholder King read and placed on file.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By the county road committee.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Gentlemen: The county road committee would respectfully report that they have been over the line of the proposed road extending from Union avenue, in Cranford, through Cranford, Westfield and Springfield townships, to Summit city line, proposed under Chapter 97, laws of 1903, and owing to the location thereof, the cost attending the building of the same and considering the questionable benefits accruing to the county, and your committee being divided in sentiment, we would respectfully recommend that before final action, that this Board and committee of the whole, go over and inspect the proposed road.

Signed,
Respectfully submitted,
Benj. King, E. K. Adams, Jacob Brucklacher, W. H. Swain, Henry Krouse, County Road Committee.

Freeholder Farrell moved that the report be received and recommendation adopted, which was so ordered without dissent.

NEW BUSINESS.

By Freeholder Robison:

Whereas, By reason of recent heavy rains the roadway at and near Hollingsworth's Mills, Fanwood, has been seriously injured, and is constantly becoming more serious and likely to destroy said bridge, and whereas the township committee of North Plainfield township, has proposed to build a wing wall for the protection of said bridge at an estimated cost of $500, on condition that the respective Boards of Chosen Freeholders of Union and Somerset counties, would contribute $100 each for said purpose, therefore be it

Resolved, That this Board appropriate $100 towards the building of said wall on condition that the Board of Somerset does the same.

Freeholder Smith moved the adoption of the foregoing preamble and resolution which was so ordered on roll call by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Farrell:

Resolved, That the Rahway drawbridge committee be authorized to make a contract with George W. Heath as bridge tender for one year, commencing January 1st, 1904, at a salary of $200 per annum.

Freeholder Robison moved the adoption of the resolution and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

By Freeholder Adams:

Resolved, That the lunacy bill for quarter ending February 15th, 1904, be paid when properly audited amount.

By Freeholder Robison:

Resolved, That the bill of the W. T. Kirk Co., for furnishing pipe to John Wahl at New Providence, N. J., amounting to $49.80 be paid when properly audited.

Freeholder Farrell moved the adoption of the resolution and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

On motion of Freeholder Adams it was unanimously ordered that this Board as a committee of the whole, on Thursday, Dec. 10th, 1903, go over the proposed new road from Union avenue, Cranford, through the townships of Cranford, Westfield and Springfield to the Summit city line and that said committee meet at the Cranford railroad station at 1:30 p. m. on said day.

On motion of Freeholder Adams it was ordered that when this Board adjourns it stands adjourned to meet on Tuesday, Dec. 15th, 1903, at 2:30 p. m.

Captain J. H. Putnam representing Barry Post, G. A. R., of Rahway, was then granted permission to address the Board:

He said in part that he desired to call the attention of the Board to a law passed in 1902, which provided that the graves of all deceased veterans of the late war of the Rebellion, now without headstones should be provided with the same at the expense of the county. The Act also authorized Boards of Freeholders to raise money for said purposes, and also provided for the appointment of a suitable person to have charge of such matters. He asked the Board to give the matter early consideration and said he was informed that the County Attorney had rendered a favorable opinion as to the provisions of the law, but which opinion has not as yet been officially before this Board.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

I felt it more in the morning, just after getting up or if I did any stooping or lifting. PANAMA IN SENATE

President's Message Explains Executive Action.

INTENT WAS TO INSURE A CANAL

Prompt, Firm Orders Saved Bloodshed—No One Connected With Our Government Had Any Part In the Isthmian Revolution.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The senate's session was devoted entirely to Panama. President Roosevelt sent a message on the subject, which says:

"The president was authorized to go to the Nicaragua route only if within a reasonable time he could not obtain 'control of the necessary territory of the republic of Colombia.' This control has now been obtained. The provision of the act has been complied with. It is no longer possible under existing legislation to go to the Nicaragua route as an alternative.

"The Hay-Herran treaty, if it erred at all, erred in the direction of overgenerosity toward the Colombian government.

"In reality the treaty, instead of requiring a cession of Colombia's sovereignty over the canal strip, expressly acknowledged, confirmed and preserved her sovereignty over it.

"Colombia, after having rejected the treaty in spite of our protests and warnings when it was in her power to accept it, has since shown the utmost eagerness to accept the same treaty if only the status quo could be restored.

"It needs no argument to show that the intent of the congress was to insure a canal across Panama and that whether the republic granting the title was called New Granada, Colombia or Panama mattered not one whit.

"Every one knew that it (the revolt of Panama) was a possibility, but it was not until toward the end of October that it appeared to be an imminent probability.

"In view of all these facts I directed the navy department to issue instructions such as would insure our having ships within easy reach of the isthmus in the event of need.

"It thus clearly appears that the fact that there was no bloodshed on the isthmus was directly due, and due only, to the prompt and firm enforcement by the United States of its traditional policy.

"I hesitate to refer to the injurious insinuations that have been made of complicity by this government in the revolutionary movement in Panama. They are as destitute of foundation as of propriety. The only excuse for my mentioning them is the fear lest unthinking persons might mistake for acquiescence the silence of mere self respect.

"I think proper to say, therefore, that no one connected with this government had any part in preparing, inciting or encouraging the late revolution on the isthmus of Panama.

"The question, and the only question, is whether or not we shall build an isthmian canal."

In the debate which followed Mr. McComas defended the president and asserted that his action would stand if tried in court. He maintained that even without recognition the new republic of Panama would have been established and maintained indefinitely. He said the executive not only had the right, but the exclusive right, to take the action he had. He referred to two similar instances and said that, while both resulted in wars, they were wars which public sentiment indorsed.

Mr. Bacon inquired how long the new republic would last should the sustaining power of the United States be withdrawn.

"For many years," replied Mr. McComas. He added that but for the restraining power of the United States the independence of Panama would have been established long ago.

"Will the senator state the respective populations of Panama and Colombia?" asked Mr. Bacon.

"Panama has about 300,000 and Colombia 4,500,000," was the reply.

"And the senator thinks the 300,000 could maintain themselves against the four and a half million?" again interjected Mr. Bacon.

"Such things were frequent events in history," was the reply. And Mr. McComas mentioned the successful contest of Japan with 35,000,000 against China with 400,000,000, also Montenegro's successful contest of two centuries.

Mr. Stewart followed with an indorsement of the administration on the Panama question, although, he said, he had formerly been in favor of the Nicaragua route. Mr. Stewart declared that the object of Colombia was to delay matters until the expiration of the French canal concession and then charge the United States $10,000,000 for the concession.

"It is time," he added, "we should begin to treat them according to their true characters—as highway robbers levying blackmail on the nations of the world."

"We have got the right of way now for the canal," concluded Mr. Stewart. "The people want the canal, and," turning to the Democratic side of the chamber, "you had better get into the band wagon, because it is moving. The people don't care anything about that little band of robbers at Bogota, and we are going to build the canal, and I am going to try to live until the canal is constructed."

Mr. Morgan (Ala.) stated his preference for the Nicaragua route and maintained that the present course of the administration was breaking down the established policy of the United States regarding neutrality.

The Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, the newly elected chaplain of the senate, clad in flowing black silk clerical robes, occupied the chair of the presiding officer just preceding the session and on the body being called to order offered a stirring invocation. His prayer was a plea for the wisdom of heaven in the affairs of the government. He referred briefly to the Chicago disaster and asked a blessing on the stricken city. Touchingly he also alluded to the death of the wife of Senator Hoar of Massachusetts. His invocation was preceded by a short Scriptural lesson and concluded with the Lord's Prayer.

The president has sent to the senate the following nominations:

To be secretary of war, William H. Taft of Ohio.

To be civil service commissioner, John C. Black of Illinois.

To be consul general of the United States, Henry D. Saylor of Pennsylvania, at Coburg, Germany.

To be assistant secretary of commerce and labor, Lawrence O'Murray of Illinois.

To be civil governor of the Philippines, Luke E. Wright of Tennessee.

To be vice governor of the Philippine Islands, Henry C. Ide of Vermont.

Edward B. Bennett was nominated to be postmaster at Hartford, Conn.; Michael Weyand, Beaver, Pa., and Henry E. Harms, Alleghany, N. Y.

IN THE HOUSE.

Chaplain Prayed For Peace Between Japan and Russia.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The chaplain of the house in opening the session of congress prayed that war between Russia and Japan might be averted by a peaceful adjustment of their differences.

A privileged resolution offered by Mr. Hay (Dem., Va.) recited that certain statements contained in the Bristow postoffice report reflected on the membership of the house. It provided for an investigation by a committee to be appointed by the speaker.

The vote developed no quorum, and the house adjourned.

Company Held She Was Shamming.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—After being out for eighteen hours a jury in the $50,000 damage suit begun by Miss Inga Hanson against the Chicago City Railway company has returned a verdict in favor of the company. The case has been on trial for two months. Miss Hanson alleged that while attempting to board a car her spine was injured, with the result that the pressure of the vertebræ upon the spinal cord affected the various nerve centers. On the other hand, the company charged that the accident described by Miss Hanson never occurred, that she was feigning her alleged afflictions.

Saratoga Would Take It.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Jan. 5.—The Saratoga Business Men's association having extended an invitation to the Republican national committee to name Saratoga for the June convention should the selection of Chicago be reconsidered, Cassius B. Thomas, president of the association, has received an acknowledgment from Senator Marcus A. Hanna, who says, "I do not anticipate any change in the place of holding the convention, as satisfactory arrangements will doubtless be made with the hotels at Chicago."

Brave Conduct Rewarded.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—For gallant and heroic conduct at the Iroquois theater fire Marshal Musham has restored to duty six firemen who were under suspension for alleged insubordination. The trial board had assembled and the men were about to make explanations of their conduct when the fatal alarm rang in. The chief and his assistants rushed to the theater, followed by the six men, who, though under suspension and not liable to duty, rose to the occasion and acquitted themselves nobly.

Wanted No Service or Flowers.

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Jan. 5.—Mrs. Jennie M. Gay, a widow, who formerly lived in this town, but who of late had made her home in Chicago, was found dead in a room at the Park hotel here with a bullet hole in her head. An unsealed note addressed to the medical examiner stated that the woman had committed suicide. The note asked the medical examiner to see that no service be held over her body and that no flowers be accepted at the funeral. No reason for the act was assigned.

Order Strongly Condemned.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Times' Tokyo correspondent says that the foreign residents of Japan strongly condemn the official insurance order under which the Equitable Life and the New York Mutual companies have been compelled to close their offices throughout Japan owing to the impossibility of complying with the terms of the order.

Russian Troops Arriving.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—According to the Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Tokyo, telegrams from Vladivostok received there report the departure of the Russian cruiser Gromobof, presumably for Port Arthur, and the impending departure of four other cruisers, while the population is alarmed at the incessant arrival of Russian troops.

Insane Hospital Burned.

TAUNTON, Mass., Jan. 5.—The women's wing of the Taunton Insane hospital caught fire about 11:30 last night and was destroyed. The entire fire department was on the scene. All the patients when taken from the burning building were brought into the main portion of the institution in good order.

Cleveland Takes Precautions.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 5.—The fire department officials have ordered the galleries of the Cleveland theater and the Lyceum theater closed to patrons until safety precautions ordered have been put into effect.

ISTHMUS IS TRANQUIL.

No Trouble Feared From Indian Tribes—Close Watch Is Kept.

COLON, Jan. 5.—An Indian courier who came in with a message for Governor Melendez reports that the Indian Chief Inanaquina has returned to Carti. Inanaquina was conveyed by the Colombian authorities in a small steamer to Tixmati, from which point he and his party coasted to Carti in canoes.

The courier says that Chief Inanaquina is silent concerning his conference with the Colombian officers, but the courier supposes that the Colombians attempted to win the good will of the chief with a view to learning what the United States naval authorities were doing along the coast.

Chief Inanaquina is regarded on the isthmus as a sympathizer with Colombia because he was created a colonel in the Colombian army during a visit which he made to Bogota. He speaks English and is said to have 3,000 or more Indian followers.

The United States gunboat Castine is patrolling the coast between Caledonia bay and the gulf of Darien. The converted cruiser Mayflower will leave today with mail for the warships and also for the purpose of scouting along the coast toward the gulf of Darien.

The general situation on this side of the isthmus is tranquil. There have been no evidences whatever at Colon that Colombian forces from Titumati or elsewhere are undertaking any movement, either by sea or land, with a view to invading Panamanian territory.

The system of scouting by Indian and Panamanian soldiers which is being maintained along the frontier and on the Atlantic and Pacific sides of the isthmus would result in news of any Colombian activity quickly reaching the United States naval authorities at Panama and Colon.

The only Colombian troops which are known to be near Panamanian territory are those under the command of General Daniel Ortiz at Titumati and which are variously estimated at between 1,500 and 2,500 men. This camp has been established for the past six weeks and was discovered by the United States cruiser Atlanta, when General Ortiz was interviewed by Lieutenant Perrill. General Ortiz's men undoubtedly have scouted toward Panamanian territory, but the most careful examinations conducted by the naval authorities have failed to reveal their presence in a military sense at any time upon the territory of the new republic.

Fire In Chicago Flats.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Fire broke out in the Delaware flats at Sixty-fifth and Cottage Grove avennes here. Seventy-five families were in the building when the fire began. The appearance of the flames was followed by a hurried general exodus. The building, which was of frame construction, three stories in height, with a brick front, was considerably damaged. There was no loss of life.

Strike For Eight Hour Day.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—One hundred gas and electric chandelier makers employed by the Chicago General Fixture company have struck because the Chicago members of the National Fixture Manufacturers' association refused to grant demands for an eight hour day with no reduction in wages.

NO COLORED ORPHANAGE

There will be no colored orphanage on Rahway road, Rev. Scott Wallace, Deacon Conway and their associates in the movement to establish such an institution, having given way to the strong sentiment against it held by the residents of the Netherwood district near Rahway road. A meeting was held yesterday at which Rev Scott Wallace stated that the option on the Darling property had been withdrawn and the agreement signed with Mrs. Darling giving an option to March 1, 1904, is void. The colored promoters expect to announce another location in the near future.

Woodhull, secretary; and F. B. Clark, clerk. To the newly created position of vice president, L. N. Lovell was chosen.

The committees which served during the past year will continue during 1904 as follows: Committee on teachers and text books, J. B. Probasco, L. N. Lovell, C. F. Abbott; books, stationery and supplies, F. T. Woodhull, F. C. Abbott, J. B. Probasco; buildings and repairs, C. F. Abbott, J. T. Probasco, L. N. Lovell; fuel, E. M. Cave, L. N. Lovell, F. T. Woodhull; finance, L. N. Lovell, F. C. Abbott, E. M. Cave.

As members of the Board of School Estimate, L. N. Lovell and C. F. Abbott were re-elected.

Announcement was made of the resignation of Miss Ada B. Weatherwax and Miss Mary Buckle as teachers in the Irving school, and of Miss Elsie Gould from the Franklin school. As their successors, appointment was made of Miss Helena Hubert, a graduate of the normal school at Cortland, N. Y., Miss Ethel W. Fletcher, a graduate of the Trenton Normal School, and Miss Geraldine McCauley, a graduate of the Newport N. Y., Normal School.

The custodian of school monies report showed a balance on hand December 31, of $33,550.96. The medical inspectors, Drs. Tomlinson and Van-Horn, stated that examination had been made of thirty-seven pupils during the month of December. Formal action was taken regarding the authorizing of the building of a new high school in accordance with the new Colby school law, the building to cost $112,000 and the lot $18,000.

to the expense of government, municipal, county and State. The Martin Act, which has proved of such value in enabling the city to enforce the collection of delinquent taxes on real estate, still remains in force, both with respect to taxes now due and taxes on real estate hereafter to fall due, and it is of the highest importance that all necessary steps should be taken by the several officers charged with duties under that act, to insure in the future, as in the past, the contribution of every piece of real estate in this city, not expressly exempted, of its full fair share of the burden of taxation.

The New School Law.

It is sincerely to be hoped that at last the Legislature has enacted a school law that is constitutional. The several previous futile attempts in that direction have greatly embarrassed the Boards of Education of this and other cities, and if the act passed at the last special session of the Legislature should in its turn, be successfully attacked, and the erection of the proposed new high school building of this city is further delayed, the injury to this city will be well-nigh irreparable, unless some means can be found to enable the city and the Board of Education to fall back on some other law in the contingency of the new school law being declared unconstitutional. It is believed that such a law may be found among those enacted last winter, which may prove of value in the premises. I need hardly suggest the need of especial care in the matter of the issue of bonds in this connection, so that when they shall be sold, they may command the confidence of bidders and realize such prices as the financial credit of this city entitle us to expect. It is necessary that your Honorable Body shall at its present meeting or at the first adjournment thereof, comply with Section 78 of the new school law, by appointing two of its members, who, together with the Mayor and two members to be appointed by the Board of Education, shall constitute the "Board of School Estimate" of this school district, and that the members of such Board should take the oath of office as such, before the city judge within ten days after their appointment.

Licenses.

This city has long been committed to the system of the regulation of the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors by high license, rigid limitation as to the number of licensed places, the requirement of abundant certification as to the good character of the license, and the enforcement of the penal ordinance governing the conduct of the business. As the city has rapidly grown in population, the effort to correspondingly increase the number of saloons, has for the most part been frustrated In my judgment, we should adhere to the policy that has been so long tried and not found wanting. There is no need of increasing the number of liquor licenses in this city. The only change necessitated in this respect by the greater population is more extensive police supervision, and this should be accompanied by an increased license fee. There would be no hardship involved upon the licenses, because it will be far less onerous on them to pay the increase, than it would be to adopt the policy here, observed in most other cities, of making the number of saloons keep pace with the number of the population. In most cities of the size of Plainfield, the number of licensed places is more than double or treble the number here. I submit to the favorable consideration of your Honorable Body the suggestion that during the present year the license fee be made one thousand dollars, and that the number of licensed places be not increased at all.

City Park.

The special communication urging the acquisition and embellishment of a public park suited to the needs of Plainfield, is of such recent date that you will permit me to refer to that communication and the map and documents accompanying the same, and to urge that if you should deem it wise, the matter may be taken up afresh.

Concerning Improvements Generally.

The several public improvements inaugurated during the last twelve months, and with which your Honorable Body is entirely familiar, have met with the approval of citizens and taxpayers, especially in view of the fact that none was undertaken without first providing for the expense incident thereto. Important as it is to give the city the benefit of these and like improvements, it is even more important to undertake none not warranted by the moneys on hand, or those that may be raised by moderate and reasonable taxation.

Garbage Collection.

There would appear to be some public sentiment in favor of providing a system of collecting garbage from the houses of citizens at the public expense. In my opinion, the time is not ripe for the adoption of such plan in this city. It could not be successfully instituted without the imposition of taxes beyond the point that seems to me to be just and reasonable. Considerations of public health do not necessitate a change in the present methods, inasmuch as the ordinances of the city, and the Sanitary Code of the Board of Health, and the supervision of the Health Officer and the Health Inspector afford the most ample safe-guards if the ordinances are properly enforced. Again, to tax all property to meet the expense of the removal of garbage from private houses and other buildings, would be unfair to many small property owners, who are now able to attend to the matter at little or no expense.

Appointment of Assessors.

It has erroneously been supposed that the term of the Board of Assessors expires January 1st, 1904. The whole matter is fixed by State law. As pointed out in my Message of 1903, the Meeker Act extended the terms of all appointive officers. The Act applies to the Board of Assessors of this city whose first term was for three years from noon of the first Monday in January 1898 and whose second term, without the Meeker Act, would not expire until several days after January 1st, 1904, and under the Meeker Act, is extended to January 1st, 1905. As in the case of all other appointive officers, so with the members of the Board of Assessors, the State law, which executes itself, extends their term of office for nearly one year beyond the term for which they were appointed before that Act was passed.

Your obedient servant,
Olin L. Jenkins.

EXCELSIOR IGNITED THREATENED DISASTROUS RESULTS.

Danger of a big disastrous fire at the house of H. D. Hibbard, 144 East Seventh street, was avoided late yesterday afternoon by promptly calling out the fire department.

The fire started between the floors of the butler's pantry on the first floor, which was filled with excelsior, which was ignited by a gasoline torch used by plumbers who were thawing out frozen pipes. When the firemen arrived, the blaze had gained some headway. The loss was about $50, covered by insurance.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LUCIDLY EXPLAINED

Edward A. Kimball, of Chicago, Delivered An Able Address on Its Teachings.

PUBLIC MISINFORMED

PLAINFIELD PEOPLE HEARD THE TRUE DOCTRINE EXPOUNDED.

Attentive Audience in the Cranford Opera House Last Night—Speaker a Member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, in Boston.

Braving the biting cold weather, at least 300 persons gathered at the Cranford opera house last night to listen to an absorbingly interesting and instructive address on Christian Science and its meaning. The address was made by Edward A. Kimball, of Chicago, a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, Mass. E. W. Hale, of Cranford, who does not subscribe to the tenets of Christian Science, presided at the meeting, and introduced Mr. Kimball. Mr. Hale made a few remarks, dwelling particularly on the inalienable right of every man to worship God according to his own conscience and of the religious liberty which was born on this continent and which should exist today.

Mr. Kimball said in part,—

"In order that you may most readily appreciate the import of this address, you are asked to contemplate for a moment the scene upon which Christian Science has made its entrance.

"The history of the human race may be classified as a tragedy. If it were to be epitomized, then one long monotone of protest against the misery, one pitiful appeal to God for relief, and one final moan of defeat would tell the story. There are a few flowers, a little sunshine perhaps, but beyond the foreground is the vista at the end of which is the grave—and mystery.

"The people of earth, unreconciled to what seems to be an intolerable fate, have turned in every conceivable direction in their effort for deliverance from evil, and they have failed, thus far, to find the way. There are still the same tears, broken hearts, beds of pain,—the same havoc of outrageous fortune. Men continue to live, sicken, and die according to a philosophy of doom which declares there is no salvation this side of the grave, no way out of the hell on earth but to die out.

"To this same stricken people, and in this very age, comes Christian Science to declare that they can get out, naturally, lawfully, scientifically; it comes as a message of hope and promise to a race which is in supreme need.

"We submit the proposition that humanity which prays for different results should also consistently pray for and expect a different way, and we contend that Christian Science, which promises and produces the prayed-for results, cannot logically be rejected simply because it also discloses a different way.

"By means of literature, teachers, and lectures, explanation has been made concerning the points of agreement between Christian Science and other forms of religious and scientific belief, but it is my purpose tonight to emphasize the fundamental differences also, and thus enable you to make comparisons for yourselves.

"It is self-evident that certain things have existence. It is generally known that they have cause, origin, and basis, by reason of which they exist. Some people declare the cause to be a blind force; others that it is some sort of intelligence, and theology affirms that it is a conscious intelligence or entity which many designate God.

"A concensus of enlightened belief concerning God, is that He is one supreme, infinite, self existent, all-inclusive, spiritual, individual, conscious Being,—the sole Creator of all that has actual existence. Also that God is good, Life, Truth, Love, omnipresent, omniscient, and omnipotent; that He is the only law-maker, and holds in His grasp the destiny of all men.

"Christian Scientists subscribe to all these postulates without reserve, and yet our religion is in some respects quite different from that of others. Why? Why different if we agree on these essentials?

"The difference is in the amplification and application. It is in this re-

CRANFORD OUTBOWLED BY ROSELLE TEAM

Winners Take Three Straight in Series on the Cranford Casino Alleys.

ROSELLE'S GREAT WORK

VICTORS NOW LEAD IN DAILY PRESS BOWLING LEAGUE TOURNAMENT.

Losing Team's Work Not Up to the Standard—Howe, High Man for Roselle—Westerberg's Poor Showing—Summary and Standing.

Play in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament was continued last night, when a series of three games were rolled between Roselle Casino and Cranford Casino on the alleys of the former. This was the first series of the year, the holiday season causing a postponement of the games scheduled. Roselle started the New Year by taking all three games, the first by a score of 845, the second by 872 and the last by 853. Cranford rolled scores of 664, 730 and 675, which was rather poor for that organization. Plummer was their low man, making a score of 94 in the last game, while Crane rolled high score for his team in the same game, making 165. The other scores were generally lower than that.

Roselle bowled strong from the start, all of the scores, with very few exceptions being high. In the first game Howe, who was high man, rolled 193 and in the second game he reached 199. The lowest score was 147 rolled by Westerberg in the first game and as the bowling progressed Roselle's work improved measurably, each member of the team doing excellent work. In winning the series last night Roselle takes the lead with a total of 9 games won, with Westfield second with 8 games to their credit.

The summary of last night's games:

THE OFFENDERS' DESCRIPTIONS

CARD SYSTEM OF CATALOGUING PHYSICAL MEASUREMENTS.

A new card system of cataloguing offenders who appear before the City Judge has been established at police headquarters. The name and record of each offender is entered on a separate card, the prisoner's physical measurements, nationality, etc., being included, and the whole arranged alphabetically. For ready reference in dealing with and identifying habitual offenders, the method is of great convenience to the police as well as to the City Judge.

JERSEY BOYS AT CORNELL.

Five of the Hundred and Fifteen From This State Are Plainfielders.

According to the January number of the Cornell Unsversity Register, just published, there are 115 students at the university from New Jersey, and Plainfield is well represented. Edward Allyn Janes is a student in the College of Arts and Sciences, while in the Sibley College of Mechanical Engineering there are Walter Vaughan McGee, Charles Clarence Rocap, Wetmore Holloway Titus and Cyrus Hillman Kinsman, all of Plainfield. The Register also shows that the body of undergraduates now numbers 2,852.

Lost in Plainfield.

Sentence was suspended, yesterday afternoon, by City Judge Runyon upon Tomaso Carruso, arrested for acting suspiciously in the West End and carrying a loaded revolver. Carruso said he came from Brooklyn and had intended to leave the train at Fanwood, but was carried beyond his station to Grant avenue, the fact of his being lost explaining his suspicious actions.

Service Not Abandoned.

The Public Service Corporation prides itself on the fact that during the recent severe storm the cars on the local lines were not tied up, though the schedule was not strictly adhered to.

SPEEDWAY BRUSHES ATTRACT CROWD

Sleighing on Park Avenue Course Being Enjoyed by Owners of Fast Horses.

"BELLE," THE QUEEN

"GLITTERS LAD" FAILS TO SUSTAIN HIS RECORD.

Duke, Owned by L. M. French, Goes at a Lively Clip—Fast Time Made by Horses of N. B. Smalley and A. Baldwin—Racing Today.

The heavy fall of snow on Saturday has made fine sleighing on the speedway on Park avenue, and yesterday afternoon there were a number of exciting brushes there. The racing was witnessed by many people, in carriages and afoot. The course was well filled and the time made in some instances was excellent.

A. I. Smalley's Belle was the queen of the course yesterday. She passed every thing easily and distinguished herself by handily defeating Glitters Lad, J. H. Greene's trotter. These two horses brushed several times and in each instance A. I. Smalley's mare was the better horse.

Augustus Baldwin's Kiawasa, and a horse driven by Mayor Newton B. Smalley had a go down the course and easily distanced the horse driven by Mayor Smalley. The latter's horse which has been a familiar speedway sight, was injured recently and could not be driven. Stonewall Jackson drove a new importation from the West which in some cases gave Al Smalley's Belle a determined struggle for supremacy.

Duke, a bay gelding, driven by L. M. French, did some good work, matched against a sorrel horse driven by Edson O. Martin. These two horses are about evenly matched and each brush was a close one, the honors being about evenly divided. Percy Dayton's stallion, Black Prince, held a prominent position on the course.

The brushes were, on the whole quite exciting and it is probable that there will be impromptu contests on the speedway as long as the snow and sleighing lasts. The racing generally begins at about 2:30 in the afternoon.

HOURLY SERVICES.

Dr. Richards' Idea for Increasing the Brick Presbyterian's Usefulness.

The Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, formerly pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church and now pastor of the Brick church, New York, in a year-book soon to be issued gives his ideas of the larger use to which the Brick Presbyterian church could be put. He wants the church to have services hourly on Sunday mornings as Roman Catholic churches have. As a beginning, the Sunday night service was started some weeks ago, and while it has not attracted crowds, the pastor says he sees his idea developing in it. Further to use the building, there was begun a few weeks ago a twilight service on Fridays. The church front doors are now kept open always.

Peculiar Accident.

Henry Drake, of North avenue, an aged employe of Woodhull & Martin, while placing a storm door on the rear of the firm's stables, had a heavy part of the temporary structure blown upon him by the strong wind. A deep gash was cut on his right cheek, in which several stitches had to be taken. Although the accident happened several days ago he is still in a serious condition on account of the shock.

THE NUMBER OF LICENSES

WILL THE COMMON COUNCIL RESPECT MAYOR JENKINS' RECOMMENDATION?

It seems to be a question in the minds of many persons as to whether Mayor Jenkins' recommendation regarding the number of saloons to be allowed in Plainfield for the coming year will be followed. There are now fifteen licensed places in the city, but it is understood that John Goff, who has recently built a hotel on West Front street near Clinton avenue, will ask the Common Council to give him a license to sell liquors. It is hinted that it is the purpose of the city fathers to grant such a petition if it is asked for.

If this is done is may be the purpose of the Council to cut off an application somewhere else. It is the opinion of most of the officials that the present number of licensed places is sufficient for the city and for some years past the policy has been a high license one. This is shown by the action of the Common Council Monday night in accepting the suggestion of the Mayor to raise the license fees for both retailers and wholesalers.

At present most of the saloons and drinking places are so regulated in such a way as to give the police little or no trouble.

BOROUGHITES ARE HEALTHY

ONLY TWO CASES OF CONTAGIOUS DISEASE REPORTED TO BOARD.

Samuel S. Swackhamer was re-appointed counsel of the North Plainfield Board of Health at the meeting Monday night. This was the first meeting of the year and the appointment of a legal representative always takes place at that time. It was reported that there are only two cases of contagious diseases in the borough. One is diphtheria and the other scarlet fever. The fumigation of the house of Edward S. Hooley, where there were two cases of a contagious disease has been in progress for two days, the patients, Mrs. Hooley and her daughter, having fully recovered.

The matter regarding the polluted wells in the borough, which have been reported to the local and State Boards of Health, was discussed. The alleged polluted well on Stone street has been declared in a healthy condition and the other six wells, in Chatham and Harmony streets have been deepened, as the cause of their pollution was said to have been due to surface water flowing into them. The secretary of the Board, Dr. William E. Honeyman, reported to the Board that it has been a number of years since the Board has been able to present such a clean bill of health.

SWACKHAMER CALLED GODDINGTON "COWARD"

Former Judge Replied That He Would Settle Personal-its After Case Was Over.

HOT WORDS AT A TRIAL

DISPUTE AROSE IN JUSTICE SMALLEY'S COURT ROOM.

Swackhamer Made a Retraction and Harmony Again Prevailed Between Opposing Counsel—Case of Smith Against VanFleet.

Hot words were bandied between Former Judge W. A. Coddington and Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer yesterday afternoon in a jury trial of a case in tort in Justice Smalley's court in North Plainfield. "You are a coward," said the assemblyman, when Judge Coddington, who was the opposing counsel, is said to have reduced to an absurdity some of the conflicting testimony of Mr. Swackhamer's witnesses. Judge Coddington won his case but his logic did not please his opponent. But for the fact that the two lawyers were on opposite sides of a table, it is more than likely that blows would have been struck.

Judge Coddington told his opponent that his first duty was to his client, but that after the trial he would be glad to meet Mr. Swackhamer and settle the argument as to cowardice in any manner that could be suggested. By that time, however, Mr. Swackhamer retracted his remark, and peace reigned.

The case in court, which was held at Boice's hotel, was that of John D. Smith, administrator, against John VanFleet and wife, the dispute being over some household furniture left by George Smith who died last September. Mr. Smith's wife died ten days after her husband, leaving two children under three years of age as the heirs, with John D. Smith, the plaintiff, appointed as administrator of the estate. The house was stripped of its furniture by the VanFleets who refused to return it on demand, and suit was brought for $100 to $120 for the value of the property.

The defendants claimed that part of the furniture had been returned, that they had received permission from George Smith to take it away and that its value was not more than $5. This valuation was claimed in spite of the fact that the testimony of the defense showed that the four rooms of George Smith had been comfortably furnished. It was in the arguing of this point that the heated argument arose between the opposing counsels.

Foreman Francis, of the jury, announced a verdict of $60 and costs in favor of the plaintiff.

Up to Corporation Counsel.

Lee, who is generally interested in trolley matters, was asked Monday night why he did not make an effort to improve trolley conditions in Plainfield, said that at present he is too busy with other matters. INDOOR ATHLETICS AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Four Records Smashed in Contests Last Night at the Local Association.

GOOD SHOWINGS MADE

LARGE NUMBER OF CONTESTANTS AND RIVALRY GENERALLY KEEN.

Munger Threw the Shot Over Forty Feet and Three Inches—McNaughton's Great High Kick—Quarter-Mile Walk Record of Koons.

Four Y. M. C. A. records went by the boards last night in the contests postponed from last Saturday. The hop, skip and jump record was improved upon by H. Scuill who covered 35 feet, ten inches half an inch better than R. Carroll's record established in 1898. In the shot put, O. H. Munger made the remarkable record of forty feet, three one-half inches, the previous mark being 38 feet, 1½ inches, made by G. P. Smith in 1897. C. B. Koons beat his own record time in the quarter-mile walk, negotiating the distance in two minutes, thirteen seconds, the previous record record established by him last year being 2-16 2-5. In the high kick, W. McNaughton did himself proud, reaching a height of eight feet four inches, smashing R. Carroll's best mark established in 1898 of eight feet, three inches.

All of the new marks were cleanly made in regular competition. Records beaten in each of the four events contested made a good night's work. There was an unusually large number of contestants out and the interest in the events was keen. W. McNaughton made his first appearance in the contests, which were the third in the series. The finals will be a rope climb, running high dive and running high jump and will take place Saturday, January 16.

In the high kick last night, W. Bentliff scored a second to McNaughton's record kick, his mark being seven feet, ten inches. Raymond Smith was third with seven feet two inches. Other competitors were Koons and Stuart.

There was a generally high quality of performances in the 12-pound shot put, though none of the athletes approached Munger's giant put. H. Scuill won second honors with 31 feet, 10 inches, and Raymond Smith was third with thirty feet. Others who pariticpated were Bentliff, Mensenbach, Rothberg, Koons, Mundy, Collier, McNaughton and Stuart.

The hop, skip and jump was a well contested event. Next to Scuill's record distance, was the mark of 34 feet, 6 inches made by Munger. McNaughton was well up with 34 feet 3, and R. Smith was a good fourth. Others who did good work in this event were Koons, Bentliff, Stuart, Mundy and Woodland.

The regular quarter mile walk was run off Saturday, December 5, and won by Smith in 2 minutes 16 seconds. Koons was out of town at the time, however, on business for the association and was allowed to walk the distance last night. This he did to such good purpose as to break his own association record.

As a result of last night's contests, Raymond Smith, the leader in the race for the individual championship, added 123 points to his total; Walter McNaughton made 145 points and W. Bentliff scored 117. In the totals to date Smith leads with 498 points, Koons is second with 400 and Mundy third with 390.

spect that most religious sects and systems diverge from each other. There are hundreds of these sects. There are one hundred and forty Christian sects alone, many of which have been in the most violent antagonism towards each other. There is, therefore, no unity of religious belief with which we can compare Christian Science, but I shall explain wherein it is different from all others.

"In her effort to enlarge the human concept of the infinite God, Mrs. Eddy has added somewhat to the technical definitions of Deity, and affirm, among other things, that God is divine Mind and that this Mind is good.

"God is either Mind or mindless. The Mind that is God, and which includes all wisdom, intelligence, and science, is good. This Mind is the antipode of what the Bible calls the 'carnal mind,' or that which Mrs. Eddy designates 'mortal mind,' the mind of sin, which is enmity against God.

"The Science of Mind declares that to the extent the man is governed by the divine Mind, he will manifest perfection, health, life, welfare, prosperity, the ampleness and completeness of harmonious existence. It was this Mind which was also in Christ, which cancelled temptation and sin, healed the sick, raised the dead, raised Jesus from the dead, and overcame 'the world, the flesh, and the devil.' 'To be carnally minded is death.' Sin and disease are the offspring of this carnal mind; they are no part of the nature or of the procurement of the divine Mind.

"God is good, in nature, design, power, action, substance, and operation. All that He has made and done is good. His laws are good, and He has already done everything that is essential to the supreme welfare of man.

"Conversely we repudiate the effort to solve the mystery of evil by assuming that any part of it has been instituted by God, or that He needs to involve Himself in or with evil in any way or for any purpose, or that He does so involve Himself

"God is not only Life, but has ordained life and is the law of life and health for man. The theology of Christian Science is consistently parallel throughout with this declaration. It also declares that God has created man that he might have being, and not for the purpose of inflicting upon him inveterate agony and disease.

"We repudiate all assumption that His law is the law of sin and death. Sickness is contrary to God, and God is contrary to it. God is the natural healer of the sick, and is able, willing, and ever ready to save mortals from the evils imposed upon them by an utterly perverted sense of existence.

"The supposition that God has induced the pangs and horrors of disease and death engenders a fear of Him,—a fear and alarm concerning the author and the law and the destiny of human life; a fear concerning the very foundations of existence. We Christian Scientists are no longer afraid of God or of His heaven, which we are learning is within us to the extent that we are governed by the Mind which was in Christ.

"In Christian Science there is no longer an unknown God. No longer do the distorted graven images of human thought mask or hide from us the real God, who is altogether lovely, who is our dearest friend, whose help is ever available, whose grace is sufficient, and who created man that he might have life and peace. Christian Science promises to lead mankind to God through the highways of health and life instead of death. It promises to humanity, in the name of God, not the doubtful felicity of the grave, but a sensible, practical dispensation of good, now. It promises to incline men naturally and willingly to a more spiritual life, which will satisfy them; and it promises that as they wend their way to a sure heaven this Christ-truth will be the Christ way-shower through all the mazes and besetments of an evil sense and an evil age, until, with undeviating trust and confidence, they abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

"We disagree with others concerning the nature of evil. Mrs. Eddy knows full well that 'Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap,' and that sin inevitably imposes suffering on its victim; nevertheless, she declares that sin, sickness, and kindred evils are unreal, meaning thereby that they belong in the realm of the temporal, illegitimate, abnormal. They are the paraphernalia of mortal belief or the carnal mind,—unlawful, unrighteous, and unnecessary,—monstrosities of unnatural existence.

"The world generally believes that evil is an enduring entity having a basis in truth; that it is as actual and substantial as good, or God, and that its indestructible immortality will be manifested in an eternal hell and devil. If this were true, and evil as an entity were consequently indestructible, then the entreaty of Jesus to resist and overcome it must needs have been a mokery. But, on the contrary, the career of Jesus is in demonstration of the power of something to abolish evil, its pretense and presence. Is it a thinkable proposition that our Master sought to equip a mortal man to destroy something that God has made, and is therefore a part of infinity? Do Christ and Christianity ask of you something that cannot be done?

"Picture for a moment a family which includes a violently insane person. Ask the other members if they consider the insanity real, and the answer will be 'Real! why of course it is real, it is the only thing in sight most of the time.' Now suppose that this person is cured of insanity; what becomes of it? It is now a nonentity is it not? Was it at any time other than an abnormity, a deranged sense of that which is an entity and which is normal?

"Christian Science explains that sickness is of a kindred unreal nature and is to be obliterated by the same process whereby everything that has no right to exist or continue is to become extinct through Christ and Christianity.

"If insanity and sickness are real, then God, who includes all reality, must have made them. If He made them and bestows or sends them, then it is a sin to try to get well or to want to get well.

"Concerning the divine Christ there is among men much conflict of opinion. Most Christians believe he was the Son of God, and was divinely commissioned; that his mission was to preach the gospel of reform and regeneration, to set forth the way and promise of salvation after death, by reason of his mediatorial atonement. It is believed that, incidentally, he did many mighty works. It is also affirmed that he is the only Messiah or Saviour, and that his way is the only way of salvation.

"Christian Scientists believe all this, and yet their sense of Christianity differs from that of all others. We know that Christ was and is divine; is our Saviour or Messiah; is the 'Way,' and we can prove it. We are confident that when this way is scientifically understood and becomes scientifically operate, it will manifest its saving efficacy by transforming the race.

"We believe that Christ Jesus was the representative of God to humanity; that he was the voice of wisdom and intelligence, and that he knew more about God, man, and the universe than all other people combined. We believe he came to do the will of God and to fulfil law. What God, and what law? The God that is good and whose law is the law of life, health, harmony, and holiness. We believe he came 'to seek and to save that which was lost,' and that he found that 'which was lost' when he found the sinner and the sick man. We believe that he came to 'destroy the works of the devil,' and that he was 'about his Father's business' while he was doing it. Unless he was destroying the works of the devil when he healed the sick, there must have been a time when he was not in the fulfilment of his mission, for he gave much attention to the cure of disease, and himself declared that such healing was a part of his 'works.' We believe this healing was natural and lawful; that all his works were done in exquisite accord with the eternal law of a changeless God. We believe that the teaching of Christian Science through Mrs. Eddy removes the ministry of Jesus from the realm of mystery and brings it within the range of law, order, and a scientific modus operandi. We believe that God and His Christ are too wise to be unlawful or to procure or induce or make use of that which is in contravention of law. We believe that the unlimited divine volition does not need to upset or undo any natural law in order to do good.

"We believe that the Christ ministry is an object-lesson in demonstration of the immanent, ever-present, and ever-available power of Spirit, God, to destroy evil. We believe that Jesus manifested the supremacy of spiritual law which is the law of life, and its power over the fictitious law of sin and death.

"Christian Science teaches that this proof,—the deeds, the achieved results, the mighty works,—is to illustrate the way of salvation to them that need salvation, and that Christian salvation is for the sick man as well as the sinner. All this is different from the belief that his work was miraculous, meaning that it was mysterious and in the way of intervention or violation of law and nature.

"Jesus never intimated that his work was mysterious. On the contrary he indicated the universal nature of the divine animus by declaring: 'These works shall ye do.' The contrary beliefs of men which have filtered their way down through the dark ages lead to the most absurd conclusions and tax to the utmost the credulity of man. They pre-suppose that, after promising for one thousand years that a Messiah should come to save a suffering world, God arranged and carried out a plan of which all future generations should have a right to say, 'It is an impenetrable mystery.' They require people to believe that Jesus largely devoted himself to mighty works which were of no utility to subsequent generations of men, and which have exhausted their service when people are induced to believe that it was according to the divine nature for God to heal the sick man in one age and refuse or neglect to heal him in a subsequent age. They require men to believe that God and Christ, who were willing to save that which was lost, limited that salvation to the sinner and discriminated against the sick man. They require us to split the ministry of Christ Jesus in two; decide that the healing work was without scientific or universal avail; that it was nothing we can possibly understand; and lastly that Jesus did not mean what he said when he declared that Christians who understood his Christianity must preach the Gospel and heal the sick and that they could do it. They require us to repudiate the works of Jesus as the legitimate interpreters of his mission and his words. They require us to believe that in saying 'heal the sick,' he who shows the way asks us to heal with drugs, a way which is contrary to his way.

"If instead of regarding evil as a mysterious entity, men had understood the Science which detects and correctly designates the phenomena of evil, such misconceptions of Christian salvation would long since have been dissipated.

"Sin and disease are in immediate kinship. They are allied as cause and effect. The Scriptural statement that 'through sin came death' is scientific. Every physician knows, or ought to know, that anger will arrest digestion, that grief, revenge, and envy will impair the integrity of the body.

"If Jesus came to save from one, then he came to save from both. He could not possibly save from one without saving from the other. He clearly indicated this to those who heard though they could not understand.

"When Jesus healed the sick did he destroy the work of God or devil? Was it the mission of Jesus to destroy the work of God? If sickness is the work of devil, then is God for or against it? If God is against and contrary to it, are His laws for or against it? If His laws are against it are they available to man? Has God created a man who is without possible recourse to His law and power? If He has, then why pray for an impossibility?

"Mrs. Eddy answers all these questions and hundreds of others in her text-book, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' and thereby reconciles reason to God, and dispels the mystery which has obscured the science of Life.

"People throughout all the Christian centuries have differed concerning the meaning of the Bible, indeed, in behalf of the quarrel about the Bible and of the conflict of creeds, millions have gone down to violent death. Our tenets declare, 'We take the inspired Word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal life.' Like many others, we believe that the Bible has not been dictated word for word by God. We believe with Paul that the things of God and the real substance of the Bible must be spiritually discerned.

"Most people have commentaries, or helps to the study of the Bible. We have a commentary, or Key, in our text-book. With historic and characteristic instinct the people whose love is for their own alone do not like ours, and even say it is dangerous. I will not linger long to discuss the merits of this book now. Since studying the Bible in its light, we have no desire to kill any one or quarrel with any one about religion. We have learned to love the right of every man to strive for heaven according to his own inspiration. We are taught that it is abominable in the sight of God and a decent manhood to denounce, persecute, or molest a man who does not agree with our religious propaganda.

"This book encourages us to live according to the Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount, and in obedience to the highest conceivable moral standard. It teaches us to be loving, charitable, merciful, meek, and pure, and as followers of Christ Jesus to obey every mandate of God and Christ, even to the extent of forsaking sin, preaching the gospel, and healing the sick. We are taught to love and to rely on one infinitely good God, who is Love; and that we may trust Him to the uttermost; indeed, we are led to believe we cannot trust God too much nor expect too much from infinite Love. We are taught to rely on the supremacy of Spirit and to know that no other reliance and no lack of reliance is acceptable to God or of avail to mortals. We are taught that the mission of Christ is in demonstration of an un mysterious salvation, and that we may expect more and gain more through Christ than if we were to minimize the scope and efficacy of his mission.

"If to be thus obedient, or to be too explicit in obedience, be dangerous, then we are indeed the most dangerous people that encumber the earth.

"Read all the books on philosophy since time began and they will not equip you to cure one case of fibroid tumor. Read all the commentaries, sermons, and books on theology, and they will not enable you to heal one case of locomotor ataxia in its worst form. Read all the medical books and all other books and you cannot, as a result thereof, cure one instance of malignant cancer. This book Science and Health has taught people how to cure hundreds of such cases, and they have done it.

"We differ concerning the nature of man. The Bible declares that God made man in His own image and likeness and gave him dominion over all the earth. Do you know of any such man? No. Is there something wrong with God or with the man? The trouble is with man, and he confesses it by declaring himself a fallen man (fallen from some high estate), and by his ceaseless prayer and effort to get back. Theology and philosophy in general declare that he cannot get back except through the door of death.

"Jesus' theology was indeed divine. He was himself a consummate theologian. He ushered Christianity upon the scene of humanity by means of preaching and healing. His works were in demonstration of his theology. They were essentially incidental to his Christianity, and the same works are essential signs of Christianity now.

"In comparing Christian Science with other systems of curative endeavor, I remind you first that there are many such systems and much disagreement concerning theory and practice. For example: one school of medical practice advocates the use on the average of one hundred million times as much medicine as is administered by the other school.

"I shall speak of several particulars in which Christian Science is fundamentally different from all other systems.

"The matter physician holds to the theory that disease is natural and inevitable; that although he may in some instances prevent or cure, nevertheless disease, per se, is sure to master him and his patient ultimately. By way of admission of the inadequacy of the system to cope with disease, he exhibits a long list of fatal or incurable types thereof. He therefore advances to the conflict with sickness with more or less uncertainty as to his natural right or ability to succeed.

"Christian Science declares that disease is unnatural and should be resisted and repudiates the theory that, from a scientific standpoint, disease is incurable. Jesus, the only perfect healer, actually demolished the theory by healing the multitude of all manner of diseases.

"The practice of Christian Science is in its infancy. No pretence is made that such proficiency and efficiency have been attained by practitioners as to preclude any failure, but already this practice has resulted in the cure of practically every disease that is included in the long list of incurables. In other words, Christian Science can heal all diseases that drugs have ever healed and all that drugs have never healed; hence the Christian Scientist contemplates sickness as something he has a right to cure and ought to be able to cure.

"The medical profession have practically united in the admission that 'concerning the essence or primary cause of disease little is known; indeed, nothing at all.' It is generally assumed, however, that matter alone is causation. There is an exception to the rule in the case of homoeopathy, which designates certain abnormal and unrighteous mental conditions—sin, etc.—as causative, and affirms that anger arrests digestion; that grief, sorrow, etc., impair or degrade the physical condition. According to Christian Science the enigma of the ages; namely, What is the primary cause of disease? can be solved only by entering the mental realm.

"Did you ever see a person turn pale because of fear? Have you known a person to turn red because of anger? Have you ever heard that one has died because of fright? Do you not know that the thing which happens is this: that such mental activities operate as causation; affect the nervous and circulatory systems and induce congestion,—the evidence of physical impairment or degeneracy?

"It must be, surely, that you know that mental conditions affect the body, and because you know this and should act accordingly, I ask if there is any scientific relationship between grief or jealousy as a cause and a mud bath as a cure. If you had a patient whose incorrigible hatred had finally caused liver trouble, and the medical books prescribed a mustard plaster, would you apply the plaster to the liver which is innocent of offence, or to the hatred which is the sole cause?

"If the case is to be cured at all, ought not the remedy to reach the cause and cancel it? Do you think that a plaster will do it? If not, then consider the Mind which was in Christ and which transforms man by means of righteousness. Consider the curative system of Christ Jesus, which clearly recognized sin as a cause of sickness and administered the emollient of holiness which divine Love has prepared in the laboratory of eternal Life.

"In consequence of ignorance and superstition, the universal mortal man is afraid of the very foundation of his being. He is afraid of God and heaven, he is afraid of devil and hell; afraid of his own body, of everything he does and has, and of all that exists on earth. This universal fear constitutes a universal and primary cause of disease, and the conclusion cannot be resisted that the curative system which fails to recognize it, cannot intelligently abolish its effects.

"There are two books in the world which entreat humanity to know that fear is illegitimate and can be 'cast out.' These books are the Bible and Science and Health. The latter, with much elaboration, explains the fabulous nature of fear and gives the reason and rule for its elimination.

"Will not those of you who are Christians consider as to whether or not it would have been a mockery for the Saviour of the world compassionately to implore man to resist fear if it really has a scientific, inherent right to infest humanity, and therefore is irresistible?

"The matter physician declares that the proper therapeutic or curative agency is to be found in matter or in the use of material means.

"The drugging system did not originate in a civilized, enlightened, or Christian age. According to its own history of itself, it is the offspring of paganism. Since its birth, forty centuries ago, men have endeavored to reduce the system and practice to a science, and they not only admit they have failed, but declare that the practice is largely tentative, by way of expediency; is experimental, or accidental.

"In behalf of the drugging theory mankind has literally swallowed everything on earth, hoping to placate or obstruct disease, and is still sicker and has more diseases than ever before. Concerning the theory and practice of four thousand years, it is to be said that nearly all of it is condemned by the practice and theory of today, and it is prophetically expected by the physician of this generation that his practice and methods will be repudiated by the next generation. The 'History of Four Thousand years of Medicine' does not disclose one single element of pure science. Moreover, there is scarcely a postulate that has been allowed to remain unimpeached or undisturbed.

"Now comes the utterance of Christian Science, which is the Science of Mind. It declares that everything you have or know; all that means religion, politics, art, music, sociology, education, finance, business, government, the daily life and minutiae of your existence; all is in consequence of thought. Thought ruptures empires, wages war, obliterates nations. Thought is the greatest potentiality that the mortal knows of or is moved by. The stage of human existence which Oliver Wendell Holmes calls a 'disorder' has been desolated by evil mental conditions and must become normal and righteous through the 'transformation of Mind.' Mindless matter is not equal to the task. It has no intelligence of its own and an all-wise God needs not to filter Himself through non-intelligence in order to accomplish for a sick man all that he needs or to which he is entitled.

"We think the Bible is to be credited, wherein it indicates that God is the natural healer of all our diseases, and we know that this God is Mind and not matter.

"How did Jesus,—the only perfect healer whom history affords,—how did he heal the sick? Medicine had been in use for twenty centuries. Was it Mind, or matter? Christianity would collapse in the admission that it was not Mind.

"It is urged that all this is transcendental because contrary to the senses. So is the hope of immortality, so is the belief in God and heaven. The senses testify to the extinction of man by death and the annihilation of his individuality, and they do not afford an atom of evidence of God as Spirit.

"It is declared that Christian Science practice is intangible and is objectionable because there is no visible or palpable animus or modus operandi. Do you know why the earth revolves, why your heart beats, why you can wink your eyes, or do anything? No. Does any physical scientist understand the primary impulsion of your every act? No, none on earth ever knew. I might spend years in bringing to your attention the everyday things of your life, and in proving to you that you do not understand the modus operandi of one in a thousand.

"Christian Scientists who have been the first to heal malignant cancers, know more about the modus, than you know about the circulation of the blood or your ability to walk.

"Why did it not come sooner? It did come sooner. Jesus understood the healing Christianity; declared and demonstrated it. The people did not fully understand him and he told them they could not, but he prophetically declared the time will come when 'ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.' Since then men have prayed that it might be revealed, and now we believe it has been revealed.

"Why did not everything come sooner? Why did not Adam have a telephone, a steamship, a piano, and the thousand other things of today? Simply because he didn't know enough. In consequence of law, substance, and possibility, all these were possible to him if he had only known enough to make the discovery. The Principle and rule of Christian Science Mind-healing were before Adam. They only needed to be discovered and applied.

"After this brief and fragmentary allusion to these differences I ask what think you of the difference?

"It really means the supremacy of God and the impotence of error. It means life and health instead of sickness and doom. It means joy instead of tears. It means a lawful Christ in demonstration of a palpable salvation for a man who ought to be like his Maker.

"For a third of a century Mrs. Eddy has been pleading with mankind for the recognition of its right to life, health, and holiness according to the will of God. She has insisted that God is the natural healer of the sick, and that disease is contrary to God and His will. She has discovered and made known the Science of Christian healing and has set forth the rule whereby humanity is to obtain mastery over disease.

"On every one who has ever healed the sick through and by means of divine power in attestation of the supremacy of spiritual law, the world has bestowed the antagonism and hatred which materialism ever exhibits towards the spiritually minedd; indeed, there has scarcely been a reformer since the day of Abel who has not been hated, reviled, stoned, or crucified; a martyr to his own ministry and mission.

"In view of this inveterate propensity of human mind to persecute the prophets and to resist that which makes for its own moral and spiritual welfare, it is not strange that with consistent industry it has given itself up to misrepresentation and defamation of Christian Science and its works, and of the Leader of this Cause.

"It seems futile to repine or demur because of this ruthless habit, and it is useless for us to protest or contend against the baseless disposition to do injury to us and to our Leader. Mrs. Eddy has specifically denied all the inventions of evil and the perverted statements of fact, and there is but one sufficient, adequate course for her and for us to pursue. Her life, past and present—the actual facts and activities of her daily existence—constitute an imperishably righteous answer, and one that will stand as answer forever.

"There is no other way, and there need be no other way, for this dignified woman to do, for one who is entrenched in the rectitude of her own pure living, but to depend on the present and ultimate recognition by the world of the great value of her work for her justification. The lofty character of her deeds and impulses, and the long-continued sacrifices which she has endured in order that her mission might live, these speak for her.

"Every revelation of truth, every scientific discovery, has found its way to humanity through some man, woman, or child. It so happened that Christian Science was discovered, assimilated, and disclosed by a woman, and forthwith, and since then, there have been many objections, all of which can be congregated in one common belief that woman is not fit to know the truth. It is not strange that this barbaric belief that mental inferiority inheres naturally in woman should have penetrated so many centures, but it is amazing that this generation needs yet to learn the scientific fact that there is no reason, mental, moral, or material; physical, metaphysical, or spiritual, why woman may not know anything that is true, and know it as soon as a man and as well as a man.

"I feel that I need not stand long before a New England audience to debate the question as to whether or no its grand women constitute fit ministers of God to them that sin and mourn and suffer. I know it is expected that a chivalrous man will speak in gracious womanhood, but I rejoice to know that the women I mean need not, nor do they thrive on unnutritious compliment. Because of the sublimity of inspiration, fidelity, courage, and character they stand on exalted heights which they have achieved for themselves.

"It has been my good fortune to know a splendid womanhood of whom I am greatly enamored, but I never knew one who was so meek, loving, and humble as is the Leader of our Cause. I never knew one who seemed so intent on knowing the will of God or so glad and satisfied to do that will. I never knew one who was so honest, so charitable, just, or kind. Her many years of consecrated experience have ripened into Godly reverence for and devotion to the daily life that is in imitation of Christ. Her chief ambition seems to be to battle for humanity against sin and disease, and to continue without reproach before God and man.

"Some day the world will know all this and render tardy justice, and meanwhile the tender loving woman knoweth that a million people, many of them once dying, who have been rescued from unspeakable depths, and who know that for a generation she has stood as the lone rock stands far out against an angry sea, are thankful that in spite of every contention against her she has been faithful to her trust."

Section 2. That the word "building" as used in this ordinance, is intended to include any addition to any building already erected, as well as new structures, and the words "built or erected," as used in this ordinance, are intended to include any building, or part thereof, which might be moved into the territory included within such fire limits, or moved from one spot to another within such limits.

Section 3. That the erection, construction or removal into or within such fire limits, of any frame building or wooden building, or partly frame building, and also of any other building having partition walls anywhere less than four inches in thickness, or having outside walls anywhere less than eight inches in thickness in the thinnest part, is hereby prohibited under a penalty of a fine of ten dollars for each and every day that any such prohibited building, whether complete or not, stands, or remains, within such prescribed limits.

Section 4. That all ordinances, and part of ordinances, inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance, and especially the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to establish the kind and character of building hereafter to be erected or constructed, in the borough of North Plainfield" and approved on the first day of August, 1902, be, and the same are hereby repealed.

Section 5. That said Mayor and Council may, by resolution, passed by a three-fourths vote of all the members thereof, permit frame or wooden or partly frame or wooden buildings to be erected within said limits, when the circumstances of the particular case or cases, in their judgment, require such exception.

Section 6. This ordinance shall take effect on the eighteenth day of January, nineteen hundred and four.

Home For Kings.

The story is given out that the Steel Trust has slipped from the hands of Morgan and Schwab, and has passed under the control of Rockefeller and Frick. The interesting part of the story is that such a reorganization will be hard, as it will abolish the enormous salaries paid to friends of the management, and that such salaries will be paid as will enable the recipients to "live comfortably in Metuchen or Plainfield, but not in style on Fifth avenue," an expressive description of a laudable change; but as the saying will go to the Standard Oil Company the advantage to the public is not self-evident.—Trenton True American.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Mr. Bryan says he loves his country more than ever since he has visited Europe. He can furnish a proof of his sincerity by taking another trip abroad while the next Presidential campaign is on.

The dignified, pacific and able speech of Richard Olney, former Secretary of State, at the McClellan banquet, is in marked contrast to the many public utterances which have characterized Democratic campaign speakers in recent years. With men of the Olney stamp guiding the destiny of the Democratic party, the country will be safe should the minority party come into power again as a result of the next Presidential election.

Notwithstanding the position taken by the Mayor, it is earnestly hoped that the street and sewer committee of the Common Council will carefully investigate the subject of municipal collection and disposal of garbage, which has been committed to it by that body. It is urged not only by the Board of Health, but by a great number of citizens who understand the dangers arising from a continuance of the present system, if system it may be called. Health Officer Thurlow has given the matter much attention and he says that in his opinion it is most necessary that a change be made as soon as possible. It is one of the two features of the Board of Health's annual report and for that reason alone if for no other should be given due weight by the committee. The reasons advanced by the Mayor, in his message, why such a change should not be made at this time, it seems to us, constitute no argument against the proposition. That it would be an unjust burden on the small property owners, it is submitted is an illogical conclusion to be drawn from the premises. It would be just as logical to say that a tax for street improvements or a tax for fire protection would be an unjust burden to the owner of small abutting property That no change is warranted by the conditions of the public health in this matter is as sound as to say that no sewage system is necessary. Plainfield should certainly be provided with all improvements that can be found in municipalities of one-third its size and this is one of them. It is to be hoped that the street and sewage committee will thoroughly investigate the subject and make a report to the Common Council at an early date.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

You can't get fruit at any better place than Alex. Lusardi's fruit stores on West Front street. Lusardi's is freshest and best.

In these days of careless building it is necessary to secure a first-class contractor, such as Titus H. Laury. His work stands the test of time, yet is not expensive.

"Do you wear hair? If not, why not" There is no necessity of being without hair while T. S. Armstrong, the Park avenue druggis, sells Reynolds' Petroleum Hair Tonic.

Going to build in the spring? If you plan along these lines why not consult W. H. Kiroh, the builder? He can tell you how much a building will cost and can quote you prices below other builders.

Prescription work requires carefulness and pure drugs. That is why B. J. Schreiner is the best prescription druggist in town. His hot chocolate is superior to all others. Park avenue and Second street.

All of the delicacies to be found in the market can be secured at the Oriental Tea Store on West Front street, including the best teas and coffees. Mr. DuBois also carries a line of Japanese goods that cannot be excelled.

No one ever knew of a dissatisfied customer of H. A. Bonn, the milliner of West Front street. His customers are content because they know they are getting the value of their money. There is a style about Bonn's hats that no other milliner in Plainfield can duplicate.

The Paris Cloak Company on West Front street has just the kind of furs and cloaks for this severe cold weather and you will find that you can buy these goods at a reasonable price. Not in years has there been such a demand for furs and warm wraps and the above concern is prepared to sell its patrons the best.

When your fresh vegetables are all gone and you are confronted with the necessity of using canned goods, what brand do you involuntarily think of. White Label canned goods, of course. Why? Because Neuman Brothers have that brand in stock and because they are scientifically packed and the true flavor is retained. If you use the White Label brand you will use no others.

GOLD MINE FRAUDS

Jager Brothers, Well Known Mine Promoters, Arrested.

CHARGE IS USING MAILS TO DEFRAUD

Postoffice Inspector Makes Complaint and Says Circulars Sent Through Mails Are Alluring Advertisements Full of False Pretenses.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Frank Jager and John Jager, well known throughout the United States as mining stockbrokers and promoters, were arrested here on the complaint of Postoffice Inspector William Ketcham on the charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

The arrests were ordered by the government officials after an inquiry had been made into the business methods of the Model Gold Mining company and the Jager Oil company, of which concerns Frank Jager is president and treasurer and John Jager secretary Upward of $800,000 is involved in the case, and the federal authorities declare that sensational revelations will be made when the prisoners are arraigned in court.

The brothers were taken before United States Commissioner Foote, and they were released on bail. At the request of Frank Jager, who said he intended leaving Chicago a few hours later with a party of stockbrokers to attend the annual meeting of the company at Prescott, Ariz., Commissioner Foote continued the hearing of the cases to Jan. 15.

According to the federal authorities, the following mines and oil wells are included in the lists of those fraudulently misrepresented in advertising matter sent through the mails: McCabe Model Wolftone, American Gold and Copper, Jessie Helen No. 3, Gold Bug, Sink to Rise, North Model, Alta, McKinley, Helen No. 2, Copper Queen, Liberty Bell, Bruce, Monopolis, Herron, Pacheler, Tom Reed, Copper Crown, Belmont, Jager Oil company, Model Oil company, Smokeless Briquette company and Standard Briquette company.

Inspector Ketcham said:

"These men have been using the mails to make representations about all the properties, the only one of which our investigations show which had made money was the McCabe mine, near Prescott, Ariz. The government claims that the resources and profits have been fictitiously increased and that the general expense account, which should have been charged against profits, has been erroneously set forth in alluring advertisement matter sent through the mails for the purpose of making a good showing for the company. We charge that sales of stock on the strength of this advertising matter have been made entirely under false pretenses. The government's position is that there was an impairment of capital to the amount of $37,827 and that the representations show that the property operated by the Model Gold Mining company was $180,000 worse off than the management represented to stockholders at its annual meeting in 1902."

President Frank Jager said:

"The arrest of myself and my brother is purely spite work. A couple of dissatisfied stockholders wished to disrupt the company. We have made no misrepresentations, and we will bring heavy damage suits against somebody."

The booklet issued by the Model Gold Mining company lists the officers and directors of the concern as follows: President and treasurer, Frank Jager; vice president, Charles G. Schreiber; secretary, John Jager; directors, Frank Jager, Chicago; Charles G. Schreiber, Elmhurst, Ill.; John Jager, Chicago; Klaus H. Loptien, Sycamore, Ill.

Quaker City Playhouses Closed.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 6.—Acting on the preliminary report of the commission of experts appointed to inspect the theaters in this city, Mayor Weaver has ordered the Lyceum theater, a vaudeville playhouse, closed. The mayor also ordered the balcony and gallery of the Kensington theater and the balcony of the Grand Opera House closed. The order closing the Lyceum theater was received by Manager Jermon while the afternoon performance was in progress. The audience protested and demanded the return of their admission money, which was refunded at the box office. A squad of twenty policemen stood in the foyer of the theater and held in check the crowd of men and boys, who seemed inclined to become unruly.

Chicago Cab Strike Not Over Yet.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 6.—"Within ten days there will not be a cab wheel turning in the whole city of Chicago unless the Liverymen's association agrees with the demands of the drivers," said C. P. Shea, president of the International Union of Teamsters. "With the expiration of the ten days' truce we are going after the Liverymen's association, and in this fight there will be no compromise. The two dollar a day scale must be accepted."

Labor Trouble Caused Murder.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Jan. 6.—Simplico Diaz, the foreman of a large cigar factory at Aguas Buenas, has been murdered in the presence of a large crowd. The murderer was Lasilio Forestier, a labor leader, who was angered at his inability to foment a strike of cigarmakers. Diaz was shot in the heart and brain and died immediately.

Wire Fence For Boundary.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Representative Dixon of Montana has introduced a resolution providing for a wire fence along the Canadian boundary between Lake of the Woods and Point Roberts. The object of the fence is to keep out Chinese immigrants, and it is to be so equipped as to give signals when any one climbs over it.

MATCH WAS A DRAW.

Hart and Gardner Boxed Fifteen Rounds In Boston.

BOSTON, Jan. 6.—Marvin Hart of Louisville and George Gardner of Lowell boxed fifteen rounds to a draw at the Criterion Athletic club. Over 5,000 people witnessed the bout, which was one of the most scientific exhibitions seen here in recent years. During the first part of the contest it looked as though Hart would be the winner. In the second round Gardner was knocked down twice, and only excellent blocking and holding saved the Lowell man from a knockout. Gardner came up strong in the third, but could not land effectively. In the fourth and fifth rounds honors were even, but in the sixth Gardner put in some terrible swings which made the Kentuckian groggy, the bell saving him from a knockout. Hart showed his superiority in the seventh.

The eighth round was the fastest of the match. At the opening Gardner's holding prevented his being knocked out, while at the end of the round the bell only saved Hart.

From this time until the thirteenth round the fight lagged somewhat. In the thirteenth Gardner's strength came back, and he had Hart groggy. The fourteenth round was full of fast blocking, but both men were so tired that their punches lacked knockout power. In this round Gardner had a slight advantage, the bell once again sounding just in time to save Hart from defeat. Both boxers put up a game exhibition in the final round, but Referee Buckley would not give either man a decision.

Racing at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—The defeat of Kenilworth was the surprise of the racing at Oakland. He was even money favorite for the six furlongs handicap, but the impost of 126 pounds on the heavy track was evidently too much for him, as he stopped badly. Arcade, getting through next to the rail, won by a neck from the poorly ridden Martinmas. Namtor was plunged on to win the last race, but Stuyve, the second choice, led all the way. Hildebrand was in form, riding three winners.

Dr. Sharpe Stays at Penn School.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 6.—Dr. A. L. Sharpe of this city, the former Yale fullback, has declined the offer made to him by Cornell university to become athletic director of that university. He will remain at Penn Charter school, Philadelphia, as athletic adviser and surgeon.

Yale Hockey Match.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The Yale university hockey team was easily defeated by the Yale graduates by the score of 4-2 at the St. Nicholas rink. In the first half the Graduates scored 2-0, the second half resulting in a score of 2-2.

Reyes Will Accept Presidency.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Although he declared that under any circumstances he would not be a candidate for the presidency of Colombia, General Rafael Reyes does not feel that he can decline to serve now that he has been elected, and he expects to accept. The general is essentially a soldier, not a politician, and his preferences are for the army; still, now that he has been chosen, for the selection of electors in Colombia is said to be equivalent to an election, as in the United States, he will accept the office. General Reyes is highly esteemed by the people of Colombia and now that he has received their indorsement through the election of electors favorable to him feels it would not be proper to decline the presidential office.

Four Killed by Explosion.

PENZANCE, England, Jan. 6.—Four men were killed and several were injured by an explosion at the nitroglycerin department of the National Explosive works, eight miles from here. The whole district was enveloped in a cloud of black smoke, and nearly every window at St. Ives, three miles from the scene of the explosion, was shattered by its terrific force. Many windows were also smashed at Penzance.

United States Steel Dividend.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The dividend on United States Steel common was passed at the quarterly meeting of the directors, but the regular 1¾ per cent was declared on the preferred stock. This was practically what Wall street expected. At the previous quarterly meeting the common dividend was cut from a 4 to a 2 per cent basis.

Corgie's Valuable Cargo.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—The Occidental and Oriental liner Coptic, just arrived, brought one of the most valuable cargoes that ever came here. It included 1,501 bales of silk valued at about $1,200,000 besides gold in Japanese yen valued at $1,250,000.

Root Murder Trial Opens.

WOODSTOCK, Vt., Jan. 6.—The trial of Joseph Bean, charged with the murder of Ephraim Root at Rochester, has been opened in the Windsor county court. Root was found dying in a barn. It is alleged that he and Bean had a quarrel over a woman.

Judge Dykman Very Ill.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Jan. 6.—Former Supreme Court Judge Jackson O. Dykman is dangerously ill at his home here. He had been suffering from pneumonia for some days, and it is feared he cannot recover.

Burt Did Not Say.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 6.—President Burt, when asked if it were true that Mr. Harriman would succeed him as president of the Union Pacific, said he had no official information to that effect.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

POPULAR HOSTESS

What She Ought to Be

"THERE are some houses to which I never go unless I am dragged by the hair of my head," remarked the woman who knew what she was talking about.

"I suppose those are the houses at which they don't give you truffles and French cooking," remarked the bachelor.

"Not a bit of it! They are the houses where I feel I am being entertained."

"Is that a joke?"

"By no means. There is a great difference between having a good time and being entertained, as you would find out if you went around as much as I do. It reminds me of the story of the young man and the girl who were engaged. They had had a very good time one evening sitting in two rockers very close together on the piazza and watching the moon. The next time he called she piloted him toward the same chairs the minute he took his hat off, and in spite of himself he exclaimed boyishly, 'Oh, don't make me do it!' with the accent on the 'make.' Well, I would like to exclaim the same thing to some of my hostesses—'Oh, don't make me have a good time!'"

"Contrary human nature!"

"The trouble with large gatherings—teas and such—is that they are so artificial. There is no opportunity to create the right sort of atmosphere, and, after all, it is the atmosphere which counts. I have been to little dinners in studios where I enjoyed myself thoroughly, and, on the other hand, I have been to dinners of the wealthy where I was so bored it seemed as if I never would get home. Let me tell you about the studio affair. It was all the more remarkable because the two girls themselves cooked everything and only had the assistance of a little maid for the occasion to help serve. In the first place, the fine, spacious room was entirely lighted by candles, having soft green shades. Garlands of green leaves were festooned here and there on the wall, and there was a mat of them in the center of the round table—for the table was round—another aid to conviviality. On the hearth a wood fire crackled and threw a pleasant, flickering light over everything. The courses were few, but beautifully cooked and well chosen. For an appetizer there were oyster cocktails in pale green glasses. Then came some soup with bits of lettuce leaf in it and a delicious cold entree in a cup (it was some sort of mayonnaise, with nuts and celery chopped up in it); then a beautifully roasted little chicken and its accompaniments, and after a few more things a ruby tinted jelly, with whipped cream and a generous sliver plate of chocolates and green and white peppermints. Afterward together the men smoked their cigarettes, while the girls drank their coffee around the big fireplace and the hostess played softly on the piano and hummed snatches of popular songs. It was all so refreshingly informal and 'homey.'"

"I don't suppose those girls lack for men," chuckled the bachelor. "Your description appeals to me."

"They certainly do not," she answered. "Men like a place where they can drop in informally and smoke a cigarette and have a nice, quiet chat, and they will go there again and again when you couldn't for love or money rope them into a family dinner, with its solitary cigar smoked with paterfamilias, and then the stiff after dinner talk in the parlor with mother and the girls, and the beginnings of an indigestion caused by too much pudding and too little sauce."

"What would you describe as the perfect hostess, then?" pursued the man.

"The woman—old maid or girl—who doesn't need two weeks' notice to plan anything enjoyable, who can make her guest feel as if he were a part of the furniture—I mean as if he belonged in the room; who can laugh and jolly and entertain him in a careless, comfortable way; who can play a bit on the piano or be quiet, just as the mood suits him; who appreciates a man's liking for prettily shaded lamps and open fires and doesn't mind if he strews ashes all over the carpet and smokes up her portieres. The 'comfy' girl or woman—she's the hostess for you and for me." MAUD ROBINSON.

HOPES OF PEACE NOW

Russia Has Made Many Concessions to Japan.

CZAR WANTS NEUTRAL ZONE IN KOREA

Both Powers Agree as to Integrity of China and Korea, but Tokyo Government Cannot Accept Zone Clause—Russia May Yield.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 6.—In her reply to Japan Russia has made many great concessions and hopes her proposals will prove acceptable to Japan.

The foreign office has given out the information that instructions had been sent to Viceroy Alexieff based upon the reply. The latter was drawn up in the most conciliatory spirit. Some of the Japanese proposals were accepted, while others were made the subject of extended observation and were met by counter proposals.

There are strong hopes in many circles that tomorrow, the Russian Christmas, the czar may be able to announce that peace is assured.

The greatest difference between Russia and Japan arises from the proposal made by Russia that a neutral zone shall be established extending from Pingyang, in Korea, on the south to the Russian frontier on the north.

The Russian government has expressed a willingness to recognize the preponderating influence of Japan in the remainder of Korea, and the two powers are agreed respecting the principle of the integrity of China and of Korea.

Japan, however, can see no reason why the proposed neutral zone should be established, holding that the entire peninsula should be subject to her preponderating influence.

The attitude of Russia is believed to be due to the fact that if Japan controls Korea she will thereby be able to more easily menace Port Arthur as well as Vladivostok.

The diplomat who gave the foregoing information expressed himself as confident that Russia in her reply to Japan will give way on this vital point.

A dispatch from Tokyo says that Russia has proposed the creation of a neutral zone in northern Korea running south from the Manchurian frontier as far east as Yuensan and west to Pingyang, but this will certainly be unacceptable to Japan.

Fire Panic Narrowly Averted.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 6.—A panic which might have caused loss of life was averted by the remarkable activity of the fire department at the textile mills of William T. Smith & Sons. The firm employs between 500 and 600 girls. A few hours after they had gone to work flames were discovered in the lower part of the building, practically cutting off all means of exit save by the fire escapes. An alarm was quickly turned in, and the prompt arrival of the firemen at the scene seemed to partially allay the fears of the hundreds of girls, who had rushed to the fire escapes. All were taken safely from their perilous positions. The flames were extinguished after a loss of $25,000 to the building and machinery.

Bunau-Varilla to Resign.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—M. Philippe Bunau-Varilla, the minister from Panama and the joint signer with Secretary Hay of the Hay-Bunau-Varilla treaty, will resign his office after the exchange of ratifications of the treaty between the Washington and Panama governments. It is said his successor will be Mr. Arosemena, a prominent lawyer of Panama, whose son is now secretary of legation here. M. Bunau-Varilla probably will go to Paris after his resignation.

WATERFORD, Ireland, Jan. 6.—John Redmond, leader of the Irish parliamentary party and president of the United Irish league, addressing his constituents here, said that when parliament reassembled the Irish party, which was the only united party in the house of commons, would continue to demand home rule, the desire for which, he declared, had not been suppressed by the passage of the land purchase act.

The thermometer at Ballston, N. Y., registered 43 degrees below zero, breaking the lowest previous record in that village of 41 degrees below on Feb. 26, 1861.

Yesterday was the coldest day in the memory of the oldest inhabitants of Rutland, Vt. Thermometers in different sections of the city registered from 40 to 44 degrees below zero at sunrise.

The public schools were closed owing to the inability of the janitors to heat the buildings.

Forty degrees below zero was registered at Saratoga, N. Y., and 48 at Saratoga lake. Blue Mountain Lake, Schroon Lake and other Adirondack places reported 43 and Stony Creek 45 degrees below zero.

FLEET FOR PANAMA.

Atlantic Training Squadron to Sail For Guantanamo Saturday.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Jan. 6.—The Atlantic training squadron, consisting of the Minneapolis, Columbia, Yankee and Hartford, has received urgent orders from Washington to proceed without delay to Guantanamo, where further orders would await its arrival. The vessels will get away from port Saturday morning at daylight. The Yankee has just finished coaling at the navy yard and has come up to the city to join the fleet. The Columbia, which arrived Sunday from New York, has been ordered by Admiral Wise to proceed to the navy yard and there take on 1,000 tons of coal preparatory to sailing. The fleet would get away at an earlier date than Saturday but for the fact that repairs to the Minneapolis are being made at the navy yard which cannot be completed before Friday night.

The general opinion prevails among the officers that the fleet will be ordered from Guantanamo to Panama and will be held ready for any emergency which may arise.

KOREAN TROOPS MAY NEED CURBING

Trouble Between Striking Coolies and Troops Might Cause Massacre, Especially if Japan Lands Soldiers In Korea at This Time.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—On the representation of the United States consul at Seoul, Korea, that American interests at that point were in danger owing to the trouble between striking coolie laborers and the Korean troops and that if Japan would send troops, as she had threatened to do, the trouble might increase to a point that would put the lives of Americans in jeopardy the president ordered the gunboat Vicksburg, which was on the China station, to proceed at once to Chemulpo, the nearest port to Seoul, and the commander of the warship has cabled as follows:

"After consultation with the American minister we came to the conclusion that affairs are very grave at Seoul. There is much fear of riot by Korean soldiers. I completed arrangements and sent a company of marines by rail to Seoul, two officers and thirty-six men and a field gun. The remainder of the guard is prepared to move forward if necessary."

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that owing to disturbances between the Koreans and the Japanese in Korea the Russian Second Rifle regiment at its full strength has been dispatched to Korea in order to protect Russian interests there.

Sensible Men In St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 6.—Theatrical managers of St. Louis have agreed to the following: "That two firemen are to be stationed at each theater during all performances; a regular fire brigade, composed of the stage employees, is to be drilled weekly by an experienced drillmaster; every theater to be equipped with an asbestus curtain which will work automatically; between the asbestus curtain and the stage and on a level with the proscenium pipes will be placed so that a perfect shower can be produced to cover the entire stage by means of a water valve; fire alarms will be installed in convenient parts of the building; steel ventilators will be placed in the ceiling or at the sides of the building, thus affording a flue for flame and smoke."

State Legislature Opens.

BOSTON, Jan. 6.—The annual session of the Massachusetts legislature, which opened with the swearing in of members and the election of officers, was marked for the first time in some years by a contest in both branches for sergeant-at-arms and a contest in the house for speaker. As the Republicans have a firm control of both branches, the contests were fought chiefly in caucuses. In the senate Republican caucus the nomination for sergeant-at-arms went to Captain David T. Remington, the present doorkeeper of the senate, who defeated the present incumbent, Major Charles T. Davis, by a decisive vote. The caucus renominated President George R. Jones, Clerk Henry D. Coolidge and Chaplain Rev. Edmund Dowse.

The shields containing the names of the winners of last year's athletic contests at the Y. M. C. A. for the individual athletic championship of the association, numbering fifteen in all, have been hung on the walls of the gymnasium alongside the balcony.

Two aspiring members of the prize-fighting fraternity, McGuire and Kelly said to come from this city, were to have held a counter attraction for the "Young Corbett" and Hanlon mill last week, except that the Plainfield men had planned to have their fight for a $300 purse in a hall at Krischerville, down at the end of Staten Island. Two hundred of the Island's sports had arrived and had paid $3 each for a ticket to the fight, which was to have been to the finish, when Sergt. Armstrong, Detective Burns and five policemen from the Eighteenth Precinct, New York arrived and announced that there would be no fight. The money was refunded.

IN THE SENATE.

Lodge Discussed the Situation on the Isthmus.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Practically the entire session of the senate was devoted to a speech by Mr. Lodge on the situation on the isthmus of Panama. He discussed the abstract question of the right of the president to recognize the independence of a new nation and concluded that such a prerogative pertains exclusively to the office of the chief executive. He also contended that there had been a general expectation of an uprising in Panama in case of failure of the Hay-Herran treaty and declared that the president could not have done less than inform himself of the prospect.

Mr. Lodge argued that our intervention in Panama had been only in the interest of peace and contended that the president had not gone a step beyond what the properties called for. The conclusion of the speech was devoted to the political aspect of the question, and in that connection he referred to the speeches made at the Democratic banquet in New York.

Mr. Lodge criticised the presidential administration of Mr. Cleveland, saying that he did not think anything could be "happier for the Republicans than to have the Democrats nominate the last Democratic reform president on a policy of sustaining Colombia and opposing the United States in digging a canal at Panama."

Dr. Edward Everett Hale and Clark Howell of Atlanta.

The object of the conference is to consider the question of the adoption of a treaty between the United States and Great Britain by which these two nations will agree to resort to The Hague tribunal in a certain class of cases under specified conditions.

It is also reported that she is to be married to a prominent clothing dealer who is said to control houses in Birmingham and Memphis."

Postoffice Safe Dynamited.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 6.—Burglars dynamited the safe of the Ambridge (Pa.) postoffice and got away with $300 in cash and stamps. SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

The increase in the liquor license fees is not considered in the light of taking care of the police department, the amount to be realized from this increase will about provide for that department, according to last year's figures, the sum of $18,000 being required in 1903. There are about sixteen licensed places in town and averaging up these places at $1,000 and $800 each, the revenue will about meet this expense.

SAENGERBUND HALL DESTROYED BY FLAMES, BUT REST OF BLOCK SAVED FROM DESTRUCTION

An Overheated Stove in Basement of Gesang and Turn Verein's Home Responsible for the Loss.

WHEN FIRE WAS RAGING, MAYOR SMALLEY, OF THE BOROUGH, SUMMONED HELP AND CITY DEPARTMENT RESPONDED—ONLY THE WALLS LEFT—TOTAL LOSS ESTIMATED AT $12,000—HOW THE FLAMES WERE FOUGHT BY THE LOCAL AND CITY FIREMEN.

Saengerbund Hall, in Somerset street, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon entailing a loss of $8,000. Adjoining properties were also damaged. All that is left of the Gesang and Turn Verein's home are four blackened walls and a heap of debris. An overheated stove in the bar room in the basement was responsible for the loss. The fire started about 2:30 o'clock. Hampered by the cold the volunteer firemen of the borough and hook and ladder truck and hose company No. 2 of this city, struggled with the fire for a long time before it was finally subdued. They were unable to prevent the flames from spreading to the adjoining building owned by Jacob Voehl, occupied as a bake shop and residence by Henry Voehl.

The fire was discovered by Louis Menzenbach, the son of Matthias Menzenbach, the janitor, when he entered the hall to clean it preparatory to the annual meeting which was to have been held there tonight. As he opened the front doors a cloud of smoke enveloped him and he found the interior of the place in flames. He rushed back to his father's store across the street. While the latter was making heroic efforts to save the books of the society, which were in the main room down-stairs, the lad turned in the alarm from box 142 at the corner of Manning avenue and Somerset street. Chief J. J. Stahl and W. G. Debele were the first firemen on the scene.

In the meantime Matthias Menzenbach, in trying to save the society's books, had a narrow escape from being smothered to death by the smoke. His wife had seen him enter the burning building. She found that the door had swung to and her husband was a prisoner in the building. Quickly opening the doors she released him but not before he was partially overcome by the dense smoke. He had saved the society's documents.

Warren Engine Company, located directly across the street from the conflagration, was the first on the scene but the West End Company got the first stream on the fire. The Warren Company delayed taking its hose wagon from the house until a team was procured. The Warren Engine Company made an attempts to extinguish the flames with chemical extinguishers but found that they had already gained too much headway. Three lengths of the company's hose burst before they had a stream playing on the flames.

In spite of the efforts of the North Plainfield firemen the flames gained headway and the adjoining buildings were in danger of being destroyed. Mayor Smalley, who arrived on the scene shortly after the alarm was turned in, ordered that assistance be secured from this city. When the hook and ladder truck and hose company No. 2, from the city's headquarters arrived in response to a telephone call, the rear end of the Voehl building was afire and the properties on the north side of the hall were threatened.

Chief Doane, of the city department, ordered ladders raised in the rear of the burning structures and within a short time the fire was under control. Five electric light wires leading into the hall from the front made the work of the firemen quite dangerous. Lineman Crawley, of the local electric light station, climbed an icy electric light pole and cut the wires. Escaping gas from the basement, which threatened an explosion, was shut off by an employe from the gas company's office. Five horses in the barn of Henry Voehl were rescued by the North Plainfield firemen.

Four men were at work on the roof of Saengerbund Hall pouring water through an aperture cut in the top of the building. When Chief J. J. Stahl, of the North Plainfield department, observed that the roof was liable to collapse at any moment, he ordered his men to an adjoining roof. Shortly afterwards there was a heavy crash. The roof had collapsed, leaving only the stone wall in front and the recently constructed addition in the rear. Five men, under the direction of Captain William Townley, of the city department, were in the structure when the roof caved in. Chief Stahl had warned the firemen who were working inside. Hardly had he done so then the crash occurred. Those in the building were Theodore LaRue, John C. Young, George Mehl, Henry Haurand, Frank Kesselring and Capt. William Townley. The force of the concussion hurled all these firefighters through the door to the pavement. They all received bruises. As soon as the roof dropped there was a rush for the interior some supposing that the men were buried in the debris.

When the local department arrived ten streams were directed against the blazing structure and after the roof fell the attention of the firemen was directed in saving the barn in the rear and the two adjoining houses. They fought for over an hour before they had the flames under control.

None of the firemen was seriously injured. Frank Hart, of the headquarters hose company, had his finger severely crushed and Dr. Probasco dressed the wound. Louis Bimble, of the West End Company, had his hand severely cut. Henry Voehl, while trying to save some of his property, had a narrow escape from being cut by falling glass. John Rafferty, of Sandford avenue, while riding behind No. 2 hose wagon from this city, was thrown from the wagon at the corner of Front and Somerset streets and struck the cub. One leg was broken and his eye severely cut. He was taken into a nearby store and later removed home in a carriage.

Henry Haurand, one of the officers of the society, when asked if the building would be reconstructed, said: "It is very probable that the building will be erected on a much finer scale than before as soon as the insurance has been adjusted. The matter will probably be brought up at the annual meeting which will be held Sunday."

The loss to the Gesang and Turn Verein will probably amount to $8,000, of which $7,000 is on the building and between $800 and $1,000 on the contents. The society, he said, has recently expended $600 on addition and repairs. This was not insured. Henry Leifke, representing the Germania Insurance Company, had $4,500, and William A. Woodruff, representing several companies, held $2,500 in policies on the building and other insurance on the contents. The loss is mostly covered by insurance. Other losses are estimated as follows: Henry Voehl, to bake shop, stock and damage by water and smoke in residence over store, $1,500; Walter Smalley, furniture damaged by water and smoke, $300; William Campbell, damage to rear of residence of firemen cutting through partition, $100; Henry Block, butcher, damage to stock and fixures by water and smoke, $1,000, insured. Nearly all of those who sustained losses are protected by insurance.

Several valuable mementos were served from the flames by the members. Henry Rummel carried out the valuable collection of butterflies and Rudolph Kersting and John Retzer succeeded in rescuing the flag presented to the society years ago by Christian Schepflin.

Walter Bennett, a member of Warren Company, did good work at the fire. When the local fire department arrived with the ladders he climbed to the roof with a hose and although his clothing was frozen stiff he stood for two hours in the freezing wind, patiently directing a stream into the hottest part of the building.

Louis Menzenbach, who discovered the fire, told this story to a reporter for The Daily Press: "Shortly after 10 o'clock my father and I went to the hall to clean it. We lighted the stove to keep the water pipes from freezing and about 11 o'clock we left

THE LAWMAKERS TO CONVENE

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE'S SESSIONS TO COMMENCE TUESDAY.

The sessions of the one hundred and twenty-eighth legislature of New Jersey begin at the State House next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. As is customary on such occasions, it is expected that the desks of the members of both the Senate and Assembly will be profusely decorated with flowers.

The contractors at work on the new Senate chamber are confident that they will have the meeting place of the upper house completed in time for the opening of the session.

When the new Legislature convenes there will be in the Senate 14 Republicans and 7 Democrats and in the Assembly 38 Republicans and 22 Democrats, or a Republican majority of 23 on joint ballot.

Senator Edmund W. Wakelee of Bergen is the caucus nominee for president of the Senate and John Boyd Avis is slated for the speakership of the Assembly. In the Senate Senator Joseph Cross of Union is to be the leader of the majority, while Everett Colby is to fill the like position in the Assembly.

The slate for the distribution of the other offices in both houses has already been published. Mercer County is to receive an unusually large share of the minor plums this year, but, of course, with a Republican majority they will be handed out to Republicans.

A Great Employment Opportunity.

The Public Service Corporation of New Jersey is receiving its new cars and preparing to put on additional service. Personal applications for immediate and steady employment as conductors and motormen will be received at 206 Broad street, Elizabeth, Fridays, 10 a. m., to 2 p. m.

CAB COMPANY DRIVER GONE

COACH FOUND WRECKED IN SOUTH PLAINFIELD AND DRAPER IS MISSING.

Edward Draper, an employe of the Plainfield Cab Company, last night drove a coach at the Gaskill-Giddes wedding in New Market. Later the team of horses and a wrecked coach were found near the Lehigh Valley Railroad track, at New Market, but Draper had disappeared. Manager Davis, of the Cab Company, spent the night in a search for the missing man. The supposition is that Draper became frightened after the accident and fearing consequences upon his return, decided to abandon the team and coach and make his escape.

HEAVENLY REST CELEBRATES

CHILDREN OF PARISH RECEIVED PRESENTS AT THE SERVICE.

Services comemorative of the feast of light were held last night at the Church of the Heavenly Rest on Clinton avenue. It is the first time that such a service has been held here and the eighty children who participated were made happy with presents and candy. Rev. C. Harris Rush officiated. After the church services the children marched to the parish house where they sang carols, recited and enjoyed musical selections.

POLICE FORCE CRIPPLED.

Exposure to Cold Weather Has Placed Four Patrolmen on the Sick List.

Exposure to the extreme cold of the past few days has caused an epidemic of sickness among the members of the police force. Patrolmen McCue, Saffron, McGinley and Saunders have been laid off by attacks of sickness brought on by weather conditions. The condition of Roundsman Mattox, who has been sick for several months, is unimproved.

CELEBRATED FIFTH BIRTHDAY.

Little Miss E. G. Dobbins and Her Friends Had a Jolly Good Time.

In honor of the fifth anniversary of her birthday, Erma Gordon Dobbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Dobbins, of West End avenue, was given a party yesterday afternoon by her grandmother, Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, at her home in Elmwood place, to which a few friends were invited. The time was spent in playing games and having a general good time and later the young guests partook of a bountiful supper. Several useful gifts were received by little Miss Dobbins. These children were present: Cora Gray, Mildred Hand, Ethel Vail, Hazel Davis, Anna Vail, Grace Vail, Theodore Vail and Ernest Conover.

The table was prettily decorated in green, white and yellow and the crowning ornament upon it was a birthday cake with five lighted candles, the whole making a beautiful picture. "A Quaker meeting" was a novelty of the entertainment. Mrs. Walter C. Dobbins and Miss May Howlett assisted in receiving.

Excerpts From "Parsifal."

Miss Harriette Cady, who is well and favorably known in Plainfield in musical circles, announces a recital at the Waldorf-Astoria, Friday afternoon, January 15, at 3:30. She will be assisted by Daniel Kuntz, violinist, of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. A feature of the programme will be the rendition of excerpts from "Parsifal," by Miss Cady and Mr. Kuntz.

German Society Election.

It was decided last night to hold the annual election of officers of the Gesang and Turn Verein, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the Democratic headquarters in the old Boice building, 97 Somerset street. At this time, definite action will probably be taken regarding a temporary meeting place for the society and other important business will be transacted.

Cleaning Sidewalks.

The street department will probably finish removing snow from streets and sidewalks today. The sidewalk work is charged to the property owners and is mostly in front of the vacant properties. Through the business streets and trolley company pays for one-half the cost of removing the snow and on other streets for the whole cost.

Enjoyed the Sleighing.

A party of sixteen couples from this city went to Cranford, last night, for a sleigh ride and dance in the Cranford Casino. The affair was in charge of Charles Windham and Elmer Acker.

SWACKHAMER NOMINEE FOR SPEAKERSHIP

Democratic Members of Assembly at a Caucus Honor North Plainfielder.

MEETING IN JERSEY CITY

SOMERSET'S ASSEMBLYMAN SPEAKS ON THE DUTIES OF A LEGISLATOR.

"People at Large Recognize in Mr. Swackhamer an Honest Man," Said Assemblyman Besson—Mr. Hamill for Minority Leader.

Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer, of North Plainfield, is the choice of the Democratic members of the assembly for speaker. He was named last night at the annual caucus of the Democratic members of the assembly at their meeting in the Hudson county Democratic headquarters in Jersey City.

Mr. Swackhamer was nominated by Rufus Besson, of Hudson county, in a speech glowing with complimentary references to the nominee's distinguished past record. Mr. Besson said that Mr. Swackhamer's work in the Legislature has been unique and has attracted public attention to him beyond State lines. He predicted that his political future would be even more brilliant and said he was destined to receive many distinguished political preferments. "People at large," he said, "recognize in Mr. Swackhamer an honest man possessing the character and brains which constitute a leader."

The honor was accepted by Mr. Swackhamer in a brief speech in part as follows: "The position of the minority party of the State Legislature is one of importance and the Democratic legislators should pursue a policy that will be approved by the people. Every act should be tempered with conservatism where great public interests are involved. It should be the aim of every member of the minority party to stand as a vigorous, fearless and patriotic representative of his constituents."

The only other nomination was that of James S. Hamil as minority leader, the other nominations being deferred until the opening day of the Legislature. There was a large attendance of legislators. The meeting was followed by a banquet.

MEDICAL SOCIETY GATHERING

DR. T. H. TOMLINSON READ PAPER AT SESSION HELD IN HOTEL KENSINGTON.

Dr. T. H. Tomlinson presented an interesting paper on the subject of conveying disease in public life at a meeting and banquet of the Plainfield Medical Society in the Hotel Kensington, last night. There was subsequently an informal discussion of the subject.

The banquet was all to be desired, everyone being exceptionally well pleased with the menu prepared and served by Mr. Staats. These persons were present: Drs. P. J. Zeglio, Fred Hughes, W. Kempton Brownnig, A. H. Dundon, O. L. Jenkins, J. T. Fritts, B. VanD. Hedges, P. B. Cregar, A. F. VanHorn, T. H. Tomlinson, Albert Pittis, Marcus L. Clawson and Health Officer Leon R. Thurlow.

D. of P. Installs.

Installation ceremonies for the elected and appointed chiefs of Iona Council, No. 14, D. of P., were held last night, together with a Christmas tree and celebration. Each member received an appropriate gift, the past chiefs being presented with banks in the form of Indian heads which made especially attractive souvenirs. The gifts were distributed by the committee in charge, Mrs. Charles Dodwell, Miss Ella Sebring, Mrs. William Clausen, Mrs. N. Horton, Mrs. Samuel Montross. Refreshments of corn and venison were served in aboriginal fashion.

Talk to Shopmen.

Rev. Lester G. Leggett, of the East Third Street chapel, conducted a noonday meeting at Scott's Press Works today. Mr. Leggett's topic was "Is not this the carpenter?" His earnest address made a deep impression upon the men. After Mr. Leggett's talk, L. W. Randolph addressed the men upon a timely theme.

L. V. F. RANDOLPH ON MERCANTILE MARINE

Blot on America's Commerce That Her Products Are Marketed in Foreign Vessels.

PLAINFIELDER'S SPEECH

ADDRESS MADE AT OPENING OF MARITIME EXCHANGE IN NEW YORK.

History of the American Navy—Hatred for Partisan Who Stands in the Way of the Panama Canal—The American Flag.

L. V. F. Randolph, of this city, president of the New York Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange, responded to the toast "Our Flag," at the ceremonies Monday night, incident to the opening of the home of the Maritime Association, of the Port of New York. A nation's flag, he said, is the insignia of its life, its history, its purpose and its power. It seems to speak of what the nation has done and of what it wills to do. "It is worthy of note," said he, "that our own splendid flag is almost if not quite the very dean of flags among the nations of today." After commenting on flags of various countries, he said incidently:

"Do you need to be exhorted to stand by the flag? Let me tell you one way in which you should do it. Exert every ounce of influence you can to build up a strong American marine. From this Maritime Association of the Port of New York let a compelling power go forth to accomplish this. Let every man lift his pound, and let the Government lift its ton. It is chiefly for the nation that it is needed. The nation is not safe without it. It is a shame to American's commerce that her products are marketed by foreign vessels. It is a peril to our country that she is so slenderly supplied with American seamen experienced in service on American ships.

"It was George Washington who in 1775 laid the foundation of the American navy, and without even the consent of the slow Colonial Congress. Washington then issued an order to a captain in the army of the United Colonies 'to take command of a detachment of the said army and proceed on board the schooner Hannah at Beverly.' Fortunately Congress followed; and soon after a dozen vessels fairly manned and equipped, were chasing and being chased over the waters of Massachusetts Bay and along the neighboring coast. And thus it was that the schooner Hannah was the beginning of the American navy.

"It might now be an interesting coincidence if a great point of departure for our mercantile marine were initiated and started by another Hannah.

"There is another way to stand by the flag. Forbid its removal from any spot on which it has been honorably planted. Heap your opprobrium, and if need be, your imprecations, on any paltry partisan such as (for example, when a Panama Canal is at last to be completed) would offer puerile obstruction to a great world-enterprise by a cheap factional fence for mean political ends."

CUTTING ICE.

Gang of Men at Work on Watchung Lake, Which Ice is Quite Thick.

A large gang of men are now employed on Watchung Lake cutting ice for the Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company. The quality is fine and it is fifteen inches in thickness. On Tuesday the thermometer registered 34 degrees below zero at the lake and during the afternoon one of the horses was frozen despite the combined efforts of a large force of men to resuscitate the animal.

Operated on His Throat.

George M. Anderson, formerly steward at the Park Golf Club, who is now at Hotel Bon Air, Augusta, Ga., on Tuesday underwent an operation for throat trouble. He has been in the south since December 16.

To Make Schedule Time.

In an effort to maintain the present running schedule, the Public Service Corporation has taken off some of the motormen who could not make the time and put on others who will be expected to do so.

MISS GASKILL, BRIDE OF DR. E. A. GIDDES

Ceremony in First Baptist Church, New Market, Witnessed by Many Friends.

RECEPTION FOLLOWED

MISS JOSEPHINE DEALAMAN, OF DUNELLEN, MAID-OF-HONOR.

Rev. Frank Fletcher Officiated—Charles Coriell, Jr., Best Man, and Fred VanEps and Robert Carpenter Ushers—Their Honeymoon.

In the presence of large numbers of friends, Miss Mildred Gaskill, of Dunellen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds, became the wife of Dr. Elmer A. Giddes, of Dunellen, at 8 o'clock last night in the First Baptist church, of New Market. Rev. Frank Fletcher performed the ceremony.

The church was handsomely decorated, the altar being covered with an archway of greens with the pulpit platform covered with a profusion of flowers, palms and potted plants. The bride was conducted to the altar by her uncle, Randolph Gaskill, who gave her away. She was gowned in white crepe de chine trimmed with Irish point lace and carried a bouquet of bride roses. A tulle veil was caught up with white roses on her head.

The bride was attended by Miss Josephine Dealaman, of Dunellen, as maid of honor. She also was gowned in crepe de chine trimmed with Irish point lace. Charles Coriell, Jr., of this city, was best man, and the ushers were Fred VanEps and Robert Carpenter, both of this city.

The wedding procession was headed by two flowers girls, Miss Hazel Runyon, cousin of the groom, and Miss Grace Coriell, niece of the bride. The organist, Miss Irene Day, played the customary wedding marches and preceding and following the ceremony solos were sung by William H. Holmes, Jr.

A reception at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac T. Giddes, of North avenue, Dunellen, followed the ceremony. Guests were present from New York, Dover, Rahway, Elizabeth, Morristown, Philadelphia and Cuba.

After a ten days' wedding trip South, Dr. and Mrs. Giddes will reside in Dunellen. Dr. Giddes is a practising dentist, with offices on Grove street, North Plainfield. He is a graduate of the New York Dental College, , and is a member of Anchor Lodge, No. 249, F. and A. M., of this city, and of other fraternal organizations.

MOODY ON TRUSTS.

Democratic County Chairman Has Compiled an Exhaustive Work on Forms of Monopoly.

During the year 1903 John Moody of Cranford, editor of Moody's Manual of Corporation Securities, has devoted much time to the compilation and writing of a book which will shortly be issued for general circulation, under the title of "The Truth About the Trusts; a Description and Analysis of the American Trust Movement." The contents of this book are based chiefly on this invaluable data and general information which the author has been so carefully accumulating during these years. It is to be a large volume of over five hundred pages and is probably the first attempt to present, in uniform and accurate shape, an actual impartial history of the Trust movement, as well as an unbiased and fair treatment of the subject from the standpoints of both Wall Street and the public in general.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

A jovial Irishman who works in Campbell's Printing Press Company's works, wanted to go to New York a few weeks ago to do some Christmas shopping. He borrowed a commutation ticket and then boarded an express train. He took a seat in a crowded smoking car and proceeded to bury his troubles behind a column of smoke which issued from a clay pipe and a newspaper. When the conductor came through he took the man's ticket and glancing at the name of a well known commuter on the piece of cardboard and seeing that the passenger was evidently not a commuter, said: "What is your name?" There was no reply, and the Irishman continued reading his paper. Again the conductor asked the question and still no reply. At last he touched the fellow on the shoulder and repeated his question. With a surprised look, the son of the Emerald Isle said, after giving the conductor a look of deepest disgust: "Faith, if this here railroad knew my could not rade, faith the'd have my foined be this toime." His ticket was taken up.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

AMUSEMENTS.

Beginning Monday evening, January 11, Messrs. John C. Fisher and Thomas F. Ryley will present at the Broadway Theatre, New York, the new musical comedy, "The Medal and the Maid," which was a big success at the Lyric Theatre, London, last year. The piece is the joint work of Owen Hall and Sydney Jones, the former being the author of "Florodora" and "The Silver Slipper" and the latter the composer of "San Toy" and "The Geisha." Mr. James T. Powers will be seen in the leading comedy role, that of "Simon Pentweasle," a dealer in second-hand clothes, who has rather an exasperating habit of making poetical quotations. The supporting company is an excellent one, embracing the names of many well known comedians and singers, including Ruth Vincent, who was specially brought to this country from London by the management in order that she might be seen in her original role.

An Outbreak at Seoul May Prove War Torch.

RUSSIAN FLEET FOR PORT ARTHUR

Hostile Preparations Continue—Reported Japan Can Concentrate 300,000 Men In Manchuria to Oppose Russia's 200,000.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—A dispatch from Tokyo says:

"All the Russian warships recently at Vladivostok are reported to have sailed, probably for Port Arthur. Russia's reply has not yet been received by Japan. There is a strong, widespread tendency to doubt the reports of the alleged conciliatory character of the reply."

Advices from the far east all have an ominous tone, with Korea the center of interest, as the landing of American marines at Seoul has added interest in view of a possible clash in that territory between Japan and Russia. The Koreans are restive and threaten an outbreak. While the Americans at Seoul have not been reported actually menaced, their safety is a matter of concern to which the government has given full weight.

The Japanese minister in an interview here said he looks for a victory for Japan in the event of war. The minister said his country was in a position to rapidly center 300,000 men in Manchuria, while Russia could with difficulty send there only 200,000 men. He said that the naval forces of Japan were numerically superior to those of Russia and from a military standpoint were worth double.

"If war breaks out," said the minister, "it will last for only a few weeks."

An official cable says a Russian legation guard of thirty has been landed at Chemulpo, but the Japanese railway has refused to transport it to Seoul. It is reported that preparations have been made for the emperor of Korea to find an asylum at the French legation in the event of serious trouble. It is expected that France and Germany will send marines here to guard their legations.

It is reported that the Germans at Kiaochau are supplying the Russians with coal and gunners and that Admiral Alexieff's agents are offering large sums to induce American and British gunners to desert and go to Port Arthur.

A report from Shanghai says Japan has learned that the Russian squadron at Bizerta has been instructed to shadow Japan's new cruisers and be in readiness to attack them in the event of war being declared.

The cruisers Niasin and Kasaga, which were recently bought at Genoa from Argentina, will be taken through the strait of Gibraltar by English officers and English crews instead of by the Suez canal in order to avoid a possible attack by Russian naval forces.

A Tokyo dispatch says the Russian reply to the Japanese proposals has arrived at the Russian legation here, and it is supposed it has been communicated to Baron Komura, the Japanese foreign minister, at a long conference with Baron de Rosen, the Russian minister, but that nothing is known regarding it.

The Korean foreign minister here refused to give his consent to the sending of American marines to Seoul, but he could not make an effective protest.

China has declined the request of Paul Lessar, Russian minister to China, to send a special envoy to Port Arthur to discuss Manchuria.

An urgency meeting of the Japanese cabinet has been called for today for the purpose of considering the reply of Russia to the last Japanese note, and the British cabinet has been summoned for Saturday for the purpose of discussing the attitude of Great Britain in the light of the Russian reply.

This question is beginning to be most anxiously discussed by the British press.

The papers are almost unanimous in admitting that, even if the war should be confined to Russia and Japan, Great Britain cannot possibly see Japan crushed and that although not called upon to interfere by the terms of the Anglo-Japanese treaty and that while hostilities may be confined to the two nations, yet in the event of Japan suffering a great naval defeat Great Britain would be almost compelled to go to her assistance.

War Supplies For Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—The Pacific Mail Steamship company's steamer Siberia, which will sail for Chinese ports, will carry a quantity of pig lead for Japan and about 29,000 sacks of niter consigned to Hongkong and presumed to be for the manufacture of powder.

Coal For Japan's Navy.

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 7.—The British steamship Knight Errant, Captain Kendall, has passed out the Virginia capes laden with 11,500 tons of steam coal shipped to an importing firm in Yokohama, but for the use, it is said, of the Japanese navy.

French Warship For Far East.

TOULON, France, Jan. 7.—The armored cruiser Sully has been ordered to complete her armaments and start for Chinese waters.

Row Over Thirty Cents Cost a Life.

BUFFALO, Jan. 7.—In a row over 30 cents Filippo Grisanta, thirty years, an Italian laborer, was stabbed and killed in a saloon here. The police are looking for Jack Randazzo. It is alleged that the men quarreled over the payment for a drink and that Grisanta struck Randazzo with a billiard cue, whereupon the latter stuck a stiletto into Grisanta's heart.

BAD KANSAS WRECK

Rock Island Flier Crashed Into Freight at Willard.

TWENTY DEAD, THIRTY-SEVEN HURT

Engineer Mistook Freight Train on Siding For a Stock Train and Ran Into the Latter While Running at Sixty-five Miles an Hour.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 7.—Twenty persons were killed and thirty-seven injured in the Rock Island passenger wreck at Willard. Most of the injured are in hospitals in Topeka. The doctors announce that all will recover with the exception of Mrs. M. A. Hill of Greensburg, Kan.

The dead are Mrs. Henry K. Kaiger, Durham, Kan.; William Wells and William J. Wells, Jacksonville, Ill.; W. S. Martin, residence unknown; Fay Fuller, Blockton, Ia.; E. E. Rankin, De Kalb, Mo.; E. E. Meyers, Buffalo; James Griffin, Claremont, Mo.; Raymond Martin, Chillicothe, Mo.; —— Forest, died on train; an unknown man and woman; three girls, one a baby of three years, and two boys, all unidentified.

The injured are mostly western and southwestern people.

It is thought that carelessness of trainmen caused the wreck. Instructed to meet a freight train at Willard, the engineer and conductor of the ill fated train, noting that a train stood on the side track at Willard, rushed through, thinking that the cars they had seen were the ones which they had been instructed to pass. Upon seeing at Willard a freight train on the siding Engineer Benjamin threw open the throttle, and under the impetus of full steam the passenger train leaped into the darkness and crashed along at a rate which the passengers declare to have been fully sixty-five miles an hour. Not a note of warning of the impending danger made itself known to the sufferers.

The hero of the wreck was a Dr. Bell of New York city, a young physician, himself crippled, walking on crutches. Dr. Bell, although slightly hurt as a result of the collision, was the first man to leave the Pullman sleeper, which was not damaged. Struggling heroically forward on his crutches, he immediately assumed charge of the rescue work. First he ordered the chair car and sleeper cleared; then, after directing the removal of the injured to these cars, he allayed their pain as much as was possible without medicine or instruments, bandaged broken legs and arms with strips torn at his direction by others from sheets and pillow slips, administered what whisky was at hand to deaden the injuries until the relief train should arrive and saved the life of the fireman by tying an artery with the aid of a penknife and a piece of string.

Robbed of $4,300 and Jewels.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7. — With persons busy in offices all about him, David Freeman, a jeweler with offices on the sixteenth story of the Masonic Temple building, was held up by two men here and robbed of $4,300 in currency, diamonds and watches. A dagger was pointed at Freeman's heart, and he was threatened with instant death, he says, and forced to go down on his knees and open his safe. The men forced their victim to open his safe as well as the showcase containing the jewelry. He was then locked in a small closet used as a laboratory. No one saw the marauders, their quick intimidation of the jeweler being followed instantly by drawing down the curtain covering the large window looking out on the Masonic Temple rotunda.

Haitian Revolt Failed.

The general's son and an accomplice were killed. Numerous arrests were made.

Nordica Will Go to Europe.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Mme. Nordica has decided to forego further concert engagements in this country this season and will sail for Europe tomorrow. The change in Mme. Nordica's plans is said to be due to the alleged receipt by her of threatening letters, which caused her to believe her life was in danger. Zoltan Doeme, her husband, is at a private sanitarium here for nervous ailments.

General Young Goes to Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Following his retirement next Sunday, Lieutenant General Young, chief of staff, will make a short visit to his sister in Pittsburg and then will go to Cuba to spend the remainder of the winter in the hope of recovering from an attack of rheumatism.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 7, 1904.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

The "is it could enough for you" crank is on deck.

The advice generally given to persons about to get married may be taken by those about to read Alfred Austin's New Year poem.

Effective advertising is first the expression of personality. There must be something to say, and a man, not a method, to say it.—Saturday Evening Post.

Buffalo man says that if his wife insists on him eating her pies she can have a divorce. Evidently he believes in the maxim "between two evils choose the less".

The Elizabeth Journal says: "If Adele Marie Shaw should happen to drop into any of the New Jersey public schools in the vicinity of New York, she would doubtless find the temperature sufficiently high, despite the cold wave"

It will be remembered that Miss Shaw, after making a thorough investigation declared that Elizabeth has the worst public schools she has ever seen and that Plainfield has the best in the suburban district.

Mayor Smalley's promptness in calling on Plainfield for assistance when the Saengerbund Hall fire threatened to destroy an entire business block is characteristic. Help was needed and he lost no time in procuring it. It is absurd for any North Plainfield fireman to carry local pride to the extent of not wishing assistance from Plainfield under such conditions. The ladders needed could only be procured from the city fire department.

Editor, The Daily Press:

No class of heroes in a community deserves more from us of love, admiration and gratitude, than the body of brave men who fight fire. For them there are no prizes in gold or fame. They simply do their duty and make no fuss, but they should be held in high esteem by every citizen. We cannot say this too often for we forget all about our brave defenders when we have no need for their services.

Swackhamer Did Not Retract.

Editor, The Daily Press:

I notice in your issue of yesterday an article apparently furnished to you by the attorney for the plaintiff in the Smith-VanFleet case. Will you therefore be good enough to publish a correct version. The article referred to quotes me as calling my opponent a coward. This is to a certain extent true and under the circumstances, I feel that I was justified as I always have and always shall under such circumstances defend an uncalled for and unwarranted attack upon the character of a client. The circumstances were as follows: After the hearing of the evidence and after I had addressed the jury, my opponent in his address to the jury took occasion to step aside from the evidence in the case and attack the character of my client which had not been brought in question; at this stage of the case, neither my client nor I had the opportunity to answer and I remarked to my opponent that it was a cowardly act under such circumstances to attack my client's character without warrant or occasion. I meant what I said and I said it intending that the opposing counsel should hear and understand. As to violence, of course, I cannot answer as to what was in my opponent's mind, but as for myself, I never resort to violence in settlement of disputes. As to retraction, I never have nor should I under any circumstances retract what I said as under all circumstances I consider it my duty to defend a client's character against an unjustified attack. The action was brought to recover $300 damages. The jury, however, rendered a verdict for $60.

Very respectfully yours,
S. S. Swackhamer.

The accident happened on a Saturday afternoon and at the session of the school the following day, the school voted that as a reward for his faithfulness in the past, his compulsory absence would not be taken and he was marked as present on the roll book. The members of Fanwood Bucket and Engine Company are enjoying a laugh at the expense of the members of the Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company. The first Monday night in January of each year is the time designated by law for the several companies to hold their annual election for department officers. On Monday night the members of Bucket and Engine Company met for this purpose, but for some reason Excelsior Company held no meeting. This gave the Bucket and Engine Company's ticket a clear field. The officers elected being: Chief, Charles Haberly; first assistant, George A. Clark; second assistant, Horace Pangborn.

District Grand Chief R. V. Kinney and staff will install the officers of Godlen Crown Castle, of Somerville, tonight and similar work will be performed on Monday night, January 11 at the meeting of the New Brunswick Castle.

Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order of Foresters, at its meeting, tomorrow night, will have an installation of officers by High Chief Ranger W. J. O'Brien and staff from Elizabeth. Other business of importance will be considered.

This good and welfare committee of Freedom Castle, K. G. E., was appointed Tuesday night for the coming six months: Grand Vice Chief Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, chairman; Wilbur F. Randolph, W. A. Trembath, Charles M. Dolliver and Percy Banghart.

Congressman Williams, of Mississippi, the minority leader in the House, is a member of Yazoo, Miss., Lodge of Elks, and recently, as the memorial service of the Washington Lodge, he spoke as follows: "In Elkdom we have two laws on which hang all the laws and the prophests, and these are humor and good fellowship. This rule is a great thing, after all for we are not all so rich that we can give of this world's goods to our friends, but we can give the smiles, the kind word and the grip of friendship that count for so much in this life. Elks do not look at death as a passing away, but as a passing over. With us a bad fellow falls asleep, and then wakes up somewhere else, still a bad fellow. The good fellow wakes up in another land, still a good fellow. We are often told that we can carry nothing away with us."

CHICAGO BANDITS' TRIAL.

Car Barn Boy Murderer May Make Insanity Plea.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The trial of the car barn bandits, Marx, Niedermeyer, Van Dine and Roeski, began before Judge Kersten. Among those present was the mother of Niedermeyer, who has been familiarizing herself with court methods by attending a murder trial conducted by another judge during the past few days.

The morbidly curious were rigidly excluded, no person not directly connected with the trial being admitted.

The specific case called was that of the murder of Frank W. Stewart, clerk in charge of the money at the car barn office. Roeski, one of the bandits, is not a defendant in this particular case.

The first step taken by the defense was a motion to seek delay in behalf of Van Dine. An affidavit was presented to the effect that the effort had failed to secure the attendance of Dr. James C. Ross, who is in Colorado.

Van Dine was employed by Dr. Ross in Chicago Heights, and it is said that the physician will testify that Van Dine is insane.

Judge Kersten overruled the motion and ordered the defendants to proceed to trial at once.

After a day's struggle in the effort to procure jurors court adjourned without a man having been accepted.

It had been announced that the defense would be insanity in each case, but the attorneys for the defense by questions put to veniremen indicated that some other line will be adopted.

HANNA AT COLISEUM.

Says Convention Will Be Held In Chicago—Building Is Safe.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Although the Coliseum, in which the Republican national convention is to be held in June, has been closed by order of Building Commissioner Williams, it is stated that the order will be rescinded within forty-eight hours and that no change in convention plans will be necessary.

The violation charged against the Coliseum is purely technical, and it was no sooner made than the matter was investigated by Graeme Stewart, national committeeman from Illinois, and Senator Hanna, who was in town. Their investigation over, both gentlemen expressed the opinion that there was no safer building in the world. Statements to this effect were made by Mr. Hanna and Mr. Stewart and their publication authorized. Mr. Stewart said:

"I feel great personal responsibility in the matter, and if the Coliseum is not a safe building for the convention then there is no such building in the country."

Senator Hanna said: "The convention will be held in Chicago, as planned. The Coliseum is one of the finest structures I have ever seen in its provisions for safeguarding life."

It is alleged by the building department that the Coliseum violates the ordinance which requires that such buildings shall face on at least one street and two public alleys or open spaces.

Engleman and Diamonds Missing.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—Postal Inspector Cortelyou of Jersey City is here in search of "Dr." George J. Engleman, who is wanted by the federal authorities on the charge of using the mails for fraudulent purposes. Engleman, who was married only last Thursday, disappeared with diamonds valued at $2,375, the property of William Laycock. Engleman expressed a desire to purchase a diamond for his bride. He took the gems into a rear office, and while Laycock awaited his return he disappeared.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Jan 10—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—What are some tests of repentance?—Luke iii, 8-14; Ps. ii, 1-17.

John the Baptist was the forerunner of Christ. He came to prepare the way of the Lord, and he did it by preaching the doctrine of repentance from sin. But true repentance not only includes sorrow for sin, but the giving up of sin. In repentance a sinner, "out of a true sense of his sin and full appreciation of the mercy of God in Christ, doth with grief and hatred for his sin turn from it unto God, with a full purpose of and endeavor after a new obedience." The Jews in John's day claimed that they had sought shelter from the wrath of God, and John called upon them to prove it by bringing forth "works worthy of repentance." Repentance means not only a changed inward life, but also a changed outward life. We prove our repentance of sin by giving up sin. "The wicked forsakes his way and the unrighteous man his thoughts" when they repent and turn from sin unto God.

Under the preaching of John many were convicted of sin and cried out unto him, "What shall we do?" "The people asked him, saying, "What shall we do, then?" He told them to be unselfish. "He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none, and he that hath meat, let him do the same." John prescribes no senseless penance, but the kindly exercise of unselfish service toward others in life. The publicans said, "What shall we do?" and John replied, "Exact no more than that which is appointed you." The publicans were the tax collectors under the Roman government. Their besetting sin was theft. John calls upon them to give up stealing and to be honest. Then came the soldiers, saying, "What shall we do?" and John replied, "Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely, and be content with your wages." In the discharge of their duties they exercised undue brutality, frequently made false accusations against men and caused trouble concerning their wages. Hence John calls upon them to give up their besetting sins. And these illustrations answer the inquiry of the topic. The test of a man's repentance is his willingness to give up "the sin that so easily besets him." The people, the publicans, the soldiers, were not guilty of the same offenses. Their sins differed according to their temperaments and professions. But each was called upon to give up the sin that was peculiar to him. This is the only test of repentance. "By their fruits ye shall know them."

But in the experience of David it is also suggested that service in the interest of others is "a work worthy of repentance." "Restore unto me," says the psalmist, "the joy of Thy salvation and uphold me with Thy free spirit. Then will I teach transgressors Thy ways, and sinners shall be converted unto Thee." If truly repentant we become interested in the repentance of others. The saved man wants to help save some one else. This is God's plan. He saves us that we may help save others. If repentant let us prove it by our personal abandonment of sin and interest in the spiritual welfare of others.

BIBLE READINGS.

Isa. i, 16-18; lv, 6, 7; Matt. vii, 15-20; Luke xix, 1-10; John i, 40-42; xv, 1-8; Acts ii, 37-40; iii, 19-21; xxvi, 19, 20; Rom. ii, 1-11; II Cor. vii, 8-11.

What Is Happiness?

Happiness is the greatest paradox in nature. It can grow in any soil, live under any conditions. It defies environment. It comes from within. It is the revelation of the depths of the inner life as light and heat proclaim the sun from which they radiate. Happiness consists not of having, but of being; not of possessing, but of enjoying. It is the warm glow of a heart at peace within itself. A martyr at the stake may have happiness that a king on his throne might envy. Man is the creator of his own happiness; it is the aroma of a life lived in harmony with high ideals. For what a man has he may be dependent on others; what he is rests with him alone. What he obtains in life is but acquisition; what he attains is growth. Happiness is the soul's joy in the possession of the intangible.—William George Jordan.

Nuggets.

The society that doesn't grow is going to be a dead society pretty soon. The thing that we want to do to make the society grow is to intensify the prayer meeting. Every nook and every cranny of the prayer meeting room should shout its word of welcome to the stranger.—Harry A. Kinports, Secretary New York State Union.

Kindness.

Guard within yourself that treasure, kindness. Know how to give without hesitation, how to lose without regret, how to acquire without meanness. Know how to replace in your heart, by the happiness of those you love, the happiness that may be wanting in yourself.—F. W. Faber.

Spirituality.

The spiritually minded man is not always the one who talks the most about his religion. Spirituality is service. Those who do good as they may have opportunity and in the most unconventional way give the most satisfactory evidence of living near to God.—Presbyterian Journal.

The True Religion.

The true religion of Jesus Christ our Saviour is that which penetrates and which receives all the warmth of the heart, and all the elevation of the soul, and all the energies of the understanding, and all the strength of the will.—Dean Stanley.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Jan. 10, "Some Tests of Repentance." Luke iii, 8-14; Ps. ii, 1-17.

"By their fruits ye shall know them."

There is much of truth in the homely old saying, "The proof of the pudding is in the eating." In many forms the same truth has been taught. It applies to character and folks as truly as to things. What we are is shown infallibly in what we do. A person may act a part some of the time, but not all the time. Some time the truth will appear. The sham may imitate the real so that no one suspects the fraud for a great while, but the fruitage must reveal the true nature. Men may scoff at, betray, smite and crucify, but the third day will show whether one be not the Lord of Life by the resurrection from the dead, even though the other two be thieves.

So in the lives of men, the test of the power of Christ is in what transformations He works in them and their doings.

The proof of the power of God in us is not wholly in the inner feeling, but is also in outer action.

The test by speech is not so much what one says to his neighbors in prayer meeting, not even what he says in private to them about religion, as what he says about his neighbors to others.

The coat test of repentance is an old one. It is as good today as in the time of John Baptist. The people asked him, "What must we do?" He said, "He that has two coats, let him give one to him who has none." Watch the working of that test. See the hunting of the closets and attics and wardrobes for old clothes. How we pack barrels and boxes with castoff garments we can no longer use and no one would buy, send them to the needy and then—report it in the religious news and in the benevolent column of the conference statistics! "He that hath two, let him give one." What does it mean? Have you ever taken that rule and measured yourself and your goods and givings by it? Have you done it carefully, honestly?

One from two leaves one. One from twelve leaves eleven. Which example did you do? You gave one. Was it from two or from a dozen you took it? Think it over. It scares many to think of giving one-tenth of their income to God. How much more does it scare one to think of dividing evenly with our fellow man. Is it fair to always give him the old coat? Are old clothes and "cold pieces," given to tramps and missionaries, the best fruits you can produce from your Christian life?

"He that hath food, let him do likewise." Have you food? What food? Is it good? What have you of worth that you have enjoyed? Have you shared it with others or have you kept it to yourself? The little fellow on the street, ragged, dirty of face and hands, who shares his apple with another, saying, "Take a big bite, Jemmy," has solved this riddle of life. The man who is successful in business and shares his business and its profits with his employees because he takes an interest in them and enjoys seeing them get on in the world, he is bearing the right kind of fruit. Whoever in his heart wants to share with others and in his life does give as freely as he gets of everything—good cheer, kind words, smiles, dollars and helpful deeds—that one shows the true nature. The tree may be rough of bark, ill shaped in limb and scant of foliage, but it grows good fruit and is in no danger of being sent to the wood pile yet. God wants such, and the world needs such for fruit bearing.

Holiness a Habit.

Holiness is not holiness at all, but only a sporadic effort thereafter until it has become a habit—that is, "a mode of action so established by us as to be entirely natural, involuntary, instinctive, unconscious and uncontrollable." Holiness is not an occasional victorious resolution of the will to do right. Neither is it the placid triumph over all struggle and the extirpation of all that is imperfect and weak. It is the love of righteousness grown into a passion, refusing to accept defeat or defect of effort toward ideals and touched with piercing love of the God of holiness and right, plus among us the tender apprehension and inward vital acceptance of Jesus. Holiness is more than the mere purpose of right behavior. It is this kindled into light and heat by living contact with God in Christ.—Robert E. Speer.

God's Judgments Sure.

The righteous judgments of God may be delayed, ofttimes to give room for repentance, but they are sure to fall at last. God is patient and long suffering, merciful and gracious, but the sinner persisting in his sinful course must expect to meet the penalties of outraged justice at last. Saul had every chance to retrace his course, but steadily refused till at last he found himself involved in destruction, with all associated with him. Thus it is that the wicked involve in their own ruin the ruin of others also. So for the sin of the parents must children suffer.—Christian Work and Evangelist.

The River of Grace.

The river, clear as crystal, still flows from beneath God's throne. We are not about to exhaust the resources of love and omnipotence. The more we draw the more there flows. It is not a cistern to which we come, but "living" water. The way to have grace is to use grace, and he who expends grace in gracious acts has grace returned to him in abundant measure.—Evangelist.

Heaven Smiles.

Heaven smiles with love and admiration on those who seek to cheer the desponding heart or lighten by act or word or look the burden borne by the weary soul.—Our Dumb Animals.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

FOR EVENING WEAR.

Gowns and Wraps and How They Are Made.

Combinations of white chiffon and black lace or even of white lace and of black lace make handsome and effective evening gowns.

While elbow sleeves are still used, they are immensely full and frilly at the elbow, and a good way of renovating an old sleeve is to cut it off at the elbow, slash it and fill it in with closely gathered lace.

The loose hanging jacket effect is all the rage for gowns of lace or veiling. The little jacket is edged with narrow lace fringe, taffeta or satin ruching or chiffon applique. Accompanying it is always the wide swather belt of lustrous silk or velvet.

Accordion plaited waists and skirts are very smart for the slender woman, but no one else should attempt them. The accordion plaited skirts are especially pretty in crepe de chine or veiling with a nicely fitted hip yoke of lace.

CREPE DE CHINE DRESS.

Shirred skirts of the new chiffon voile have a pretty fullness broken by horizontal lines of embroidery done on bands of white taffeta or louisine. The girdle is formed of this, and it also appears on the fluffy waist in the shape of detached motifs.

The very latest thing in furs is a wide shawl-like scarf of ermine with long ends edged with chiffon, the whole being clasped in front by a jeweled slide. A hat recently seen with this kind of scarf was also of ermine trimmed with two large drooping silver tassels.

The illustration shows an evening dress of figured crepe de chine trimmed with chantilly lace and chiffon roses.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

DRESS TRIMMINGS.

Tassels, Cords, Braid, Lace Fringe and Ruchings All Popular.

Cloth gowns are almost invariably combined with beautiful embroideries of the same shade, particularly if the gown is of pale colored cloth and intended for dressy occasions. These embroideries are a feature of the princess gown in cloth. This gown very often in reality has its waist and skirt separate, but so draped and arranged that they appear as one.

Cords and tassels and all sorts of braids are favorite trimmings, and very few gowns are evolved by the best dressmakers without the addition of some of these fussy, dangling little ornaments.

Dyed lace and beautiful wide fringe constitute the trimming of many crepe de chine gowns. One of these seen recently was of pale blue crepe de chine trimmed with wide straight bands of cluny lace dyed to match. The tucked square yoke was edged with a wide fringe.

Moleskin is used to trim many gowns, especially those of gray cloth. The illustration shows a costume of this description, but in this case the moleskin bands are crossed with black and white braid. The very full skirt is trimmed with horizontal tucks.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

OUR BESSIE WON BY A NOSE.

Dainty Was Beaten by Overconfidence of Her Jockey.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—Our Bessie proved a surprise at Oakland by taking the mile and a sixteenth handicap. Dainty, the favorite, appeared to be winning handily, and Martin grew careless. When he saw Our Bessie coming with a rush he called on his mount, but it was too late, and Our Bessie won by a nose. The race for three-year-olds proved to be an interesting contest, Rockaway beating Military Man a head. Chorus Boy stumbled in the third race three furlongs from the wire and fell. Otis sustained a fracture of the skull. Modicum was plunged on in the last race, but made a poor showing. Results:

First Race.—Our Pride won, Theron second, Sir Preston third.

Second Race.—Sad Sam won, The Mighty second, Mimo third.

Third Race.—Mocorito won, Puredale second, Romaine third.

Fourth Race.—Our Bessie won, Dainty second, Falconbridge third.

Fifth Race.—Rockaway won, Military Man second, Dr. Rowell third.

Sixth Race.—Avenger won, Marlin second, Optimo third.

Great Republic Stakes.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Officials of the Saratoga Racing association announce the list of remaining eligibles for the Great Republic stakes, which has a guaranteed value of $50,000 and is the richest event for all ages offered in this country. Next summer will see the first running of this valuable race, and it has attracted entries from all the prominent stables in the east and also from the western owners.

Sport at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 7.—Knowledge, Nellie Waddell and Bard of Avon were the beaten favorites at the Crescent City track.

IROQUOIS INQUIRY.

Management Admits Proper Precautions Were Not Taken.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—By their own evidence given before Monroe Fulkerson, who is conducting the fire department investigation into the Iroquois theater horror, the proprietors of the theater showed that a worse condition of affairs existed than had heretofore been thought possible.

Will J. Davis, Harry J. Powers and Thomas J. Noonan, active managers of the Iroquois theater, were examined by Mr. Fulkerson yesterday. All of them pleaded ignorance of any precautions taken to prevent loss of life by fire at their theater.

They admitted failure to instruct employees in fighting fire and failure even to provide suitable appliances for use against flames. Their statements were corroborated by the testimony of twenty employees of the theater, none of whom had ever been told his duty in case of fire.

Flood Hero to Undergo Operation.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Leo L. Loeb, who gained fame at Manitou, Colo., Aug. 5, 1902, by a wonderful Paul Revere ride that saved the lives of 2,000 people endangered by a terrible flood of water sweeping down on their homes, is to undergo a serious operation at St. Luke's hospital. Loeb, it will be remembered, discovered a cloudburst and saw three dams and a reservoir go out before the flood. When about a mile from Manitou, galloping ahead of the torrent, he fell at Rainbow Falls and was terribly injured. A government position has been offered him by President Roosevelt.

Grant Would Be President.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 7.—The Business Men's club has tendered a farewell banquet to General Frederick Grant, who goes to Chicago to assume command of the department of the lakes. In the course of the banquet the hope was expressed that he would some day pass from military to civil life to head a Republican ticket for president, a wish in which he good naturedly acquiesced. The banquet was attended by seventy-five representative Texans and as many army officers.

Can't Serve Perry S. Heath.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 7.—Government inspectors, including James H. Bennett of Cheyenne, have been in the city for two weeks in an endeavor to subpoena former First Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath, but have not yet succeeded in serving the papers. Mr. Heath's presence, it is stated, is required in the east in connection with some phase of the post-office investigation.

Longstreet Laid to Rest.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., Jan. 7.—Thousands of Georgia's citizens, former comrades of General James Longstreet, veterans who fought by his side and under his command during the civil war, state officials and private citizens, gathered here to pay tribute to his memory as his remains were consigned to their last resting place.

Life Imprisonment For Barnes.

KEENE, N. H., Jan. 7.—The jury in the trial of Malachi Barnes, charged with the murder of Asahel Dunton at Sullivan, has returned a verdict of murder in the first degree. This means life imprisonment for Barnes.

Syracuse Factory Burned.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 7.—The factory of Mane & Roach, manufacturers of carriage and wagon machinery, at Holland place and Shonnard street, this city, was destroyed by fire last night, causing a loss of $114,000.

Arctic Explorer Dead.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 7.—Sergeant Julius Frederick, arctic explorer and member of the Greely expedition, is dead at his home here.

All Plainfield People Have to Do Is to Follow Their Neighbors' Advice.

Our readers have no excuse for going astray. The way is almost fenced with guide-posts in Plainfield. They are on every highway and by-way: "He who runs may read." Investigate this example:

Mrs. R. A. Martin, of Jackson street, says: "I had pain in my back and loins for about a year or more, no doubt caused by my kidneys being out of order. I felt it more in the morning, just after getting up or if I did any stooping or lifting. Notwithstanding the fact that I took all kinds of medicines I never found anything which helped me until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at L. W. Randolph's drug store. They not only removed the pain, but they strengthened me in other ways."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

DOMINGO ATTACKED

Revolutionists Have Been Repulsed Before the City.

CRUISER TO PROTECT OUR CITIZENS

Minister Powell, Under Instructions From Washington, Told President If He Did Not Protect Our Countrymen the Newport Would.

SANTO DOMINGO, Jan. 7.—The gunboat Independencia has arrived here with two captured Dominican schooners in tow. The schooners carried arms and munitions of war intended for coast defense.

The Independencia after her arrival bombarded the suburbs of the city with the object of driving the revolutionists out.

It is officially reported that Bani and San Cristobal have been retaken by the government troops.

There was a severe encounter between the government troops and the revolutionists at Haina, with the result favorable to the government.

The tug Ana, the property of an estate at San Isidro, was prevented by the revolutionists from reaching the estate, and the owner applied for protection to United States Minister Powell. The latter informed the government officials that if they could not protect the Ana he would.

Commander Mertz of the United States gunboat Newport furnished an armed convoy for the Ana, equipped with a field gun. The two boats were ready to leave when the government endeavored to prevent their departure. Minister Powell promptly directed that the boats should proceed and said that he and Commander Mertz would accept all responsibility for their action.

Later Minister Powell and Commander Mertz waited upon the president and told him that the Washington government had instructed him to protect American life and property with a firm hand and that if his government could not protect American citizens and their property the Newport could and would.

The Ana carried $20,000, which the revolutionists hoped to capture.

The government has issued a decree closing the ports of Azua de Compostalla, San Pedro de Macoris, Samana, Sanchez, Porto Plata and Monte Cristi, to take effect within twenty days in the case of vessels coming from the Antilles, within thirty days for vessels from American ports and within forty-five days for European ports. Armed schooners and gunboats will guard the closed ports.

There was a severe attack on the city last night, but the troops managed to repulse the revolutionists.

Commerce is completely at a standstill. News from the interior cannot be obtained.

Practical Tests In St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 7.—The asbestus curtains of all the St. Louis theaters have been tested by fire, and all have stood the test. Building Commissioner Heimburger applied the test with a painter's "blow pipe" hand furnace, subjecting each curtain to the fire for from one to four minutes. The intense flame caused each curtain to glow with a red spot, but the fabric did not burn. Where objection was made to certain features that should be made fireproof the managers of the theaters quickly agreed to make the change.

New York Theaters Are Safe.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The inspectors sent out by Building Commissioner Thompson to look into the condition of the theaters of the city reported that they had inspected fifty of the sixty-three places of amusement in New York and had not found a single theater in which there were violations of the building code of sufficient importance to warrant closing orders.

the building. Shortly before 2 o'clock I returned to complete my work and when I opened the front door I was blinded by a dense cloud of smoke. I rushed back to the store to tell my father and then ran to turn in an alarm. Soon the whole interior of the building was like a roaring furnace."

For two hours last night the fire engine of the Warren Company pumped the water out of the cellar of the burned hall in order to save the stock of Henry Voehl, next door, from being damaged. During the fire, George F. Brown, the borough tax collector and treasurer, locked all his valuable papers in the safe and closed his office in the building adjoining the burning hall.

History of Saengerbund Hall.

Saengerbund Hall, which was the largest amusement house in this vicinity, was erected in 1888 by the Plainfield Saengerbund. The origin of the society dates back to 1861 when the Leidertafel was organized. It continued under that name until 1878, during which time it met in the Central Hall in North avenue, and later in the hall over the store then occupied by C. Frank French, on Somerset street. On account of being unable to secure a meeting place suitable for singing and for the purpose of starting a school to teach the children of German parents English, the German singing societies of Plainfield and North Plainfield united for the purpose of erecting a home of their own. The society became known as the Gesang and Turn Verein. The cost of the hall was $6,000 but two years ago an addition was built costing a little over $4,000. When the German Reformed church started in the borough, the German school, then well organized, was given over in charge of the church. It was to the original German singing society that Christian Schepflin presented the $500 flag which he had made in Switzerland, and which was saved at yesterday's fire. The officers of the society are: President, William Gardner; vice president, Joseph Haurand; corresponding secretary, John Retzer; financial secretary, Matthias Menzenbach; treasurer, Carl Felber. The officers was the trustees.

AMUSEMENTS.

Owing to the change in the management of the West End Theatre, one week has been taken from the Grand Opera engagement; accordingly, next week, Jan. 11th, will be the farewell week of the English Grand Opera Company's the week of Jan. 18th being cut off. A special repertoire has been arranged as follows: Monday and Wednesday nights and Saturday matinee, "Tannhauser." Tuesday and Saturday nights and Wednesday matinee, "Bohemian Girl." Thursday, "Faust." Friday night, "Il Trovatore." "Aida" will not be sung.

It is a pleasure to commend "A Country Girl," the latest musical comedy success, the attraction that will be at the Grand Opera House week of January 11. The piece is one of the most successful ever produced and has already attained record breaking runs in all the large cities, in each instance playing to capacity of the house. Its music has never been surpassed in any of the modern or past day music comedy productions and critics predict its surviving along with other masterpieces. The company comprises artists of pronounced ability and a strong and well balanced chorus The fact that it is an Augustin Daly production direct from the famous playhouse of that name with the original New York cast should commend it more than all else that might be said. This superb company is used to flattery as the press in each city the company has appeared claim that it is par excellence.

PLAINFIELD MILK SUPPLY EXCELLENT

Careful Examination of Dairies and Analyses of Milk Retailed During 1903.

NO PRESERVATIVES

PERMITS GRANTED TO THOSE COMPLING WITH BOARD'S RULES.

Health Officer Thurlow Analyzed 229 Samples of Milk—The Public Should Buy Only Bottle Milk—Text of Board's Report.

The milk supply of Plainfield has been given careful attention by the Board of Health during the past year and a summary of its work to maintain the purity of the supply is contained in the annual report of the health board. Not only have the dairies been kept under supervision by Health Officer Thurlow but 229 amples of milk sold by retailers have been analyzed. In its report on the subject the Board says:

"The work of obtaining a clean, sanitary milk supply for Plainfield has been greatly facilitated by the article relating to the milk supply in our new sanitary code which went into effect on January 18, 1903; this article provides that 'no person, corporation or association of persons, shall sell or deliver or have in possession for sale or delivery, in the city of Plainfield, any milk or cream, without first obtaining from the Board of Health a permit for such sale or delivery.' The article further provides in connection with rules and regulations in regard to the production, and transportation of milk, for the caring for the stables, the production and care of the milk and the manner of storing it. Permits were granted to none who had not complied with our rules and regulations, and we were thus able to greatly improve the cleanliness of the milk supply and its safety to the public health. The system of dairy inspection, outlined in our previous report, has been continued through the year with very good success.

"The analysis of the milks sold by the different retailers has also been continued. Many of our citizens have realized the importance of this branch of the work and have taken advantage of the many records of analysis and dairy inspections, to satisfy themselves as to the milk they were using. If our records do not show that a milkman is as cleanly and careful as he should be, they have the privilege of looking over the records of other milkmen and to select one who fulfills these requirements. 229 samples of milk were analyzed during the year; the majority were found to be of very good quality. In two instances the milk was found to be watered and after satisfactory evidence, one of these men was prohibited from selling milk in Plainfield.

"In July of 1903, a thorough examination was made of all the milk sold in Plainfield, for formaldehyde. Formaldehyde, because of its cheapness, is the basis of a large number of milk preservatives which are sold under the names of 'Preservaline,' 'Freezine', etc.

"Its use in milk is that of an antiseptic and, according to the amount used, will postpone the curdling point of milk from ten to one hundred and fifty hours. No chemical preservative contains the normal constituents of the body and their use can do no good, and may do harm. Some authorities claim the use of a chemical preservative injurious to health, especially to that of invalids and infants. If cleanly methods are employed in producing a milk, and if it is properly cooled and stored, there is no need of a preservative; it is only the milk that is produced under filthy conditions that is improved by the use of one. Of all the milks sold in Plainfield during one of the hottest seasons of the year, but two were found to contain a preservative; of these two, one immediately sold his milk route and the other ceased to use formaldehyde.

"During the coming year, the Board will adopt every measure to improve the sanitary condition of our milk supply, and would ask for the co-operation of the public. The consumer must not expect too much of a milkman unless they are willing to do their share in return, i. e., to see that the milk is properly cared for on its arrival at their house and that the bottles are properly returned in a clean condition. No milk, except bottled milk, should be bought, and even then only from men whose standard of cleanliness is high and who furnish a good quality of milk. All of this information can be obtained by looking over the records in this office, which are open at all times to public inspection."

FORMER SENATOR REED WINS GREAT VICTORY

In Long Fought Equity Proceedings a Precedent is Established.

LEGAL LIGHTS IN CASE

HARPER, HOLLINGSWORTH & DARBY CO., AGAINST MOUNTAIN WATER CO.

Vice Chancellor Decides That Concern Can Not Pump Water From Well on to its Own Land, If it is Detrimental to a Mill.

Vice Chancellor Emery's decision in the test case of Harper, Hollingsworth & Darby Co. against the Mountain Water Co., which has been handed down brings fresh laurels to Former State Senator Charles A. Reed, of this city. It holds, for the first time in New Jersey, that an injunction may be had to stop a water company from pumping water out of the ground upon their own premises, if it has been established by the verdict of a jury that the effect of such pumping is to diminish the flow of a stream which supplies water power to a mill.

The series of suits, in one of which this opinion was filed, was begun on behalf of a number of the owners of mills along Green brook. The water company claimed that so long as they took nothing but water pumped out of wells entirely on their own land, they were not liable, and the only legal decisions were in their favor.

Senator Reed, who has represented the mill owners throughout their long fight, claimed that if the operation of the water paint reduced the natural flow of the stream, the water company was liable, no matter where they got the water, and apparently he has convinced the courts that the proposition is sound.

The water company has been represented at different times during the long fight, by Riker & Riker, Frank Bergen and R. V. Lindabury.

TAX LAW CHANGES EFFECT

CHRISTMAS TRADE HURT BY FACT THAT TAXES FALL DUE IN DECEMBER.

A few years ago, the Common Council recognizing the fact that in having taxes fall due on December 20 it took a great deal of money out of local trade at a time when a majority of the people would like to purchase Christmas presents. In consequence, the time was changed to a month earlier, November 20. This change was generally popular.

At the last meeting of the Council it was learned through the Mayor's message that according to the new law it is obligatory in the future to have taxes become due on December 20. For many reasons this is unfortunate. The date is within five days of Christmas and if taxpayers settle at that time it is sure to affect local trade.

Another disadvantage will be that while Plainfield for many years was accustomed to December 20 as the time when all taxes were due, it is so near the end of the year that it makes the tax collector and city treasurer hustle in preparing their reports before Jan. 1.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Jessie Lovica Stickle, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Orange, and Franklin Boostaver Randolph, also of Orange, the union being that of a man and his step-sister. FORMER POSTMASTER BORNE TO GRAVE

Funeral Services Over Remains of Wallace Vail Held in First M. E. Church.

MANY FLORAL TRIBUTES

REV. DR. SNODGRASS AND REV. MR. BRYAN OFFICIATED.

Friends Given a Last Opportunity of Seeing the Face of the Dead Man—Interment in Evergreen Cemetery—The Pallbearers.

Impressive funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in the First M. E. church over the remains of Wallace Vail, whose death at the age of seventy-five years occurred Tuesday morning at his home at the corner of Clinton and Dunellen avenues. The services were attended by many persons who knew the dead man nearly all their lives. The family originally planned to hold short services at the house but when several friends of the dead former postmaster pointed out that there would be many who would like to pay their last respects to Mr. Vail, the family finally decided to hold the services in the First M. E. church.

Shortly after 2:30 the casket was borne into the church and was taken to a place in front of the pulpit. The casket was almost entirely covered with flowers, sent in many instances by politicians in this city and by the Exempt Firemen's Association, of which Mr. Vail was a member.

The services were in charge of Rev. J. R. Bryan, who, when he was pastor in this city, was a personal friend of Mr. Vail, who was then postmaster. Assisting him was Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, pastor of the church. Both ministers made addresses in which they referred to the departed. Their discourses were comforting as well as spiritually helpful to those who heard them. There was no music at the services.

At the close of the services the casket was opened and the friends were given an opportunity of once more looking upon the face of the man, who thirty years ago was the most familiar person about town and who was known as one of the leading politicians of the county.

The remains were borne to the burial place by these pall bearers, all members of the Exempt Firemen's Association: Thaddeous O. Doane, Elias H. Bird, V. W. Nash, Sr., L. E. Barkalew, Guillermo Thorn and W. A. Woodruff.

SCALDED BY ESCAPING STEAM

GEORGE FRAZEE'S AWFUL EXPERIENCE AT THE HOTEL KENSINGTON.

Pinned beneath a boiler with hot steam rushing from a defective valve, suffering the agony of having a limb scalded, was the experience of George Frazee, the boilerman at the Hotel Kensington, yesterday morning. Today he is hardly able to get about without the aid of a cane and his leg from his knee to his foot has the skin all boiled away.

Frazee was at work in the boiler pit making repairs when suddenly a valve burst directly over his body. He was imprisoned beneath the hot boiler. He could not crawl out again without probably being scalded to death and for fully five minutes he was compelled to lay there until a fellow workman turned off the steam and released him.

TAXING SEPARATELY.

Under New Law the Land and Then the Building Must be Taxed.

The State Board of Taxation calls attention to this paragraph in the new tax law, which applies to Plainfield: "All assessments of real estate in certain taxing districts of this State, the assessor or other taxing officer whose duty it is by law to make such assessments, shall determine the true value of each parcel, lot or tract of real estate assessed in such taxing district, without the buildings and improvements, and shall note the same, and shall determine the note separately the true value of every house and other building or structure on each parcel, lot or tract of real estate, and the whole shall be added and carried out as the value of such parcel, lot or tract."

Daniel Rockafellow, of Somerville, has been visiting friends in town during the past few days.

WHY CITY FIREMEN AIDED

INSURANCE MEN DEMANDED OF BOROUGH MAYOR THAT HELP BE ASKED.

Because the Plainefld fire department was called upon to assist the North Plainfield firemen in fighting a fire, which, owing to a lack of proper facilities, was too great for the borough fire laddies, deep feeling exists against the Plainfielders across the brook today in fire department circles. The borough firemen claim they could easily have kept the flames within the walls of Saengerbund Hall without the assistance of the city firemen and that their presence at the scene of the borough's most dangerous conflagration was unwelcome. It is said that some of the North Plainfield firemen have threatened to resign because their chief acquiesed in asking for help when a whole business block was threatened.

The truth of the matter is that when it was apparent to many of the bystanders that the North Plainfield firemen had not the proper facilities with which to fight the flames and when the fire threatened adjoining property, two insurance men, who had issued policies on the burning building and adjoining structures went to Mayor Smalley and demanded that Plainfield be asked for assistance. The Mayor conferred with Chief Stahl, who saw that ladders were sorely needed and more hose was wanted. Then Chief Doane, of the Plainfield department, was officially requested to bring his hook and ladder truck and hose wagon across the brook and he did so. It is plain to all who witnessed the fire that not until assistance arrived were the flames under control. A property owner whose building was near the fire also requested that assistance be secured from this city.

It was a fire which required trained men to combat and while it is thought the work of the borough volunteers was commendable, their action in engendering bitter feeling because Plainfield assisted in saving valuable property is considered open to criticism.

Mayor Smalley said this morning: "In my opinion the Plainfield hook and ladder truck was not called soon enough. If it had been summoned before it was no doubt much of the damage to Mr. Voehl's place would have been avoided. While several insurance men came to me and asked for the Plainfield department, I summoned them because valuable property was being destroyed.

TRADING STAMP INTRODUCED

WOODHULL & MARTIN TO GIVE CUSTOMERS SPERRY & HUTCHINSON'S.

Woodhull & Martin, the enterprising firm on East Front street, is making a specialty of the Sperry & Hutchinson green trading stamps. By special arrangements with the latter concern, a demonstrator will be at the store for ten days for the purpose of explaining to those who are unfamiliar with the use of the stamps, for the distribution of books and $1 worth of stamps will be given free to all. With each purchase trading stamps are given and these are placed in a book which is kept in the possession of the purchaser. When the book is filled, its equivalent in value is given at the local trading stamp headquarters in the Jackson building. To further introduce the stamps, the firm is making unusual bargains in all household goods, in the dry goods department, and, in fact, throughout the store.

Now a Criminal Charge.

The case of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals against David Blackford, of South Plainfield, charged with starving his horses to death, was dismissed fromm Justice Warden's court at Dunellen yesterday afternoon, by agreement of counsel, and the complaint will be pressed in the form of a criminal charge before the Grand Jury. F. J. Blatz, Esq., represents the plaintiff.

Colored Man's Park.

Alexander Kane, who is the owner of Galvin's Park on the Fanwood road, is negotiating for the sale of the property to a syndicate of colored people here in town who wish to make the resort a summer play ground for colored people exclusively. George Searing, of Brooklyn, is also reported to be negotiating for the property.

Receiver Appointed.

E. S. Campbell, of Newark, has been appointed receiver for I. Sternberg, & Co., a department store, with branch stores in this city and through the State of New Jersey. The liabilities of the concern are placed at $113,685 and the assets $195,955.

CROWD WITNESS THE RACES

FAST HORSES ON THE SPEEDWAY FURNISH EXCITEMENT.

Exciting brushes on the Park avenue speedway yesterday afternoon between some of the leading horsemen of this city attracted much attention. There were at least five hundred people along the line of the course and in the crowd were some of the more prominent racing enthusiasts of the city.

Among those who held the reins were George VanBlake who drove Wesley Johnson's Siola Colt, by Bayone Prince; A. I. Smalley who drove Belle; N. B. Smalley, L. M. French, driving his well known pacer, Duke; John C. Osborn behind Woven Wind; David Smalley, Jr., and Ned Davis who had several lively tilts with J. H. Greene, driving last season's favorite, Fancy Spot, and Percy Dayton with his fast trotter, Black Prince.

The crowd on the course was kept in order by Patrolman Higgins, who has been detailed to the speedway during the sleighing season.

A racing match was arranged yesterday at Somerville between Dr. A. C. Voorhees and L. A. Bellis. The former drove his pacer, Rex and the latter held the lines behind his trotter, Online. The former won by a length in a dash between two mile posts. Another match race is to be held today between several horse racing enthusiasts of that place which will be witnessed by a number of Plainfielders.

Narrow Escape.

A party of thirty boys and girls on a sleigh ride to Bound Brook had a narrow escape on their return trip last night, being all but run down by a Royal Blue flyer. The barge in which they were riding became stuck in the tracks. Fortunately the barge did not halt on the track of the train, which passed within a few inches of it. Many of the party jumped to the ground.

Sleighing Party.

Horace J. Martin last night gave a sleighing party to the members of Trinity church choir, of which he is the director after the prayer meeting closed. Westfield was the destination. There were about twenty-five in the party and a pleasant evening was enjoyed.

Miss Higgins, teacher in the public school at Watchung, has entirely recovered from a recent severe illness.

NEWSPAPER TRAIN KILLED MR. BERGEN

Fatal Accident at Grant Avenue Station Bereaves Wife and Four Daughters.

BODY IN COLE'S MORGUE

SUPPOSED THAT BERGEN WAS PICKING COAL ON TRACKS.

Remains Placed Aboard Train and Taken to Dunellen—Later Removed to This City—Dead Man Fifty-Eight Years of Age.

Wandering along the railroad tracks picking up coal, Patrick Bergen, of 654 South Second street, was struck by a West bound train at Grant avenue this morning and instantly killed. The train was the one which brings the New York papers, due at Plainfield at 5:25 and at Clinton avenue at 5:29. Bergen was struck at the Grant avenue station, though exactly how the accident occurred no one was at hand to notice. It is probable that he was bending over for coal and so much engrossed in his occupation that the train was upon him before he could get out of the way. It is said that he had been in the habit of walking along the tracks at an early hour in the morning.

The body was not mangled in any way, the only mark upon it being a small one in the back of the head where the man was struck. It was carried by the paper train to Dunellen and returned from there to Cole's undertaking rooms in this city.

Bergen was a native of Ireland and had lived in this city many years. He had been employed as a hod-carrier. At one time about twenty years ago he was a special policeman under Chief Dodd. He was well known about town, being a six-footer and wearing a heavy shock of iron gray hair. His age was fifty-eight. He leaves a widow, son and four daughters.

The funeral will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's church.

FAMILY NEARLY ASPHYXIATED

JOSEPH G. MILLER'S FAMILY SERIOUSLY AFFECTED BY COAL GAS.

Joseph G. Miller's entire family, together with others occupying a flat in the building corner of Watchung avenue and Fifth street, owned by W. R. and J. E. Coddington, were nearlyy suffocated with coal gas early yesterday morning, owing to the imperfect management of the furnace. Mrs. Miller, who was not so seriously affected as others, was able to get to a nearby hall and call a servant, who summoned Dr. D. O. Adams, the family physician. The members of the family are now slowly improving.

Those who were affected include Mrs. J. G. Miller, Miss Cornelia Miller, Joseph G. Miller, Jr., Lawrence Miller, Miss Casey Ayers and Mrs. S. E. Gillett.

Mr. Arnold's Sleighing Party.

Among those who enjoyed the excellent sleighing yesterday was City Treasurer W. F. Arnold, accompanied by his family, and about a dozen children. A commodious box sleigh was used and every one from the youngest to the oldest had a good time. Mr. Arnold is fond of children and he never loses an opportunity to make them happy. The young folks much enjoyed his hospitality.

Chief's Statement.

Chief J. J. Stahl, of the North Plainfield fire department, declared this morning that the members of Warren Engine Company had the first stream of water on the Saengerbund Hall fire. He says that the West End Company had a stream on the outside of the building but the Warren Company had a line of hose at work in the cellar before that time.

Patrick Riley, drunk and disorderly by fighting, was arrested last night by Patrolman McCarthy and fined $3 this morning by City Judge Runyon.

BOARD OF TRADE RAPS THE P. S. C.

Steps Taken to Have Common Council Commence Action for Better Trolley Service.

PAVEMENT QUESTION

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE SUBJECT OF STREET PAVE.

Agitation for Lower Gas Rate—Communications From Concerns Considering Sites Here—Date of Banquet Conflicts With Charity Ball.

Plainfield's poor trolley service, "the worst in the country," and the matter of improving the pavement of some of the more important of the city's business streets, were the principal subjects of discussion at last night's meeting of the Board of Trade. The meeting was well attended, fifteen members being present.

The discussion of the city's miserable trolley service was opened by President Woolston who said that arrangements should be made by the trolley company to have cars meet the Central Railroad trains. H. C. Runyon, commenting on the generally unsatisfactory service, said that the Common Council lacks the backbone or the proper spirit of initiative to insist upon better conditions and urged that all citizens should give their support to Councilman Lee who alone has worked in the cause of improved service. Justice V. W. Nash stated that in the course of a considerable journey through the country last summer he had never seen in any town such wretched trolley service as is forced upon Plainfield.

Formal motion was made by Mr. Nash that the Board of Trade through its secretary, Frank H. Smith, communicate with the Common Council protesting against the service in the cars of the Public Service Corporation and recommending immediate action in the matter. It was urged that, if this message failed to have effect on the Common Council, petitions should be circulated among the people or that the members of the Board attend the Council's meetings in a body and insist upon action.

The subject of street pavements was introduced by H. C. Runyon who said that such pavements should be laid at least on Front street. The improvement would favor merchants doing business along the street and should be approved by the street railway company by giving a better foundation for the tracks. The company, it is said, would necessarily share in the expense. Mr. Runyon mentioned as a pavement that might prove satisfactory, the bituminous asphalt macadam pavement which has been tried with good results in Newark.

Upon Mr. Runyon's motion a committee was appointed by the president to look into the advisability and practicability of obtaining improved pavements for the principal business streets. Harry C. Runyon, E. A. Laing and William A. Woodruff compose the committee.

Secretary Frank H. Smith reported that he had written the City Clerk and Board of Trade of Atlantic City on the matter of lower gas rates but had received no response. President Woolston suggested that it might be well to write the Public Service Corporation to see if lower rates were obtainable from the present company, and Charles W. Runyon urged that conditions in surrounding towns be investigated.

A letter received by E. A. Laing from Gaddis & Company, of New York, was read asking for information regarding an available building for use as a factory. Mr. Laing was instructed to reply that the factory soon to be vacated by the Aluminum Press Company would probably answer all the requirements stated. A communication from a Philadelphia concern, J. S. McElroy, secretary, asking if there was a chance that the city of Plainfield would donate the ground and building for a machine shop was referred back to Postmaster Silas Dewey Drake, of Lincoln.

Some question was raised as to the exact date for the annual banquet of the Board. Former Mayor Alexander Gilbert had set January 28 as the day, but it was thought that the fact of the holding of the charity ball for Muhlenberg Hospital on the same night might interfere. The general sentiment was that the original date should not be changed as it had been announced first.

The prosperous financial condition of the Board of indicated by the fact of a balance in the treasury of $181.30 as reported by the auditing committee.

WALLACE VAIL.

Wallace Vail, an ex-postmaster of Plainfield, is dead. He will be remembered as an old-time political leader in this county. He was one of the organizers of the Republican party in 1856, and an active worker in the Fremont campaign. He was the party's candidate for sheriff in 1870, and was defeated. He was a patriotic man, and during the Civil War he spent money liberally for the purpose of sending supplies to the front for the New Jersey troops.—Elizabeth Journal.

Wallace A. Vail, who died at his home in Plainefild yesterday, for years was the Republican leader in that city and Union county. His loss of power dated from the time he was defeated for sheriff in the 70's by Nat Thompson, of Elizabeth. In 1849 he went to California in search of gold, but was poorly rewarded.—Paterson Daily News.

When the Weather's Down to Zero How would you like to take an ocean trip? In cold weather like this it is not the most comfortable sensation in the world. Some transatlantic captains tell about it in next Sunday's New York World. Then there are other things of interest — How to Check Babies at the St. Louis Fair; Lady Constance Mackenzie's Exciting Texas Hunting Trip; The Remarkable Test of Gabrielle Bompard to Prove that She Was Hypnotized Into Committing Murder; A Strange Anti-Kissing Society, and many more features that will make next Sunday's World a particularly important number.

Mrs. William Lane, of Plainfield, who has been visiting at Millstone for some days, has returned home.

AMUSEMENTS.

Klaw & Erlanger's great spectacle, "Mother Goose," at the New Amsterdam Theatre, is a marvelously interesting entertainment, presenting a more generous measure of amusement than was ever before afforded by any theatrical production. For three solid hours, from the rise to the final fall of the curtain, an unbroken procession of comicality and novelty is seen. Laughter and wonder are the keynotes of the piece—laughter at the humor of the comedians and wonder over its remarkably beautiful spectacular features and the unusually brilliant specialties.

At no time in the twenty-five years' history of the Eden Musee has the management provided so many and so interesting attractions as now. During the entire winter the Musee will be one of the most pleasing amusement places in the city. A large number of new wax groupes have been made and double the regular number of artists are employed. In every way possible the Musee is managing to keep its wax works collection thoroughly up to date. But the wax groups are only a small feature of the Musee. Moving pictures have become an important factor.

Killed His Dog.

Not content with inciting two powerful bull dogs to set upon a small bull dog of mixed breed belonging to Clarkson Mundy, of Clinton avenue and Third street, some unknown rascal shot the dog twice through the head. The animal was a valued pet and Mr. Mundy has offered a handsome reward for information as to the person or persons who killed it. There is no motive for the act apparent. Mr. Mundy's wife is an invalid and was especially fond of the dog, and it was feared that the shock of his death would bring upon her a second stroke of paralysis.

In Justice Huff's Court.

Judgment for possession has been rendered by Justice Huff in the landlord and tenant case of Mintz against Sutterlein. The case of Arnold against Waltmann on contract in the same court has been continued to tomorrow. The case of Watts against William H. Miller on contract will be heard January 11.

LITERARY.

"I cannot but think that Mr. Kipling took Pierre Loti as his model, thinking that he might 'do for India what Loti had done for Arabia,'" says George Moore in January Lippincott's Magazine. "That is how the newspapers would word it. But where Mr. Kipling found the peg whereon to hang his descriptions matters little; it is much more to our purpose to note that there is an idea behind Loti's descriptions, that a generation is but a caravan wandering through eternal nature; and it is the continual presence of this idea that makes Loti a poet. Mr. Kipling commands the service of a military band, and the service of a camera, and the service of electic light, and a large audience assembles to see India in cinematography."

Picture of Rev. A. E. Finn.

The New Jersey Baptist Bulletin for January, contains a picture of Rev. A. E. Finn, who has just accepted the pastorate of the Park Avenue Baptist church, of this place. In leaving the church at Cherryville, N. J., where he was formerly pastor, the committee appointed to report testified in the warmest terms to the merits of the retiring pastor.

Y. M. C. A. Boys Fair.

There will be a fair Thursday, February 4, for the benefit of the boys department of the Y. M. C. A. It will be held in the association building and its object will be to furnish the rooms in the boys' department. A committee from the woman's auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., Mrs. Phillips, chairman, will assist the boys in their arrangements.

—Attention is called to the advertisement of the entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. Star Course on Thursday, Jan. 14.

—Harry K. Lister, of 161 North avenue, has just received among his other records a Columbia record, "The Fireman's Duty," and only wants to be heard to be appreciated.

—Miss Rose LaMatty, of Hill & Shupp's store, is enjoying a week's vacation. Other saleswomen at the store who are on their vacation include Miss Beekman and Miss Hoesinger.

We Give The Famous SPERRY & HUTCHINSON GREEN TRADING STAMPS

OUR deciding to give Trading Stamps will be a surprise to many who have known of our opposition to them in the past. But it is a wise merchant who consults the wishes of his patrons. In adopting the Sperry Green Trading Stamp inducement, we have followed the same policy pursued by us for fifteen years—which has been to supply our patrons with everything they desire, and the best of everything.

Cut out Father Knickerbocker's picture. Bring it to us any time before January 20th, and, upon making a purchase amounting to 50 cents or more, you will receive $1.00 worth of Stamps (10) in addition to those you will receive with your purchase.

There is no possible chance for argument. We know from much observation and some experience that the premiums you can obtain for the valuable—the original "Sperry" Green Trading Stamps surpass anything ever offered in the premium line. They consist of everything the householder requires. All of the best workmanship and of the latest design.

DURING the next ten days we will have a demonstrator in our store whose duty it will be to explain about Trading Stamps to those who are not familiar with them; to give each one a Stamp Book, containing a list of merchants who give "Sperry" Green Trading Stamps, and $1.00 worth of Stamps FREE with which to start a saving. Don't fail to take advantage of their special Trading Stamp offers. Remember, you can get "Sperry" Green Stamps with everything you buy from us, and we sell everything you can possibly desire in Dry Goods, Carpets, Furniture, Housefurnishings, etc., etc.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

MIKADO FOR PEACE

Ex-Governor Taft Has Conference With Japanese Ruler.

ASSURES HIM OF OUR NEUTRALITY

Russian Reply to Demands Is Kept Secret—War Council Held at Tokyo—Conference Today May Decide For War.

TOKYO, Jan. 8.—The emperor and empress gave an audience to ex-Governor Taft of the Philippines and Mrs. Taft and subsequently took luncheon with them.

The emperor talked for some time with ex-Governor Taft and said that he rejoiced at the friendliness between the United States and Japan. He wished the Americans to realize that Japan was earnestly and patiently striving for peace.

The contents of the Russian reply, just received, are kept secret, but the impression is that it is unsatisfactory. Baron de Rosen, the Russian minister to Japan, and Baron Komura, Japanese foreign minister, have conferred at the Russian legation, [illegible]e Baron de Rosen is still indisposed.

An important council has been held at which the premier, the foreign minister and the ministers of war and marine, together with the chiefs and assistant chiefs of the staffs of the army and navy, were present and in consultation as to the present crisis.

The elder statesmen of Japan will probably hold a conference today.

Stocks, which had recovered somewhat, have fallen again.

The general feeling here is one of uneasiness.

It is known that neither Russia nor Japan is desirous of a winter campaign and that both countries believe delay will help their preparations.

The Russian government has bought all the horses obtainable in Kalgan, the greatest horse market in north China.

A report from Peking says that General Yuan Shai Kai, commander in chief of the Chinese army and navy, has sent his chief foreign adviser, Charles Denby, Jr., of Indiana, son of the ex-United States minister to China, to Peking to investigate the report as to the probability of war. Mr. Denby has reported that, according to the best opinions obtainable, based on diplomatic information, war cannot be averted.

The attitude of Japan toward the response of Russia is still undefined. Premier Katsura, the minister of foreign affairs, the minister of war, the minister of finance and the minister of naval affairs held a council, when it was decided that the cabinet confer with the older statesmen before deciding on a course of procedure. The Japanese nation is deeply stirred. Public sentiment favors the abandonment of negotiations, believing them to be useless, and urges a resort to arms.

It has been learned that Russia has made new demands which it will be impossible for Japan to entertain.

All the powers are landing troops in Korea, and British bluejackets just landed at Chemulpo are expected to go to Seoul immediately.

Constant telegrams are passing between M. Pavloff, the Russian minister to Korea; Baron de Rosen, the Russian minister to Japan, and Viceroy Alexieff.

Governor Taft had a secret conference with the Marquis Ito at the United States consulate in Yokohama. It is understood that Governor Taft assured the marquis that the United States will observe a friendly neutrality toward Japan in the event of war and that if necessary it would grant the use of American ports in the far east to the Japanese fleet.

A Yokohama dispatch says that Russia's reply to Japan practically removes all hope of a peaceful settlement.

Transsiberian Would Fail Russia.

PEKING, Jan. 8.—Major Nathan, an officer of the British army, who was second in command of railway transportation in the Transvaal during the Boer war, has arrived here. He traveled over the Siberian railway with the special view of ascertaining the possibilities of the road for the transportation of troops and supplies in the event of war. Major Nathan made careful observations and collected a great amount of data. His opinion, based on his observations, is that the railroad would break down and that its administration would find itself hopelessly confused within a week under the stress of war emergencies.

Japan to Strengthen Her Navy.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Jan. 8.—The government has asked congress to authorize the sale of the battleship Capitan Prat, the protected cruiser Chacubuco, the torpedo gunboats Almirante Condell and Almirante Lynch and the transports Maipo, Aconcagua, the latter belonging to the Compania Sud-Americana de Vapores, but subventioned and held at the disposal of the government to serve as armed transports, and seven torpedo boat destroyers, the intention being to replace the vessels with a more uniform type. An offer has been made for these vessels by the Japanese government.

Two Negro Women and Mule Killed.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Jan. 8.—Two colored women named Pressly have been killed, together with the mule which they were driving, by a Southern railway train near Bessemer City, N. C. They attempted to cross the track in front of a local passenger train.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Siegfried Wurzburg, a former police commissioner of Mount Vernon, has committed suicide by shooting.

"BABY RUTH" IS DEAD

Eldest Daughter of Grover Cleveland Dies Suddenly.

CHILD WAS ILL ONLY FOUR DAYS

Former President Has Received Messages of Condolence From Every Quarter—The Young Girl Was a General Favorite.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 8.—Ruth Cleveland, eldest child of former President Grover Cleveland, died here suddenly at the family residence.

The girl's death was unexpected, and the immediate cause was a weakening of the heart action during a mild attack of diphtheria. Dr. Wyckoff, the attending physician, said that Miss Cleveland had been ill for four days and that the heart affection was not looked for.

Dr. Joseph D. Bryant of New York, Mr. Cleveland's physician and intimate friend, came to Princeton on a hasty telephone call. Miss Cleveland died before he reached the house.

It was not generally known in Princeton that Miss Cleveland was ill, and the news of her death came as a shock to the community. There is a general expression of sympathy. Many messages of condolence from various quarters are being delivered at the Cleveland residence.

In response to many inquiries former President Cleveland gave out the following statement:

"After a few days' illness, which began with an attack of tonsilitis and developed suddenly into diphtheria, our eldest daughter, Ruth, died suddenly."

Ruth Cleveland was born on Oct. 3, 1891, in her father's residence, at 618 Madison avenue, New York, after Mr. Cleveland had served his first term as president. She was named after Mrs. Cleveland's grandmother, and as "Baby Ruth" was a great favorite in Washington society during her father's second term in the White House.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland have four remaining children—Esther, who was born in the White House Sept. 9, 1893; Marion, born at Gray Gables, Buzzards Bay, July 7, 1895; Richard Folsom Cleveland, born here Oct. 28, 1897, and Francis Grover Cleveland, born at Gray Gables, Buzzards Bay.

It is now understood that Miss Cleveland's illness prevented Mr. Cleveland's attendance at the dinner to Mayor McClellan in New York.

The funeral services will be held at the Cleveland home, conducted by Rev. Maitland Bartlett. Mr. Cleveland, with President Finley, Dean Andrew West and a few intimate friends, will accompany the body to Princeton cemetery, where interment will take place. Dr. Bryant says the other children show no signs of diphtheria.

Bates For Woman Suffrage.

BOSTON, Jan. 8.—A thousand people completely filled the house of representatives and heard Governor Bates in his second inaugural address before the legislature declare himself in favor of suffrage for women in municipal elections, the support of prisoners by their families, a fair trial of the new corporation law, greater executive responsibilities and a commission of experts to inquire into the building laws of the state. The governor reviewed practically every department of state work, in addition to his many suggestions, and spoke for nearly an hour.

The Deadly Dynamite.

WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 8.—A special from Uxbridge says Edward Wilson, thirty-five years of age, of North Uxbridge, foreman for C. Edward Blanchard at his quarries, was instantly killed by an explosion of dynamite in a well that was being dug in the village of Linwood yesterday. The well had been dug to the depth of twenty feet. Wilson went down, and two minutes later there was an explosion. When the smoke had cleared away Wilson was found dead at the bottom.

Four Injured by Gas Explosion.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Four employees of the Glens Falls Gas and Electric Light company have been badly injured by an explosion in the gas house of the company. A leak in the main leading from the purifying tanks to the storage tanks caused the trouble. The roof of the building was blown off and part of one wall destroyed.

Mining Expert Dead.

GRASS VALLEY, Cal., Jan. 8.—Information has been received at his home here of the death at Snowball, Ariz., of Archie Nivens, one of the foremost mining experts in the United States. He recently returned from Korea, where he went to examine mines for an English syndicate.

Ticket Scalpers Lose.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 8.—The right of ticket brokers to deal in the return portions of contract excursion tickets is denied in an opinion of the superior court just handed down in the case of John M. Kinnan et al. versus the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway company.

Mississippi House Wants Canal.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 8.—The lower house of the Mississippi legislature passed the joint resolution adopted by the senate instructing the Mississippi senators to vote for the Panama canal treaty, now before the United States senate.

Tennessee Statesman Dead.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 8.—Hugh L. Brinkley, statesman and capitalist, is dead from shock following an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Brinkley came of one of the most distinguished families of Tennessee.

CHICAGO HOLOCAUST

Coroner Probing For Truth Regarding 565 Deaths.

EXPERIENCE OF SURVIVORS TOLD

Eddie Foy, Comedian, Tells Tragic Story of Great Disaster Which Has Evoked the Sympathy of the Whole World.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The coroner's inquest over the remains of the victims of the Iroquois theater disaster has begun in the city council chamber. The coroner's official list of dead for use at the inquest contains 565 names.

Ella H. Churcher testified that at the matinee she, with her mother and nephew, occupied seats in the fourth row from the front in the second balcony. She said that she saw a shower of sparks come down the left side of the stage, and then the curtain came down and Eddie Foy, stepping in front of it, urged the audience to remain seated. She kept her seat until the fire singed a chiffon boa about her neck and then started to make her escape. All three of them reached the street safely. Miss Churcher was positive that the curtain which was lowered was not the asbestus curtain, but the curtain which had been lowered after the first act. She remembered distinctly, she said, that this curtain had painted upon it an autumn landscape scene. This curtain and no other, she insisted, was the one that was lowered after the fire started.

Frank Houseman, the next witness, declared that he bought two seats in an upper box for the matinee, the ticket seller telling him that he had only these two and three others left. He testified that there was no light in the body of the theater as he passed through and none in the stairway which he was compelled to ascend in order to reach the box where his seats were located. From where he sat he could see the start of the fire and witnessed the efforts of the stage hands to "slap it out with their hands." He remarked to his friend, "The outside of this place looks pretty good to me." And they left the box. He reached the first floor before the fire started and opened a door which, he was told by an usher, was an exit. Outside of this door was another of iron which it was impossible to open.

Lester Sackett of Elgin, Ill., in company with two ladies and a little girl, occupied seats in the third row of the first balcony. He made his way out of a rear exit and down a fire escape, taking the ladies and child with him. In going down the fire escape he had great trouble in closing an iron shutter which projected across the stairway at right angles and practically shut off all escape. He managed to close this shutter after a desperate struggle.

Eddie Foy, the comedian of the "Bluebeard" company, was then sworn. He said he went to the matinee with his six-year-old boy, whom he desired to place in the front row of seats directly before the stage. He sent him out before the first act in charge of the stage manager, who brought him back and said there were no seats. He sent the boy downstairs and put him in an alcove next to the switchboard directly below the place where he first saw the fire.

During the second act, Mr. Foy testified, he was in his dressing room and heard a noise, to which he had at first paid little attention. He said to himself, "Are they fighting again down there?" thinking over a quarrel which had occurred a few days previous. The noise grew stronger and stronger, and, becoming anxious about the boy, he ran down the steps from his dressing room to the stage, picked up the boy right in front of the switchboard and then looked up and saw a fireman above him who was trying to put out the fire.

At that time the two lower borders running up the side of the canvas near the edge of the proscenium arch were burning. He ran with the boy to a small door at the back of the stage, and when he arrived there a number of people were trying to escape. He threw the boy to a man, telling him to take him out, and then ran back to the stage and out to the footlights. The audience was getting into a panic, as he thought, and in order to quiet the people he called to the stage hands, "Drop the curtain!" and to the musicians, "Keep up your music!" He urged the audience repeatedly to remain quiet and not get excited. When the curtain came down it stuck about three feet above his head. The rest of Mr. Foy's testimony is as follows:

"I shouted for them to lower the curtain, and then I felt what I would describe as a sort of cyclone. It was a whirl of smoke, and when I looked around the scenery had broken and was flying all around me. There was a heavy cold draft, evidently from the outside, and there was an explosion of some kind, as though you would light a match and the whole box go off. I did not know whether to go front or back, as it looked about an even thing for my life no matter which way I went. Then I thought of my boy and that perhaps the man did not take him out, so I went for the back door where the people were trying to get out, and then I went out myself and found my boy in the alley."

Mr. Foy declared that he was satisfied in his own mind that the fire was caused by sparks from the "spot" light, but that he had no personal knowledge of the fact. He testified that the only precaution against fire that he knew of was the rule against smoking.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

THE GOOD FINANCIAL CONDITION OF STATE WILL BE DWELT UPON.

Governor Murphy has about finished his annual message to the Legislature to be sent in on Tuesday. The Governor will devote considerable space to the financial conditions, and will show that the income of the State is in no danger of falling below the reasonable requirements of the State government. The Governor does not altogether rejoice over the great surplus in the State treasury, for he knows how it leads to extravagances which may embarrass the State in the future and which do no good in the present.

SOMERVILLE'S VIEW OF US

PLAINFIELD'S EXPERIMENT ON LIQUOR QUESTION WILL BE INSTRUCTIVE.

The Somerville Unionist-Gazette says: "The city of Plainfield is testing the merits of high license and the result will be watched with interest The license fee for saloons is already the highest paid in the State, being $750 annually. But Mayor Jenkins has recommended to the Common Council that it be increased to $1,000, and an ordinance to that effect has already passed first and second reading. This is said not to be for the purpose of revenue, but to limit the number of saloons and improve the moral tone of the community. This has already been effected to a marked degree. There are only twenty saloons in Plainfield and North Plainfield, or one to every 1,250 persons. The Newark News thinks that the system is a good one. It says that many low groggeries would be wiped out in that city of the license fees were increased, and there would be a moral advance in the standing of the community. This question of high license, however, does not meet the approval of many temperance men who argue that it proves a discrimination against the small places in favor of the larger ones and that it creates places with greater attractions for those who are susceptible to temptation.

"We are not prepared to say that high license is the best way to limit and control the liquor traffic, but we believe it is an effective way and should be used where practicable. In Newark the fee is nearly one-third less than in Plainfield and there is a saloon to every 182 persons. Plainfield's experiment on the license question will be instructive in municipal government."

SOMERVILLE BASEBALL.

Plans Next Season to Have a Rattling Good Article of Ball.

The baseball enthusiasts at Somerville are interesting themselves in the organization of a baseball club that will be a credit to the town. A meeting will be held at Cawley's Hotel, Saturday, January 23, when a permanent organization will be effected. Surrogate W. J. DeMond, who is an ardent admirer of the National game and a lover of clean sport, is at the head of the movement and behind him are some of the best citizens of Somerville.

The plan is to engage a battery and use the best players from Somerville and Raritan for the remaining positions on the team. "Jack" McFetridge, formerly with the Philadelphia Nationals, is among the pitchers being considered.

Miss Mabel VanDeventer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus VanDeventer of Washington Avenue has returned from Washington, D. C. where she has been spending the holidays.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Father Miller, of St. Joseph's church, announces that $463.54 was received at the Christmas offering.

The subject of the prayer-meeting in Trinity Reformed Church tonight will be "The Family." Dr. Schenck will have charge of the meeting.

The meetings at the Rescue Mission tonight will be in charge of Mrs. O'Brien and there will be a special praise and prayer service. The meeting still continues to be well attended.

Miss Sara Wray, who will address the Y. M. C. A., meeting on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock is a speaker of unusual ability. A chorus of mixed voices will lead the singing at the meeting.

Rt. Rev. John J. O'Connor, bishop of the diocese of Newark, sailed for Naples Wednesday, on the North German Lloyd liner Hohenzollern at 11 o'clock. The bishop was accompanied by Monsignor J. A. Stafford, president of Seton Hall College, and Rev. Eugene P. Carroll, of St. Bridget's church, Newark.

Commencing on Sunday there will be the observance of the forty hours devotion at St. Joseph's church. At 10:30 in the morning there will be a solemn high mass with special music by the choir and in the evening there will be a sermon by Father O'Reilly, of Westfield. During the continuation of the services next week Father Miller will be assisted by several priests in the diocese.

The financial condition of Grace Church is one to cause much satisfaction among the members. The receipts from pew rents during the year were $6,244.98, a gain of over $800. The general Sunday collections amounted to $3,244.30, an increase of fifty per cent. On Easter Sunday $1,193.21 was contributed for a special object. The collection for Muhlenberg Hospital amounted to $161 and $415 for the general missions on Whit-Sunday. In addition to the above the Women's Guild of the Parish presented the church with $1,075, a sufficient amount to clear the indebtedness on the organ. Other sums of good proportion have been contributed for various objects during the past year.

TALK OF A HORSE SHOW

DISCUSSION OF ADVISIBILITY OF HOLDING AN EXHIBITION HERE ANNUALLY.

The question of having some kind of an annual show in Plainfield is receiving much consideration on the part of the best citizens. Orange and Morristown have their horse shows, and in point of importance neither place exceeds Plainfield. It is the opinion of many that this town can afford an annual show of horses, poultry or dogs that will not only be attractive, but will be a source of advertising to the city. There are a number of thoroughbred horses here, animals that have taken valuable prizes. It is argued that if these horses can make such a good showing elsewhere why not have an exhibition here and make it an inducement for owners of thoroughbred stock to make entries.

Aside from the advertising to the place and the general interest it would afford an opportunity for society people to have a good time. Hundreds of people from all parts of the State as well as New York, would visit the show, and should it be held in the winter it would make it an event of pleasure at a time when outdoor sports do not attract. It is said that several owners of fine stock have been discussing the question recently and it is believed that before another winter rolls around arrangements may be made to hold a horse show.

—White Label goods are superior to all others. Neuman Brothers say they have sold more than any other brand which shows that that variety gives more general satisfaction than the others. Order White Label goods of Neuman Brothers.

People are touched into quick response by a word or phrase without which perhaps the ad would be ineffectual. The law of see-saw in Nature is peculiarly applicable to advertising. An adman's every effort is one of give and take; now it's one's turn, then the other's, but of the two it's the adman's business to make his deductions from this giving of the public and so improve his ability to get more and still more from the same tangible expenditure—space.—Printer's Ink.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY "OUT IN THE RAIN"

Political Club Vacates Ulrich Building Which Will Undergo Extensive Alterations.

PLANS OF THE OWNER

LOWER FLOOR FOR A HALL AND SECOND STORY FOR LODGE ROOM.

A. D. Findlay, Present Owner, Purchased Property a Short Time Since—Originally the Home of the Crescent Wheelmen.

A. D. Findlay, of East Second street, who recently purchased the Ulrich property adjoining his place of business near Park avenue, is arranging to make extensive alterations to the building which has been for over a year the home of the Democratic party here. The Democratic Club moved out yesterday and is now without a home, although it is probable that rooms will be secured in a few days.

The property was purchased by Mr. Findlay at auction, a short time ago. He has decided to thoroughly remodel the interior of the structure and make the upper floor suitable for lodge rooms and the lower floor, now occupied as a carriage repository by the Plainfield Cab Company, an assembly room for dances and mass meetings.

Mr. Findlay has not yet completed his arrangements for the improvements. He plans to spend about $2,500 on the building. The place has had a varied history. It was originally built by the Ulrich estate for the Crescent League. It has since been used for various purposes. About eighteen months ago the Democratic Club leased the upper rooms for a meeting place and the first floor was rented as a carriage repository.

Forster, Condit and Pierson Each Make a 190, While Willis Rowls a 201 and F. O. Ball a 189—The Detailed Scores.

The Park Club bowling team met the Westfield Club team on the alleys of the latter, last night, in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament, and succeeded in capturing one game out out of the series by a margin of two pins. The Westfield team rolled very strong throughout, especially in the first game, when they put up a total score of 907, against 760 for the Parks. The second game was 853 to 851 in favor of the Parks and the third game went to Westfield by a score of 816 to 740.

Three scores of 190 were rolled by the home team, one by Forster, one by Condit and the other by Pierson. These were high scores, while the lowest score for Westfield was rolled in the third game by Condit, it being 144. All of the other scores were good. Ralph Willis carried off the honors for the Parks, rolling a 201 in the second game, while F. O. Ball was second in the same game, making a 189. The remaining scores were fairly good, but not high enough to overcome the fine work of the opposing team. The one game won last night by the Parks is their first victory this season, but better things are hoped for.

The score:

CITY FATHERS ON GARBAGE COLLECTION

Opinions of Councilmen Regarding Advisability of Inaugurating a System.

EXPENSE AN OBSTACLE.

SOME RETICENT BECAUSE SUBJECT HAS NOT BEEN OFFICIALLY CONSIDERED.

Health Board in Conference With Councilmanic Committee—Thurlow's Figures An Agreeable Surprise—To Inspect Other Plants.

Notwithstanding the attitude of Mayor Jenkins on the subject of municipal collection and disposal of garbage, as presented in his annual message, it is quite likely that in the near future Plainfield will have the improvement. The Councilmanic committee has held one conference with the Board of Health and another will be held at which it is expected progress will be made. That some well-organized system is needed in Plainfield is apparent not only to members of the Council as well as the Board of Health but to a great many citizens, who deplore the present antiquated method employed in a city the size of this.

The Board of Health feels sure that such a system as it has in mind, which is set forth in a detailed report now in the hands of the Councilmanic committee, is practical in Plainfield, and that the per capita tax would be low. Most of the Councilmen at present are reticent in expressing an opinion on the subject for the reason that the report has not been made known to them and they prefer first to have an opportunity to study the report.

President Tolles, of the Council, favors a municipal control of the collection of garbage, just as he favored the street sprinking under municipal direction. He believes that if garbage can be collected at such an estimate as presented by the Board of Health, it would not only be the part of wisdom to adopt it, but it would improve the general sanitary condition of the city. Recently, a date was fixed for certain members of the Council and the Board of Health to visit one ideal plant in operation at Atlantic City, but the trip had to be abandoned for the present owing to unforseen circumstances.

Mr. Tolles, when asked about advertising for bids to collect the garbage, according to the method employed in larger cities, said that he did not believe there would be enough business here to make that phase of the scheme practical. He thought it might be wise for the city to purchase a sufficient number of horses and wagons, collect the garbage and dispose of it. He admitted that the committee and the Board of Health are now collecting data and statistics on the matter and in a short time will be able to give exact figures.

Councilman Murphy, when asked for his opinion on the subject, said he did not want to express an unqualified approval of the municipal system until he had seen or heard more about the Board of Health report. He said, however, that if the system is practical he saw no good reason why it should not be adopted.

Councilman Leslie M. Daniel when questioned said that his first impressions were that the expense would be too great. He cited the fact that there are about seventy miles of streets in Plainfield and it makes a great territory to cover. On a rough estimate he thought it might cost Plainfield about $800 a month to collect the garbage and dispose of it. Mr. Daniel believed the question of expense would enter largely into a final decision. It is impossible in his opinion to keep the tax rate down and at the same time give the city all the improvements one would find in New York for instance, besides if the rate is raised he believed it would have a tendency to keep intending residents away.

Councilman William S. Tyler, who as chairman of the Public Service Committee which together with the Board of Health has been giving the matter some attention, was asked for his opinion concerning the matter. He preferred to wait until all the facts have been gathered before expressing himself. He stated that the joint committee had planned to visit several garbage disposal plants, including the ones at Scranton, Pa., and Long Island, but the holiday season caused an interruption of the plans. The facts gathered by Health Officer Thur-

TWENTY-THIRD STREET FERRYHOUSE BEGUN

Work Started on Structure to be Used by Jersey Central and Two Other Roads.

DESCRIPTION OF GROUP

LACKAWANNA, ERIE THE OTHER ROADS TO HAVE ACCOMMODATIONS THERE.

An Immense Arch in Front of Central's Section of Building—Architecturally Handsome—Cost of the Group $850,000.

Work has just been started on the large group of ferry houses at the foot of West Twenty-third street for the Erie Railroad, Lackawanna Railroad and the Central Railroad of New Jersey. It has been aimed to make all the structures harmonize in general proportions and architectural treatment, and to that end one architect has been employed to design the three buildings. The terminal of the Central Railroad of New Jersey will be situated in Twenty-second street, and its front elevation, 100 feet wide, one immense arch, will be almost at a right angle to the other ferry houses.

A prominent feature of the whole group will be an immense iron and glass shed or marquise 50 feet wide and some 600 feet long. Under the edge of this shed will run the Twenty-third street cars.

It is the intention of the city to acquire the block immediately in front of these ferry houses and transform it into an esplanade or approach.

The cost of the group will approximate $850,000, and the completion of it is expected within a year's time.

The Erie Railroad Company will replace its present ferry houses with the new structure at the right of the group, a composition of three arches crowned by a huge electric light sign, this in turn being surmounted by an architectural motive of an ancient ship's prow.

The Lackawanna ferry house will have a tower 135 feet high, bearing an illuminated clock dial.

PLEA WON SYMPATHY.

Mrs. Adam Hubler Before City Judge Runyon for Violating the School Truancy Law.

Mrs. Adam Hubler, accused of violating the rules of the Board of Education in regard to sending children to school, appeared before City Judge Runyon this morning and explained that she lived at a considerable distance from the school, that the weather had been too cold and that she and her children were not properly supported by her husband. Judge Runyon decided to refer the matter back to the superintendent of schools for further investigation.

Jacob L. Bauer, county engineer, of Elizabeth, has just completed a new map of Union county. It is accurately drawn to scale, and neatly executed in four colors on heavy paper, 24x38 inches in size. The map shows all municipalities including Plainfield, Elizabeth, Rahway and Summit and it shows the steam and electric railroads, roads and streets with the names and watercourses.

Dean Robbins to Preach.

Very Rev. Dr. Wilford Lash Robbins, dean of the General Theological Seminary, New York, will deliver a sermon at the regular services in Grace church tomorrow night. He is the successor of the late Dean Eugene Hoffman, who was the richest clergyman in the world. Dr. Robbins is one of the foremost theologians in the Episcopal church.

Runyon's Favorite Remedy.

Fresh as the breezes of Ocean Grove, Michael Lyons appeared before City Judge Runyon this morning and gaily admitted that he had engaged in a drunken brawl with Patrick Riley Thursday night. The Judge administered a small antidote in the shape of a $3 fine and Mike's exuberant spirits drooped.

The Pace That Kills.

Motormen and conductors on the Dunellen-Netherwood trolley line are now doing eleven hours' work in nine hours, and as one motorman expressed it yesterday, "the men will not be able to stand the pace very long." It is considered nerve-racking work that tells perceptibly, on the motormen especially.

Captain and Mrs. Harold Hammond, of West Point, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton Edwards, of Franklin place, have returned home.

FREEHOLDERS' BOARD, REP. 11; DEM. 9

Two Rahway Democrats Sworn in as Members, Succeeding Two Republicans.

CONDITION OF FINANCES

FORMER CONGRESSMAN DUNN'S PLEA FOR NEWARK BAY BRIDGE.

Freeholders' Commitee to Look After Union County's Interests at the Legislature's Sessions — Westphal on Two Committees.

The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders met Thursday afternoon and George Cladek and John J. Marsh, Democrats, succeeding John Farrell and Peter Tillman, Republicans, of Rahway, were sworn in as members.

This cuts down the Republican majority to two and it is fortunate for the majority that Westfield was incorporated as a town, or it would have left the board a tie. The board now stands eleven Republicans and nine Democrats.

Former Congressman John T. Dunn appeared before the board and was given the privilege of addressing the members on the subject of a bridge across Newark bay. He said: "The late Senator Kyte told me, at the time we were contemplating the project, that there was at least $10,000,000 in it for Union County. E. G. Brown, a bridge builder, estimated that the cost would be $500,000. The tolls collected from wagons and trolleys would pay the interest on the investment, and at the same time create a sinking fund which would soon pay for the bridge itself. He said that at least $45,000 a year could be secured in tolls.

Freeholder Krouse presented a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of five to look after the interests of Union County at the sessions of the State Legislature and it was adopted. Freeholders Krouse, King, Adams, Brucklacher and Swain were delegated to this duty.

The committee appointed to settle with the collector reported that the receipts for the year had been $490,054.80 and the disbursements $308,135.23, leaving a balance of $181,919.57.

Director Hubbard announced several committee changes. William A. Westphal, of this city, is chairman of the jail inspection committee and a member of the appropriation's committee.

The board is comprised of the following members: Clark—Benjamin King, R.; Cranford—E. K. Adams, R.; Elizabeth—Jacob Brucklacher, D., Joseph McCandless, D., Thomas J. Pierson, D., Emil Klee, D.; Fanwood—John Robison, R.; Linden—Henry Krouse, R.; New Providence—John F. Wahl, R.; Plainfield—J. Frank Hubbard, R., William A. Westphal, R.; Rahway—George Cladek, D., John J. Marsh, D.; Springfield—N. W. Bonnel, D.; Summit—John N. Cady, R., William H. Swain, D.; Union—Noah Woodruff, D.; Westfield (town) — George H. Embree, R., Charles A. Smith, R.; Westfield (township)—W. W. Connolly, R.

STATE Y. M. C. A. MEET.

Inter-Association Athletic Contests —Eight Branches Will Compete.

The inter-association athletic meet of the Y. M. C. A.'s of Northern New Jersey will be held with the local association, February 8. Eight associations have already signified their intention of entering teams. They are Jersey City, Hudson and Central branches, Newark, Summit, Montclair, Orange, Morristown and Plainfield. It is probable that most of the other seven associations, having physical departments, will decide to compete.

Draper Returns.

Edward Draper, the colored man whose horses attached to a coach belonging to the Plainfield Cab Company, ran away at the Giddes-Gaskill wedding at New Market, and who ran away apparently from fright, was discovered Thursday wandering about Bayonne. He returned to work in this city Thursday night.

Valuable Tickets.

It is announced that tickets to Company K's fair, which will take place February 23 to 29, will entitle the holder to a share in a Singer sewing machine, in addition to the admission.

J. ACKERMAN COLES' VALUABLE PRESENT

Life-Sized Bronze Bust of Washington Given to Hope College by a 'Plains Man.

HONDEN'S LIFE MODEL

STORY RELATING TO BUST AS DOLD BY THE DONOR.

Five Per Cent. Gold Bond of U. S. Steel Co. Presented to College at Same Time—Interest to be Used for Oratorical Contest Prize.

J. Ackerman Coles, of Deerhurst, Scotch Plains, has presented to Hope College, Mich., a life-sized bronze bust of George Washington, cast expressly for the college at the Barbedienne foundry, Paris, France, from the original model of Antoine Hondon, taken from life at Mount Vernon, Virginia.

The bust bears the following inscription: "Cast for Hope College, Holland, Mich. Gerret J. Kollen, LL.D., President. A gift from J. Ackerman Coles, M.D., LL.D. Dec. 25, 1903."

The following statement from the donor in connection with the gift will be of further interest: "It was while Benjamin Franklin was our minister at the court of Paris, France, that the Legislature of the State of Virginia requested him to bring with him to America Antoine Hondon to have this then the most famous artist model from life Washington, for a life-size statue for the State House at Richmond. In compliance with such directions Hondon accompanied Franklin from Paris to Mount Vernon, where he spent three weeks taking casts and measurements of Washington, after which he returned to Paris, and the statue, now in the State House at Richmond, was made from said measurements. At the same time as the execution of the full statue a life-size bust was made and the model preserved to the present time, so that in this bust of Washington we have an accurate copy of the features of him who was first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

The same donor of the bust accompanied his gift by a five per cent. gold bond, registered, of the United States Steel Company. "The interest accrued, $150, to be used at the expiration of each three years hereafter for the purchase of a similar bronze bust to be awarded as a triennial prize to that student of Hope College who, in the judgment of the faculty, shall deliver the best original patriotic address."

DEMAND RIGHTS.

Colored Men Want One of Their Race Chosen Alternate to Republican National Convention.

The State committee of the Afro-American Council, with representatives from nearly all the counties, met in Jersey City last night and endorsed President Roosevelt's administration. The council decided to ask that a colored man be named as alternate to the National Republican convention, and named a committee to wait on Senators Kean and Dryden and Governor Murphy to ask that no colored man be nominated for any national or State office unless endorsed by the State committee of the Afro-American Council.

Not Picking Coal.

The report published that Patrick J. Bergen was picking coal on the railroad track when killed yesterday morning, is denied by the family of the dead man. They further say that he never did practice picking coal on the railroad track.

DISTRICT MEETING OF PYTHIAN KNIGHTS

Perseverance and Unity Lodges Choose Jeremiah VanWinkle Deputy.

MANY ADDRESSES MADE

AN ENTERTAINMENT FOLLOWED THE BUSINESS SESSION.

District Deputy Grand Chancellor Charles McGinley Presided at the Meeting—Supper Served at Timbo's Resturant.

Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, and Unity Lodge, No. 109, K. of P., held a district meeting, last night, in this city, at which time Jeremiah VanWinkle was chosen as the successor to Deputy Grand Chancellor Charles McGinley. This recommendation will be made to the Grand Lodge and there is no doubt but what he will be appointed by the Grand Chancellor at the meeting of the Grand Lodge, February 22 at Trenton.

Deputy Grand Chancellor Charles McGinley presided at the meeting and together with Grand Vice Chancellor J. W. Laws, of Jersey City; General William Hitchcock, supreme representative, of Newark, and State Organizer Houriet, of the Endowment Rank, made excellent addresses. Mr. Laws, who at the meeting of the Grand Lodge, will be elected Grand Chancellor, has been acting in that position for some time past, owing to the severe illness of Grand Chancellor Shanley, of Jersey City.

Following the business session there were songs by City Judge W. N. Runyon, John H. Cose, E. D. Cutting and Thomas Muir, while the Jews-harp quartette, composed of A. D. Pope, Frank Putnam, Jeremiah VanWinkle and Ephraim Compton, rendered several choice selections, accompanied on the piano by Mr. Runyon. At the conclusion of the meeting an adjournment was made to T. Timbo & Co.'s restaurant on North avenue, where supper was served.

AUXILIARY FIRE ALARMS

DIFFICULTY EXPERIENCED AT HEADQUARTERS TO BE REMEDIED.

An auxiliary battery system is being installed in the fire headquarters on East Second street which will supply the fire alarm system with current should the telephone electric plant become disabled at any time.

The fire alarm telegraph service is supplied with power from a series of dynamos at the central telephone station. Alarms are also frequently sent in over the telephone, which has no connection whatever with the Gamewell boxes, the power being derived from a distinct electrical apparatus.

Profiting by the experience during the heavy sleet storm of last winter, when some of the wires were down and the whole service was temporarily crippled, the fire department has decided to refill the old batteries in the rear room of the headquarters. These have been practically abandoned since the care of the electrical service was placed in the hands of the telephone company. They will be connected so that at any instant should the present system become seriously crippled, they can be put into immediate use, thus giving the city perfect fire alarm protection no matter how serious the weather may be.

J. CALVIN GAREY DEAD.

Former Plainfielder Dies at His Home in Dover From Shock.

J. Calvin Garey, a former resident of this city, died at his home in Hackettstown, N. J., Thursday night. Mr. Garey sustained a severe shock in a railroad accident at Dover more than a year ago and never fully recovered from the effects. He was a member of Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order of Foresters, of this city. A delegation from Court Plainfield will attend the funeral at Hackettstown Monday afternoon. Mr. Garey is survived by a wife and one daughter.

Retail Druggists to Meet.

The Union County Retail Druggists Association will hold its regular quarterly session at Rahway, Tuesday.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

Photographic supplies at F. W. Van Winkle's, on North avenue. He has a most complete line of bicycles and cameras. Trade at VanWinkle's.

Few cigar stores in this city offer the same bargains in cigars as does H. Eggerding, on Park avenue. The quality of his cigars is above the average.

If you don't see what you want at Hodge's pharmacy, East Front street, ask for it. If it's anything in the line of superior drugs you will be sure to find it.

There is as much difference in coal as there is in people. Some coal is clean. Other coal is filled with dirt and dust. John Johnston, South avenue, sells nothing but clean coal.

Electrical supplies at most reasonable rates. W. H. Pope, of North avenue, makes a specialty of exceptionally fine work. If you figure on building in the spring fail not to secure prices on electrical work from W. H. Pope.

Save money by buying your shoes of M. C. VanArsdale, of East Front street. Your shoes, if you buy them of VanArsdale, will look better and wear better and feel better than any shoes you can buy elsewhere in Plainfield. Prove it for yourself.

There is at least one place in this city where real bargains can be secured at all times in ladies' skirts and shirt waists. I. H. Boehm makes a specialty of these garments and their quality, for the price, is beyond comparison. There the best at lowest prices is the rule.

Meats, poultry, provisions, seafood, whichever you need, you can get the best at Fred Endress' store on West Front street. Try Endress' lamb. It will make you think life is worth living after all. If you prefer poultry or blue points, you will find none so delicious as Endress's.

Winter is now at its heighth and the importance of warm clothing cannot be too strongly pointed out. For this reason the People's Clothing Company, on East Front street, has an arrangement whereby warm clothing, in the latest styles, can be secured at the rate of $1 a week. Try their plan, it cannot be beaten.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

An incident occurred a few days ago which shows how the services of Muhlenberg Hospital are appreciated by those who have had the benefit of such services for themselves or for their friends. Three years ago a ten-year-old boy died in the hospital from an acute kidney disease. He was the only child of his mother, and she a widow employed in domestic service in this city. She sent to the Treasurer of the hospital fifteen dollars in memory of her little boy, and declared her intention of adding to the amount from time to time. Such gifts are very useful, and are at the same time especially gratifying to the officers of the hospital because indicating a grateful appreciation of its work.

Catarrh and Hay Fever.

Liquid Cream Balm is becoming quite as popular in many localities as Ely's Cream Balm solid. It is prepared for use in atomizers, and is highly prized by those who have been accustomed to call upon physicians for such a treatment. Many physicians are using and prescribing it. All the medicinal properties of the celebrated Cream Balm are contained in the Liquid form, which is 75 cts. including a spraying tube. All druggists, or by mail. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., New York.

Samuel T. Hand, of Elmwood place, is detained at home with an attack of rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter B. Hodge, of Plainfield avenue, and William Tallmay, of West Front street, were guests at a recent social affair given by Miss Nellie Strickland, of South Bound Brook.

The Aged Made Younger.

Feeble persons have found the use of Speer's Port Wine and Burgundy a superior medicine because it is the best restorative and blood making. Nothing equals it for old people.

Miss Gibson, of Paterson, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacMurray, of West Seventh street.

Superintendent William R. Mosher, of Potter's Press Works, has returned from a business trip to Philadelphia.

LITERARY.

The Burr McIntosh Monthly reflects the latest achievements in the art of reproduction. Each number contains about forty handsome panel photographs 6 inches by 12 inches of beautiful women, famous men, interesting events, art studies, a number of magnificent colored prints and gravures. Enfolded with the handsomest multi-color cover ever presented and bound with silk cord. All pictures are of convenient size for matting, passe-partouting, framing and for decorating your home. The year's collection will be of great value.

"Among the Eastern nations the beginning of school life is a critical time for the child" says Beatrice C. Wilcox, in Everybody's Magazine for January. "The priest or astrologer must be consulted to choose a lucky day. Every precaution must be taken to avert the jealousy of the gods, whose malice is especially directed against a fine boy. "The Chinese father who adores his son will take the utmost pains to convince the powers of the air that the boy is of no account. The child may be given a despicable name, like flea, or Chu-tze, a pig, or more insulting still, he may be given a girl's name. The boy may be started off to school wearing a girl's dress and one earring, and if the deception is complete this will be the most effectual of all, for even the gods do not care for girls in China.

The January magazine of The Outlook is especially notable for the number of interesting portraits contained in it. Thus, a fine full page picture of Herbert Spencer precedes an anecdotal, personal article on Spencer by George Iles, who knew him well; Sargent's portrait of President Roosevelt precedes the instalment of Jacob A. Riis' "Theodore Roosevelt the Citizen," which deals with Mr. Roosevelt's share in the work of civil service reform; St. Gaudens' portrait of the typical Puritan precedes Mr. Henry Hoyt Moore's entertaining and graphic article called "The Puritan and the Cavalier," which is further well illustrated by the author's photographs taken at Plymouth and Jamestown; the visit of Mr. W. B. Feats, the Irish poet, dramatist and critic, is made the occasion of an article on the Irish Literary Revival, by Mr. H. S. Krans, with a fine portrait of Mr. Yeats.

AMUSEMENTS.

Chauncey Olcott, whose name is made famous by song and story, is filling an engagement at the New York theatre. He is starring in "Terence," a play of exceptional merit which is drawing big houses. Olcott has been such a general favorite that there is no need of saying that he is making a great hit and that the box office will be kept busy during the run of the show. The highest price seat in the house is $1.50, so you see the Manhattan is not the only theatre which answers the public's demand for low rates. Enclose check with your order for seats.

Impressed by the New York success of Bertha Galland in "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," Julia Neilson and Fred Terry have secured the English rights to the play lately produced elaborately at the New York Theatre. Negotiations between the English players and J. Fred Zimmerman, Jr., have been in progress for some time. While it is considered unfortunate that Miss Galland cannot make her London debut in the best role she has yet had, those saw Miss Neilson's work here may imagine what she will do as "Dorothy." Moreover, the London players have heard such complimentary reports of Manager Zimmerman's pictorial production of the Elizabethan play that they have cabled for the scenic models and costume plates, with the intention of reproducing the New York production in London, which is decidedly a reverse of the usual rule. Miss Galland's engagement in "Dorothy Vernon" began at the Lyric Theatre Monday evening.

The Montgomery Handicap.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 9.—Entries to the Montgomery handicap, the first big handicap of the spring racing season, have been announced by Secretary MacFarlan of the New Memphis Jockey club. Eighty-eight nominations were made for the event, which represents the rank and file of handicap horses in the west and south. The Montgomery handicap at a mile and a sixteenth has an added value of $3,000, with a silver cup or plate to the winner. It will be decided on March 28, opening day of the Montgomery park meeting. Weights are due Feb. 6, and final declarations must be made on or before Feb. 20.

Six Rounds to a Draw.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 9.—Aurelio Herrera, the Mexican, and Charles Neary of Milwaukee went six rounds to a draw before the Badger Athletic club last night. The Mexican had clearly the better of the argument on points in every round except the fourth, when in a fierce mixup Neary landed a hard right on the jaw, staggering his man. This ended with Herrera's right ear bleeding and Neary's lip cut badly. Herrera landed at will, but did not seem to have the force to his blows to put his man out. The fight ended in a hot mixup, but both men finished strong.

Little Scout Got the Handicap.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 9. — Little Scout and Luralighter, both of whom outclassed the fields opposed to them, were the only winning favorites. The feature of the card was the Jackson handicap at a mile and a half and worth $1,100 to the winner. Little Scout was a strong favorite in the betting and won without difficulty. The weather was clear and the track heavy.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 9.—By order of the state board of health all the schools in three townships — Morris, Center and Rich Hill, in Greene county —and two adjoining townships, East and West Finley, in Washington county, have been closed indefinitely on account of smallpox. An epidemic of smallpox is raging in the border townships. The disease appeared several weeks ago in the village of Time, Greene county. This town was quarantined. Scarce a family in the village was free from the disease.

Did Not Charge $10,000.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 9.—Dr. William Osler of this city denies the correctness of a statement contained in recent press dispatches to the effect that he charged a $10,000 fee for a twenty minutes' consultation with other physicians in the case of Captain Frederick Pabst of Milwaukee, lately deceased. Dr. Osler says he charged an ordinary fee for the service performed by him.

NO FIRE PRACTICE.

The Iroquois Inquest Develops Worse Features Each Day.

PROPER INSTRUCTIONS WERE LACKING

Exits Were Always Closed, and Ushers Had No Orders In Case of Panic or Fire—Doomed House Was Crowded—Aisles Were Full.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—The first witness in the Iroquois inquest was Frederick H. Rea, a student in a law school directly north of the Iroquois theater. He told of placing ladders and planks from the windows of the law school to platforms of the fire escape and of a number of people who were rescued in that manner.

Madeline Dupont, one of the girls in the double octette which was on the stage at the time the fire broke out was positive in her statement that the curtain which was lowered was the asbestus curtain. This curtain was painted with red stripes, and the curtain which had upon it an autumn scene and which previous witnesses had declared was the curtain lowered was the curtain that burned. Miss Dupont was emphatic in her evidence that the curtain which was lowered did not burn up. She became badly tangled in the latter part of her evidence and finally admitted that she did not know whether there was an asbestus curtain in the theater, but supposed there was.

Edith Williams, another member of the double octette, who fainted on the stage at the outset of the fire, was called and after taking the oath fainted again, falling from the stand and rolling to the floor before she could be caught. She was removed from the room and did not testify.

Ethel Wynne of New York, a member of the "Mr. Bluebeard" company, described the commencement of the fire and told of Stage Manager Plunkett ringing the bell for the curtain to fall. She said she started for the back door of the theater, but became confused and went back upon the stage again. She did not know how she escaped from the theater.

Willard Sayles, a former usher at the Iroquois, testified that the exits on the north side of the theater were always closed.

They caught with a spring lock, and during his time at the theater he had never seen any of them open. As far as he knew none of the ushers had any instructions concerning their duties in case of fire.

Gilbert MacLean, one of the stage hands who had been in the theater since its opening, swore that he had never known of any protection provided against fire with the exception of some tubes of fire extinguishers. No instructions had ever been given as far as he knew as to the duties of employees in a fire or a panic.

Ruppert D. Laughlin testified that he had seats in the first row of the second balcony and that the balcony was so crowded that numbers of women were standing or sitting in the aisles, making it difficult for him to reach his seat. He declared that the inner doors of the exits opened inward instead of outward, but when questioned closely by Coroner Traeger declared he was not sure about it.

Abeel Again Remanded.

WELLAND, Ont., Jan. 9. — James Neilson Abeel has been remanded to the county jail until Jan. 13 to await the decision of the Canadian courts on the extradition proceedings instituted in New York to take him there to answer a charge of forgery in the third degree, alleged to have been committed while he was posing as J. Ogden Goelet. During the hearing Attorney German, counsel for Abeel, said that an effort was being made to show Abeel as an impostor, but that no evidence had been produced to show his name was not Goelet.

WAR MAY NOT COME

Japan Is Dissatisfied With Russia's Answer.

WILL USE DIPLOMACY BEFORE FORCE

Rumor That Collision Has Occurred Between Russian and Japanese Fleets Near the Island of Tsushima, In Korean Straits.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—A dispatch from Tokyo says the Japanese government has practically determined to continue negotiations. It is dissatisfied with Russia's terms, but does not feel warranted in issuing an ultimatum of breaking off negotiations and will make another effort to secure their modification before resorting to force. Diplomacy has not said its last word, and there are still hopes that hostilities may be averted.

It is anticipated that the discussion will consume some time, during which interim a breach of the peace is improbable.

The text of the Russian reply to Japan's last note has been received at the Japanese legation here. At the legation the opinion is held that the reply is utterly opposed to the main Japanese contentions.

Minister Hayashi said: "After reading the reply all I can say is that hope for a peaceful settlement is growing less and less. Conditions are very grave."

Japan has decided not to buy the Chilean warships for which negotiations had been started. At the legation it is said that the ships bought recently from Argentina are expected to sail for the far east by way of the Suez canal.

The Russian ambassador, Count Benckendorff, and the Japanese minister, Baron Hayashi, have visited the foreign office and had half hour conferences with Lord Lansdowne, to whom the text of the Russian reply to Japan was communicated.

The British government is continuing its efforts in the interests of peace.

The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Seoul says that guards for the foreign legations are still arriving there and that twenty British, forty American and thirty Russian guards have already arrived.

Tokyo advices say that the elder statesmen of Japan did not hold a conference, as arranged, but will probably confer at an early date.

In the meanwhile the wildest rumors are current.

The press unanimously demands that the government take decisive action, thereby preventing Russia from gaining advantages by further dilatory tactics.

The people repose confidence in the government's ability to rise to the opportunity.

Russia's answer to Japan makes far-reaching concessions respecting Korea, and the concessions are equivalent to permitting the occupation of Korea by Japan on lines somewhat similar to the position of Great Britain in Egypt, but Russia firmly rejects any right of Japan to mingle in affairs in Manchuria.

The Kobe correspondent of the Daily Express says that a collision between the Russian and the Japanese fleets has taken place near the islands of Tsushima, in the strait of Korea, about midway between Korea and Kiushiu.

A report from Tokyo says the emperor is greatly reassured by the receipt of a memorial from the Korean officials declaring that there is no danger of war, the arrival of the United States marines being due to a secret understanding between the United States and Japan, and that the Japanese war preparations are merely a bluff intended to frighten Russia.

Telegrams received here state that the Russian reply was further considered at a cabinet council in Tokyo which sat for several hours. It is supposed that Japan's reply to Russia may have been drafted for submission to the council of the elder statesmen and the ministers.

Japs on Coast Number 20,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—Kisabuneo Uyeno, the consul for Japan at this port, states that he has as yet received no instructions to issue a call for the reserves of the Japanese army and navy who are now in California, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico, over which his jurisdiction extends, but said it might come at any moment. "There are about 20,000 Japanese in these five states and territories," he stated, "and about as many more in Washington and Oregon. Among them are many members of the reserve forces, and with them are men of exceptional ability."

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Rumors of War Hoist the Grain Prices Up.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Retail trade has been somewhat slow to recover from holiday dullness, partly because of the bad weather, which also retarded collections to some extent. Traffic was impeded and shipments of merchandise delayed. On the other hand, low temperature stimulated the demand for seasonable goods, and burdensome stocks in the hands of dealers were reduced. Jobbers and manufacturers in those lines received supplementary orders, and the wool market became firmer in tone, although actual sales did not increase materially. Mills and factories report irregular conditions, some industries opening the new year under very favorable auspices, while other branches are extremely quiet.

War talk supplied strength to the cereals, and prices of commodities rose to $100.142, according to Dun's Index Number, against $98.223 on Dec. 1. The level is now about the same as a year ago, after last month's rise of 2 per cent. Latest returns of railway earnings for December are 5.4 per cent above the previous year, but the reduction in industrial dividends had a depressing influence on securities, although not unexpected. Money has become easier, as anticipated, and London sales of stocks increased the demand for sterling exchange, so that no further imports of gold are imminent.

Grain prices were lifted by war rumors, the support being sufficient to absorb liquidation without depressing the tone. Western receipts of wheat for the week were 4,590,703 bushels against 4,624,726 last year, and exports of 2,313,618 bushels compared with 3,859,424 in 1903. Arrivals of 3,308,672 bushels of corn fell far short of the 4,514,732 received a year ago, and Atlantic coast shipments of 1,374,193 bushels compared with 2,540,308.

The chief increase was directly due to a few very large failures, 156 manufacturing suspensions providing two-thirds of the total liabilities in that class, the remaining 2,883 defaults averaging only $10,248, which is less than a similar average for 1902. The average loss to each firm in business was $122.33, higher than any year of the preceding five, but much lower than in earlier years. The proportion of defaulted liabilities to solvent payments through the clearing houses was only $1.42 to $1,000, a small sum, considering the decrease in exchanges.

Bandits' Friends Were Armed.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—The third day of the trial of Van Dine, Marx and Niedermeier, the car barn bandits, ended with but one juror selected as a result of the three days' examination of veniremen. Four of the men accepted by the state and not yet examined by the attorneys for the defense were held. Two policemen stood at the entrance of the courtroom and searched every one who entered, including women, for weapons that might be given to the prisoners to aid their escape. Six of the men searched were found to be armed. Their weapons were confiscated.

FATAL PRISON FIGHT.

Convict Is Dead, and Two Keepers Were Badly Injured.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 9.—A convict shot dead, a keeper seriously wounded and another keeper badly injured was the result of a desperate conflict in the Trenton state prison here. The dead prisoner is Charles A. Brooks, who had served ten years of a twenty year sentence for murder. The wounded keepers are John Fitzgerald and William J. Hearney. Fitzgerald was shot in the back by Brooks. He may recover. Hearney was struck on the head with a hammer and received an ugly wound.

Hearney was a hallkeeper. He was passing through wing No. 2 when Brooks, who had got possession of a heavy hammer, suddenly rushed at him and struck him a terrific blow on the head. Hearney fell to the floor as if he had been shot, and Brooks sprang upon him and seized his revolver. Fitzgerald was standing some distance down the hall, with his back turned toward Brooks, and the latter shot him. The bullet struck Fitzgerald back of the shoulder blade, and he, too, fell to the floor unconscious.

The noise brought several other keepers to the scene. Brooks retreated to the end of the wing and, with his back against the wall, emptied the revolver at the keepers, who in turn fired several shots. The convict fell and died in a few moments.

The firing caused intense excitement among the prisoners, but there was no attempt at an outbreak.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Representative Slayden (Dem., Tex.) has introduced a resolution in the house requesting the president to tender the good offices or mediation of the United States to Russia and Japan. The resolution follows:

"Whereas, By the provisions of The Hague peace convention of 1899, tender of good offices or mediation by a nation, stranger to a dispute, cannot be regarded as an unfriendly act; and

"Whereas, Warlike difficulties are now threatened between Russia and Japan, which countries, as well as the United States, are signatories to The Hague peace convention,

"Resolved, By the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the president be requested to tender the good offices or mediation of the United States to Russia and Japan with relation to their present dispute and to remind them, in accordance with The Hague peace convention, that the permanent court of arbitration is open to them."

PRISCILLA GROUNDED.

Fall River Liner Goes Aground Near Newport, R. I.

NEWPORT, R. I., Jan. 9.—While feeling her way in a fog toward her dock in this city the Fall River line steamer Priscilla, bound from New York for Newport and Fall River, struck bottom near the Lime Rock lighthouse, about one mile from the wharf, and later was floated. The shock was so slight that not one of the passengers knew that an accident had occurred. Perfect discipline prevailed, the water tight compartments were closed immediately, and there was little to indicate that the ship had not just landed at her dock.

Later when it appeared that the steamer was hard aground the passengers were notified and were landed here after daylight by the small steamer running from Newport to Jamestown, which had put out to assist the Priscilla.

Peculiar Patient Dead.

WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 9.—A special from Athol says that James Oliver, twenty-three, who has just died here, had the most peculiar brain trouble ever known by ten physicians of Worcester county who performed an autopsy soon after death. Ten years ago young Oliver struck his head on a rock while diving. He had headaches frequently, then gradually lost his eyesight and finally became totally blind. His senses were so acute that he could make his way about the town as well as ever and recognized people and objects by the touch. Much interest is taken in the case by physicians, as a similar case was never heard of in this part of the country.

Mexican Mine Explosion.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 9.—At the Los Laureles mines, west of Guadalajara, a large number of boxes of dynamite stored in a powder house exploded, killing twenty men and injuring forty others. The detonations were heard many miles away, and an American mine owner working in his mine three miles away was killed by a falling rock that had been jarred by the concussion. Details are lacking, but it is reported that the disaster was caused by the explosion of a dynamite cap in the powder house.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 9, 1904.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Any suggestion made by Rev. Dr. Richards, whose name is inseparately connected with the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, will not only receive from the people of this city the attention it deserves but will be viewed in a respectful way by a great body of Christian people in this section of the county who appreciate him as a scholarly man. Hence his idea of holding services hourly on Sunday mornings and of keeping the doors of the church edifice open throughout the week is becoming a subject for public discussion. The Newark Evening News dwells on the propositions advanced by the learned clergyman at some length and as its view will be of interest to Plainfielders it is herewith reproduced:

"Rev. Dr. William R. Richards, formerly of Plainfield, but now of the Brick Church, Fifth avenue, New York, has recently touched upon a subject that has been in and on the minds of a great many people for many years. It has long been a matter of comment in church congregations, and even outside of them, that buildings so costly and beautiful as churches are, especially in the large cities, should be in actual use only three hours each week, and all the rest of the time, 165 hours, be closed to the people and seemingly of no use whatever. Dr. Richards does not seek to utilize church edifices by constant services throughout the week, but he claims, in the year book he has recently issued, that his church, and as many others as may choose to adopt his suggestion, should have hourly services on Sunday mornings, as Roman Catholic churches have, thus accommodating many people who may be unable to attend the regular service. He has also started Sunday evening services and Friday twilight services, and the front doors of his church are always open. As yet no crowds are attracted to these special services at unusual hours, but Dr. Richards claims that he sees his ideas developing in them. It will be generally conceded that there is abundant room, occasion and opportunity for the experiment Rev. Dr. Richards is making. If the practice of having the churches always open to any desiring to worship is good for the Catholic churches, there is as yet no known reason why it would not be good for the Protestant."

The Whole Thing.

The Jersey City Journal says that for the New York Times to say that nobody takes the Hearst presidential boom seriously just when James E. Martine was mentioned for State assessorship was mean, and a reflection on the "Farmer Orator," because he is the Hearst party in New Jersey.—Elizabeth Journal.

low he considered as somewhat startling as to the low cost of the work if undertaken by the city. He believed Mr. Thurlow a most careful and thorough official and if the facts as presented by him give a conservative estimate of the cost he thought it might be to the advantage of the city to undertake the work. These figures, Mr. Tyler said, show that garbage can be collected from the whole city and disposed of almost as cheaply for the taxpayer as the present expense which does not include the whole city. Mr. Tyler expressed the opinion that the joint committee would probably take up the work soon and that a definite report would be ready within a short time.

Councilman J. Stephen Higham said that he was not in a position to give his opinion on the subject, owing to the fact that he is a new member of the Council and had little or no opportunity to consider it. He said he preferred to wait until a report is presented to the Council before saying anything.

Councilman Theodore D. Wilson considered an expression of opinion a little premature and said he would rather wait until he has an opportunity to learn more about the matter before he talks on the subject.

Scores Water Company.

Editor, The Daily Press:

I reside in the borough of Dunellen, in a house with the improvements. This morning I found that I could not get any water and can you tell me what is the trouble? I think that the company that furnishes water is behind the times. Why do they not have a reservoir or make some arrangements to furnish water when their pumps fail them? What would be the consequences if we had a fire where there was no water? I think this should be looked after before it is too late. It is gross carelessness to let things go as they appear to be going.

POLITICAL LEADERS

The Men Who Dominate in the Senate and House.

REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS

Personal Characteristics of Congressman Williams and Senators Aldrich and Gorman—How They Rule Their Parties.

Washington.—John Sharpe Williams the most efficient leader the democrats in the house have had since the days of Crisp. In some respects he is better than Crisp, for he can keep his temper under provocation and that is what Crisp could never do. Besides, Williams has the faculty of getting along personally with the leaders of the opposition. He is about as well liked on the republican side of the house as he is among his own party followers.

Hon. John Sharpe Williams

Williams and Speaker Cannon have become decidedly chummy. Williams appreciates the courtesy shown him when Cannon permitted him to pick out the democratic members of the committees and he doesn't hesitate to show his gratitude on all occasions when a matter of party advantage is not at stake—and there are plenty of opportunities during a session when the legitimate business of the house can be impeded or expedited according as the rival leaders are in a mood of mutual good fellowship or not.

Both Williams and Cannon have an abounding sense of humor. When they are together they call each other "John" and "Joe" and they crack jokes and tell stories with as much gusto as if they had never had a political difference in their lives. The democratic leader likes nothing better than to stroll into the speaker's room and go over the points. But when he gets on the floor in debate he is as spunky as a game cock and nobody would ever imagine that he had a republican friend in the world. There is nobody in the house who can tear passion to tatters more effectively.

An Old-Time Leader.

One of Williams' predecessors, a democratic leader who was a national figure when Williams was a boy, died only the other day. William M. Springer during the past ten years had not figured in politics; but prior to that time he was regarded as one of the democratic reliabilities in the house for almost a generation.

The Late William M. Springer

After he left congress Springer was for a time a judge in the Indian territory. Of late years he has been a lawyer here in Washington, scarcely more than a memory of the robust congressman who contested the nomination for the speakership with Crisp and Mills, and who afterwards stirred the economies with his famous series of pop-gun tariff bills carrying out the democratic scheme to revise the tariff one item at a time.

Personally, Springer was a lovable man, without even a remote sense of humor. Probably it was the latter failing that made him one of Tom Reed's pet aversions when the great speaker was the leader of the republicans in the house.

Two of Reed's most famous shafts were thrown at Springer. One was in a debate while Reed was still holding a secondary rank in the house. Springer, who was a rather ponderous speaker, had made the remark that he would rather be right than be president. Reed, standing in the middle aisle, drawled back: "The gentleman need not be alarmed. He will never be either."

The other was a conversational quip: "Springer never opens his mouth that he doesn't subtract from the sum of human knowledge."

It is not to be wondered at that there should not have been any great sympathy between two men of such widely opposed temperaments. It was largely a matter of taste with each of them, and concerning taste there is no use in arguing.

Leadership of the Senate.

The leadership of Senator Aldrich in the senate has been pretty completely demonstrated more than once in recent years, but never more thoroughly than during the extraordinary session just closed. The republican majority were altogether in Aldrich's hands. What he suggested they did, and sometimes they did it without putting him even to the trouble of suggesting it.

Senator Aldrich

He was one who made the arrangement with the democratic minority by which the business of the extraordinary session was brought to a close and an agreement made by unanimous consent to vote on the Cuban reciprocity bill on the 16th of December.

In fact, he was the only man on the republican side who understood exactly what the terms of the arrangement were, a circumstance which led to a somewhat embarrassing incident one afternoon in executive session. Senator Lodge tried to bring up a matter which was of no particular consequence, but which as it happened did not relate to the Cuban situation. Senator Gorman promptly objected. He said it was contrary to the agreement between the two sides of the chamber. The republicans who were present protested. They had never heard of any such agreement which would put it out of their power to do business of any kind. But Gorman was insistent. And when they pressed him for an explanation, he gave one. He said Senator Aldrich had promised him that if the democrats would consent to the vote on the 16th of December, nothing whatever would be done in the meantime during the extraordinary session except to discuss Cuban reciprocity. Aldrich had left the city without telling anybody on his own side of the chamber about what he had done, but they accepted Gorman's statement, and that was the end of it.

Gorman as a Leader.

Gorman, on the democratic side, occupies just about the same kind of position that Aldrich occupies on the republican side of the chamber. It may be that he hasn't quite the same degree of control of the machinery; but whatever he says goes, despite rumors to the contrary. He is the man to do business with, and when he makes a promise as to what the democrats will do, they feel morally bound to do it.

Senator Gorman

That is what Uncle Joe Cannon calls legislation by unanimous consent, and, of course, it is a very reprehensible way of doing business. But it is likely to continue just as long as the present senate rules live, which, according to present appearances, will be to the end of time.

Gorman and Aldrich are very much the same type of men. They are first of all business men. They understand the currents of trade and appreciate the effect of legislation on commercial interests. They are organizers and deft handlers of men. They can read character and they can keep their own counsel. They understand weaknesses in others to which they can appeal. They are always in the game.

Gorman is more of a public speaker than Aldrich. He is not an orator in any way, but he has a faculty of aggressiveness in debate which Aldrich has never shown. Aldrich when he talks uses a conversational tone, and goes about it as if he were explaining something before the board of directors of a railroad. Gorman is never exactly conversational. There is always some little touch of mystery in everything he says, and his face is jesuitical in its inscrutability. Aldrich, on the other hand, is seemingly the most frank and confiding of men. One wonders how it can be that this smiling, easy-going, companionable fellow can have so many tricks up his sleeve.

New Railroad Station.

The ways are cleared already for the great Union station, which is to be completed for the 4th of March, 1905, and which will be when completed the finest thing of its kind in the world.

Plans for the New Depot

By contrast with the present wretched avenues of approach to Washington it will be almost inconceivably splendid.

The new station, which will be only a stone's throw from the capitol, will be built of white granite—a peculiarly white and dazzling stone, quarried at Bethel, Vt., which will surpass marble in architectural effect.

The station will face directly toward the dome of the capitol, and the entire facade will be clearly visible from the capitol steps at the end of the broad avenue. The architectural effects have been drawn from the triumphal arches of Rome. Sloping gently away from the building will be a plaza 500 feet wide and 3,000 feet long, adorned with balustrades and fountains, while there will be a terrace 100 feet wide surrounding the structure.

The station itself will be 620 feet long and from 65 to 120 feet in height. The three entrance arches, each 50 feet in height, will be on a scale far surpassing anything in Roman architecture. The waiting-rooms will be dreams of luxury compared with anything that has ever before been suggested for a railway station, and the dining-room will be equal to anything that can be found in a first-class hotel. There will be all sorts of unusual conveniences. One of these is an invalid's room, easily accessible from the street.

Another is a special entrance for the president of the United States. Besides there will be dressing rooms with baths and a Turkish bath and swimming pool. The entire cost of the station with approaches will be $14,000,000, of which the government pays $3,000,000.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

Shawl-like Fur Stoles—Black Velvet and Chiffon Velours.

One of the most novel walking costumes seen recently was of almond green cloth, trimmed with tiny green buttons. The coat was trimmed with four little capes, and the large sleeves appeared to be laid in successive folds after the fashion of the cape. The skirt of the coat was also trimmed at the lower edge with tucks, and the skirt proper was trimmed at the bottom with five similar folds. This skirt was very full and barely escaped the ground.

Some of the new stoles are much too wide and are likely to detract from one's height. The well dressed woman will take these matters into consideration and only choose what is in good proportion according to her height.

Black chiffon velours and velvet are the very smartest black materials. Black broadcloth is not seen so much this winter as formerly.

The wide lace collar and the fichu are godsends to the girl who must occasionally renovate her old frocks.

The illustration shows a gown of cream crepe de chine trimmed with shirring and having accordion plaited angel sleeves. JUDIC CHOLLET.

COSTLY WRAPS.

The All White Garment Has Lost Its Popularity.

So far as wraps are concerned brown and gray are the leading colors. The all white wrap is not so fashionable and is seen only in the evening.

There is a craze in Europe for all the deep shades of red, and these appear in chiffon and ordinary velvet, plain or spotted.

The new walking skirts are more trimmed than formerly and are stiffened at the bottom to give them that desirable flare. They are trimmed horizontally with folds and bands of stitched cloth. They are sometimes plaited vertically.

Loose sack coats of high-priced plushes, particularly in the crushed varieties, are very smart in gray, black and white. A rich coat of this gray plush with a narrow stole collar and gauntlet cuffs of ermine is a sumptuous garment, especially when lined with white satin and incrusted down the front with ecru lace motifs. It can be worn either open or closed and is suitable for many occasions.

Moleskin and ermine make a very fashionable combination in millinery. Shirred hats and muffs of chiffon velvet are worn to match with afternoon gowns.

There is a marked tendency toward the 1830 modes. Shoulders are being made long, and the sleeves puff more than ever below the elbow, while the additional fullness in skirts is marked. Then, too, we have the wide cape effects and big hats projecting over the face.

A great many dressy tailor mades are cut just to clear the ground without any dip whatever in the back.

The cut shows a plain shirt waist of fine cloth trimmed with tucks and three bands of fagoting.

THE HOLIDAY SEASON

How It Is Kept by Both Rich and Poor in Chicago.

WORK OF SOCIAL SETTLEMENTS

Salvation Army Provides Christmas Cheer for Many Thousands—The Public Stuff the Turkey—Festivities of Middle Classes.

Chicago.—As the holiday season draws near interests in the social settlements and the missions of every large city increases among the poor, for whose benefit they are maintained. It is at the social settlements and the missions that thousands of the city poor get their only taste of Christmas.

Miss Jane Addams

There are Christmas festivities and entertainments provided. Some even undertake to provide Christmas presents especially for the children, and Christmas dinners, either at home or at the settlement houses for the families. At practically all of the social settlement houses no discrimination is made so far as creed is concerned, and all are given an equal welcome without having any special religious teachings forced upon them. The same is true in the majority of mission churches and Sunday schools, though at times one will find one that is narrower than the general rule.

An instance of this kind may be cited in the poor district of the South side. A wealthy Michigan avenue congregation maintains a mission there attached to which is both a kindergarten and a sewing class as well as a Sunday school. The pastor of the church objects to any child receiving the benefit of the kindergarten who does not attend the Sunday school, or any mother receiving any benefit from the sewing circle who is not a regular attendant at the mission church. At this mission a Christmas entertainment is to be given, but it is for the members of the Sunday school only, and the other little waifs and strays of the neighborhood will not be permitted to view the festivities.

Hull House.

In the Ghetto district of the West side Hull House is the great rendezvous of the poor at Christmas time. Miss Jane Addams exerts a wider influence among the poor of Chicago than any other one person engaged in philanthropic work in the city, but she does nothing that is not practical for them. Every Christmas arrangement at Hull House is devised for practical purposes, and though the charities distributed through this great institution at this time of the year are manifold they are not indiscriminate.

Hull House

Hull House as it stands to-day, with its commodious buildings, its far-reaching influence, is a growth of a little more than 14 years. It is the product of an European trip by Miss Addams and Miss Ellen G. Starr. On that trip they studied conditions among the poor of Europe, and determined to do something for the poor of Chicago. They had nothing to start with but their own indomitable courage, but they rented one floor of a building—a ramshackle affair erected by Charles Hull in 1859, and in 1889 used by sweat shop proprietors, old clothes and old rag men—and here began attracting about them the poor and outcasts of society who needed the guidance of a stronger personality than their own to help them upward.

Miss Addams explains its object and its methods in this way: "It must be grounded in a philosophy whose foundation is on the solidarity of the human race, a philosophy which will not waver when the race happens to be represented by a drunken woman or an idiotic boy."

With such a foundation it is small wonder that Hull House is one of the bright lights of the Chicago holiday season.

The Salvation Army.

Of all the many organizations which work in His name for the poor of the city none are more appreciated or accomplish greater results than the Salvation Army.

Securing Stuffing for the Turkey

For days past a Salvation Army lassie has stood on every corner of the downtown streets holding a stick from which was suspended an artificial turkey, into which the public were invited to drop their spare change as "stuffing." The artificial turkey was emblematic of the use to which the money collected was to be put—the purchasing of a Christmas dinner for 10,000 or more of Chicago's poor. Nor is the dinner all that is to be given. The sad-faced child in whose life Christmas festivities do not come, is made happy by the present of a small toy. The thinly-clad boy or girl or man or woman is provided with some article of suitable clothing.

This is the one time in the year when the Army gives without demanding something in return. The rule of compensation for the assistance given at other times is dispensed with during this one day. It is a Christmas present in the full sense of the term that is received.

It was some five years ago that the Christmas dinner idea was first attempted on a large scale by the Army. At that time they undertook to feed 20,000 people in New York, and fed instead 50,000. From that the idea grew to a national effort, and last year it fed 300,000, ranging from 200,000 in New York to a few hundred, or even down to a few dozen in the smaller cities and towns.

Families are provided with basket dinners. Into each basket must go a turkey, cranberries, mince meat, flour, fruit, and in fact everything that goes to make a Christmas dinner. In cases where it is needed, the fuel to cook the dinner is supplied, and even the car fare needed to come and get the dinner is provided. The basket dinner idea is growing, and its growth is encouraged by the army. It not only provides a cheerfulness in an otherwise dreary home for the day, but it helps to maintain a feeling of self-respect on the part of the recipient as well. For the homeless, including the newsboys and other street waifs, the great public dinner, with its after entertainment, is one of the bright spots of the year.

Christmas Pleasures.

The Christmas festivities of those not dependent upon the charitable organizations for their share of seasonable cheer is varied. In the wealthy homes it is becoming more and more a day devoted to the children. The Chicago millionaire is a home lover, a family lover. On Christmas day the children and grandchildren are gathered about the home fireside, and the little ones are made happy with an over-abundance of costly toys. With this class the day is typical of the farm Christmas in many ways—it is a family reunion day.

Outdoor Christmas Pleasures

The middle classes take to the theaters in the afternoon and evening. The Christmas matinee is one of the most profitable performances of the year, and for the evening every house is sold out days ahead. Church entertainments provide amusement for thousands of others, and still others, especially the younger element, turn to outdoor sports.

Should Jack Frost fail to cover the park lakes with a heavy coating of ice it would spoil the Christmas pleasure of thousands. This is the most popular of outdoor winter sport in Chicago, because it is the most practical. There are no hills for coasting, though in some of the parks artificial toboggans are built. The middle classes are not owners of horses and sleighs, and the supply at the liveries are both limited and costly.

To no other city in America probably has the country contributed so large a percentage of the population, and back to the country go thousands for the holiday season, there to find a mirth and enjoyment that is not possible in the city, and in the foreign settlements the Christmas festivities are patterned after those of the fatherland.

Chicago Provincialism.

Chicago provincialism was illustrated to a Harvard man, direct from the effete east, during the recent stock show at the stock yards. It was the easterner's first visit to Chicago, and he came to believe most anything of the woolly west. Of course, he visited the stock show, and while there met two or three friends of his college days, now prominently connected with the packing industries of the city.

A Bit of Chicago Provincialism

"Let all of us go in over here and have a drink together for the sake of college days," said one of the Chicago friends, pointing to a small saloon across the street.

It was not a commodious place, and there was nothing for it but to line up against the bar and drink.

"What will it be?" asked the Chicagoan.

"Is it possible to secure an old-fashioned cocktail?" asked the Harvard man, with trepidation, after looking about the place.

"Whisky can't go in this crowd," retured his friend. "Champagne isn't half good enough. Give us a quart of it, Mike."

The bartender opened up the bottle just as though he was used to it, and he is, and the trio disposed of two or three of them before quitting, but the Harvard man pronounced that the lilit when he told me of it.

"Drinking champagne, of genuine French vintage at that, over a stock yards bar," said he. "Why, I wouldn't have believed it, even of Chicago, if I hadn't been there myself. Such a proceeding is wilder and woollier than anything I ever dreamed of."

But drinking champagne over a bar is an every day occurrence in Chicago.

LAWS TO BE REVISED

President Roosevelt Determined to Save Public Lands.

Commission Appointed to Determine What Ground There Is for Divergence in Opinion Regarding Repeal of Statutes.

President Roosevelt has appointed a commission, which includes Commissioner William A. Richards, of the general land office, Mr. F. H. Newell, chief engineer of the United States' reclamation land service, and Prof. Gifford Pinchot, to consider in detail all the land laws of the United States and determine what ground there is for the wide divergence of opinion concerning the repeal of the present laws and the need of prompt consideration by the government of the questions involved.

This is regarded as an important step in advance and the appointments have been most heartily commended. The powers of the commission have been made almost unlimited, as far as the character of the investigation will permit. It is the determination of the president to permit nothing to interfere with a careful and exhaustive investigation of this question, which has been more or less uppermost in the interior department for many years. The diversity of laws relating to the public lands and the peculiar and distinct conditions in different sections of the country, making laws beneficial in some sections hardships in others, have caused an urgent necessity for some codification of the statutes now on the books and a general rearrangement to fit the conditions.

The commission has been requested to report upon the effect and condition of all the present land laws, and especially what changes in organization, laws, disposal and settlement would be the greatest benefit to the entire mass of present and prospective land holders. The desire of the president first is to effect the largest practicable disposition of public lands to actual settlers who will build permanent homes on their holdings; second, to secure in perpetuity the fullest and most complete use of public lands, and, third, to make such other suggestions and recommendations as the questions that come up in the consideration of these two problems may suggest. The commission is authorized to avail itself of every means to obtain the information it desires. It is charged with a full and free examination of all records of the government and of all the executive departments, especially the records and papers of the department of justice, the general land office and its branches, the reclamation service and the bureau of forestry.

WILLIAM A. RICHARDS.
(Commissioner of the General Land Office at Washington.)

Commissioner Richards, who will be chairman of the commission, is probably one of the best equipped men in the country to deal with questions relating to the land laws. He is one of the western pioneers, and has had wide experience as an official of the government in the execution and administration of the land laws. As surveyor general of the land office for Wyoming and as state surveyor and land officer both in Wyoming, Colorado and California, as governor of Wyoming and as assistant commissioner and finally commissioner of the general land office, his experience is such that he cannot but be one of the most valuable men in the country for the position. Gov. Richards is at present in California, attending at the bedside of his sick daughter. It is not probable that he will be able to come east until after the first of January.

Mr. F. H. Newell, the second member of the commission, has given many years to the study and development of the irrigation problem, and has been particularly interested in the development and cultivation of the vast tracts of arid lands in the western country. His familiarity with the conditions as they exist and of the land laws is unquestioned, and his ability as an engineer makes him an aid of more than ordinary value to his associates on the board.

Prof. Pinchot, chief of the bureau of forestry of the department of agriculture, is a national authority on timber and timber lands. He has been an invaluable aid to the officers of the land office in the settlement of questions arising in the timber lands, and is familiar with all the land laws and their effect.

Brass Band Kills a Mule.

Some deadly music was discoursed by a theatrical brass band in Jackson, Mississippi. To advertise the show, the band paraded the streets. A mule stiffened its ears as it heard the wails from the brass band, dropped to the earth and gave up the ghost. The theatrical manager settled a claim made by the owner of the dead mule.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The Y. M. C. A. bowling five will play the Saengerbund team on the Y. M. C. A. alleys next Wednesday, January 13. It will be the third match in a series, each team having won one on its own alleys.

George Whitley, of Essex street, a member of the local Y. M. C. A. bowling five, severely hurt one finger of his right hand Thursday night, one of the heavy balls on the alleys of the Saturday Night Club, of Westfield, catching it in the rack. The finger was badly mashed but, by good fortune, no bones were broken.

BASKET BALL.

The Y. M. C. A. basket ball team will practice tonight in preparation for Monday night's game with the New Brunswick Y. M. C. A., in the local gymnasium. Monday, Jan. 13, the Newark Y. M. C. A. five will be Plainfield's opponents, the game to be played here.

The Y. M. C. A. first basket ball team will play New Brunswick Y. M. C. A. in the local gymnasium Monday. Director Heywood has made a special request for more men to turn out for practise as otherwise the team cannot expect to make a satisfactory showing in the New Brunswick and later games.

DISPUTE WITH UMPIRE.

William Higgins, formerly of this city, has been engaged by the National League as an umpire. He is now an employe of "Kid" McCoy, of New York.

Through Trolley.

The Trenton Terminal Railway Company succeeded today in effecting an amicable agreement for the lands near Trenton that are needed to join the tracks of the Camden and Trenton and the Trenton and New Brunswick trolley lines. This joining of the two systems will, when completed, form a continuous traction route between Philadelphia and New York, passing through this city. It is thought the work of bringing the two lines together will consume not more than two or three weeks after the weather becomes more moderate.

Untrue Report.

Reports have been in circulation throughout Fanwood township and Scotch Plains that William Roulston, who died at the home of Mrs. Noah Terry on January 1, was frozen to death, the result of neglect. This is untrue. Mr. Roulston's death was due to hemorrhage of the stomach.

HER MISSION IS TO SAVE PLAINFIELD

Mrs. O'Brien Had a Vision, She Says, and Now She Devotes Her Time Here.

TO VISIT CITY SALOONS

RUM HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR FIRE IN SAENGERBUND HALL.

Woman's Rights As Compared With Those of Mere Man—Condemns Theatres and Dancing—Cause of Chicago Fire.

Mrs. O'Brien, the evangelist of Easton, Pa., who has been conducting a series of revival meetings at the Rescue Mission, made a violent speech before a big crowd at the mission last night. She talked about women's rights and showed up strongly the faults of mere man. She attacked the saloons, dancing, theatres, etc., making the assertion that if the people of Chicago had not been wicked in going to the theatre the Iroquois disaster would not have happened. If the Saengerbund Hall people in North Plainfield had not wickedly run a barroom in their hall it would not have burned, she announced.

Mrs. O'Brien said she was proud she was a woman. She denied that she had anything to do with Carrie Nation but promised to pay her respects to the saloon keepers in town some fine night. Referring to the fact that she had been wrongfully questioned by the local police upon her arrival in town several weeks ago, she said that, as a result, she had in a vision been commanded to labor among the wicked people of Plainfield.

Accused Lawyer.

When the case of William H. Waldron against Winfield S. Angleman was called in the County Circuit Court the defendant stated that a settlement had been made and a retraxit executed. Waldron's counsel stated that the alleged settlement was made when the plaintiff was in the last stages of intoxication, the means having been procured by the defendant. The defendant denied this. The court suggested that the proper remedy was a rule to show cause.

Democrats Postpone Meeting.

No meeting of the Democratic city committee was held last night. It will probably take place next week. The county Democratic committee will meet in Elizabeth Monday night when it will organize and transact business.

RETAIL LIQUOR MAN AGAINST HIGH FEE

Arguments Advanced by a Cafe Manager Who Opposes Increase of Fee to $1,000.

REMEDY HE PROPOSES

SALOONS KEEPERS SHOULD NOT BE ALLOWED TO SELL TO DRUNKARDS.

Suggests That List be Kept in Police Court of All Convicted of Being Intoxicated—Crusade to Stop Sale of Poor Liquor.

The reasons why the retail liquor dealers in this city are not in favor of a $1,000 liquor license were given today by one of the leading cafe managers in this city to a reporter for The Daily Press. "Higher license," said he, "will work more damage than if the licenses were granted at the present rate, because the profits of the liquor dealers here are not what people think they are and they cannot afford to pay $250 more a year, without selling inferior wines, which do more real damage to liquor drinkers than the pure stock which is generally sold here at present."

A liquor store in Plainfield is not a gold mind, according to the statement of this man. Saloons depend on their patronge from the working men. Plainfield people, who use wines on their tables, generally buy their stock in New York. This is true of at least one-half of the drinking people here. It is proved by the large number of demijohns which are purchased each week by the dealers in this city. These bear the names of New York department stores and the "empties" are purchased in quantities from the homes of well-to-do residents, and from junkmen at the rate of a hundred a week in some seasons of the year, especially during the winter, for that is the time when the man-of-the-house enjoys his "appetizer," "night cap," "morning bracer" and "social bumper."

"The Newark Evening News in a recent edition," the saloon proprietor said, "had an article in which it said that there was one saloon in this city to every 1,285 people. This cannot be figured in this way. It must be considered that out of Plainfield's population only one-half enters a saloon. This city has a population of 17,000, which includes men, women and children. Taking, for example, 15,000 persons in this city, perhaps but one out of every five indulges in spiritous liquors and of the remaining 2,000 there is about one-half that number who patronize the saloon; the other half buy their supply in New York. That leaves only 1,500 people in this city to patronize the liquor dealers. There are thirty-one saloons and hotels in Plainfield, and this leaves one saloon to every forty men."

Continuing the cafe manager said: "In Orange the license is, I believe, $300. In Newark it is only $250 and in New Brunswick it is only $150. Those places cannot be compared with Plainfield. In those towns there are manufacturing interests which are of a different class from those in Plainfield. A different class of labor is employed and consequently the consumption of liquor is greater. High license in those towns would be well enough, perhaps, but in this city it is different.

"I think the best way to fight the liquor traffic as it is called," said he, "is to begin inside the saloon and in the police court. The fight cannot be successfully waged unless the aid of the police is secured and it cannot be downed by fighting outside the liquor store. First secure pure goods, which should be enforced by the crusaders through the Board of Health and then have a system of blacklisting on which are the names of the men who spend all their earnings in saloons instead of supporting their families. Each time a man is brought up in the police court for drunkenness, or for non-support, his name should be added to the list and posted in each barroom in the city. The police should then see that the blacklisting is strictly carried out. If a blacklisted man secures liquor from a go-better, the alleged friend should be amendable to the law by a heavy fine. That, in my opinion, is the only way the temperance cause can be fought successfully."

GERMANS TO REBUILD HALL

GESANG AND TURN VEREIN DECIDE TO ERECT A BETTER BUILDING.

The Gesang and Turn Verein met in a business session yesterday afternoon in the old North Plainfield Democratic headquarters on Somerset street and discussed relative to the adjusting of the insurance and of rebuilding the structure. The members favor constructing another and better house on the same site. The nomination and election of officers was postponed until Thursday night.

President William Gardner was in the chair. A committee was appointed to thank the firemen of both the city and borough, as well as Henry Rummell, John Betzer and Rudolph Kersting, who saved valuable property. The committee consists of Henry Haurand, Fred J. Huff and Charles Dresselt. A letter from former President Charles Maass, now of Somerville, in which he congratulated the organization on the fact that the flag and other property were saved and expressed his sorrow over the fact that the organization suffered such a heavy loss was read. Henry Haurand was authorized to assist the trustees in making the insurance adjustments.

RANDOLPH G. SILVERS BURIED

REV. DR. J. A. CHAMBLISS AND REV. G. M. SHOTT OFFICIATED.

The funeral services of Randolph G. Silvers, a well-known resident of North Plainfield, were held from the late home, 112 Westervelt avenue, Saturday afternoon. There was present a large company of friends who had known Mr. Silvers for a number of years. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which the dead man was a member. The excellent Christian qualities of the dead man, his devotion to his church and his quiet unassuming ways were referred to in the remarks by Dr. Chambliss. The interment took place in the Baptist church cemetery, Scotch Plains, where Rev. G. M. Shott, the pastor of the Baptist church, in that place, officiated.

COURT PLAINFIELD'S AFFAIR

WILLARD DRAMATIC CLUB TO FURNISH ENTERTAINMENT FOR FORESTERS.

Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order of Foresters, will entertain its friends royally next Friday night, January 15, with the assistance of the members of the Willard Dramatic Club. A programme of dramatic sketches and specialties will be presented at the Casino which it is expected will eclipse all previous efforts of the order in the line of entertainment.

The programme will open with a presentation of "Rooney's Restaurant," an Irish farce comedy in one act of the side-splitting variety. The parts will be taken by members of the Willard Dramatic Club, including Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Willard in the leading parts, Miss Ethel Reynolds, Miss Bertha Toms, F. Mortimer Slater, Fred Finnegan and Fred Long.

A number of specialties will follow. Joseph Loughead and Fred Finnegan will give a negro plantation sketch that will be an effective mirth-maker and the Misses Rothberg and Rothstein will dance a French dance that will rouse admiration. Master Harold Willard, about whose talents columns of flattering newspaper criticisms have been written, will appear as an "infant Irish comedian."

A. E. Willard will present a monologue sketch, "Hey, Rube, just come to town" and Fred Finnegan will deal out some choice humor in the Dutch dialect. Mrs. A. E. Willard will appear in a fire dance which will be one of the prettiest acts of the evening.

Illustrated songs by William Jeffery and a farce, "Who Died First," as presented by the talented comedians, Bertram Firstbrook and Matthew D. Sweeney, will complete the dramatic part of the programme. There will be violin solos by F. Frank Malin, of this city, formerly a leading soloist of Philadelphia and mandolin solos by Miss Claribel Jeffery, of Newark.

The committee from the Foresters in charge of the affair consists of Otto Moor, D. C. Patterson, James Smith, Henry Hansen and James Patterson. At the close of the entertainment there will be dancing with music by Suhr's orchestra.

—A. C. Hoagland, of Hill & Shupp's store, has returned from a pleasure and business trip to Ocean Grove.

Winfield S. Jimerson, a builder and contractor of Westfield, formerly of Plainfield, was attacked by one of his Italian laborers at Cranford, Saturday afternoon and knocked senseless by a blow upon the head with a pick-axe. Jimerson had just finished paying off the men and had turned to climb upon his wagon when he was struck down. He has not recovered consciousness. It is said that one Italian was paid more than the man who was the assailant and that the murderous assault was made for this reason. Mr. Jimerson is the son of Aaron Jimerson, of East Sixth street, and has many other relatives here.

BURGLAR SUCCEEDS IN MAKING HAULS

House of Albert Lederer Entered and $250 in Jewelry and Money Stolen.

NO CLUE TO WORK UPON

BOOTY TAKEN FROM A WEST FRONT STREET HOUSE.

Supposed to be Deed of One Man Who is Operating in Plainfield and North Plainfield—Entrance Made in Each Case by a Window.

Someone who is an adept at the art of pilfering has been following his favorite occupation for the past few weeks in different parts of the city and borough with more or less successful results.

Last night the house at 655 West Front street, occupied by a family named Perry, was entered about 9 o'clock through a front window and a child's watch and revolver stolen. The thief was evidently frightened before he had the opportunity to seize more, leaving in an apparent hurry by jumping from a back window. The family left the house at 2 yesterday afternoon and did not return until about 10 o'clock at night.

The house of Albert Lederer, on Fairview avenue, was also entered by burglars last night shortly after 8 o'clock and $250 worth of jewelry and some money taken. Entrance was secured through prying open a front window. The intruder selected articles of gold and diamonds, leaving the silverware. He secured a valuable gold watch and broke open two baby's banks, containing about $18. One man is thought to have operated in borough and city.

She spoke of the greatness of God's gift of His Son to the world and of the necessity for man's acceptance of the gift for his eternal peace. Miss Wray appeared a natural orator, speaking with earnest eloquence and aptness of illustration.

BOROUGHITES CLAMOR FOR A NEW SCHOOL

Congested Condition Compels the Authorities to Resort to Half-Time System.

THE ACTUAL SITUATION

DIFFICULTIES UNDER WHICH TEACHERS AND PUPILS WORK AT PRESENT.

To be Worse Than Ever After February 1—Both Somerset and Watchung Schools Overcrowded—Conditions as Seen by a Reporter.

A new problem has arisen in North Plainfield in accommodating the school children in that vicinity, and parents are being stared in the face with the prospect of having their children placed on the school roll on "part time," as thousands of children in New York receive their education today. The crowded condition of the borough schools will be made much worse after February 1 when the semi-annual promotions will take place.

That a new school building is sorely needed, and wanted at once is seen from the fact that in the school today there are in each class at least three "floating pupils"—children who have no regular seats, but who locate in the seat of an absent pupil one day; is perched up on a chair, with his slate and book on his knee for a desk during another session; or takes the best seating space he can get, the third day. When the present grade pupils are promoted at the first of the month and new ones come into the lower grades a more serious congestion will take place in the Somerset street school. The same is quite as true of the Watchung school.

It is being said by some in North Plainfield that the need of a new school building is greatly exaggerated. It is claimed that the Somerset street school seats 1,000 children. This is erroneous. The high school building has accommodations for only 700. It is claimed that there are class room accommodations for fifty. The class rooms in the North Plainfield schools are small and will only accommodate thirty-five. A visit to the school was made by a reporter for The Daily Press this morning and the congested condition and the difficulties under which the teachers and scholars work, were plainly evident.

THE GREATEST GIFT.

Rev. Dr. Schenck Draws a Lesson From the Love of God for the World.

Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck preached an excellent sermon at Trinity Reformed church yesterday morning on the subject "God's Free Gift." He began by referring to the spirit of giving that is universal at Christmas time, and that is in practically every instance characterized by good and pure motives. He then revealed how much greater than the gift of parents to their children or the love of parents for their children is the gift of God and the love of God as expressed in his gift of his son to the world.

DR. ROSS PREACHED HERE.

Pittsburg Minister Occupied Grace M. E. Pulpit Yesterday morning.

Rev. Dr. Heward B. Ross, assistant pastor of the Metropolitan Temple, New York, preached yesterday morning at Grace M. E. church. Rev. Dr. Ross is from Pittsburg and was a college mate of Dr. Earp's when he was at the Drew Theological Seminary. Rev. Dr. E. L. Earp, of Grace M. E. church, conducted the services at St. Luke's M. E. church in Newark yesterday morning as substitute for Rev. Dr. Clarence Wilson. Dr. Earp preached a sermon on the "Implications and Limitations of Prayer," in the evening.

A Possession From New Possession.

City Treasurer William F. Arnold is the proud possessor of a split bamboo straw hat, the gift of an army officer in the Philippine Islands, in acknowledgement of kind services performed by Mr. Arnold to a member of the army officer's family. The hat is made of split bamboo and weighs 1¼ ounces. Mr. Arnold is in a quandary whether to wear the headgear this summer or to hang it up as an object of curiosity.

Tests for Promotions.

The final tests in the North Plainfield schools began today preparatory to the semi-annual promotions. The probabilities are that there will be an unusually large number of promotions this year on account of the large number of entering children.

MRS. BROWN'S SECOND TEA

MISS HELEN LOUISE BROWN INTRODUCED TO PLAINFIELD SOCIETY.

The second and last tea given by Mrs. Irving Brown, of Central avenue, at which her daughter, Miss Helen Louise Brown, was introduced to Plainfield society, was a charming affair of Saturday afternoon. The weather conditions of a week ago kept many from attending the first tea, but fully one hundred and fifty society folk were present on Saturday, between the hours of 4 and 7. The color scheme was pink, there being pink roses in the dining room and reception hall, while in the sitting room American Beauty roses were used.

Mrs. Irving Brown, Miss Helen Louise Brown, Mrs. Brown's sister, Mrs. Julius J. H. Seymour, of New York, and her niece, Mrs. W. B. De Haven, of Plainfield, received, assisted by Mrs. W. E. Lowe, Mrs. F. O. Herring, Mrs. John B. Dumont, Mrs. R. H. Booth, of Plainfield, and Miss S. E. Brown, of New York.

The young women assisting were Miss Agnes Strong, Miss Charlotte Lowe, Miss Harriett Goddard, of Plainfield, and Miss May Billings, of New York.

WITHOUT FAITH, NOTHING

SUBJECT OF THE VERY REV. DR. W. L. ROBBINS' INSPIRING SERMON.

An admirable sermon on "Faith" was delivered in Grace Episcopal church last night by the Very Rev. Dr. W. L. Robbins, dean of the General Theological Seminary, who as a preacher, is most eloquent and convincing in argument. His theme last night was thoughtfully and cogently treated. He showed that faith is something more than make-believe. He likened it to the ideal of beauty, the idea that there is a possible perfection in art—that inspires an artist to his best work. He said that without faith no great work was ever accomplished and that no man without faith or confidence in himself ever did anything worth while. He revealed the inestimable results for good of a religious conviction, and a faith in Jesus Christ as the son of God.

CHRISTIAN SCHEPFLIN GOES TO HIS REWARD

Plainfield Clothing Manufacturer Passes Away at His Home in Dunellen.

FATHER OF THAT PLACE

FOR MANY YEARS ENGAGED IN BUSINESS IN THIS CITY.

Came to America in 1847—Located Here in 1868—Prospered and Then Overtaken by Misfortune—Prominent in Dunellen.

In the death of Christian Schepflin, which occurred yesterday morning at 10:30 at his home in Dunellen, there is removed one of the best known citizens of that place and one, who for the past thirty-five years, has been prominently identified with the business interests of Plainfield. He was stricken with apoplexy on December 31, and from that time until his death he was in an unconscious state. Every known medical device was used to restore Mr. Schepflin to consciousness, but to no avail.

Mr. Schepflin was born in Germany in 1826 and he came to this country when he was twenty-one years old. At first he secured employment as foreman in the clothing establishment of the late Mr. Baldwin in New York, where he remained until 1868, when he came to Plainfield. He soon afterward made his home in Dunellen and at the same time there was organized the clothing firm of Schepflin, Baldwin, Tweedy & Co. The business was carried on for some time at the corner of Front and Grove streets. In the winter of 1870 the place was destroyed by fire, which was the largest conflagration in the history of Plainfield up to that time. The firm then rebuilt on the same site, where for years a flourishing and successful wholesale clothing business was conducted, the goods being sold in all parts of the country.

In later years Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Tweedy died and Mr. Schepflin continued the business, at one time as Schepflin & Schultz, then as C. Schepflin & Co. He met with reverses and at the time of his death was in moderate circumstances.

At Dunellen Mr. Schepflin was known as the "Father of the Borough," it being through his efforts that it became such. He served for years in the Council, School Board and as a member of the directors of the Building and Loan Association in that place. He was universally known as generous and public spirited man and always a friend to the poor. When he possessed wealth he never turned a deaf ear to any worthy charity or one seeking aid.

Through the Middlesex Bowling Green Club he became prominent. He organized this club and was each year elected its president. During the season, for years, the club met at his home frequently and would bowl on the handsome greens there, after which entertainment was always provided. Mr. Schepflin was a lover of fine art and included in his collections were some exceeding rare paintings by well-known masters. Some of these were sold a few years ago, but there is still a good sized collection remaining.

Mr. Schepflin is survived by a widow and an adopted son, Peter Schultz, formerly of Plainfield, but now of New York.

The funeral services will be held from the late residence tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Frank Fletcher, of the New Market Baptist church, will officiate.

AMUSEMENTS.

The engagement of William A. Brady's celebrated rural play continues at the Academy of Music, New York. The last performance will be given on Saturday night, Jan. 23. The 300th performance of the play at the Academy will be given tomorrow night, and the occasion will be made memorable by the distribution of souvenirs. Season after season it has gone to the same cities—Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis and other places—and with each succeeding visit its takings have increased. The natural deduction is that it is a play that the masses and the classes want. The same people go to see "'Way Down East" again and again. The so-called city folk who originally came from the rural districts, seem to find keen pleasure in being carried back, by a series of beautiful stage pictures to scenes of youthful days.

There has been nothing so far for intensity of purpose, realism in action or fidelity to locale that can equal Denman Thompson and Geo. W Ryer's "Our New Minister," the latest product of "The Old Homestead" authors, which has completely captured and brought all New York to its feet at the American Theatre, where it is now in its second month. As a success it is simply sweeping everything before it, it is certainly the most talked of play of the day and has set the theatrical world by the ears. One sits down to this play as he would to a good dinner. The heartiness and wholesomeness of the characters, the New England setting, in which simple country life is so excellently portrayed, together with the theme of the play itself, the right fighting against the evil, charity displacing bigotry—these are among the things that give the performance its human quality and cause it to appeal to all. The character studies are delightful creations, strong and convincing, and thoroughly in keeping with their surroundings. Ernest Hastings, Joseph Conyers, Charles Stedman, John Barker, Louise Fierce, John P. Brown, Fred Mower, Grant Foreman, W. O. Tanner, Grace Hanson, Clara Rainford and Phila May make up what is practically an all star cast. Tonight will occur the fiftieth performance in New York, on which occasion elegant souvenirs will be distributed to the ladies.

LITERARY.

There is a striking article in the January Leslie's Monthly on the Gambling Spirit,—the poison that pervades our modern American life,—with portraits of W. C. Whitney, Keene, Canfield, Yerkes, Al. Adams and others, and also the first chapter of the experience of a special correspondent of the magazine who lived in sicily with a peasant family and emigranted with them to America, with the object of investigating that side of our emigration problem. The number gives a large amount of space to the automobile, with a series of explanatory articles by experts, and an illustrated catalogue of the pleasure vehicles now on the American market. There are nine short stories, business, society, automobile, political, dramatic and humorous ones, with another chapter of "A Few Real Boys" and a most amusing sketch by Charles Battell Loomis, called "Miss Flatterly, on What is Doing." There are twenty items in all on the contents page.

FIFTY LIVES LOST.

Tidamer Clallam Sank Near Victoria, and Boats Capsized.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Jan. 11.—Fifty lives have been lost by the sinking of the fine new steamer Clallam in a storm that swept over the strait of Juan de Fuca with relentless fury.

Disaster for the Clallam was predicted at her launching last April, when the bottle of champagne did not break, but fell and slid along the side of the vessel.

The Clallam was within twenty minutes of her dock in Victoria when she broke down. Little fear was manifested until word came from below that the ship was leaking. Investigation showed that the waves on the windward side had stove in a dead light, through which the water rushed in volumes, resisting all efforts to stop it.

At once the safety of the passengers, particularly the women and children, was looked after, and all who desired were put off from the steamer in the ship's boats. The heavily laden boats were thrown about wildly in the choppy sea and one after another after getting away from the vessel were either capsized or swamped.

Swaney a Wreck Victim.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 11. — Homer H. Swaney, one of the victims of the steamer Clallam wreck, was a former prominent iron and steel man of this county and was on his way to Victoria to complete the purchase of some iron mines in which a number of local capitalists were interested. About five years ago Mr. Swaney and a syndicate from here erected a plant at Irondale, near Port Townsend, Wash., and the company put up the first blast furnace on the Pacific coast.

SHOT HIS WIFE.

William H. Day Took Revenge For Being Fired Out.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 11.—William H. Day of Northampton has shot his wife in the railroad station of this city as the result of domestic infelicity. Mrs. Day is proprietress of a lunch room in this city, which her husband managed until a few months ago, when he went to work in New Haven. He visited her at her Northampton home, and, according to his own words, she fired him out.

They arranged to separate and to let him have possession of their little boy. She promised to bid the boy goodby in the station. At this meeting Day asked her if she still persisted, and upon her statement that she did he fired one shot at her. The bullet entered her shoulder and was afterward extracted by Dr. T. F. Breck.

The husband was promptly arrested by Patrolman John McCormick. Day had but one bullet in his revolver and so could not carry out his evident intention to kill her.

Movements of Colombian Troops.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—A dispatch to the navy department from Rear Admiral Coghlan, commanding the American naval forces on the Atlantic side of the isthmus of Panama, says that a sailing vessel which has just arrived at Colon reports the arrival of 300 Colombian troops at St. Andrew's island. This island is off the coast of Nicaragua, but is a dependency of Colombia. Admiral Coghlan says this information confirms that which he had previously in regard to the report of the landing of these troops. It is believed that the troops were those which left the mouth of the Atrato river some time ago bound for the north. It is believed they went to St. Andrew's island to put down a secession movement which, it was announced, had assumed some shape there.

Jean Leon Gerome Dead.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—Jean Leon Gerome, the painter and sculptor, is dead here. He was born at Vesoul in 1824. M. Gerome was present at the dinner of the members of the institute on the day previous. He conversed gayly, but his friends noticed that his features were drawn and advised him to retire early. At 9 o'clock yesterday morning his valet entered his bedroom and, finding him apparently asleep, withdrew. The valet returned an hour later, and, seeing that M. Gerome's position was unchanged, he shook him gently and found that he was dead. Among M. Gerome's latest productions were allegorical figures representing "Labor," which he executed for Charles M. Schwab, the American steel magnate.

Smallpox at Salamanca.

SALAMANCA, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Upward of thirty persons at West Salamanca are suffering from a disease which has been diagnosed by a Buffalo physician, an authority, as smallpox, and the city health officials are taking steps to establish a quarantine between the two villages, while the West Salamanca health officer is quarantining all cases. In all but three or four cases the disease is in a mild form.

Was Suffocated and Burned.

WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 11.—A special from Barre says that James Murphy, aged seventy-five, was suffocated and then burned in a fire that destroyed a twelve room house over 100 years old and a poultry and horse shed here. Dr. George A. Brown says his loss is $3,000.

Sudden Death of Rev. James P. Foy.

CHINA THREATENED

Russian Troops to Occupy Peking Unless She Is Neutral.

GERMANY AND DREIBUND STAND PAT

Great Masses of Russian Troops Are Being Concentrated In Manchuria and on the Frontier of Korea to the Number of 200,000.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—A cable from Tientsin says that the Russian government has sent to the Chinese government a threat that Russia would immediately occupy Peking should China join forces with Japan. As a result the grand council has advised the throne to adopt a policy of neutrality.

A report from Tokyo says: "Since the trouble with Russia commenced the Japanese army has evinced the greatest loyalty and devotion to the emperor, the mikado, and on the occasion of the late review he was loudly cheered by all arms of his troops."

A Berlin dispatch says it has been learned on the highest authority that it has been decided in the event of war between Russia and Japan that Germany will maintain a strict neutrality and that other members of the dreibund will observe a similar attitude.

The importance of this decision cannot be easily overestimated. It will in a measure insure that hostilities will be confined to the two powers concerned, and it will be certain to give a great stimulus to the efforts which France and Great Britain are making in St. Petersburg and Tokyo respectively in favor of peace.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says the mass of Russian troops in the far east are being concentrated at Vladivostok or on the northern frontier of Korea.

A military authority has estimated that between 100,000 and 200,000 soldiers are in the vicinity of Vladivostok. He surmises that the Russians will occupy northern Korea, but does not expect a collision for a month or more when taking into consideration distances and the difficulties of marching.

The St. Petersburg press urges the necessity of opposing a pan-European alliance to a pan-Asiatic alliance of the yellow race against the white race, which is at the point of ripening under a Japanese hegemony.

A telegram from Port Arthur says that the United States and Japan are urging the immediate ratification of their respective treaties with China. In view of the probability that Russia will not consent to the opening of certain ports in Manchuria the Chinese foreign office is placed in a difficult position.

A cablegram from Rome says that the Russian warships sighted between Genoa and Spezzia are believed to be spying on and following the Japanese cruisers Niasin and Kasaga, which have just left for the far east.

Some unknown persons attempted to set the Niasin on fire by tampering with the electrical appliances before the ships sailed. The police authorities have begun an inquiry into the matter.

Dispatches from Manchuria are to the effect that there is great military activity there. The railroads are bringing troops from Russia, and the women and children at Port Arthur and Newchwang are preparing to leave. The Russian general at Newchwang has been called to Port Arthur for service.

Every steamer for Japan is carrying the Japanese from north China who belong to the reserves.

The Japanese censorship of military news gives opportunity for all kinds of rumors here, one of which is that Japanese troops have been landed at Fusan, Korea.

Referring to the interest of the United States in the situation, the Novoe Vremya of St. Petersburg says:

"Undoubtedly the United States, above all other powers, can confidently expect that its trade will not suffer by Russian possession of Manchuria, and it would be tactless on America's part to demand now what she could gain peacefully when everything quiets down."

Japanese Cruisers at Pozzuoli.

NAPLES, Jan. 11.—The Japanese cruisers Niasin and Kasaga arrived at Pozzuoli and embarked heavy artillery and four torpedo tubes. The warships then sailed for an unknown destination.

Man Killed, Wife Fatally Hurt.

LATROBE, Pa., Jan. 11.—Charles Capatoni was instantly killed and his wife probably fatally injured at the Bradenville crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad. The couple were sleighriding, and while crossing the tracks at this point a freight train rounded the curve and struck the sleigh, killing Capatoni instantly and hurling his wife over a twenty-five foot embankment. Mrs. Capatoni's legs were both broken, and she is internally injured.

RESPONSE TO REYES

Hay Again Refuses to Reopen Panama Question.

GENERAL IS WANTED AT BOGOTA

Suggestion Has Been Made That There Be a Reunion of the Two Governments, Panama to Control the Canal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Secretary Hay has sent another communication to General Rafael Reyes, the Colombian envoy, in response to his protest against the action of the United States regarding affairs on the isthmus of Panama. While state department officials decline to make any specific statement as to its nature, it is understood that in a general way it follows the lines laid down in the reply to General Reyes' first note, which practically declines to reopen the Panama question.

General Reyes' second note differed in some important respects from that first sent by him to the state department. The first contained a general statement of the grievances, important and minor, which Colombia asserts she has suffered as a result of the interpretation placed by the United States on the treaty of 1846. This note also, while not specifically making a protest, by its very nature involved the presentation of one later on. The second communication, to which an answer was returned Saturday, dealt with considerable detail on certain specific points regarded as highly important and meriting special consideration and presented an emphatic formal protest against the action of the United States in Panama matters. Secretary Hay's answer, it is said, follows the lines of the recent message of President Roosevelt to congress on the Panama question justifying the steps taken by the United States government on the subject.

General Reyes is ready to leave the city at any time for Colombia, where his personal and political interests require his attention. It was said that he might leave this country within the next ten days, but no information was obtainable from General Reyes on that subject, as he declined to see newspaper reporters on the plea that he was very busy. From the standpoint of the state department there is no reason why he should hasten his departure, as he might very well remain and render considerable service to his country. The suggestion has been made that possibly he might remain and make an effort to open diplomatic relations with the republic of Panama through its representative here for the adjustment of such questions as the assumption by Panama of a portion of the exterior debt of Colombia. Some suggestion also has been made, though not officially, of a reunion of the two governments under the name of the republic of Colombia, Panama to have an autonomous government, with absolute authority to deal with all questions relating to the control of canal matters.

Confessed Two Murders.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 11.—John M. Shockley has made a full confession of the murder of Motorman Gleason and Conductor Brighton, who were shot and killed by a lone highwayman who attempted to rob their car. In his confession Shockley declares he had no intention of killing his victims, but they put up such a vigorous fight when he attempted to rob them that he was forced to shoot them in self defense. After the tragedy, he says, he contemplated suicide, but his nerve failed him when he put his pistol to his head. Shockley says he is heir to considerable property, and he wants to sign this over without reserve to aid the families of his victims.

Yale Law Professor Dead.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 11.—Hon. Francis Wayland, LL. D., formerly dean of the Yale Law school and professor of English constitutional law in the university, is dead. In 1869-70 Professor Wayland was lieutenant governor of Connecticut when the late Marshall Jewell of Hartford was governor. His father, Francis Wayland, was president of Brown university. He was seventy years of age. His wife survives him.

Langley Still Has Hopes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Professor Langley and his assistants expect to be able to complete the airship, twice launched and twice wrecked, in time for its entrance in the flying machine competition at the St. Louis exposition. Although Professor Langley and his corps of experts have repeatedly declined to discuss the matter, it has been learned that the inventor has decided to enter the contest for the prize offered.

Almost Another Horror.

VIENNA, Jan. 11.—Fire broke out in the Chemney theater at Gross Wardein, Hungary, during a performance to a crowded house. The fire brigade outside speedily extinguished the blaze, the audience not being aware of its danger. An inspection made subsequently showed that all the emergency exits were locked and the keys missing.

Third Victim Dead.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 11.—W. E. Weaver, who was overcome by gas in the house at Glassport in which Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cummings lost their lives, died at the McKeesport hospital last night. Mr. Weaver had been kept alive by heart stimulants and oygen, but did not regain consciousness.

Steamer Sank Near Satartia.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Jan. 11.—The steamer Reese Pritchard, from here for Yazoo City, struck a snag and sank near Satartia. No lives were lost. An effort will be made to raise her.

PERILS OF THE SEA

Atlantic Liners Suffer From Heavy Gales In Midocean.

BRAVE OFFICER'S DARING ATTEMPT

La Savoie Struck by a Tremendous Wave That Smashed Her Bulkhead—Santos-Dumont, the Parisian Aeronaut, on Board.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The American line steamer New York, which has arrived from Southampton, was closely followed by the French line steamer La Savoie, ten minutes being the difference in the time of arrival at the lightship. Both steamers encountered terrific gales and seas.

The New York had severe gales from the north northwest, with violent squalls and high head seas. The ship had slowed down in a gale to secure some gear when an enormous sea curled over the bow and swept overboard F. Comulisch, a seaman.

A life buoy was sent after him, and almost instantly Second Officer Keys, taking a turn about his body with a line, jumped into the sea after the seaman, who had in the meantime secured a hold on the buoy. Before the second officer could get to the unfortunate man he lost his grasp on the buoy and disappeared. The second officer was then hauled on board.

It is thought that Comulisch was benumbed by the cold, having been some time on duty on the forecastle deck. Among the steerage passengers were two small negro boys from South Africa. They afforded great amusement for the passengers by dancing. They are about eight years old. The New York brought $1,045,000 in specie.

The La Savoie also caught the gale of the 6th, and a huge rolling wave of tremendous height swept over the bow, dashed aft with tremendous force, smashed in the forward bulkhead of the smoking room under the bridge and flooded that compartment. The ship was slowed down immediately.

The sea struck the ship at 11 o'clock, and all the passengers were up, but became alarmed at the staggering effect of the shock. The forward bulkhead under the bridge was smashed in, causing a hole about twelve feet across. Rails and stanchions were also bent and broken.

Among the passengers of La Savoie was Santos-Dumont, the aeronaut. He comes to complete arrangements for his forthcoming experiment with a dirigible balloon at the St. Louis exposition.

Train Robbers In Clinton, Mass.

WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 11.—A Telegram special from Clinton says two masked men held up a Worcester consolidated street car on Main street, getting $7, all the conductor had. The car runs from Hudson to Lancaster and was headed for Lancaster. In a sparsely settled part of Clinton two men hailed the car. Boarding the car quietly, the highwaymen, each with a revolver, commanded the car crew and passengers, including women, to throw up their hands. The conductor's pockets were then turned inside out. Keeping the conductor and motorman covered with their revolvers, the men backed away, disappearing in the darkness. The police of nearby towns were notified.

Ohio's Governor Inaugurated.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 11.—The inauguration of Governor Myron T. Herrick, Lieutenant Governor Warren G. Harding and other state officers took place here today. Following the ceremonies, which were held in the rotunda of the capitol, there was a military and civic parade, in which it is estimated that 8,000 men participated. The death of former Governor Charles Foster tinged the inaugural ceremonies with sadness. The carriage in which he was to have ridden in the parade appeared in its appointed place vacant and draped in mourning. A reception by the governor in the evening is on the programme.

Volcano Reported In Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 11.—A special to the Times from Owingsville, Ky., says a volcano on Sugar Loaf mountain in Rowan county is assuming alarming proportions. There are five fissures on the side of the mountain, from which smoke pours in considerable volume, accompanied by a deep rumbling noise. All the trees in the vicinity are blasted and splintered. The people in that section are terror stricken and are preparing to move. The volcano is about three miles from Morehead.

Played Soldier; Two Dead.

CORRY, Pa., Jan. 11.—At Blue Eye, eight miles from this city, Pearl Sparling, aged about thirteen years, while playing soldier with a brother and two sisters discharged a shotgun in their faces, killing two. The other child escaped with slight injuries. But a short time before the father had come in from a hunting trip and left his loaded gun in a corner while he removed his wet clothing.

Lightship Missing.

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 11.—Nothing is known here concerning the fate of Diamond shoals lightship No. 72, reported as missing from her station fifteen miles off Cape Hatteras by masters of incoming steamers. The vessel was built especially for this station, which is one of the most dangerous on the coast.

Boers Return to Durban.

BOMBAY, Jan. 11.—Nearly 500 Boers sailed for Durban, Natal. These are the last of the irreconcilables who were imprisoned at Ahmednagar. Lately they were induced by General Delarey to take the oath of allegiance.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Japan and Russia—one's afraid and the other daresn't.

The united American people extends its sympathy to Former President Grover Cleveland.

The price of whale backbone in London is $15,000 a ton. Wales' backbone is worth more than that to the English people.

More than 30,000 patents were issued at Washington during 1903, which goes to show that the American is a natural born inventor.

The fire engine trust has gone into the hands of a receiver. It is presumed that it has been used principally for the purpose of watering stock.

Bryan says that the Democrats are assured success this fall. He is as optimistic as his friend Martine. As prophets both fall short of the mark.

Twining and Cornel, wreckers of the Monmouth Trust Company, each received the maximum penalty. There is something significant to them in the phrase "Jersey justice."

Just a little attention on the part of property owners may be the means of sparing pedestrians from serious injury or loss of life at this time. Many of the pavements are covered with ice, making walking dangerous. Clean the foot walks!

According to dispatches from Trenton nearly every prominent Democrat in the State has a chance to be appointed to fill the vacancy which will occur in the State Board of Assessors in March except James E. Martine, of this city. It may be mentioned that no Democrat in the State is more deserving of the honor than the farmer-orator, but Martine was surely born under an unlucky star.

The exhaustive report of the Plainfield Board of Health for 1903 contains much of interest. The work done by Health Officer Thurlow during the period proves the wisdom of continuing the office he occupies. That the sanitary arrangements of the city are well nigh perfect is seen in the fact that about the only improvement recommended by the board is the inauguration of a garbage collection system.

The Rough Rider is getting some hard knocks these days and "the most unkindest cut of all" is the way Mr. Justice Harlan, of the United States Supreme Court, has censured his policy. This is what his honor said on Saturday in referring to that immortal instrument, the Constitution: "Let us hope that this great instrument, which has served so well, will weather the storms which the ambitions of certain men are creating in an effort to make this country a world power." This stricture is all the more remarkable when it is remembered that Mr. Justice Harlan is one of the foremost authorities on the Constitution and is an ardent Republican.

He Got the Piano Housed.

Because he had no windows in the second floor of his combined store and house, West Third street, large enough to permit a piano to pass through, Kalman Rottberg had a considerable portion of the side of the house torn away Saturday. The operation of lifting the piano through proved interesting enough to attract a crowd of about 150 people.

William E. Anderson, of Plainfield, has returned from a visit with his parents at Bloomsbury, Hunterdon county.

HOPE'S EVANGELISTIC WORK

REV. L. B. GREENWOOD'S SUCCESSFUL EFFORTS IN THE WEST END.

A remarkable interest was shown yesterday afternoon and evening in the evangelistic meetings at Hope chapel conducted by L. B. Greenwood. At both services unusually large audiences were present and in response to the speaker's appeal a great number of people arose to show their faith in Christ and their desire for prayer. Of these there were 123 young and old who signed cards declaring that they accepted Christ. The afternoon service was held in the Sunday-school room with the classes in their usual places. The attendance was one of the largest of the school year. Preceding the usual meeting hour the teachers had met with Mr. Greenwood for conference and prayer and after the appeal was made from the platform they joined with him in making it personal to each pupil. The response was most astonishing, but still more so when a few minute later all who were interested met for the after-meeting in the church auditorium. The address was a simple direct appeal taking the word "Forget" as a starting point and emphasized by many telling illustrations.

In the evening Mr. Greenwood's appeal started with the words of Jesus, "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you." Again the address was little more than the putting of the question as to whether Christ's gift would be accepted, but it was so presented that many more took the deciding step and declared themselves for Him. In the morning the subject of a most earnest and effective discourse was "The Withered Tree and the Withered Hand." Services will be held every day at 3 and 7:45 p. m., and on Wednesday at 10 a. m. also.

The thirty-eighth annual convention of the Bricklayers and Masons International Union of America began this morning at Trenton. The local union, No. 14, was represented by Jacob M. Higgins, of the borough. It is probable that the business of the convention will occupy two weeks, and will include a discussion of a union with the American Federation of Labor, to which, however, many of the members are strongly opposed.

Pittsburg Lady Cured.

Miss Lillian McMahon says: "TO-NI-TA Cured me of Catarrh."

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 13, 1903.

Dear Doctor—For the past six years I have suffered from Catarrh of the Head and Bronchial Tubes; caught cold with every change of the weather and suffered from intense headaches. Was under treatment six months in the year, but with no permanent cure.

A friend asked me to try TO-NI-TA, and after taking half of the first bottle I felt better than I had for several years. I have now finished my second bottle and feel perfectly well and all trace of Catarrh is gone.

I consider this remarkable, as I have always felt no one could live in Pittsburg with this smoke and changeable climate and escape Catarrh.

Take pleasure in recommending TO-NI-TA.

Gratefully yours,
LILLIAN McMAHON,
Hotel Duquesne.

TO-NI-TA CONTAINS NO COCAINE, or other dangerous drug so often found in so-called Catarrh and Asthma cures, which do not cure, but make cocaine fiends.

TO-NI-TA will cure any case of Catarrh of the head, throat, lungs, stomach, kidneys, bladder or female organs. It is a strong tonic, stimulant and bitters. It builds up.

TO-NI-TA acts directly on the mucous membrane, it kills the disease germs and restores the tissues to a normal healthy condition; it purifies and stimulates the blood and causes it to course more quickly through the veins; it quiets the nerves; brings restful sleep and brings new life to every part of the human body.

Get a Free Sample Bottle Wednesday.

If you do not get a sample bottle and booklet Wednesday, write the Lorentz Medical Company, Flat Iron Building, New York, for a copy of Dr. Lorentz's medical treatise, "The Beautiful Story of Life," and free advice.

TO-NI-TA at druggists, or direct $1.00 a bottle. Ask your druggist for it. Take no substitute.

GOSSIP OF NEW YORK

Rapid Transit Is Costing the City Vast Sums of Money.

PROBLEM OF BRIDGE BUILDING

The Metropolis Has Before It One of the Most Brilliant Social Seasons in Its History—Gossip of the Opera.

New York.—When New York undertook, after long deliberation, to expend $35,000,000 upon underground rapid transit, the world recognized it as one of the greatest engineering tasks ever attempted.

The Jam at Brooklyn Bridge

Before the time set, a part of the road is practically ready for opening. Already extensions and auxiliary lines that will cost $70,000,000 are planned. Some of them, probably most of them, will soon be under way. About $8,000,000 worth of extensions, including a tunnel under East river, are begun.

The difficulties of getting about in New York are unmatched anywhere else in the world. Manhattan island is 11 miles long and nowhere more than two miles wide. Brooklyn is separated from it by a turbulent tide sweeping through a channel of soft mud on one side and rock on the other, a channel never less than 1,800 feet in width. The new Williamsburg bridge, which will be opened on December 19, is the greatest structure of the kind in the world. It is 110 feet wide in the middle, much wider at the ends, and two stories high. It carries four lines of trolley cars, two of elevated railway cars, two wagon roads wide enough for teams to pass, two wide footpaths and a bicycle track. A third great bridge is being built which will be even more powerful. Each of these will cost some $15,000,000 to complete. The present bridge, with its approaches, has cost $24,000,000. The tunnels are much cheaper. The city of New York is to construct two, besides the Pennsylvania tunnel, to connect its giant new station with the Long Island road.

The Romance of the Bridge Builders.

Building the big bridges is the romance of the engineer's art. Quiet men sit in quiet offices year after year, undisturbed by changes of administration. They plan and order; and out on the giant spider web the structure grows. Men work at a height of over 300 feet above the city. Occasionally one falls. If it is over the river there is a chance for him.

Local Travel in New York

I have said that the tower foundations upon one side of the river have mud to contend with. It is little known or soon forgotten how nearly the Williamsburg bridge came to being a costly failure for this cause.

In sinking the caissons, huge boxes of solid timber, bottom side up to keep the water out, air pressure must constantly be increased to balance the pressure of the water. As the caisson sinks, as the pressure increases, the danger grows. Men can at first work almost as long as upon the surface; then only four hours, then three, then two. There comes a time when they cannot work at all. Beyond that limit caisson work is impossible, or can only be prosecuted a few minutes at a time by men of the hardiest physique—conditions that would make it all but impossible. In sinking the caissons for the towers of the second bridge this limit was nearly reached. Men came up gasping for breath from their titan struggle with the water far above them; others went to relieve them, and the engineers' faces grew longer. Work was far advanced upon the foundations upon the Manhattan side before bottom was finally reached on the Brooklyn side and the caisson could at last rest on solid rock. The Manhattan caissons were founded 55 feet and 70 feet, respectively, below water. That is bad enough. Those on the Brooklyn side are 81 feet and 95 feet.

A Brilliant Society Season.

The most successful horse show ever held has given place to the most successful opera season, to judge from samples presented. Already New York is well under way in what promises to be a brilliant social season. A ducal wedding started it off with eclat, everything favors continued liveliness.

Conreid in Action

Conreid's opera season is criticised in details; as a whole it is the most patient, thoughtful, intelligent New York has known. Those who go to the opera house to hear some particular singer "do" Carmen or "reach for a high C" may have been as well suited in the past, but care in details, historical accuracy in costumes and scenery, in a word, German thoroughness and art sense, have told with the discerning.

Oh, the operas there have been, the managers! What a procession of human curios! Why should an opera manager be always easy to caricature?

Maretzek and Strakosch; the impecunious Mapleson, the very image of a fat and oleaginous Col. Sellers, with his smile that faded never at deputy sheriffs or warring tenors; Mapleson, with his mellow "me boy!" and his delicious blarney; then Abbey, businesslike, the "Ohio idea" on the stage, Abbey from Akron; Schoeffel and Grau, his partners; Grau, who lingered from the strangely assorted trio to make alone a greater success; now comes Conreid, who speaks a Weber and Fields German-American dialect that only his intense earnestness and his impatient genius save from being ludicrous. Conreid, who will surpass them all either as a success or as a failure.

Conreid is a disciplinarian. In the little German theater far down the East side, where for years he has given the best dramatic art in the city its modest showing, he is famous for stage strictness. He has no "stars," who are by their stardom absolved from obeying. Before the first opera was given under the new management, he insisted upon the unheard-of innovation of a dress parade of the supers, to detect any such anachronisms as wearing patent leather shoes with a knight's armor.

Why Not an "American Opera?"

Some of the memories evoked by the great horseshoe at the Metropolitan are rather sad.

"American Opera"

How many people remember—yet it was not much more than 15 years ago—the "American opera" set on foot with such a blast of trumpets by Mrs. Jeannette Thurber? Why, asked this ambitious lady, should not America, which has the voices, the money, the dramatic instinct, have the American opera? It should have it! She engaged singers, she contrived expensive scenery and costumes, she hired writers to make translations of the "books o' th' opr'y"—that the German singers made hash of the English words was a minor matter. It was English in the libretto, at any rate.

Manifold were the difficulties. The foreign orchestra players could not keep the run of the score when the singers were using English. The Italian opera was a strong competitor. Fashion turned up its nose at anything that even pretended to be native American. In the end a really intelligent and bold attempt to give New York what other capitals have except London—an opera in its own tongue—failed. So did the lady's capital. And her husband's.

For awhile after that German and Italian opera ran a disastrous race for favor, one in the new opera house, one in the old. Now society has adopted the Metropolitan as its own, prices have been run to an almost prohibitive pitch, and if Conreid cannot make a "go" it will not be because there is not money enough.

An Irish Poet Comes.

In truth, there is no room for an American opera in New York, because there is no American language. When Duce gave her marvelous performances here she faced audiences strange to New York theaters. Society coldly passed her by. The theater was almost filled with Italians. Now that Mme. Wiehe is presenting her marvelous art, French speaking residents are in the great majority in her nightly group of admirers.

Mr. Yeats, Poet

An Irish poet has just come to town. It is his purpose to speak eloquently as the blood gives him eloquence for the ancient language that was in danger of perishing until the modern Celtic movement began, with W. B. Yeats and Moore and Sharp and a few others in its van. These rescuers of the Erse tongue from oblivion gave plays in Dublin in Irish. They would find in New York more people who could understand them than in the ancient capital of Erin itself.

Now the devoted band of Irish patriots give plays in the vernacular in Connaught, that "Ultima Thule" of Irishry when oppressed in the bad old days, with talented and equally devoted workingmen as the actors. It is one of the most interesting literary revivals in a day of many such.

Mr. Yeats is a poet, a very real poet if not a great one. His song has the Celtic melancholy, the yearning, the musical cadence. The trick of the refrain is his—and he does not lecture for money. He talks before college audiences where there is more interest than gate receipts. Hence the most suspicious persons can concede his main purpose to be just what he says it is—to awaken interest in the Irish drama and literature. Can we not?

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

Materials and Styles Which Are Smart This Season.

Evening capes are again coming into vogue, and one of the prettiest seen recently was of white chiffon velvet shirred into deep bands and appliqued down the front with silver embroidery.

A white cloth skirt is a useful adjunct to a winter wardrobe, for, worn with one's best white lace waist, it makes a dressy costume. Many of these skirts are elaborately trimmed, but perhaps the prettiest style consists of plaits from the hips, while down the front there is a panel fastened at each side with tiny gold buttons the size of a pea.

Crepe lisse is an old fashioned material which is coming back into use. It is especially pretty for evening gowns.

The combination of brown and red is a fashionable one this season, and the red effect is gained by the introduction of coral buttons; beads, applications of red cloth partially veiled by lace dyed brown, etc.

Very deep shades of tan lace in a very heavy pattern are used to make up dresses for theater wear and even for afternoon calling. These gowns are rendered wintry in appearance by the addition of touches of brown velvet and fur.

The illustration shows an evening gown of dotted mull having a wide lace collar and long lace tabs lined with chiffon. The bow is of black velvet.

DETAILS OF DRESS.

Fewer Hair Ornaments—Bands of Fur Used For Trimming.

Sashes brought twice around the waist and finished in the back with a loose knot and fringed ends are a smart addition to a gown.

Hair ornaments are not so pronounced now as formerly, and more attention is given to the elaborate dressing of the hair itself.

Bands of fur are a great deal used as trimmings. Sable, mink and even ermine are seen on white and pale colored cloth gowns.

The new fur toques are high in the back and filled in with shaded flowers, while in front a pointed effect is striven for. As the only trimming on this sort of toque seems to consist of flat wings or bows, it will be seen that it is not becoming to every one.

Gold and silver braids appear on many hats in the shape of bands across the top of the crown or rosettes under the brim. These rosettes, however, are flat, being appliqued to the felt.

Pale fawn and gray are sharing the honors with mixed black and white for visiting costumes, and at a recent fashionable wedding a great many chiffon velvet gowns were seen in soft tinted shades of the new red.

Zibeline is all the rage for street, for skating and for walking costumes. It comes in all the odd shades of blue and lavender.

The picture shows a tailor made gown of moleskin velvet and crepe de chine. The bolero has a cape effect, piped in white. White embroidery appears on the wide girdle. The skirt is made of alternate bands of closely shirred crepe de chine and moleskin velvet.

CRIPPLE BROKE JAIL.

Convict Charged With Swindling Hotels Makes Unique Escape.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 11.—William J. Reid, alias L. O. Hoffman, who is charged with swindling thirty-two hotels of about $10,000 from the Atlantic to the Pacific in 1902 and is now under sentences aggregating ten years for these offenses, made his escape from jail here under remarkable circumstances.

He unlocked nine doors and sawed through three chains, visited six different rooms of the county jail, passed in front of watchers and finally climbed an eighteen foot wall. This was accomplished at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, yet he was not missed until 7 o'clock. He was supposedly too weak to move without the use of a crutch, had been practically bedridden for three months and so far as the prison officers know had eaten nothing but beef broth in all that time.

In order to get through the many doors he must have used a first class hack saw and a key that perfectly fitted the various locks, yet there is not the slightest clew to the manner in which he obtained these articles.

While he was working his way out he broke into various rooms and shops to obtain a suit of clothes, some tools that he afterward found were not needed and a small ladder for use in scaling the outer wall. Sheriff E. P. Clark has made a thorough investigation, but he finds that many details of the escape are still unexplained.

HANNA'S RE-ELECTION.

Will Be Returned to the Senate by a Record Majority.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 11.—Senator M. A. Hanna has arrived here from Cleveland and will remain until after his re-election to the United States senate.

The house and senate will ballot separately on United States senator tomorrow. There will be a joint session on Wednesday, when the result of the ballot will be announced.

Mr. Hanna will be returned to the senate by the largest majority ever given a candidate for the office, the Republicans having a majority of 25 in the senate and 66 in the house, or 91 on joint ballot, the total number of members being 143.

The Democratic members will vote for John H. Clarke of Cleveland.

Brown Block Burned.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 11.—The interior of the five story Brown block on South Main street from the second floor to the roof has been destroyed by fire. The walls and the ground floor were not damaged by the flames, but the contents of the remaining portion were entirely destroyed. The loss will be about $125,000. A. M. Brown, the owner of the building, is the heaviest loser. His loss on building and stock in store on the ground floor damaged by water will reach $60,000. A. Levino, a tailor, will lose $25,000 and J. Vaughn $10,000. The other tenants in the building, numbering about thirty, lose about $1,000 each. The origin of the fire has not been determined.

General Gordon Will Lie In State.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 11.—The remains of the late General John B. Gordon, who died Saturday night at his winter home near Miami, Fla., will reach this city early tomorrow, it having been decided that the funeral party will leave Miami this morning. Definite arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made, but it is stated that the body will lie in state in the statehouse for several days preceding the funeral, the family of the deceased chieftain having agreed to the request that the former followers of General Gordon may view his remains.

Chicago, St. Louis or New York.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Democratic campaign leaders are beginning to gather here for the meeting of the national committee, which meets at the Shoreham hotel tomorrow to select a time and place for the next Democratic national convention. Convention boomers from Chicago, St. Louis and New York have opened headquarters at the Shoreham. It is believed Chicago is at present in the lead as the convention city and that the convention will be held about two weeks after the Republican national convention.

Watchman Held as Suspect.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 11.—Owen McGowan of Lowell, Mass., where his family is reported to be wealthy, has been found dead in bed, with his skull crushed in, in a cheap lodging house in Washington street. According to stories told by other lodgers, McGowan came by his injuries by being thrown downstairs by Michael Cusick, a watchman in the house, who was held by the police pending an investigation.

MIGHT CHECK CRIME.

Sale of Firearms to Be Controlled by National Government.

Postmaster Coyne, of Chicago, Advances an Argument Which Certainly Is Worthy of Serious and Immediate Consideration.

It used to be said that crime was at its minimum during prosperous times, but the records of the two years just passed has upset this time-honored theory. In all parts of the country, but more especially in Chicago and other large cities, murders and highway robberies, in which the use of firearms has played a conspicuous part, have multiplied almost beyond belief. Students of the problem ascribe the increase in lawlessness to the pernicious influence of slum life, but as many of the more youthful criminals come from the so-called "lower middle class," this theory cannot be accepted without reserve.

Police authorities believe that the purchase and carrying of weapons by boys and young men and the reading of sensational newspapers lie at the bottom of the evil, and the concurrence in these views has led Mr. Frederick E. Coyne, postmaster at Chicago, to recommend the control of the manufacture and sale of deadly weapons by the national government.

"Much space," writes Mr. Coyne, "has been given in the columns of the papers to the reckless disregard for human lives as the result of the promiscuous sale and use of firearms, particularly, the magazine revolver.

"The thought has occurred to me that there ought to be federal supervision over the manufacture, importation and sale of firearms of every kind and description. The federal government, through its internal revenue laws, has supervision over the manufacture and sale of whisky, beer and cigars and all manufactured tobaccos; it imposes a tax on all wholesale and retail dealers of spirituous and malt liquors; and also has stringent laws against the importation of opium.

"Without desiring to open discussion as to the propriety or justice of the laws referred to, I simply want to call attention to the results and to show that the laws of the federal government are more respected and better enforced than those of the city, county or state, and particularly those of large municipalities.

"What I advocate is this: that the manufacture, importation and sale of all firearms be placed under government supervision, and that a suitable tax be levied on same, sufficient, at least, to cover the cost of such supervision. It seems to me that a government which can enforce a law against a citizen having in his possession a copper still or worm, with which it is possible to distill spirits, ought to pass and enforce a law that will prohibit a 14-year-old boy from purchasing a magazine revolver, with which he can depopulate a town if given half a chance. There should be a law requiring the impression of a government seal on each and every firearm manufactured, and no one should be permitted to have in his or her possession a firearm of any sort without having it registered at the office of the internal revenue collector of the district in which he resides. I do not believe that such a law would entirely check the reign of lawlessness which seems to prevail all over our country, but I do believe that more boys go wrong and step from idleness to crime through the ownership of a revolver than from any other cause. There are laws now in different states throughout the union requiring what is equal to a license on shotguns and rifles, but those laws are for the protection of game. It would seem to me that it is time for the government to pass a law regulating the manufacture and ownership of firearms for the protection of human lives."

Horse Is Cured by Music.

Fire Island, a very valuable English race horse, has just given a most remarkable proof of the healing powers of music. He lost his appetite and refused to train, a condition of affairs that drove his trainer and jockeys to distraction. All manner of remedies were resorted to without avail till the happy idea occurred to them to place a music box in his stall. Twice a day a string of dances and "God Save the King" regaled the equine ears. The effect was marvelous. The horse regained his spirits, and the trainer and jockey had no further trouble. Whether the horse had any previous circus affiliations to determine his musical taste is not stated.

Professors Are Poorly Paid.

College professors will never become rich because of their generous salaries. This is particularly the case with those in Germany. In that country 191 of them get $250 a year or less; 87 less than $400; 74 get $1,000 a year. Only four get as much as $5,000 a year.

SANTO DOMINGO SHELLED.

Revolutionists Surrounding Unfortunate City Use Field Guns.

SANTO DOMINGO, Jan. 11.—There was heavy firing around the city, the insurgents using their field guns. A shell struck the city hall, doing considerable damage. Another shell exploded in front of the United States legation, but did not result in injury to the building. The political situation here is unchanged, though several arrests of insurgent sympathizers have been made.

The revolutionists have defeated General Castillo at San Cristobal, capturing two cannon and a considerable quantity of arms and ammunition. Many were killed or wounded in a fierce battle.

A man named Pierce, an American, entered the city bearing a communication from General Navarro, minister of war in the Jiminez government, to United States Minister Powell. The messenger was arrested by the government authorities, who took the message from him and sent him back.

In his communication General Navarro requested Minister Powell to intervene with the provisional government, but the minister refuses to treat with the general.

San Pedro de Macoris is quiet. The situation here remains unchanged, but matters are complicated because it is impossible to foresee the duration of the revolution or its outcome. Business in general is suffering in consequence.

LIKE THE HEART OF BRUCE.

A Peculiar Request In the Will of Frederick Winslow.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 11.—The remarkable provisions of a will made twenty-five years ago have been brought to light through a letter to County Clerk James from Mrs. Robert Irving of New York asking for information regarding the disposition made of the estate of her grandfather, Dr. Charles Frederick Winslow, an eccentric naturalist, who died in this city in 1877, leaving a valuable estate. This consisted mainly of personal property, including a large and valuable collection of shells, fossils, minerals, antiquities and rare books, three volumes of the latter alone being valued at $10,000.

After making bequests to his children Dr. Winslow in his will requests that after his death his heart be cut out, embalmed, inclosed in a glass vessel and placed on the coffin of his mother on the island of Nantucket. In a similar vessel he requests that the ashes of his cremated body be buried with the body of his wife in a cemetery near Cambridge, Mass. As there had been but two previous cremations in the United States and none in Utah, much difficulty was found in carrying out this request, it being necessary to construct a temporary furnace in the heart of the city at a cost of $1,500.

Chicago Theater Ordinances.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11. — The special commission of aldermen and building experts appointed by Mayor Harrison to revise the ordinances regulating the construction and operation of playhouses as a result of the Iroquois theater fire has completed a new theater ordinance and agreed on the provisions which will be applied to existing theaters. Its report will be submitted to the city council this evening, and if that body concurs in the recommendations of the special commission Chicago theaters, with the possible exception of three of them, probably will open their doors within a week or ten days. The three theaters may not be permitted to open because their stages and auditoriums are more than fifteen feet above the street level.

Panama and Its Future.

PANAMA, Jan. 11.—At the banquet given by the junta to William Inscoe Buchanan, United States minister to Panama, and other diplomatic representatives and United States naval officers Mr. Buchanan in answering the speech of Senor Arango expressed himself eloquently on Panama and its future and outlined what the world expected of the new republic. Dr. Manuel Amador, candidate for the presidency of the republic, heartily congratulated Mr. Buchanan on his speech. Federico Boyd, a member of the junta, proposed a toast to the health of President Roosevelt, which was responded to enthusiastically.

Fire Captain Killed.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Jan. 11.—James Eddy, captain of Engine 2, was killed here during a fire that destroyed Odd Fellows' block, with a loss on the building and to the tenants of over $80,000. Captain Eddy was suffocated by smoke while fighting the fire in the basement. The building was a two and a half story frame structure situated on the town square on the site of the early residence of Governor William Bradford.

New Orleans Taking Precautions.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 11.—As a result of negotiations between Mayor Capdevielle and the seven theaters here important improvements are to be made for the greater safety of patrons and employees. All the managers complain of a falling off in business since the Iroquois fire.

Won't Cut Steel Salaries.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The statement that it is proposed to make drastic cuts in the salaries of the high officers of the United States Steel corporation is authoritatively denied. This matter, it was declared, had not been considered at all by the directors of the corporation.

PLAINFIELD POLITICIANS WITNESS OPENING SESSION.

Swackhamer, of North Plainfield, Minority Candidate for Speaker of Assembly — Charles L. Moffett Takes His Seat in Lower House.

Carrying out the provisions of the Constitution, the Legislature convenes today, the hour agreed upon being 3 o'clock. President Wakelee completes the organization and Speaker Boyd Avis will see that the House is in good running order before an adjournment is taken. Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer, of North Plainfield, who represents Somerset County, will be the minority leader in the House, while Senator Joseph Cross, of Elizabeth, who represents Union County, will be the leader of majority in the Senate. Assemblymen Moffett, of Plainfield; Gunn, of Springfield, and Hague, of Elizabeth, Union County's Democratic members, take their seats.

Governor Murphy, accompanied by Congressman Fowler, Senators Cross, Wakelee, Horner and Deputy Supreme County Clerk Codding, inspected the Senate chamber last night and were delighted with it.

Just before midnight ex-Senator E. C. Stokes, as vice-chairman of the Republican State Committee, telegraphed to United States Senators Kean and Dryden, requesting them to postpone their reception until Monday night of next week.

The Legislature has a Republican majority of 23 on joint ballot. The Senate will contain 14 Republicans and 7 Democrats and the House 38 Republicans and 23 Democrats. This is the identical representation each party had last year.

The Republicans have had control of the Legislature since 1894, an unbroken period of eleven years. In 1893 the Democrats controlled the Senate by 16 to 5 and the House by 39 to 21, giving them a majority of 29 on joint ballot. The Republican majority in the State at the last election on the Assembly ticket reached nearly 29,000.

Young blood will be in the ascendancy in the Legislature of this year. The average age of the twenty-one Senators is 45 years, and of the sixty Assemblymen 38. There is only one Senator over 60—Cross, of Union. Senator Ferrell will not be three score until next June. There are only eight Senators over 50, and a like number is under 40. Senator Horner, of Burlington, is the youngest Senator, he being only 31 years and a few months old. The oldest Assemblymen are Wildrick, of Warren, and Gibbs, of Camden, each being 65, the latter being the senior by one month. The youngest Assemblyman is Ernest, of Hudson, who will be only 25 next June. There are only nine Assemblymen over 50, while fourteen are under 30. Fifteen Senators are sturdy natives of New Jersey, while six were born outside the pale.

In the Assembly there are forty-five native Jerseymen, one each are forty-five native Jerseymen, one each from Germany and England, six from New York, three from Pennsylvania, two from Wisconsin, one from Alabama and one from Massachusetts. There are thirty-four lawyers altogether in the Legislature, five in the Senate and twenty-nine in the House.

The presiding officers of both Houses will be lawyers. The Senate is without a farmer, while the House has only three of that industry. The Senate has two physicians, and so has the House. In the Senate there are five merchants and one each of the following vocations: Miller, restaurant-keeper, agent, civil engineer, fish dealer, contractor, banker, real estate and glassblower. The House has five merchants, three managers, two reporters, two real estate dealers and two plumbers, and one each as follows: Miller, secretary, dairyman, undertaker, cigar dealer, potter, electrician, export agent, contractor, manufacturer, school teacher and steel roller.

Both presiding officers are, perhaps, the youngest men ever chosen for such positions in New Jersey. President Wakelee is only 35 years old and Speaker Avis only 28. The oldest Senator, Mr. Cross, must bear the brunt of leadership in the Senate.

WOMEN TAXPAYERS IN CITY AND BOROUGH

Equal Suffrage League Compiling Lists of Those Paying Taxes and the Amounts.

SEEK REPRESENTATION

LEAGUE ARGUES THAT IT IS ENTITLED TO PARTICIPATE IN LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall Presided —Meetings to be Held on the Second Mondays of Each Month— A New Committee Named.

Business of considerable interest to the members was considered at a meeting of the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield, held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William H. Riley in North Plainfield. Mrs. Florence Howe Hall presided.

One of the most important matters considered by the league was that regarding the compilation of the names of women in both city and borough who are taxpayers. This list will be used as an argument for future requests for representation in municipal affairs. The league does not believe that its present representation is commensurate with the amount paid by women in taxes, in other words it is held to be a case of taxation without representation. This question occupied a considerable portion of the meeting the discussion being very informal. The women are sure that when the list is completed it will be found quite a long one and will attempt to show that they are entitled to a more substantial representation in affairs connected with municipal government.

It was unanimously decided to hold regular meetings on the second Monday of each month during the coming year. A committee composed of Mrs. W. H. Riley, chairman; Miss Harriett French and Mrs. Cory, was appointed for the purpose of securing clippings from various publications relative to the league's work.

The next meeting of the league will be held on Monday afternoon, February 8.

LONE BURGLAR IS ACTIVE

POLICE BELIEVE THAT ONE MAN IS PLYING HIS BUSINESS IN THIS VICINITY.

The local police are considerably bothered by the case of the man who has been looting houses in the city and borough during the last few weeks. They believe that a single man is doing the work because the tracks left have been in every case those of but one man.

The fellow's method of operating is to watch a house, at which he has reason to suppose there may be valuable booty, until the members are all absent, and then to enter by forcing any convenient window. Unless frightened away, as has happened several times, he does a thorough job, as in the case of the robbery at Albert Lederer's house in North Plainfield Sunday night, when he made way with $350 worth of jewelry, money and other valuables. At Howard M. Perry's house on West Front street he was almost equally successful.

It is easy to perceive in all the robberies, according to Chief Kiely, the work of a man who has had experience and who is naturally clever and an adept at avoiding detection. Though engaged in half a dozen robberies in the past few weeks, the man has not been seen once.

The police have little or no evidence upon which to work. Sergeant Frederickson and two patrolmen have been detailed on the case by Chief Kiely and are doing as much as possible to locate the fellow. If he is caught at all it will probably be red-handed. Meanwhile residents should be specially careful about leaving their homes unguarded. If necessary to leave the house unoccupied for any considerable time the police should be notified.

Sleighing Party.

The choir of Trinity Reformed church enjoyed another sleighing party to Westfield and back last night. On their return the party stopped at the home of Miss Winans on Front street, where they enjoyed refreshments of ice cream and cake.

NO PHOTOGRAPHS OF P. S. C. EMPLOYES

Pictures Not Being Furnished by New or Old Men on the Various Lines.

MANY BEING ENGAGED

METHODS USED IN EMPLOYMENT PLACES OF THE ROAD.

To be Given Regular Work as Soon as Possible—No Definite Territory to be Covered—Service to be Greatly Improved.

Notwithstanding the report which gained circulation during December that all men seeking employment from the Public Service Corporation on the street car lines would be photographed before they were taken in to the employ of the company, none of the new men recently engaged have been compelled to have their photographs taken. One of the managers of the line said yesterday that none of the new applicants were compelled to furnish a photograph and none of the old employes have been so far. It is presumed that on account of the opposition on the part of the employes of the great system the P. S. C. has given up the plan.

It was stated yesterday by a trolley employe that strategy was used by the company to secure a photograph of the men without their knowledge. The man said that when an applicant was received, he was asked to step into a small booth and while he was in the act of writing, a camera was leveled at him and he was "caught" before he knew it.

But this story has been denied. The official stated that the men receive and write out their application blanks in the presence of all the people in the waiting room where all the would-be motormen and conductors gather on the days applicants are examined.

Said the official: "As far as the reports emanating from Elizabeth and Newark are concerned to the effect that the corporation is under difficulties in securing men it does not apply to this city. There is a good supply of men here who are desirous of securing work on the trolleys.

"It is probable they will be put to work as soon as they are broken in wherever the officials of the line find they are most needed. There has been much talk about poor service here and other cities. The Public Service Corporation is still young.

PECULIAR CASE.

Mrs. C. B. Stephens Becomes Violently Ill and Suffered Intensity After Eating Ice Cream.

Mrs. Charles B. Stephens, wife of Letter-Carrier Stephens, of Duer street, is just recovering from a severe illness which almost threatened her life. Recently she attended the annual inspection of the Woman's Relief Corps, after which ice cream was served. In partaking of the cream Mrs. Stephens was taken violently ill. She summoned a physician and for several days the illness was of an alarming nature. Her body assumed unusual proportions and she experienced the most intense suffering. Heroic treatment was given and the patient is now able to go out again. A peculiar co-incidence in connection with the eating of the ice cream was that no one else who partook of it was ill.

Sunday-School Officers.

These officers were chosen at the annual meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist church, Saturday night, held at the home of Miss Florence G. Hawkins, 437 East Seventh street: Superintendent, Miss Florence G. Hawkins; assistant superintendent, George E. Hall; secretary, Henry F. Cuming; treasurer, Jos. M. Hawkins; librarian, E. Frank Vail; pianist, Miss Mary Clark; superintendent primary department, Miss Elmira C. Runyon; superintendent home department, Mrs. D. M. Runyon. Yearly reports were presented by the several officers and committees, all of which showed the school to be in a prosperous condition. A social hour with refreshments closed the meeting.

El Dorado.

All persons in search of health should visit L. W. Randolph's drug store on West Front street tomorrow, and receive free a sample of "To-Nita" and a copy of "The Beautiful Story of Life," by Dr. Lorents, the discoverer. It is claimed that this preparation will cure catarrh, bronchitis and consumption.

COREMAKER FOUND COLD IN DEATH

Body of James A. Anderson Lay in Bed Room of the Dead Man's Home.

MISSED SINCE SUNDAY

HEART DISEASE THE CAUSE OF HIS SUDDEN END.

Dead Man a Member of A. O. H., C. B. L. and A. O. U. W.—Was Employed in Pond Works—Left No Immediate Family.

Found last night at 8 o'clock lying alongside his bed, James A. Anderson, of 716 West Third street, had probably been dead since early Sunday morning. When discovered by a searching party of friends who had missed him from his work and who surmised that something was wrong, he was found clutching the side of the bed with his head resting against it as though he had made a last effort to raise himself before death overtook him. The peculiar circumstances of his death was that his wife had died in precisely the same way eleven months before, on February 16, 1903. Death, according to Dr. Brennan, who was called in on the case, resulted from heart failure.

Anderson is the owner of the house at 716 West Third street, of which the upper floor is occupied by tenants. Moans were heard issuing from his room at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning but no special significance was attached to the fact. When Anderson failed to appear yesterday, his neighbors and fellow shopmen, Martin Regan, Maritn Wheelan and Michael Mack, started to investigate, and though the door of his room was locked, managed to enter by another way, to find him lying unclothed upon the floor.

Mr. Anderson was the chief coremaker at Pond's Machine Tool Works. He leaves no immediate family, but is survived by a father and two sisters who live in New Brunswick and two other sisters who live in New England. He has also a brother living in Pennsylvania. He is a brother-in-law of Bryan Hammell, of New Brunswick. He had lived in Plainfield many years, coming here from New Brunswick.

The dead man was a member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Catholic Benevolent Legion, and A. O. U. W., all of which organizations will be represented at the funeral to take place Thursday at St. Mary's church.

TO REVOKE TROLLEY CHARTER?

CORPORATION COUNSEL INVESTIGATING ALLEGED POOR SERVICE GIVEN.

Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh has started an investigation into the local trolley service. He has conferred with several members of the Board of Trade, which at its recent meeting, made strenuous objection to the sort of service that is afforded Plainfield by the Public Service Corporation. It is understood that if the investigation results in the discovery of any violations of the charter of the P. S. C. in regard to arrangements for the safety and convenience of patrons, action against the corporation will be begun at once.

SOMERSET COUNTY PROTECTIVE ASSN.

Auxiliary to County Board of Agriculture to Put an End to Horse Stealing.

AGAINST KILLING BIRDS

PROTECTION TO BE ENGAGED TO PURSUE THIEVES.

Charles F. Debele and Herbert Phillips, of North Plainfield Township, Members of New Board of Directors—Latter Chosen a Delegate.

Realizing that they will not have sufficient protection against horse thieves, unless they organized, the Somerset County Board of Agriculture at its meeting Saturday afternoon, in Somerville, decided to organize a vigilence committee for the detection and conviction of horse thieves. The by-laws read provided for a liberal reward for the apprehension of the thieves and for the appointment of detectives or pursuers and that persons losing horses be compensated to the amount of two-thirds the value in stolen property. The new organization will be known as the Somerset County Protective Association.

Former Assemblyman Edward E. Cooper, of Warrenville, presided. In an address he advocated a more liberal education and general treatment of the farmers' sons by the farmers; denounced the proposed law for an open season in which robins can be shot all year round and advocated more liberal growth of Keifer pear trees, which can resist the attacks of the deadly San Jose scale.

These officers were elected for one year: President, Edward E. Cooper; vice president, Bernard Meyer; secretary and treasurer, Arthur P. Sutphen. A board of directors was chosen, including two members from each township in the county. Those from North Plainfield were Charles F. Debele and Hubert Phillips. The latter was elected delegate to the State Board for two years.

SUITS AGAINST FIRM.

Verdicts Given by Juries Against Hill & Shupp in Justice Nash's Court.

Joseph Hill and Charles Shupp, of the firm of Hill & Shupp, were unsuccessful defendants in two contract cases brought yesterday afternoon in Justice Nash's court. In the first case, suit for $63.79 was brought by Kirch & Ross, the dispute being over the matter of charges for steam-fitting. Verdict for the full amount and costs was returned by the jury consisting of James Forrestel, George W. Dean, George R. Rockafellow, John McPeak, Theodore Wink, George Cornwell, H. Zimmerman, C. W. Mundy, John Devlin, Theodore Randolph, William Clawson and James Devlin.

In the second case, that of William H. Kirch against Hill & Shupp, suit was brought for $18.30 for extra carpenter work. Kirch, it was claimed, agreed to subtract $10 from his bill for the work in consideration for prompt payment. The defendant alleged that no conditions as to promptness of payment were made in the contract. The verdict was for full amount and costs, returned by William H. Brokaw, Silas Coddington, Charles Bowden, John Scott, H. L. Mollison and William Rilling.

The plaintiffs in each case were represented by Charles M. Dolliver, Esq., and the defendants by George V. W. Moy, Esq.

Barbers to Meet.

The meeting of the New Jersey State Barbers' Association will be held in Turner Hall, Trenton, Sunday afternoon and knights of the razor from all parts of the State are expected to attend. The main purpose of the meeting is to get the opinions of men of this calling in regard to proper legislation for sanitary arrangements in the barber shops of the larger cities in the State. The local associations have met with great success in arousing interest among citizens in regard to more stringent laws to govern barber shops.

Independent Republicans.

Former Congressman Thomas McEwan, of Hudson County, says he is going to form an independent Republican party that will take in every county in the State.

The Democratic city committee will meet Thursday night of this week. The committee of the Plainfield Democratic Club on the annual ball will meet tonight.

BRUNSWICK BEATEN IN BASKET BALL

Local Y. M. C. A. Trimmed the Boys From Middlesex on Home Floor.

THE SCORE WAS 27 TO 11

VISITORS WERE OUTPLAYED AT ALL STAGES OF THE GAME.

Possibility That Other Games May be Arranged Between the Teams—Next Game for Local Association With Newark Monday Night.

Plainfield downed New Brunswick last night in basket ball and did the trick handily as the score of 27 to 11 shows. It was the second game between the Y. M. C. A. fives of the two cities, the first one on December 5 having been a victory for New Brunswick on its own grounds.

New Brunswick never had a look in last night. The local lights outplayed their men and led them at every stage of the game. The play was fast throughout, though the visitors did not seem to have an intimate knowledge of the rules of the game. Plainfield's guarding was excellent, and on the offense Smith was instrumental in much of the scoring, though his goals were often the result of good team work. Hand, Neal and Scull also contributed baskets and Heinecke was sure in his throwing of goals from fouls. The score at the end of the first half was 15 to 6 in favor of Plainfield.

An attempt will be made to arrange other games between the two associations. The summary:

Plainfield—Smith, Hand and Long, forwards; Scull, centre; Heniecke and Neal, guards. New Brunswick—Ewing and Ross, forwards; Gusline, centre; Rice and Quackenlas, guards. Score, Plainfield, 27; New Brunswick, 11. Goals from the floor, Smith, 6; Hand and Long, 3; Scull, Neal, 2; Ewing, Ross, 2; Rice, Quackenlas. Goals from fouls, Heinecke, 3; Ewing. Referee, C. B. Morse. Umpire, Dr. Browning. Scorer, W. Doane. Timers, H. Thompson and H. Woodland.

The next game for the local Y. M. C. A. five will be with Newark Y. M. C. A. next Mondy night.

JOHN MOODY RE-ELECTED

UNION COUNTY DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE MEET AND ELECT OFFICERS.

The Democratic County Committee held its annual election of officers last night at the Young Men's Democratic Club rooms in Elizabeth. John Moody was chosen chairman; Judge Owen P. Mahon, vice chairman; J. William Crane, treasurer; Edward M. Meek, secretary; George W. Harrison, sergeant-at-arms. The choice was made unanimously and in every case with the exception of that of Mr. Harrison, the present incumbent, was re-elected.

The matter of amending the by-laws of the committee was discussed and definite action laid over until a later meeting. The possible changes are increasing the dues from $2 to $3 annually and a rule for members of the committee not to appoint themselves to the Board of Elections.

Mr. Hooley to Resume.

The latest bull "tip" was in Des Moines and Fort Dodge, and the stock was bought this week by well-informed people. Coincidently with these rumors was the intimation that E. S. Hooley & Co. would probably resume business within a very short time. This will please, though scarcely surprise, Mr. Hooley's numerous friends in this city and Boston, who know that had Mr. Hooley availed himself of the offers of assistance extended to him last summer there would have been no suspension.—Commercial Advertiser.

Charges Against Fireman.

Charges of careless driving and other improper conduct will be preferred against Frank Hart, driver of Hose Wagon No. 2, before a meeting of the Fire Board. Hart has been suspended since the Saengerbund Hall fire when the hose wagon was damaged, it is said, through his carelessness. The charges will be thoroughly investigated and any laxness discovered rigorously penalized.

Elderton to Leave Journal.

Millard F. Elderton, of East Front street, will sever his connection with the Elizabeth Journal of which he has been city editor for the past eight months. John Kent, of the reportorial staff of the Journal, will succeed him. The change will take effect Feb. 1.

NEW JERSEY A. O. U. W. REPORT NOW READY

Committee on Proposed New Plan of Assessments Will Soon Present Its Findings.

PAMPHLET FORM REPORT

FOUND ADVISABLE TO MAKE AS SMALL CHANGE AS POSSIBLE.

The Scheme Outlined—The Theories Upon Which the Committee Has Worked—What Twelve Assessments Per Year Will Do.

The members of Columbia Lodge, No. 158, and Central Lodge, No. 148, Ancient Order United Workmen, of this city, will soon receive a copy of the report of the committee on proposed new plans of assessments. When the committee was appointed it was the intention to have its report presented at the session of the Grand Lodge, to be held next month; but as the report was filed with the grand master workman on December 28, it was decided to have it printed and a copy sent to each member during the present month.

Taking as a basis the present rates charged in New Jersey, one actuary says:

"The rates up to those charged members over fifty-five years of age are ample to cover the mortality, and on the basis assumed will leave a good margin to accumulate for the purpose of taking care of the deficiency caused by those over fifty-five years of age. If all the present members under fifty-five remain in the order and none lapse or withdraw except by death, the order will have about $100,000 above the sum needed to pay the deficiency caused by those over fifty-five, who will not pay all they should under the present rates.

"It is, of course, advisable to make as small a change in rates and plan as can be done. The results of my investigations are that New Jersey can safely issue the rates now in use, except that the rate at the age of fifty-five and over must be $3.50 per month and twelve assessments must be levied each year. The savings each month above the death rate must be carefully conserved."

Twelve assessments per year will make the annual cost to a man fifty-five years or over $42 for a policy of $1,000, and double that amount for a policy of $2,000. The new plan suggested by the supreme lodge is to relieve the old man of the heavy burden by distributing a part of this amount throughout the life of his policy. It is proposed that the young man shall pay a little extra each month, the excess to be carefully invested. If this is done when the member reaches fifty-five the extra amount which he has paid will be sufficient to take care of this burden, and he will continue to pay what he does at fifty-five under the present rates. The theory advanced is that the young man is better than the old man is to pay about $1.58 per month additional when he becomes fifty-five years of age.

Comparing the tables of rates, these results are obtained: Under the present plan a member between thirty and thirty-four, holding a $1,000 policy, pays 81 cents a month. Of this 72 cents is for the beneficiary fund and 9 cents goes to the guaranty fund. Under the proposed classified plan he would pay 90 cents a month—65 cents to the beneficiary fund and 25 cents to the guaranty fund. Under the proposed level rate plan, if thirty-four, he would pay $1.98 on each assessment. Of this $1.62 would go to the benefit fund, and thirty-six cents would be kept as guaranty to be applied when he reached fifty-five.

The proposed classified plan may be cheaper while the member is young, but the cost increases as he grows older, because he is rerated every five years.

In concluding its report the committee says:

"The remaining point, as to whether this jurisdiction ought to consent to the reserve fund going out of the State, to be held in the custody of the supreme lodge, is one of discretion and judgment. So far as we have been able to learn from our membership, they are strongly opposed to such a disposition of this fund.

"In the opinion of the committee, this jurisdiction, is or ought to be, competent to care for its own reserve, yielding to the supreme lodge the same right it has always exercised in reference to the beneficiary fund, which has always been collected and

FLATTERING TO CHIEF.

Showing Made by the Consolidated Stock Exchange Reflects Credit on Mr. Randolph.

The Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange, New York, counts the calendar year 1903 as its banner year in various respects. The fiscal year of the exchange runs from June to June. For the year ending June 1 last, the transactions were upward of 106,000,000 shares, against 91,000,000 shares for the previous year.

At the beginning of the current fiscal year, and at the election which then took place, L. V. F. Randolph, of this city, formerly treasurer of the Illinois Central Railroad Co. and more recently president of the Atlantic Trust Co., was chosen the president of the exchange.

The exchange has upward of 1,450 members, many of whom have been members for periods extending from 15 to 20 years. Of these about one-third are active floor members. It is to be borne in mind that this increasing business has been done during the past six months, in spite of the fact that Wall street has regarded the year 1903 as one of backwardness and loss.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

They Are Plainfield People, and What They Say is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press; are published as facts, people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism as rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right here at home, one whom you can see every day leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

Mr. C. E. Hepburn, of 123 Duer street, formerly of Canada, where he first heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have my endorsement for they cured me of a long standing case of backache which annoyed me very much, especially if I took cold, for at such times I was in pretty bad shape. I heard different people speak very highly of Doan's Kidney Pills, concluded to try them, got a box from my druggist, Mr. L. W. THE LICENSE QUESTION.

Views of the Press on Plainfield's Plan to Exact Highest Fee in the State.

Plainfield's Common Council has adopted a practical way to keep down the number of saloons. It has passed a high license ordinance under which the retail license fee is increased from $700 to $1,000, and that of wholesalers from $500 to $800. This action was taken in accordance with the recommendation of Mayor Jenkins in his annual message. Plainfield has now fifteen licensed places. — Elizabeth Journal.

In our news columns we have today given considerable space to the recommendation of Mayor Olin L. Jenkins, of Plainfield, on license matters there, and the action of Council in accordance with the Mayor's views, making saloon licenses $1,000 per year. The Mayor's views will make interesting reading to all who are intent upon improving license conditions in this city.

In the Plainfield Council the ordinance increasing the license fees was passed by the unanimous vote of the members, and is an object lesson to this city, where the saloons run the city government, instead of the government running the saloons, as the laws intend, and as the Plainfield city government evidently does.

The same plan would work here, and make the city a more desirable place both for residence and business. To argue that our citizens would not approve the Plainfield policy, is simply to argue that they are inferior in both morals and intelligence, a proposition which we emphatically deny. A change here is imperatively demanded, and every effort to that end is worthy the encouragement and support of all good citizens.—New Brunswick Daily Press.

HOW TO PREVENT PNEUMONIA

SOME TIMELY ADVICE THAT MAY WARD OFF A SERIOUS ATTACK.

A contributor to the New York Herald gives the following timely hints on how an attack of pneumonia may be prevented:

"Pneumonia is so prevalent at this season that a few timely hints along the lines of prevention may save much suffering, and perhaps life.

"Beginning promptly with the development of the premonitory symptoms, chill, fever, etc., there is every reasonable prospect of breaking the attack by proceeding as follows:

"Get under heavy bed covering.

"Take ten grains of quinine, and, if accustomed to spirits, a stiff drink of whiskey in hot water water.

"Drink hot water liberally, as hot as can be borne, a gobletful at regular intervals, until perspiration is induced and flows freely.

"This end attained in this urgent manner, the attack is broken, and the sufferer may be considered out of danger. Doing this much for himself 'in the nick of time,' the patient helps the physician, who should invariably be called in these cases. In short, whenever the person who has been ailing, or indisposed, is taken sick with chill, hot dry skin, fever, disgust for food, pains in the chest, etc., it means the beginning of pneumonia, la grippe or other serious illness, and failure to relieve the pores of the body within a reasonable time following the premonitory or warning symptoms, means that the disease must go to the end.—Easton Express.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

Admits Faults.

Adele Marie Shaw, in a recent number of the World's Work, gave some of the public schools in this State a severe rap. Trenton did not escape the venom of her pen. The article in which the woman expresses her views is an interesting one and much that she says is true. There is room for great improvement in the public school system in this State.—Trenton State Gazette.

The Free Press.

What America owes to a free press is beyond all calculation. It is more than what America owes to physical resources, to her many zones of climes; to her magnificent Free School system, even, America's supremacy in Commerce, in Finance, in Mechanics and in Art is recognized the world over. But the over-throw of Aristocracy and all bogus class distinctions depends upon a Free press. A free press has its faults; yet it sets all people to thinking; and it is thinking that leads to enlightenment. It is agitation that makes air fresh and water pure! In this country there is no political censor. In Europe there is and newspapers and periodicals are fined heavily oftentimes for telling the truth. Our Toast:—To the Free Press and the Free Schools of America!—Westfield Standard.

AMUSEMENTS.

Paula Edwardes and the "Winsome Winnie" Company are reaping the reward of their efforts and drawing great audiences at the famous Casino. It is now a matter of regret with Messrs Sam. S. Shubert, Nixon and Zimmerman that the tuneful comedy triumph was not booked for a longer stay at Broadway's most popular playhouse. The eight weeks' of the original booking are nearly finished and Miss Edwardes and her merry band will journey on to Pittsburg, Chicago and the other big cities of the West.

Chuck full of realism and great scenes, "No wedding bells for her" is keeping the box office, and incidently a fine cast, busy these days at the Murray Hill, Forty-second street and Lexington avenue. Even the successful run of Harrigan at this playhouse is likely to be surpassed by the patronage now being enjoyed there. The dramatic critics have nothing but praise for the play and the cast, and dramatic critics are a severe lot of taskmasters.

Lew Dockstader, the only Lew Dockstader, funnier than ever before and you know he is the synonym of funniness, is at the Victoria Theatre, in all his glory. His big minstrel troupe is lined up behind him and the asbestos curtain every night and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons as well. There is no danger in that playhouse even though the side-splitting jokes of Dockstader are enough to raise the roof.

Charles Snyder, who was in this city for the first time Sunday in twelve years, and who was the guest of friends, was formerly employed on the local trolley lines. He is now with a trolley company in Torrington, Conn.

RUSSIAN PROMISES.

Powers Are Informed Treaty Rights Will Be Respected.

DIPLOMATIC HIT AT LITTLE JAPAN

Will Permit All Nations to Represent Their Trade Interests In Manchuria and Observe Open Door For Mukden and Newchwang.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—A dispatch from Tokyo says that the elder statesmen of Japan have had a long conference with the foreign, war and finance ministers and the chiefs of the army and naval staffs. The premier was absent from the conference owing to illness.

The elder statesmen and the principal ministers have been summoned to a conference with the mikado at the palace.

The Russian government has informed the powers that it will respect fully the rights which any nation has in Manchuria under treaty with China. This declaration is made without reservation. Russia gives formal expression to this policy now in consequence of the controversy with Japan, one of whose persistent contentions has been for a definition of Russia's policy in Manchuria and an acknowledgment of Japan's trade privileges.

The Russkija Vedomosti of St. Petersburg, which reflects the opinion of influential merchants and the educated middle class, says:

"It is more important for Russia to foster internal developments and husband her resources for a weightier purpose than to seek the acquisition of a yellow Russia, involving enormous expenditures and profiting only adventurers."

The paper ridicules the reports of the depreciation of Japanese strength and says:

"She has 5,000,000 men nearer the scene than Russia's 1,000,000. Japan is better armed and equipped and has powerful backers. Russia cannot profit by a victory, and the results of her defeat would be appalling to the country."

The Moskowskija Vedomosti says it is announced that Russia has acquired the rights for the Holland submarine torpedo boats and adds that it considers "this will render the building of costly battleships unnecessary."

The substance of Russia's present proposals to Japan regarding Manchuria and Korea are practically identical with Russia's former reply, of which Japan asked a reconsideration.

It is stated that Russia's last reply, which Japan is now considering, differs in no essential from Russia's previous proposals, the only difference being in the wording, together with some minor concessions concerning Korea, which, it is stated, Japan considers immaterial.

A favorable impression has been created by China's ratification at this juncture of the treaty with the United States.

The Japanese minister says that this measure is bound to exert a strong moral effect and that the most opportune moment was chosen to consummate it.

A cablegram from St. Petersburg says the czar takes the keenest interest in bringing order into the complicated situation.

Recently Count Lamsdorff, the foreign minister; General Kuropatkin, the minister of war, and M. Avasa, chairman of the committee on east Asiatic affairs, assembled in the palace of Zarskojesselo to draw up a communication which will soon be published in the government Messenger.

The czar wishes and has told Count Lamsdorff that the whole truth shall be given to the public. He is personally against war and refuses to believe that it will come. He hopes to convince Japan that Russia's wishes are reasonable and must be respected.

Accordingly the communication chiefly embraces five points:

First.—Japan will get various concessions in Korea.

Second.—In south Korea the Japanese can act not only in their economic interests, but they can adopt strategic measures corresponding with these interests.

Third.—Russia allows Japan full commercial freedom of action in north Korea, but Japan must not permanently occupy fortified towns either to the north or south and neither on the coast nor in the interior.

Fourth.—A neutral zone of fifty kilometers broad is to be created between Korea and Manchuria along the Yalu and Tumen rivers, in which neither Russia nor Japan can establish fortified positions; also that the strait between Japan and Korea shall be neutral, thus giving free ingress and egress to Russian vessels.

Fifth.—In reference to Manchuria Russia accepts no conditions, but declares that she is ready to permit Japan and other powers to represent their interests, embracing the "open door" for Mukden and Newchwang.

The czar personally edited and corrected the above points of the communication.

The Lokal Anzeiger adds that Admiral Alexieff, the Russian viceroy in the far east, has of late been sending two or three comprehensive dispatches daily to the government, in which he takes a gloomy view of future developments. The war idea is unpopular in Russia, but it is feared that some untoward incident may occur any day which will make it inevitable for Russia to become fully convinced of Japan's warlike intentions.

BRYAN AT NEW HAVEN

Democrats at Banquet Honor Nebraska Statesman.

HIS TOPIC, "A CONSCIENCE CAMPAIGN"

"All Surface Questions but Phases of That Century Long Struggle Between the Common People and Organized Wealth."

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 12.—William J. Bryan was the principal guest last night at a Democratic banquet in Warner hall here. Governor Garvin of Rhode Island, Congressman De Armond of Missouri, Fred W. Plaisted of Augusta, Me., and Colonel A. C. Drinkwater of Braintree, Mass., were among the guests from other states. The occasion took the form of a celebration of Jackson day and was also declared by some of its promoters to be intended as a sort of prelude to the opening of the presidential campaign in New England. W. H. H. Hewitt was toastmaster. Among other prominent New Haven Democrats present was Alexander Troup, former member of the Democratic national committee.

Mr. Bryan's topic was "A Conscience Campaign." He said in part;

"The word campaign suggests warfare. It is good tactics to strike the enemy where he is weakest and to use the weapons which are most effective. The weak point of every bad policy is that it sacrifices human rights to selfish interests, and today to prove its system evil we only have to show that it violates that sense of justice that is satisfied with nothing less than equal rights to all and special privileges to none. The only appeal that is permanent in its effectiveness and enduring in its usefulness is the appeal to conscience, and while it may seem weakness to the brutal and folly to the sordid it arouses a response that is at least irresistible.

"If we touch the conscience of others we must give evidence that our consciences have been quickened. The great issue at this time is the issue between man and Mammon, between plutocracy and democracy. All surface questions of policy, of taxation and of regulation and of finance are but phases of that century long, that world-wide struggle between the common people and organized wealth. To say that it does not pay for a nation to violate the rights of the people of another nation involves so much of addition, subtraction, multiplication and division that many get lost in a maze of mathematics. But to say that 'the wages of sin is death' is to give an epitome of history that accords with each person's experience. In dealing with the trusts, with finance, with labor problems and with all the other questions at issue we must view them from a moral standpoint and arraign every evil at the bar of the public conscience.

"Will it win? Nothing else will give permanent success. As the martyrs who 1,800 years ago kneeling in prayer while hungry beasts devoured them invoked a power mightier than the legions of Rome, today it is not only possible, but necessary, to appeal to that moral sentiment which when aroused will prove more potent than the purse."

Henry G. Newton, a Republican, who is a personal friend of Mr. Bryan and who sat at his right at the banquet table, spoke on "Andrew Jackson" and was followed by Governor Garvin of Rhode Island.

Evans' Fleet at Guam.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—A cable message from Rear Admiral Evans, commanding the Asiatic fleet, announced the arrival of the battleships Kentucky, Oregon and Wisconsin at Guam from Honolulu, on their way to Subig bay. They are followed by the cruiser squadron, consisting of the New Orleans, Albany, Cincinnati and Raleigh. The cruisers left Honolulu in company with the battleships, but, unlike the latter, stopped en route at the Midway islands. Rear Admiral Evans will remain at Guam until he is fully advised by cable of the policy of the United States government in the event of war between Russia and Japan.

Chicago's Amateur Distiller Held.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—United States Commissioner A. D. Salomon has been held to the federal grand jury on a charge of violating the United States internal revenue law in the Columbus laboratories. Of five professors and directors of the institution who were arrested all except Salomon decided to compromise by making cash payments to the United States government. Commissioner Salomon declared he had nothing to compromise.

Snowbank Caused Fatality.

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Jan. 12.—A sleigh containing Edward Adams and Harry O'Neil, peddlers, was upset by a snow embankment here when the occupants turned from the road to avoid an electric car. Both men were thrown under the car wheels. Adams was instantly killed, and O'Neil was probably mortally injured. The accident occurred in Seekonk on the electric car line between here and Pawtucket.

Steel Mills to Resume.

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Jan. 12.—The Shenango Valley Steel mill, employing about a thousand men, will resume operations next Monday. The big plant has been idle since November. The Rosena furnace has resumed operations, and the 600 ton McKinley furnace will also resume this week.

ANOTHER BANQUET

HAMILTON F. KEAN ANNOUNCES THAT HE WILL RETIRE AT END OF TERM.

Frank H. Smith, Vice Chairman—Speeches Chuck Full of Nice Things Made by J. F. Buckle and W. N. Runyon.

All is forgiven and in consequence harmony reigned supreme at the regular meeting of the Union County Republican Committee, held in Elizabeth, last night. As one member expressed it, "there never was a meeting of the committee when such perfect unity was manifest. Every one pledged his unqualified support for the Presidential ticket and while it was admitted that in the last election a serious mistake was made through a misunderstanding all agreed to stand together and in the future see that each part of the county gets its share."

As expressed in the above statement, there was not the least bit of friction and not a dissenting vote was cast for these officers chosen: Chairman, Hamilton F. Kean, Elizabeth; vice chairman, Frank H. Smith, Plainfield; secretary, J. C. Calvert, Elizabeth; treasurer, Dr. J. M. Randolph, Rahway; sergeant-at-arms, James White, Elizabeth.

After the transaction of business, all adjourned to the Hotel Berkeley, where the committee was the guest of Mr. Kean at a banquet. There were short addresses by the chairman and vice chairman, former Assemblyman Charles N. Coding, Chester M. Smith, of Westfield; E. M. Coyne, of Elizabeth, and City Judge William N. Runyon, James F. Buckle, of Plainfield, and Postmaster Charlock, of Elizabeth.

The Plainfield members of the committee present were F. H. Smith, William N. Runyon, James Morrison, William Newcorn and James F. Buckle.

Chairman Kean announced that this would be his last year as a member of the committee.

MOVING PICTURES.

Ladies' Aid Society of First M. E. Church Presents An Enjoyable Entertainment.

Under the auspices of and for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. Church, an entertainment consisting of an exhibition of moving pictures with the Edison vitascope was given in Vincent chapel last night, by Waldron & Russell, of Ocean Grove. All of the pictures were good, but of special interest were those depicting the story of "Ben Hur," the quick harnessing of fire horses in Kansas City, the firemen's parade in New York, and a graphic description of a train robbery. Interspersing these were a number of amusing pictures which caused no end of fun for the large audience present. The society will receive a substantial profit for its treasury.

HEALTH GIVEN AWAY FREE TOMORROW!

TO-NI-TA has met with such wonderful success that Dr. Lorentz, the discoverer, is anxious that every one shall have an opportunity to test its wonderful curative powers, and has made special arrangements by which every one in Plainfield may get a free sample bottle of TO-NI-TA and a copy of his medical booklet, "The Beautiful Story of Life," FREE.

HOW TO GET TO-NI-TA FREE.

Cut out this advertisement to show that you are a reader of The Press and present it to the person in charge of the distribution at

L. W. Randolph's Pharmacy,

143 West Front St., Tomorrow,

and you will receive a sample bottle of To-Ni-Ta and a copy of "The Beautiful Story of Life," free of charge.

If you are sick and run-down, or if any of your family is sick, come early and get a trial bottle of TO-NI-TA and see how quickly you will feel the benefit.

The Free Sample Bottle has cured many light cases of Catarrh and Indigestion.

Pittsburg Lady Cured.

Miss Lillian McMahon says: "TO-NI-TA Cured me of Catarrh."

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 13, 1903.

Dear Doctor—For the past six years I have suffered from Catarrh of the Head and Bronchial Tubes; caught cold with every change of the weather and suffered from intense headaches. Was under treatment six months in the year, but with no permanent cure.

A friend asked me to try TO-NI-TA, and after taking half of the first bottle I felt better than I had for several years. I have now finished my second bottle and feel perfectly well and all trace of Catarrh is gone.

I consider this remarkable, as I have always felt no one could live in Pittsburg with this smoke and changeable climate and escape Catarrh.

Take pleasure in recommending TO-NI-TA.

Gratefully yours,
LILLIAN McMAHON,
Hotel Duquesne.

TO-NI-TA CONTAINS NO COCAINE, or other dangerous drug so often found in so-called Catarrh and Asthma cures, which do not cure, but make cocaine fiends.

TO-NI-TA will cure any case of Catarrh of the head, throat, lungs, stomach, kidneys, bladder or female organs. It is a strong tonic, stimulant and bitters. It builds up.

TO-NI-TA acts directly on the mucous membrane, it kills the disease germs and restores the tissues to a normal healthy condition; it purifies and stimulates the blood and causes it to course more quickly through the veins; it quiets the nerves; brings restful sleep and brings new life to every part of the human body.

Get a Free Sample Bottle Wednesday.

If you do not get a sample bottle and booklet Wednesday, write the Lorentz Medical Company, Flat Iron Building, New York, for a copy of Dr. Lorentz's medical treatise, "The Beautiful Story of Life," and free advice.

TO-NI-TA at druggists, or direct $1.00 a bottle. Ask your druggist for it. Take no substitute.

This Codfish is the famous "No Man's Land" fish acknowledged to be the finest Codfish in the world. It has not as much salt as most Codfish as we depend on the sun to cure it. For family use we put it up in 20-lb boxes at 2cc lb and trial boxes of 10-lbs at $2.00. Address,

MARROQUIN'S HOPE.

President of Colombia Counts on Political Strife For Aid.

HE LOOKS AT SITUATION CROSSEYED

Panama Treaty Delay Encourages False Ideas In Bogota and May Be the Cause of Open Hostile Action.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—There is every indication that Panama is again to be the center of attention, not only in the senate, but as a factor in general politics. The time is at hand when the minority in the senate will be openly accused of playing politics in its plan of delay over the Panama treaty, even to the extent of encouraging Colombia to provoke open hostilities with the United States.

All the outward indications, as reported from both Panama and Bogota, are interpreted in Washington as threatening war between the United States and Colombia. This is the last condition that the administration desires. For that very reason at least some of the Democratic senators will be charged with pursuing a line of conduct and talk which, if not calculated to incite needless bloodshed, may have that effect.

The language attributed to President Marroquin of Colombia is regarded in Washington as of serious import. Marroquin is quoted as saying that he hoped that a conflict might be avoided "through Democratic intervention in the senate" and that he counted on "the assistance of the Democratic party to save the sacred rights of Colombia." These words are regarded as indicating the twisted view that the government of Bogota takes of the situation in Washington.

REYES LEAVES CAPITAL.

Colombian Envoy Will Sail From New York In a Few Days.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—General Rafael Reyes, the Colombian envoy, who has been in Washington in connection with the Panama matter for about a month, left the city last night for New York preparatory to his departure for Colombia in a few days. Preceding him went General Ospina, who came here with General Reyes as his legal adviser and who left for New York on an earlier train. General Ospina, however, does not expect to return immediately to Colombia, as he has business interests in the United States demanding his attention.

The departure of General Reyes does not constitute the breaking of diplomatic relations with the United States, but merely the suspension of the negotiations, which have been going on with the state department, having in view the reintegration of Panama as a part of the United States of Colombia. Whether they will be resumed hereafter is not known.

To Add Another Colony.

COLON, Jan. 12.—The schooner Herald, which has arrived here from Bocas del Toro, brought a commissioner from the island of San Andres, who will endeavor to obtain the annexation of San Andres to the republic of Panama owing to the dissatisfaction of the inhabitants of the island at the recent oppressive exactions on the part of the Colombian authorities. The commissioner will go to Panama and confer with the junta. He says 400 Colombian troops are now in garrison on the islands of San Andres and Providence and that more soldiers are expected momentarily. The dissatisfaction, he adds, is general throughout the islands.

Governor Herrick Inaugurated.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 12.—The inauguration of Colonel Myron T. Herrick as governor of Ohio was participated in by thousands of people, including numerous citizens of other towns in Ohio. Governor Nash and the joint legislative committee, escorted by Troop A of Cleveland, of which the new governor was formerly a member, proceeded to Colonel Herrick's residence on East Broad street. With him they returned to the state capitol, where the ceremonies incident to the inauguration took place.

Albanians Causing Trouble.

VIENNA, Jan. 12.—The situation in the near east is causing increasing uneasiness. In addition to the Albanian movement in opposition to the new international gendarmerie in Macedonia a dispatch from Cettinje says that the government of Montenegro has decided to take steps for the immediate expulsion of all Albanians. According to an unconfirmed report from Uskub, the Servian deputy archimandrite, Wassil, has been shot by Albanians at the Detchini monastery.

Mutilated Famous Picture.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 12.—Some person entered the historical room in the Kansas capitol and cut a strip of canvas out of the center of the picture, "Custer's Last Battle," which Miss Blanche Boles, a follower of Mrs. Carrie Nation, attacked with an ax on Saturday. Miss Boles, who was arrested and released on bail, said that she intended to destroy the picture because it was the gift of a brewing firm.

Girl and Money Missing.

FONDA, N. Y., Jan. 12.—Miss Florence Roseborough, the nineteen-year-old daughter of James Roseborough, a wholesale dry goods merchant of Canajoharie, has mysteriously disappeared from her home. She was last seen when she went to the bank and drew some money deposited in her name.

THE FASHIONS.

Gorgeous Evening Gowns Worn on Opening of the Opera—How Jewels Are Worn.

The opening night at the opera is always a great dress event. Both in the boxes and in the stalls are seen the newest and most beautiful evening gowns. It is now almost the rule that low-necked gowns shall be worn in the opera house, except in the balcony and family circle. There evening dress would be entirely out of place, says the New York Post.

One had an impression of white and pale colors in the boxes, with an occasional brilliant note of color. The jewels were not worn too aggressively, but seemed a fit part of the general light and glitter of the scene. Not many heavy silks and satin gowns were worn anywhere in the house, black or white lace, chiffon, and airy materials taking the place of heavy fabrics.

A great many spangled gowns appeared. One striking example was a dark claret colored net entirely covered with fish-scale spangles of the same rich hue. Not a touch of white disturbed the harmony of the red gown, the glint of the spangles giving sufficient variety.

A lovely black gauze costume over white chiffon had a skirt in many gores, separated by bands of oblong jet and steel spangles. The skirt had a deep circular flounce covered with a leaf and grape design in jet and cut steel, mingled with some dark green spangles. The bodice was outlined with the same design, and it appeared again on the elbow sleeves. A line of white tulle under the spangled border of the bodice relieved the somber effect, and the sleeves were furnished with full ruffles of tulle and lace under the jet.

A princess gown of turquoise blue chiffon had a high girdle and hip yoke of close shirring, from which the accordion-plaited skirt fell in long lines crossed by several groups of shirred tucks. The waist above the shirred girdle was accordion-plaited and had a close band of shirred tucks around the upper part. Below this fell two ruffles of the chiffon, forming a bertha. Many strings of pearls and turquoise pendants were worn.

The one-color effect was marked in most of the gowns. All white or all blue, or all pink was seen everywhere one looked. Colors relieved by white lace were infrequently observed. The one-color idea seems to prevail.

Two more general tendencies were noted; natural flowers were little worn, there being few bouquets in the boxes, and practically none at all elsewhere. A girl in white with a mass of American Beauty roses covering her corsage was a conspicuous figure in one of the boxes, because of the absence of flowers around her. A few great bunches of violets, with a purple orchid or a gardenia in the center, were seen, but in general it may be said that flowers are a little passe this season. Another notable feature was the matter of the coiffure. The hair is worn lower and less elaborately puffed this year than last. No one wears the English "fringe." Many and beautiful, however, are the hair ornaments worn. All sorts of ribbon decorations, roses, rosettes, twisted bows, etc., are popular, and for state occasions like the opera, jewels, aigrettes and ostrich feathers are to be fashionable. One beautifully dressed woman wore in her hair a jeweled ornament from which rose a stiff feather fully six inches long. A few young girls had their hair dressed with flowers, artificial, of course. Natural flowers are out of place in the hair. One very blonde girl in white lace had her abundant locks decorated with scarlet poppies, the one touch of color in her costume.

A simple but charming white lace gown had a circular skirt with four graduated circular flounces. The low bodice had a high crush girdle of turquoise blue chiffon velvet fastened in front with a peacock buckle set with rhinestones. There was a deep bertha of lace which fell over the shoulders and did duty for sleeves.

Another white lace dress was more elaborate. Two rows of gold rosettes crossed the bodice, and there was a wide belt of gold gauze, or fine cloth of gold. The elbow sleeve was bordered on the upper half with a wide band of sable, the fur dotted with gold dots. A deep fall of lace completed the sleeve. With this gown was worn a large three-cornered hat of purple violets, the only trimming being two huge cockade bows and ends of light blue satin ribbon. One of these was placed at the back and the other in the indentation on the left side of the hat.

The wraps worn would make a chapter by themselves. They were much more elaborate, and often more costly, than the gowns worn under them. White and cream-colored cloth predominated, but there were many exquisite red and pale rose-colored ones, all lace or fur trimmed.

The portrait show is calling out many handsome afternoon gowns, especially on the days when celebrities are there to pour tea. An occasion of this kind demands handsome cloth or velvet costumes, and picture hats. A style of dress is seen which French women call American, and rather disapprove of as being over-trimmed. Certainly it is a distinct style, not at all French, and, of course, not English. There is no doubt that American women do like elaborate gowns, and eschew the simplicity, elegant though it be, of the well-dressed Parisian woman. At the portrait show were seen a number of gowns too intricate and too involved in their make-up to describe. There was a black velvet combined with taffeta, the latter manipulated into huge chrysanthemums and embroidered in chenille. These were inset in the velvet, which was tucked and gauged all over. It looked as if the labor of months had been lavished on the making of this one gown.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

THE MASSEUSE.

A Profession That Pays Well—Also the Visiting Maid.

"Yes, isn't it awful? It is all falling out, but it costs so much to go to a good masseuse. Mme. Binks charges two and a half a treatment, and it only consists of rubbing the head for about an hour."

"My dear, I know of a charming little masseuse who has a most electric touch. She could make hair grow on a billiard ball, and she only charges a dollar an hour."

"Give me her address. I will send for her immediately."

"The only trouble is I don't know that she will have time for you, she is so much in demand."

It has come to be recognized that massage is the one grand remedy for nearly every mark of care or age. If madame's cheeks are sallow, to the masseuse she goes. If her throat is thin and she lacks the neck which goes with a Parisian evening gown, to the masseuse again. And, last and not least, if comb and brush show the mournful remains of a once luxuriant head of hair, then indeed most of all it is a case for the masseuse, for tonics avail nothing when it is electricity and new life that the scalp needs.

Considering the good profits, it is a wonder that more girls do not adopt this profession. The work is not unpleasant, the hours are your own, and it only requires the right touch and a short course of study. I know of the case of a Swedish girl who came over to this country as a maid and who in six months opened a place as masseuse where she is now earning a more than comfortable income.

Then, as an additional branch, the masseuse may include manicuring, pedicuring, the treatment of freckles, coarse pores, etc. Besides the development of thin busts and arms she should be able to give a Turkish bath and a cold spray. She should shampoo, singe, curl and wave the hair. It might not be a bad thing either if she learned how to dress it becomingly.

In fact, a clever woman could become visiting maid to several women and make a good income by getting a stated weekly sum from each woman and having a certain number of customers.

THE COZY LIBRARY.

A Pretty Combination of Book Room and Living Room.

In many houses the library and the living room are one, and that this is an attractive combination is proved by the illustration.

The woodwork, cases, etc., are of fumed oak. The mantel is well worth noticing on account of the diamond effect and the pretty pieces of china. The fender is brass, of course, and the fittings of the antique desk, which do not show in the illustration, are also of brass. The carpets are oriental in their red and blue colorings. The furniture is covered with dark green tapestry. There is an artistic touch of color in the shape of the palm in the dark red jardiniere, and the greenish tint is reproduced in the beamed ceiling. The floors are of hard wood, well polished.

LIMITED EXPRESS DERAILED.

Seven Passengers Were Injured, but None Fatally.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The Chicago and New York limited express, eastbound, on the Delaware division of the Erie railroad has been wrecked at Sand's Switch, about fifty miles east of Binghamton. The whole train, consisting of locomotive, tender and baggage and passenger cars, left the rails from some cause not yet determined.

The following passengers were injured, none fatally and for the most part not seriously: Mrs. Reilly Adams, Olean, N. Y.; G. B. Barber, Port Jervis; Mrs. Anna Sheffer, Chicago; Mrs. L. F. Merriman, Akron, O.; Mrs. Anna Baker, Westfield, N. J., and Mrs. Hazel Stevens, New York.

None of the trainmen was injured.

CONVICTS ESCAPE.

Guard Watching For Them Killed by Train.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Jan. 12.—Two trusted convicts of Clinton prison at Dannemora, James Roberts and John Stewart, have escaped. Roberts had less than three months of a ten years' sentence and Stewart less than two years of a six years' sentence to serve out.

Denis O'Brien, a prison guard who was stationed at Bluff Point Station, on the Delaware and Hudson railroad, three miles south of here, to watch all trains for the two fugitives, was killed last night by a passenger train. As the guard was alone at the time, there being no agent at the station during the winter months, it is not known how he met his death.

HARPER'S OPTIMISM.

Chicago University Plans Great Buildings on Faith.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Three new schools and at least twenty-two new buildings, of which the official total estimated cost is $3,000,000 or more, will be erected at the University of Chicago within the next ten years, according to the forecast of President William R. Harper.

Dr. Harper makes this prediction in his decennial report, without knowing from whom the gifts will come, although with the knowledge that all of the present buildings except four have come from others than John D. Rockefeller. He also points out the need for small gifts for scholarships.

Scott Against Wood's Promotion.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Senator Scott of the senate committee on military affairs has submitted in executive session of the senate a review of the evidence introduced before the committee in the hearing on the nomination of Brigadier General Wood to be a major general. Senator Scott gives his reason for opposing confirmation. He quotes many points brought out against General Wood, particularly those in connection with charges that General Wood accepted gifts from the Jai Alai company, a gambling institution of Havana, and was guilty of complicity with Major James E. Runcie in the preparation and publication of an article reflecting discreditably on Major General John R. Brooke, his ranking officer.

Schenectady In Darkness.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Jan. 12.—The interurban trolley lines connecting this city with Albany and Troy were tied up last night for several hours by a serious break in the power line somewhere between here and Spier Falls. The city was in darkness until the shutting down of the General Electric works, when power was turned on from the company's private plant.

AT OAKLAND.

Glendenning Lasted to Win by a Nose From Escalante.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Interesting sport was witnessed at Oakland, and some of the events were marked by close finishes. Glendenning lasted long enough in the fourth race to win by a nose from Escalante, and in the three-year-old race Judge defeated The Mighty by the shortest of noses after a struggle through the stretch. Salable upset calculations by taking the dash for two-year-olds. Richard Dwyer was the starter. Hildebrand rode three winners. Jockey Henry Spencer has returned from Los Angeles and will ride here. Results:

First Race—Puredale won, Yellowstone second, Emily Oliver third.

Second Race—Salable won, Ragamonda second, Meda third.

Third Race—I Know won, Louis Wagner second, Rollick third.

AT BUTLER.

Relief Committee Says the Crisis Is Now Passed.

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 12.—The general relief committee, which has had charge of all contributions and directed the relief work during the prevalence of the typhoid fever epidemic in this city, issues a statement to the public in which it states that the necessity for further contributions has passed.

The statement says:

"We are united in the opinion that the crisis in the epidemic is passed, basing our judgment on the reports made by the chairmen of the ward committees, supplemented by statements from the state board of health.

"We wish to accompany this announcement with an expression of our heartfelt gratitude to an ever generous and loving public for the liberal and spontaneous response to the call for aid and to assure each and every one who contributed to the fund of the very deep appreciation on the part of all those who have received their generous aid."

New York Offers $100,000.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The vanguard of the New York delegation brings the news that former Mayor Van Wyck was on the way with a $100,000 certified check for the Democratic national convention, and cold chills chased themselves up and down the spines of the St. Louis and Chicago boomers like flickers across the face of a kinetoscope picture. St. Louis and Chicago were prepared to offer $40,000 apiece, but when they heard of New York's ready money bait they began to wire home for more cash. "We have enough money," said Mayor Van Wyck as he left the special train, "to make those Chicago men seasick, and we can get more if it is needed. This little offering we only brought along simply as an evidence of good faith."

Nantucket Relief Expedition.

NANTUCKET, Mass., Jan. 12.—The ice embargo which has prevented communication with the mainland except by wire since Jan. 2 has been raised through the determined efforts of a dozen men in the thirty foot naphtha launch Waquoit, which made the trip from Woods Hole to the western end of the island, where eight persons were landed as well as a supply of meat and yeast cake. The little launch sailed half an hour later with ten passengers who had been prisoners on the island.

British Ship Ashore.

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 12.—The British bark Glencova, from Tatal to Baltimore with nitrate, is ashore on Pebble shoals. The life savers report that the captain and crew of twenty-six men have refused to leave the ship. The Glencova struck the shoal in a dense fog. The wind on the coast is rapidly freshening, and Captain Drinkwater of False Cape station has notified Norfolk that the immediate assistance of wrecking tugs is necessary to prevent a heavy sea from breaking the ship up.

Little Victims Were Left Alone.

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 12.—A special from Cape Charles says that two children, Noah and William White, aged eight months and six years respectively, were burned to death, and their brother Lewis narrowly escaped a similar death. The children had been left alone by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noah White, who were at work. The mother returned in time to save the third child from the flames by entering the burning house just before its roof fell in.

Driggs' Sentence.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—It has been announced at the United States district attorney's office in Brooklyn that former Congressman E. H. Driggs will be brought before Judge Thomas today for sentence, having been convicted last week on trial on a charge of accepting compensation for procuring a contract with the government.

DERVISHES LOST A THOUSAND.

Defeat of the Mad Mollah In Somaliland.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The war office has given out the following dispatch which had been received from Major General Egerton, commanding the Somaliland expeditionary force, and which is dated from Jidballi, Somaliland, Jan. 11:

"Advanced this morning twelve miles to Jidballi. First brigade commanded by Manning. Second brigade under Faskin and mounted troops under Kenna. Total strength of the regulars, 2,200; irregulars, 1,000. Jidballi held by 5,000 dervishes. Mounted troops enveloped enemy's right and infantry advanced within 700 yards of his position. Dervishes advanced, but were unable to face frontal fire, coupled with flank attack. Enemy broke and fled and was pursued ten miles. Dervishes killed estimated at 1,000, mostly in the pursuit. Many prisoners and 400 rifles taken.

"I regret to report that two officers of regulars were killed and nine officers wounded; five of the rank and file wounded; of native troops seven killed and sixteen wounded; of irregulars two killed and two wounded. Am inclined to think this is the mollah's main force. The mollah himself was not present, but was expected to be found at Jidballi."

Major General Egerton's force is camping now two miles beyond Jidballi.

COLDFOOT ON THE KOYUKUK.

Commissioner McKenzie's Request to the President For Roads In Alaska.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—D. A. McKenzie, United States commissioner at Coldfoot, on the Koyukuk river, Alaska, has arrived here and had an interview with the president. The postoffice at Coldfoot is one of the most northerly stations of the United States. The postmaster is a woman. She receives and sends out ten mails each year.

Commissioner McKenzie is in Washington to urge on the authorities the necessity of improving the transportation facilities of Alaska. A road, he says, should be constructed from the Yukon river to the Coldfoot region and a reindeer station established in the northern part of the territory, where reindeer may be bred both for food and for the carrying of burdens.

Mr. McKenzie says it is impossible now to obtain fresh meat in Coldfoot except that of wild animals killed in the vicinity, and that is scarce. Provisions of all kinds were high, as on account of the practical impassability of the trails it costs $400 alone to transport provisions from Seattle to Coldfoot. Commissioner McKenzie called the president's attention to the urgent need that the colony of Americans located at Coldfoot be given reasonable transportation facilities by the government.

Sarafoff and the Vatican.

ROME, Jan. 12. — In an interview here Boris Sarafoff, who has just arrived, stated that the revolutionists in Macedonia were ready for any step and prepared to go to any extremity. He said that one of the objects of his visit to Rome was to learn what support the Vatican authorities would and could give his followers in Macedonia and that the Orthodox Christians of the Greek church in Macedonia were even prepared to go to the length of leaving that church and joining the Roman communion, as, he declared, the late Pope Leo most anxiously desired. Sarafoff is being closely watched by the Italian police.

Should he fail in that it is understood that he will seek to have Canfield reindicted on the same charges and have the case tried after the legislature passes a new law which Mr. Jerome is seeking to have passed whereby he can compel witnesses to testify.

disbursed by this jurisdiction, namely, the right to make the laws, rules and regulations under which the reserve fund is to be collected and disbursed, holding us responsible for its safe keeping.

"We are led to believe that we will not stand alone among the jurisdictions in our desire to handle our own reserve fund. Every jurisdiction will, we think, desire to have the money invested at home. We know that investigations are on foot as to the experience of the British societies in this regard, and there is little doubt but the supreme lodge will, at its next session, adjust this matter satisfactorily."

Uniform Choir Costume.

The uniform costume adopted by the young women who sing in the choir of the First Baptist church, produces a very good effect. The uncovered heads and while waists of the dozen singers give a simplicity and harmony to their dress that can never be attained when hats of varied shapes and incongruous trimmings and parti-colored gowns of contrasting shades are worn.

YOUNG GIRL SHOOTS PLAYMATE SERIOUSLY

Loretta Waldron in Hospital and Maggie Bentford Confined at Police Station.

WERE PLAYING "INDIAN"

MAGGIE DECLARES THAT SHE "DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS LOADED."

Conflicting Stories Told by the Two Girls—Awaiting Result of the Injuries—Bentford Family Well-Known in Police Circles.

"I didn't know it was loaded," sobbed fifteen-year-old Maggie Bentford, as she stood behind the bars of the police headquarters last night, charged with shooting Loretta Waldron, colored, her ten-year-old playmate, yesterday afternoon. She is being held by the police pending the result of a serious wound in the Waldron girl's head. The injured child lies in a critical condition at Muhlenberg Hospital, and Dr. W. Kempton Browning states that there are some hopes of saving the wounded child's life.

The story told by little Loretta Waldron as she lay in bed swathed in bandages was to the effect that the two children were left alone in the house by their parents. They had been playing tag in the back yard and becoming tired of that game decided to creep up into the room of Maggie Bentford's brother and play "Indian" with his big pistol. They went to the room and Maggie got the pistol out of the drawer. First it was Loretta's chance to shoot. She held the pistol up and pulled on the trigger. Maggie then made believe she had been shot and fell to the floor. Then she came too and decided it was her turn to pull the trigger. She had more strength and taking aim at her colored playmate pulled the trigger.

"This time," said Loretta, "the pistol went off with a loud bang. I felt something hit me in the face and it stung awfully. It hurt me and I cried and then I saw the blood coming, and I ran down stairs and told my sister Nora. She started to wash the blood away and then saw the little round hole in my cheek. Maggie ran away and hid but when the doctor came to the house she came out and told how it happened."

In reply to a question as to whether or not she had quarrelled with her playmate she said there had been no unpleasantness.

The Bentford girl behind the bars tells a different story. To Dr. Browning she said that she had taken the weapon from the draw and had placed it on the top of the marble covered bureau when it suddenly went off and the next she knew the smaller girl had been struck by the bullet. She affirms that she did not know it was loaded and that the shooting was entirely accidental.

The Bentford family is not unknown to the police of this city. Jack Bentford is now in the asylum at Morris Plains and nearly all the male members of the family have been before the City Judge on different charges. The disposition of Maggie will depend entirely upon the result of the Waldron girl's injuries.

The girl was this morning held by Justice Huff in $500 bail, furnished by her attorney, John P. Owens, Esq., to await the results of the Waldron girl's injuries. A charge of assault was entered.

Abolish Grade Crossings.

The State Legislature will be asked to pass an act compelling railways to put gates at all road crossings in cities and towns. The bill will be prepared by Assemblyman Hamill. Recent accidents at Dunellen have shown the local need for such an act.

AMITY RELIC FOR THE FAIR

PLAN TO PLACE OLD SILVER-MOUNTED HOSE CARRIAGE AT EXPOSITION.

Captain Robert Oswell, formerly a driver for Chief Croker, of the New York Fire Department, was in this city yesterday for the purpose of arranging to take the silver hose carriage, formerly the property of the Amity Engine Company, of New York, to the St. Louis Exposition for exhibition purposes. Chief Doane entertained him during the day. The matter will be brought up before the Exempt Firemen's Association at the next meeting and at that time it is probable the local organization will allow the historic machine to be taken west to be exhibited along with other relics in the firemen's building at the big fair. Captain Oswell represents Chief Hale, of the Kansas City Fire Department, who will have full charge of the firemen's exhibit at the fair next year.

The Old Amity hose carriage, which belonged to the Alert Company at one time, and which is silver mounted, is very dear to the local firemen who have cared for it ever since the volunteer system was abandoned in this city.

The hose carriage was the only thing of value saved from the great Crystal Palace fire in New York City where it was on exhibition in Barnum's Museum. It was built in 1858 by Joseph Pine.

DR. SNODGRASS TO REMAIN

PRESENT PASTOR OF THE FIRST M. E. CHURCH TO SERVE ANOTHER YEAR.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, who is about to close the seventh year of his pastorate at the First M. E. church, has announced to his congregation that subject to the wish of the Bishop and elders he is willing to accept the call extended to remain with them for another year. He speaks of the seven years pastorate and says that if it is his pleasure as well as that of the congregation to labor together for another year he trusts that it will be a fruitful one. It seems to be the general opinion that Dr. Snodgrass be returned to the church.

Seven years is now believed to be the record for the longest term served by any minister in the Methodist church during recent years and should Dr. Snodgrass serve another year it will be unprecedented in the history of the church in Plainfield, if not in the State. He is popular with his people and there is general satisfaction and pleasure expressed by all that he has signified his willingness to return another year.

Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., Phillip Jahn and Elmer D. Cutting Committee for Affair to be Given in Casino—Companies to be Invited.

The attendance was large and a most enjoyable social session closed the evening, which was partly occupied in the election of officers.

These were: Captain, J. E. Flannery; first lieutenant, J. G. Highan; second lieutenant, O. R. Pearson; recorder, Charles McGinley; treasurer, Joseph C. Blimm; chaplain, David Bowden. Elaborate preparations are being made for this event.

PRIVATE SCHOOL'S RECITAL

PUPILS OF RANDOLPH-COOLEY COLLEGIATE SCHOOL ENTERTAIN.

A piano recital was given yesterday afternoon by the pupils of Miss Sarah A. Palmer at the Randolph-Cooley Collegiate school. It was an annual mid-winter recital and was attended by a large number of parents and friends of the children.

All of the numbers of the programme presented large difficulties in the way of sympathetic interpretation and for this reason the performance of the children was remarkable. The work revealed careful study and patient drilling under Miss Palmer's direction as well as the possession of musical intelligence. The feature was a kinder-symphony, the first one ever produced in this city.

This was a veritable concord of sweet sounds intended to imitate the music of nature, particularly the songs of birds. The symphony was arranged for violin, piano and other instruments. Miss Alice Ross and Miss Edith Mellick presided at the piano; the triangle was played by Miss Dorothy Burke, the drums by Arthur Wills and Francis Foster; imitations of a quail were produced by Miss Ellen Burke, of a cuckoo by Miss Edith Foster, and nightingale by Miss Grace Otteson. The sobo was played by an adult friend of the school, Miss Mary Colton.

Those taking part included: Marjorie Brown, Carolyn Ross, Francis Foster, Ellen Burke, Ana Wilson, Dorothy Burke, Arthur Wills, Edith Foster, Mai Rivers, Virginia Fox, Alice Ross, Grace Otteson.

LEGISLATIVE MILL READY TO GRIND

Officers of Senate and House Chosen and Committees Selected at Session.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

NO PLUMS FOR UNION COUNTY'S DEMOCRATIC ASSEMBLYMEN.

Republicans Effect Complete Organizations—Swackhamer Introduces New Speaker of House—Another Session Monday Night.

The 128th session of the New Jersey Legislature was formally organized yesterday afternoon and the Republicans, as usual nowadays, had things all their own way. After the election of officers in the Senate and House, the various committees were named by the presiding officers.

Senator Joseph Cross, of Union County, is chairman of the committee on public health and a member of the committees on revision of laws and finance, two of the most important. Senator S. C. Childs, of Somerset County, was made a member of the committee on boroughs and townships. Senator Cross is also chairman of the joint committees on State Library and public buildings and grounds and a member of the joint committees on Treasurer's accounts and State village for epileptics. Senator Childs is made a member of the joint committee on soldiers' home.

In the House the Union County assemblymen fared in this way: Charles L. Moffett, riparian rights; Joseph Gunn, towns and townships; Joseph Hague, stationery. Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer, of Somerset County, got a place on the boroughs and borough laws committee and on the joint committee on printing.

Governor Murphy's message, as delivered to the Legislature, dwelt on these topics: Good financial condition of the State; interest on deposits, receipts from corporations; recommendation that an auditor of State accounts be named; abolition of the fee system; the State prison; Rahway reformatory extension; recommending the sanitorium of tuberculosis; State institutions; condemnation of signs near railroads; endorsement of the voting machine; inspection of factories and workshops, appropriations for good roads; consolidation of State Board of Taxation and State Board of Assessment; primary election law; new Senate chamber and various commissions.

A few bills were introduced in Senate and House and then an adjournment was taken until Monday night.

Assemblyman Swackhamer introduced the speaker-elect, Hon. John Boyd Avis, to the members in a short and neat speech. Senator and Mrs. Childs remembered Mr. Swackhamer with a handsome floral piece.

J. H. Mattison and William Acker, both of Somerset county, were named by the Senate Democrats for journal clerk and bill clerk respectively. Among the officers named by the minority party in the House were: Levi C. Kline, assistant supervisor of bills; doorkeeper, Walter Linbarger; page, Charles McCann, all of Somerset county, and Frank Shattle, sergeant-at-arms; Howard T. Johnson, bill clerk; John W. Craig, W. F. Sickley, gallery keepers, and Joseph Kohlbecker, postmaster's page, all of Union county.

Senator Cross introduced a bill to establish the officer of register of deeds and mortgages in counties of over 90,000. This bill is primarily intended for this county, the Republican platform last fall having advocated the establishment of such an office.

United States Senators Kean and Dryden held a reception in the Trenton House in the afternoon and evening, which was attended by several Plainfielders.

Resolutions of sympathy with the people of Chicago in the recent Iroquois theatre disaster, introduced by Mr. Swackhamer, were passed by the State Legislature yesterday and a copy ordered forwarded to Mayor Carter H. Harrison. Resolutions also offered by Mr. Swackhamer were adopted also directing an examination of the means of fire protection afforded in the State Normal School buildings, the several asylums, reformatories, prisons and other State buildings. A report on the conditions in the State Normal School at Trenton was ordered immediately. The resolutions will be

CENTRAL'S MOTIVE POWER DESCRIBED

Instructive Address by William McIntosh, Superintendent of the Department.

SURPRISING FIGURES

LECTURE BEFORE THE MEN'S CLUB OF THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

During Last Five Years 186 New Locomotives, 11,635 Freight Cars and 118 Passenger Coaches Have Been Put Into Service.

The motive power department of a railroad was the subject of an informal talk by William McIntosh last night before the Men's Club of the Congregational church. Mr. McIntosh was well qualified to deal with his subject from his position as superintendent of motive power of the Central Railroad of New Jersey. The meeting was one of the most largely attended in the history of the club.

Mr. McIntosh described the organization and development of the motive power department of the Central Railroad during the last decade. He said that within the last five years, 186 large locomotives had been put into service and 11,635 freight and coal cars added to the road's equipment. The additions during the same period included 118 passenger cars and practically the same number of old cars were discarded as unfit for service.

The engines used by the road in the freight service weigh now 100 tons where ten years ago they weighed forty. The old ones hauled trains of 800 to 1000 tons while the new ones pull 3000 tons. The value of freight traffic to a road was illustrated. A long train of small cars, it was said, requires greater motive power in an engine than a shorter train of longer cars, where the capacity of the two trains is equal.

At the conclusion of the talk and a general discussion of the subject, refreshments were served. The social committee in charge consisted of Charles Belknap, Robert Suffern and Peter Lund.

MINISTER VS. ASSEMBLYMEN

REV. MR. M'MURRAY AND MR. SWACKHAMER HELD INTERESTING DEBATE.

Before a large and enthusiastic audience composed of the members and friends of the Men's Guild of the M. E. Church, at High Bridge, Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer and Rev. John McMurray, pastor of the Monroe Avenue church, debated the question "Resolved, That capital punishment should not be abolished." The question was argued Monday night in the same manner as it was at the meeting of the Men's Assembly of Grace M. E. church a few weeks ago.

At his request, Mr. Swackhamer was allowed the negative side of the question, while Mr. McMurray took the affirmative side. It was the general opinion of the audience that the assemblyman from Somerset county did not reasonably answer the arguments of his opponent, but his display of eloqence made a decided hit in old Hunterdon county. If not by sound argument he won the sympathies of his audience by a strong appeal to the finer senses. He dwelt upon circumstantial evidence, cruelty and numberless mistakes made in carrying out the law of capital punishment, while he declared it to be against civilization. His principal forte, however, was in relating clever anecdotes and these greatly amused his audience until it became wildly enthusiastic.

Mr. McMurray said that there is nothing in either the old or new Testament that condemns capital punishment and that it is in accordance with Divine injunction. As for life imprisonment, he said that the objection to this is that it guarantees support to the criminal and even gives him a chance to commit other crime in killing a keeper. In the second place it gives him the possibility of escape, the hope of some day becoming free. Mr. McMurray also spoke of the pardoning power, which he considered right and just as affording a means for recitifying mistakes.

The question was argued before a jury of five men, but no decision was given.

Democratic Ball Date.

The committee on arrangements for the Democratic Club ball has decided upon February 15 as the date of the dance.

CAVEAT AGAINST BIRD WILL

The will filed here gives $10,000 each to the testator's brother, Howard, and sister, Anna Marlow, and $5,000 to Joseph Bird, another brother. The rest of the estate is left to the son. In the New York will none of these relatives is mentioned, and the son gets all the estate. The New York will comes up in court today.

AMUSEMENTS.

To feel the pulse of the amusement loving public and to present an entertainment that will meet with unanimous approval is the top notch of theatrical genius. To accompilsh this not only requires keen judgment but the outlay of enormous sums of money. We are in an era where the public demand the most livish that money can furnish, and any attempt at cheapness lowers the standard of any theatre that makes the experiment. This is a few words gives the keynote of Mr. Keith's success. His shows always please all, and to attain this end he spares no expense. At Keith's one will always find the best to be had at any price, and better still at a cost so small as to be within the reach of all.

"Lady Windermer's Fan," one of the smartest society dramas of the present day, has been selected by Mr. Proctor for presentation by the excellent stock company located at his Fifth Avenue Theatre. It will be the first time in some years that this play, with its scintillating comedy and careful dissection of human nature, has been presented in this city. Recognizing the value of the production, Mr. Proctor has provided an entirely new set of scenery, thoroughly in keeping with the ultra fashionable tone of the play. It will be excellently interpreted by Malcolm Williams, Miss Lotta Linthoum (who has made a decided success) Charles Lane, Miss Rose Stuart, Gerald Griffin, Miss Loretta Healy, etc. In addition to this production a lengthy vaudeville bill will be presented.

Gun Club Election.

The Independent Gun Club has decided to change the meeting night from Monday to Wednesday. This was deemed advisable on account of the large number of fraternal organizations holding their meetings on Monday nights. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 10. Officers will be elected at that time.

WAR NOW IMMINENT

Japan's Inaction Not Due to Wish For Intervention.

HER STRENGTH UNDERESTIMATED.

Should Mikado's Troops Occupy Korea the Belief Prevails That Russia Would Not Risk Naval Engagement With Weak Fleet.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—A dispatch from Tokyo says that Japan has informed Great Britain and the United States that her apparent inaction is not due to a desire for foreign mediation, but to a policy deliberately adopted.

A dispatch from Tientsin says that the Russians have had a severe brush with brigands at Hsiaokusan, near Kirin, Manchuria.

Mr. Kurino, the Japanese minister, in an interview, said that if war should come he believed it would be a prolonged one. He said it was difficult now to see how it could be decisive, considered solely from a military point of view. "The majority of the people of Russia," said the minister, "and many persons abroad have underestimated Japan's strength, the idea prevailing in some otherwise well informed quarters that Japan would be unable to put more than 200,000 soldiers in the field. This idea is entirely erroneous."

Minister Kurino said he was still hopeful of peace, but was confident that if necessary a Japanese army of more than 600,000 men would give a good account of itself and do credit to Japan's military system and that country's system of compulsory education. He said that Japan's coast defenses were so strong that General Kuropatkin, the Russian minister of war, had freely admitted that even a coalition of the powers would be unable to effect a landing on Japanese soil.

The opinion prevailing abroad that the termination of negotiations would necessarily mean war is not held strongly here. It is pointed out that Russia has never declared what she intends to do.

If Japan occupies Korea the belief prevails in some quarters that Russia would not risk a naval engagement, but would occupy northern Korea. Japan meanwhile possibly intrenching herself on the southern slope above Gonsan, 115 miles northeast of Seoul. While this is merely speculation, in diplomatic circles it is given as one of the reasons for believing that even in the event of the failure of the present negotiations the desire of both sides to avoid the odium of an attack might lead to a final delimitation of the boundaries on the basis of the territory occupied.

To Blow Up Transsiberian Road.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 13.—An interesting statement in connection with the strategic value of the Transsiberian railway has been made by Fulford Bush, a member of a British mercantile firm at Newchwang. Addressing the Liverpool chamber of commerce, Mr. Bush, after covering the question of the light construction of the railway and the probability of the line being blocked if subjected to heavy military traffic, said that his own observations, coupled with trustworthy native information, convinced him that at least 200 Japanese military engineers disguised as Chinese coolies, barbers and other menials had already been distributed at points along the railway and that it would not be a fortnight after the declaration of war before the line would be blown up at a dozen places.

IN THE SENATE.

Discussion on Panama Was the Main Business.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—For almost five hours the senate debated the Panama question, and it was still under consideration when the senate adjourned. The discussion arose over a resolution looking to the arbitration of Colombia's claims on account of the Panama revolution.

It was introduced early in the day by Mr. Bacon and was met promptly by a motion on the part of Mr. Lodge to table it. This motion aroused the feeling of senators on the Democratic side, who construed the motion as intended to cut off debate and said they would debate the Panama question on some other resolution if not on this.

Finally Mr. Lodge consented to withhold his motion, and discussion proceeded throughout the day, with the understanding that it should be renewed again.

Big Fire at Lowell.

LOWELL, Mass., Jan. 13.—The third big fire to visit this city within a week has gutted three business blocks on Merrimac street, entailing a loss estimated at $200,000. Five firemen were injured during the fire, which quickly assumed threatening proportions and proved the most stubborn that the firemen have had to do with in years. Loss, $180,000.

Hanna Re-elected.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 13.—The Ohio legislature by a seperate ballot of the house and senate has voted to return Marcus A. Hanna to the United States senate for a second term. The result will be formally announced at a joint session today, a joint ballot being unnecessary by reason of Senator Hanna having a clear majority in each branch.

THE WORLD'S PEACE

Arbitration Assembly Wants Universal Amity.

CARNEGIE IS THE GREAT APOSTLE

"We Have Abolished the Duel," He Said; "Let Us Take the First Step to Abolish International Dueling."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—A conference called to frame a basis for an arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain and for extension of arbitration throughout the world has opened in this city. There was a notable array of speakers, and messages were received from many prominent men, including the governor of California, the mayors of Boston and Baltimore and John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers.

The meeting was attended by Andrew Carnegie, ex-Senator Gray of Delaware, now circuit court judge; Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, President David Starr Jordan of Stanford university, ex-Secretary of State John W. Foster, James Cardinal Gibbons, Francis Lynde Stetson of New York, Robert Treat Paine of Boston, president of the American Peace society, and others. Ex-Secretary Foster was chosen president and Thomas Nelson Page secretary.

General Foster reviewed the previous arbitration movements and said that no question can hereafter arise between the United States and Great Britain which will more seriously involve the territorial integrity, the honor of the nation, its vital interests or its independence than those which already have been submitted to arbitration without serious injury to our interests. He said there never was a time when the two countries were more closely united.

Mr. Emanuel of New York city spoke of the general trend toward arbitration. "There is some justification," he said, "however, for impugning the motives of a man who advises peace on the one hand and permits thousands of his subjects to be butchered on the other hand. As long as the world is armed to the teeth, as long as nations will have large standing armies and navies, arbitration will not be enough, and nations will find some way to evade the decision arrived at by arbitration. The world must be for general disarmament and only maintain such armies as are needed for the internal peace of the particular country. He said that Israel always has advocated peace and that nations generally were finding that they cannot get along in the world by brute force alone.

J. M. Dickinson, who was senior counsel before the Alaskan boundary tribunal, said that it was fitting that arbitration overtures should be made by this country, which always had been successful at arms and had nothing to fear. Mr. Carnegie was introduced as "the great apostle of arbitration and peace." He recalled that it was eighteen years ago when he first appeared in Washington to urge arbitration. He said he appeared again to labor in the same cause, which had risen phoenix-like and could not fail. He said that Great Britain was longing for such a treaty as the conference contemplated. He (Carnegie) cared less for the provisions of the treaty than for the treaty itself. He said that never before had the English speaking race been so close together. The establishment of an international tribunal would be the twentieth century's greatest achievement. Speaking on insistence on points of honor, he declared that the most dishonorable word in the English language is honor. "We have abolished the duel," said he. "Let it be our race that takes the first step to abolish international dueling."

Later General Foster gave a reception to Governor Durbin of Indiana and the members of the arbitration conference.

The following letter was received from former President Cleveland:

"I have received through Mr. Straus your very courteous invitation to attend the arbitration conference to be held on the 12th of January next and to preside over it on that occasion.

"I need not say to you how much I am interested in the object which the conference has in view and which the contemplated meeting is called to further, and yet, much to my regret, I am obliged to say in response to your invitation that engagements already made and an unusual pressure of work will prevent my attending the meeting."

Mayor Carter H. Harrison of Chicago sent the following:

"Owing to the terrible calamity which has been visited upon our people here in Chicago and the demands upon my time in consequence it will be impossible for me to be with you, much as I would like to.

"In my opinion arbitration should always be resorted to between civilized countries when differences arise. The world is surely far enough advanced by this time to be willing to make an appeal to arms the last resort where nations fall out. Christianity, humanity and all of the higher motives of men make it imperative that before a war is declared every peaceful means of settling matters in controversy should have been employed."

Destroyers as Ocean Goers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—That the destroyers comprising the first torpedo flotilla are able to cross the ocean under their own steam with absolute safety is, in the opinion of Lieutenant L. H. Chandler, commanding, expressed in a report to the navy department on the trip of the destroyers from Hampton Roads to San Francisco, during which, he says, they clearly demonstrated their seaworthiness and coal endurance.

ROOT'S STATEMENT.

War Secretary Talks on Our Isthmian Policy.

NO WAR PREPARATIONS BEING MADE

It Is Not Thought by President or Secretary of State That Conflict Will Result—Colombia Will Not Be Challenged.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13. — Shortly after the cabinet meeting Secretary Root issued the following statement regarding the isthmian policy of the administration:

"The publication in various quarters of news indicating that the government is preparing to send troops to the isthmus to carry on military operations against Colombia has been the source of considerable annoyance to the executive and to the war department. No state of war exists between the two countries; no inauguration of hostilities is contemplated by this government; no preparation for war is being made.

"It is not believed by the president nor by the secretary of state that any occasion for the employment of troops on the isthmus is likely to arise. They have used their utmost efforts to convince General Reyes and the Bogota officials of the friendly intentions of this government toward Colombia and their readiness to use their good offices in the settlement of any questions in dispute between Colombia and Panama.

"It is difficult for them to believe that the authorities in Bogota can be so blinded by passion and prejudice as to declare war against us, and even if this ruinous step should be taken by Colombia this government would be in no haste to respond to her challenge. The president makes all possible allowances for the natural excitement in Bogota over a state of things for which the Colombian government is alone responsible and of which it was fully forewarned.

"But the Colombians must sooner or later recognize the irresistible force of accomplished facts, and the sooner this is done the better for all parties. We have done them no wrong. We would like to be of service to them. If they are wise they will not put it out of our power to help them by any act of rashness and violence."

General Reyes prior to his departure from Washington in an interview with Secretary Hay arranged for further consideration between representatives of the two governments of the Panama matter.

A Colon dispatch says that the United States naval authorities appear to be convinced from the tenor of the reports which are continually brought in that Colombia is determined to send an army to attack Panama.

The Panamanian authorities here received official confirmation of the fact that the Colombian troops at Titumati number at least 4,000 men under the command of Generals Ortiz, Uribe-Uribe, Bustamente and Novo. These troops are well armed and supplied with ammunition and have four guns, three steam launches and a good supply of cattle. The district is an unproductive one, and the provisions and other supplies which the troops possess have been brought to them from other places. The government learned these facts from a reliable informant at Titumati, who contrives to send news of events from that district to Colon by means of signals and trustworthy messengers.

News has also been received that the Indian Chief Inanaquina has returned to Cartagena to interview the Colombian officers regarding a request made by them for 300 Indian cayucos (small boats) to be used by the army at Titumati in crossing rivers.

Colonel Villamil, who is now stationed at Rio Mandinga, at the mouth of the San Blas bay, in command of a hundred Panamanian soldiers, in a report says he has no need of more troops. The colonel said he had already sent out scouts as far as Concepcion to the east and Culebra to the west, who have confirmed the belief that the mountain trails are so difficult that it would be an easy matter for the colonel's command to stop an army attempting to pass over them.

A scouting party of United States marines has just left Colon on the schooner Herald for Nombre de Dios, from where they will send a small boat to Mandikja with the object of effecting a journey to the Darien district toward Tiburon. This expedition is likely to be absent for two or three weeks, and on its return the naval authorities will have the fullest information obtainable regarding trails, etc.

It is expected that all the warships will leave Colon today for the purpose of making a demonstration along the San Blas coast. The vessels will land an attacking force the moment information reaches them that Colombian troops have crossed into Panama territory.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

The Senate recognized the Panama Republic yesterday. Look sharp, and you may see it too.

They may accuse Odell of handling groceries but the fact remains that he is not dealing out any sugar to Platt.

The Legislature resumes its work of making laws today; the courts are depended upon to keep on working over time declaring them unconstitutional.

Possibly through some mistake in the composing room this sentence clipped from the Elizabeth Evening Times appeared in its editorial instead of its funny column: "If Elizabeth has anything to learn from Plainfield, it may do so particularly in the management of its excise matters."

It's a little rough on Plainfield.

Congressman Charles N. Fowler, whose most ardent admirers are Plainfielders, was at Trenton yesterday witnessing the formal opening of the Legislature. New Jersey Republicans were reminded that the statesman from Union County has some friends when they saw the way the Plainfield delegation of politicians greeted him.

According to the Philadelphia Record an old merchant says that circulars and booklets can reach but a limited number of people, and that the most widely circulated magazines are not read by a considerable proportion of the public. The newspapers, however, are read by virtually everybody, and as "you can never tell who will prove a profitable customer," the chances are overwhelming that the newspaper will reach him where other agencies will not.

There are very many advertisements that do not pay. One man has roughly estimated that seventy-five per cent. of all advertisements do not pay; yet the other twenty-five per cent. pay so well that there is scarcely a business man who is willing to stand idly by and allow his competitors to do the advertising. The expense connected with advertising has increased; the competition between rival firms has become keener; and consequently the demand for good advertising has become imperative. The number of unsuccessful advertisements are many, and yet the loss incurred in an unsuccessful advertising campaign is so great that many firms stand aghast at the thought of such an undertaking. Many merchants see the necessity of advertising their business, but feel unable to enter the arena and compete with successful rivals. — Walter D. Scott, in the January Atlantic.

There are two schoolmasters in this section of the State who would like to spank Miss Shaw, who reports the result of her investigations of suburban schools in the current number of the World's Work. These two are Dr. Poland, superintendent of schools in Newark, and Dr. Shearer, who holds a similar position in Elizabeth. But there is one other who has no reason to complain of the feminine writer's criticism. The man in question is Henry M. Maxson, the popular superintendent of the local school system. The reason why is plain. Miss Shaw's opinion is that Plainfield has the best schools in New Jersey and Newark and Elizabeth have about the worst. We do not pretend to know how thorough Miss Shaw was in making her investigations, but we do know that the liberality of the Common Council of this city towards the schools is such that there is no reason why we should not have the best system in the State of New Jersey.

A "mum" social, given by the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church, will be the attraction in the lecture room of the church, Friday night. The idea of the affair will be for all to maintain an absolute silence even when addressed, a cash penalty being the result of speaking. Those who have once been penalized will have the privilege of attempting to make others speak. Miss Harriet O. Mattison is the head of the committee in charge.

A meeting and dinner will be held at the Trenton House at Trenton Thursday evening by prominent Episcopal laymen, for the purpose of organizing a church club. The proposed organization will embrace the entire New Jersey diocese. SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

Patrick McCullen, a conductor on the Bound Brook trolley line, was seriously injured in an accident at West Dunellen Monday night. Mr. McCullen was on the front of the car with the motorman when the car crashed into one of the large moving vans owned by John King, of Bound Brook. The motorman escaped uninjured but the conductor was thrown through the door, receiving some deep cuts about the head and breaking his right leg.

Those who are compelled to travel by trolley to and from work, are complaining bitterly of the poor service in the way of cars connecting at Jefferson avenue. The patrons of the road are often compelled to stand a long time in the cold waiting for cars with no place of shelter. It is a frequent occurrence for one car to pull out when the other is within a few hundred feet of it.

The borough commuters were late getting home last evening owing to the Newark bay bridge being out of order, and the trains were compelled to come out by way of Newark.

Alexander Terry has resigned his position as template-maker at Levering & Garrigues' factory and returned to his home in New York City.

Lewis Wahl, who has been laid up for the past week with blood poisoning in his leg, is very much improved.

Charles Whybusky and family have moved into the Apgar house on Front street which was recently completed.

County Superintendent of Schools Brewster Willis visited the Lincoln and Whittier schools yesterday.

Engineer A. K. Smith has returned to work after enjoying a month's vacation.

Weekly prayer meeting will be held in the Presbyterian chapel this evening.

Frank Bowlby is suffering with an attack of the mumps.

NEW MARKET.

Under the auspices of Friendship Council, No. 81, Jr. O. U. A. M., a very successful entertainment was held in Friendship Hall last evening Prof. Struck, known as "the master mind of legerdemain," pleased and completely mystified his audience in his famous feats of magic. All his performances met with hearty applause. In addition to Prof. Struck's entertainment, the New Market band rendered some pleasing music. A neat sum was realized on the affair.

The members of the band have decided to give a ball in the near future for the benefit of that organization.

William Danz will leave on Saturday for Southern Kansas where he will spend two years on a ranch.

William F. Randolph and Henry Garretson have been elected trustees of the First Baptist church.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Fanwood Council, R. A., held installation of officers last night, District Deputy Charles A. Collyer, being the installing officer, assisted by Grand Guide Beach. During the good of the order the members enjoyed speech making while they enjoyed their cigars. The District Deputy complimented Fanwood upon its growth during the year just closed, the Council making a neat gain of 33 per cent. in membership. At the next meeting, Grand Regent Washburn and staff will be the guest of the Council. The officers for 1904 are: Regent, J. Edward Ruth; vice, Samuel Hollingsworth; orator, James H. Buckley; collector, Rev. James H. Parks; treasurer, John P. Bornmann; secretary, William E. Collins; chaplain, Charles Kyte; guide, R. S. Robinson; trustee, William B. Noble.

Word was received in the village on Tuesday, of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Smalley, widow of the late L. H. K. Smalley, who died at her home at Buffalo, N. Y., on Monday. Mrs. Smalley was a former old resident of the village, Mr. Smalley at one time owning the Ackerman property on Park avenue near the borough line. Funeral service will be Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the Baptist church. Interment will be made in the family plot in the cemetery.

A party, by the name of Lutz, hailing from Berkley Heights, was in town Tuesday afternoon, trying to find out the names of the bob sled parties who ran into him while coasting on Spencer's hill on Monday night. Mr. Lutz's cutter was pretty badly wrecked, but the boys and bobs escaped injury and are keeping very closed mouth about it, as they can see a bill for damages ahead.

J. Edward Ruth, formerly of the village, but now of Newark, was installed as Regent of Fanwood Council, R. A., last night. Mr. Ruth attends every meeting of the Council, notwithstanding his living so far away. His interest in the order will be an incentive to the other members during his term of office, and a most successful year is prophesied for this local Council.

Miss Harriett Squiers, of the corps of teachers of the public school, resumed teaching this morning after an illness of nearly two weeks, at her home at Rahway.

The members of the Bible study class, of the Methodist church, held their semi-monthly meeting for study at the home of Miss Jennie Johnston, last night.

Justice Clark has refused to grant an ejectment in the landlord-tenant case of Walpole against Ammons, until the weather conditions are more favorable.

The change in the transportation on Tuesday played havoc with the excellent sleighing which has been indulged in for the past week.

Robin Horne, who has been ill a few days, is improving.

Robert Kyle is convalescent from his recent illness.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Defective eyes cause more headache than all other bodily ailments. The remedy is perfectly fitting glasses. Our advice is free tomorrow. Stiles & Co., Philadelphia eye specialist, 102 East Front street.

Mrs. Thomas E. MacDonald, of East Front srteet, is confined to her room by illness.

SODA SUCCESS.

Soda success is earned by attention to details.

We've built up a good soda trade by looking after our soda business. We see that the syrups are properly made—see that there is enough to make it palatable—see that everything is kept clean.

Then, too, our soda fountain is the handsomest in the State of New Jersey.

Try our Hot Chocolate, Beef Tea, Tomato Bouillon, Clam Bouillon or Chicken broth 5c per cup. It's simply delicious.

LOST IN CATACOMBS.

Party of Tourists Lose Their Way in Dismal Old Hole.

For Over Two Hours They Tramped at Random Over the Stony Paths of the Oldest Burial Place of Paris.

A party of tourists had an experience of the most startling character in the Catacombs of Paris recently.

The party, which consisted of 25 persons, 19 of whom were English and American, were lost for over two hours in the underground passages in the midst of piles of grinning skulls and stacks of human bones. When ultimately they found their way out, the women were on the verge of collapse, and all were suffering from nervous shock.

For some years past the Catacombs have been recognized as dangerous. Formerly visitors were allowed to enter unattended, and were merely told to follow a broad black band which is painted along the roof. By following this instruction they were able to find an exit a couple of miles away.

Owing, however, to several mysterious disappearances of tourists and to the ground having given way under several of the labyrinthine galleries, it was decided that visitors should be admitted only when accompanied by a guide.

Recently a large party entered the Catacombs at the Rue Denfert-Rochereau entrance. They were accompanied by a guide, and carried lighted candles. After wandering along the dark narrow passages for some time, an Englishman stopped to examine some curious inscriptions, and a crowd gathered round. When they started again the guide and rest of the party had disappeared.

An American woman, Mrs. Frederic Brady, who was one of the party, states that after having gone on for 20 minutes without finding their friends, the Englishman who had been the cause of the trouble admitted that he had lost his way. Then several of the women began to cry. Some of the party were afraid to go forward, but others urged that they must pass on to find an outlet before the candles burnt out. The scene was one of indescribable confusion.

The men shouted in the hope of making those who had gone on ahead hear, but there was no answer, and the party, in a state of greatest excitement, wandered on through passage after passage, turning in and out amid the piles of human bones. This went on for an hour and a half, and some of the candles were burning very low.

Mme. Chambronty, a French woman who had been in the Catacombs several times before, at last noticed a spring of water, and exclaimed in broken English that she knew the way. For another 20 minutes the visitors followed her, and when nearly all the candles had gone out they came to an exit. But it was locked, and there was another cry of despair. Happily, some keepers, who evidently thought that all visitors had left, appeared and unlocked the iron gates.

According to rule, the men in charge are ordered to count the number of visitors who enter and leave the Catacombe, but this precaution is evidently neglected. For the future it has been decided that visitors shall be accompanied by two guides, one of whom will go in front of and the other will follow a party.

The Catacombs of Paris are abandoned quarries extending under a large portion of the city. They were made into a receptacle for human bones in 1786, when the cemeteries of the city were condemned and the bones removed thither.

Broke His Vow.

Miss Helen Lackeye, sister of the popular actor, Wilton Lackeye, has the family gift of repartee fully developed. Recently a young society man who prides himself on his popularity with female acquaintances begged from her a few of the violets she wore at her corsage. He placed the flowers inside the case of his watch, vowing that as long as he lived they should repose there. A few days later the two met again and Miss Lackeye asked about the flowers. The young man was visibly embarrassed, but explained that he had opened the watch while in the street and that a gust of wind had blown away the violets. "And you kept the watch after that?" said Miss Lackeye with sweet incredulity.

ST. LOUIS CHOSEN.

Democratic Convention Will Be Held In Exhibition City July 6.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13. — At the Democratic national committee meeting assembled to select a city and fix a date for the national convention State Senator McCarren of New York was given a hearty cheer as he stepped forward to present the claims of New York city for the convention. One of the controlling motives to be considered, he said, was the comfort of the delegates. He referred to what he termed the discomfort of the delegates at the convention at Kansas City on account of the torridity of the weather. The next convention, he said, was to be largely attended, and this fact indicated victory. Political advantage was the next thing to be considered. There was no more commodious place than Manhattan Island. There are more hotels there than anywhere else in the country. There would be no increase in hotel rates.

The salubrity of the climate of New York was next mentioned. "New York is a summer city," declared Mr. McCarren. "You can wear a light overcoat there with comfort in July."

This statement provoked a subdued laugh.

St. Louis was advocated by Mayor Rolla Wells, who was introduced by Senator Stone, a member of the committee. As mayor of St. Louis, Mr. Wells said he was qualified to extend a most cordial invitation in behalf of the people of that city for the convention. He dwelt at some length on St. Louis and the state of Missouri as a Democratic stronghold. The city, he said, was located in almost the center of the population of the country. The hall and hotel accommodations, he guaranteed, would be most ample. Mayor Wells referred to the opening of the exposition next April also as an inducement for the convention.

A written proposal was presented to the committee offering $40,000 in cash and the free use of the Coliseum, a fireproof building with a seating capacity of 12,000.

The proposal of Chicago was read. It contained a provision that should the sum of $45,000, offered by that city, not be exhausted in paying the legitimate expenses of the convention the balance should be returned; also that 3,000 tickets be placed at the disposal of the local committee.

The committee took a short recess and then went into executive session, choosing St. Louis as the convention city and fixing July 6 as the date for holding the convention.

Just before the committee adjourned W. J. Bryan, who had just arrived in Washington, entered the committee room. After the adjournment he held an informal reception, being personally greeted by many members of the committee.

On the first ballot St. Louis received 23 votes, Chicago 20 and New York 6.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 13.—Clarence Bouldin of Cleveland (The Cuban Wonder) won one fall from Americus (Gus Schoenlein) of this city here in forty-five minutes. An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

THE NEW WOMAN

Her Words and Deeds

IT'S a queer world this. On the other hand, preachers, high dignitaries and solemn old owls of college men and judges rail venomously and vociferously at woman for constantly straining in the leash to get out of her "spear," as Artemus Ward used to call it. "Go back home," they cry, "marry, raise children, large families! The more children you give to this wicked and perverse world, no matter what their quality or bringing up, the nearer to exactness you will be in fulfilling woman's only sphere. And marry, marry, marry! Whatever else you don't do, marry and stay at home with your little ones." This is their preaching. Now for their practice: Just so sure as a woman engaged in any professional employment loves a man and weds him, and, loving also her profession, desires to continue it, then these same would be final authorities on the woman question raise the most awful howl you ever heard. "Get out," they say; "get out of school teaching; get out of government clerkships and postoffices. We won't have a married woman in our employ. Get out, I say! Starve if you must, but get out!" After hounding women into matrimony on all sides these gentlemen who think they understand a woman's business better than she does herself at once deprive her of a livelihood. A late instance of this is the cruel taking away from a married woman of the Nordica musical prize after she had actually won it. It was refused to her because she had had the temerity to marry. The prize carried with it a five years' course in musical instruction, and the lady from whom it was taken was the wife of a minister. Let officials and authorities take notice. They themselves are steadily discriminating against marriage and discouraging all intellectual and aspiring women from entering into it.

Helen Wilmans says, "Of all the so called virtues humility is the most accursed."

There are times when even I feel discouraged over women. These times come after I read of some sloppy, false, foolish, flabbergasted, emotional outbreak on the part of members of my sex. There is little George Howard Meredith, the child orchestra conductor, five years old. After some of his performances in New York he is mobbed by idiotic women who attempt to smother him in kisses till policemen have to keep the effusive females off. Heaven send them at least a little sense!

* *

Dr. Emily Dunning, the New York woman ambulance surgeon, is winning a noble reputation by the able, thorough, dignified way in which she discharges her duties. She was recently called as a witness in a case where the decision hinged on the sanity or insanity of a man who had murdered his wife. The man had tried also to kill himself, but failed, and Dr. Dunning was the ambulance surgeon who took him wounded to the hospital. She said in her judgment the man was irrational, and she gave her reasons in the clearest, most scientific way, a way that commanded admiration.

Miss Florence Offutt, teacher of physical culture in the State college at Lexington, Ky., announces that, though she is going to be married to an admirable young man, she is not going to give up her professorship. She says that any woman can attend to a home and a profession, too, if she cares enough for her profession to do so. Miss Offutt prefers her profession to the "senseless round of gayety" of a young married woman in society.

* *

An infallible test of a man is his views on the woman question. If he is willing to accord to woman all the rights he claims for himself in the industrial, social and political realms, then he is a man of large brain and heart; if not, then he is a man of small brain and narrow, pettily jealous nature. Steer away from the man who is opposed to woman's rights.

* *

The most awfully overworked word in the English language is that word "tot" as applied to children, especially around the winter and summer holidays. I'm so tired of it that I would it had never been invented.

A solemn college president declares through his nose—I am sure he talked through his nose, if not through his hat—that woman may never hope to compete with man in athletics. Well, what woman wants to compete with man in athletics? What woman cares a rap about it one way or the other? All women desire is how speedily to develop their health and physical powers to the highest and most nearly perfect condition without reference to college presidents or men.

A girl lately wore to a business office a pretty new shirt waist of black and white. There were large but not offensively obtrusive squares in the pattern, suggesting only to a very lively imagination a checkerboard. A gentleman saw her first thing in the office and remarked, "My move next!" Men don't notice women's clothes?

In one respect at least Dowie's Zion City is superior to any other city in all the realm of our boasted civilization. Zion has a woman on its board of aldermen.

POSTAL FRAUDS TRIAL.

Machen, Groff Brothers, Dr. and Mrs. Lorenz at the Bar.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The trial of August W. Machen, the Groff brothers and Dr. and Mrs. George E. Lorenz for complicity in the postal frauds has begun in earnest here. At the outset the government scored two points, when Justice Pritchard refused to make a rule requiring the District attorney to select the specific count of the indictment under which the defendants would be tried and also when he permitted certain postoffice inspectors to remain in court after the other witnesses had been required to retire.

Six witnesses were examined, all of them in the employ of the postoffice department. Except in the case of Witness Howley, chief clerk of the office of the first assistant postmaster general, the testimony was devoid of any feature. Mr. Howley, who had not concluded his testimony when court adjourned for the day, was rigidly cross examined by Mr. Kumler of counsel for the Lorenzes. He admitted that frequently it happened that Machen's initials and signature were placed on letters, orders and requisitions by his subordinates and that this practice had resulted in an order to all division chiefs prohibiting their delegating this authority to others.

CHINESE TREATY SIGNED.

Emperor at Peking Asks For Immediate Ratification.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Sir Chentung Liang Cheng, the Chinese minister here, called upon Acting Secretary of State Loomis and informed him that he had received a cable dispatch from Peking stating that the emperor had fixed his seal to the Chinese-American treaty and further that he had acceded to the request of the American government through Minister Conger for the immediate exchange of ratifications.

Therefore without awaiting the arrival in Washington of the copy of the treaty from Peking the minister and Secretary Hay will within a day or two sign a protocol equivalent to the exchange of ratifications, and, the president's proclamation being issued, the convention will go into effect immediately.

The minister's advices induced the state department to change the plan it had formed earlier in the day to await the arrival of the mail copy of the treaty.

IN THE HOUSE.

House Spent Five Hours Over Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The house for more than five hours considered the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, but reached no conclusions on it. A variety of topics, including Panama and the tariff, were discussed during the course of the debate. Mr. Adams (Rep., Pa.), in referring to the dinner recently given in New York city at which Mr. Olney spoke, made reference to the result of the recent New York municipal contest as a victory won by catering to those who desire free license in rum and immorality.

This statement was resented by Mr. Fitzgerald (Dem., N. Y.), in a vigorous speech, who in giving the reasons responsible, in his opinion, for the Democratic victory in that city warmly assailed the Low administration.

THE GIANT OF GIANTS.

He Is Twenty-Two Years Old and Almost Eight Feet High, in His Stocking Feet.

According to scientists who have carefully examined him, the man whose picture accompanies this story enjoys the distinction of being the tallest person in the world. His name is Feodore Machow, and he comes of an old Russian family. He is now about 22 years old and is 238 centimenters in height. He especially surpasses all other giants now living in the length of his head, and in every other respect he is of the greatest scientific interest. The New York Herald says that all the other giants who have been seen in Europe were from ten to 15 centimeters smaller than he is, their average height, according to the late Prof. Virchow, who made a thorough study of the subject, being from 210 to 227 centimeters. Those who have not seen Machow can obtain an adequate idea of his height from the fact that the top boots which he wears, and which hardly reach to his knees, would cover two ordinary persons up to the waist and could be used by two 12-year-old boys as places in which they could completely conceal themselves. Moreover, the mattress on which he sleeps is nine feet long, and at every meal he eats three pounds of meat, together with a large quantity of bread, potatoes and other vegetables.

IMPROVING HIS STYLE.

Experience of a Young Reporter Who Took the Kentucky Editor's Advice Too Literally.

Col. Henry Watterson, the editor, believes in good English, and not only writes it himself, but tries to get his young men to write it also.

The Philadelphia Post says that a bright young fellow who went to report a national convention with Col. Watterson turned in an article one night that was loosely written and somewhat slangy.

The colonel read it with portentous frowns. "Here, here, young man," he said, "this will never do. You must improve your style."

"What can I do to improve it, colonel?" the young man asked.

"Read, sir, read; read books."

"Yes, colonel, but what books?"

"Read Thackeray; start with 'Pendennis.'"

That night there was much excitement. Important news developed. Col.

COL. HENRY WATTERSON.
(Famous Kentucky Editor, Lecturer and Story Teller.)

Watterson waited for his young man's report. It came to be 11 o'clock at night, and he had not submitted a line. The colonel started on a search and found the young man in his room with his feet on a table, smoking a cigar and reading a book.

"Here, sir," shouted the colonel, "what are you doing? Where is your article? You have written nothing that I can find. What are you doing here loafing in this manner while the paper is waiting for the news?"

"Why, colonel," the young man replied with pained surprise, "I am carrying out your orders. I am reading 'Pendennis' to improve my style."

Discouragers of Suicide.

A favorite method of suicide in Japan lately has been to leap over certain waterfalls. So frequent have such occurrences become that police are now constantly stationed in their neighborhood, and large notice boards are erected bearing inscriptions in large letters, of which the following translation is an example: "Do not drown yourself here! Intended suicides are warned that heaven disapproves of the utilization of Kegon waterfall for the purpose. This is certified to on the best priestly authority, and serious consequences in the hereafter are guaranteed. To drown here is also forbidden by the prefectural authorities."

MABEL BECHTEL'S MURDER.

David Weisenberger Acquitted, Then Placed on the Stand.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Jan. 13.—The series of trials to fix the responsibility for the murder in October last of Mabel Bechtel, the pretty twenty-one-year old silk mill girl of this city, was begun before Judge Trexler in the Lehigh county court, and before adjournment had been taken David Weisenberger, one of the accused lovers of the unfortunate girl, was formally arraigned and acquitted of the murder charge. Alois Eckstein, Mabel Bechtel's fiance, also charged with complicity in the crime, was called to the bar of the court, and the slow work of selecting a jury to try him was in progress when court adjourned.

After Eckstein's case is disposed of the aged mother of the dead girl, Myrtha, the seventeen-year-old daughter, and the two sons, Charles and John, will be tried for complicity in the sensational crime. Thomas Bechtel, another son, who was arrested along with the above named persons, committed suicide in his cell the day after he was taken into custody.

Weisenberger was to have been arraigned first, but the whole proceeding was delayed by the trial of Eugene Bloch, accused of the murder of a woman named Katie Fatzinger.

Immediately after the jury in this case had solemnly filed out of the crowded court room to consider Bloch's guilt or innocence District Attorney Lichtenwalner called the Weisenberger case. Weisenberger pleaded not guilty to the charge of accessory before and after the fact, after which the district attorney announced that the commonwealth at this time had no evidence to convict the defendant and asked that the jury render a verdict of not guilty.

Judge Trexler instructed the jury accordingly, and Weisenberger was freed. Without the loss of a minute's time Eckstein's case was called. The charges against him are similar to those lodged against his rival for the love of Mabel Bechtel. That the case will be stubbornly fought is indicated by the fact that out of the thirty-four men called up to adjournment to serve as jurors twenty-six were excused or challenged.

New Jersey Legislature Opens.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 13.—The one hundred and twenty-eighth annual session of the New Jersey legislature has been opened here with much ceremony. The galleries of both houses were filled, and on the desks of the members were many floral tributes. The senators occupied for the first time the new senate chamber. The chamber itself is extremely small, affording room only for the senators themselves, while there is a great profusion of corridors and reception rooms. When the senate was called to order Senator Ferrell, the candidate of the Democrats for president, was made temporary presiding officer. Senator Edmund W. Wakelee was elected president, and Walter E. Edge of Atlantic City was chosen secretary. A committee notified Governor Murphy that the senate was in session, and the governor sent to the senate his annual message, which was read in full in accordance with the custom established a year ago.

Whole Town Burned.

VINCENNES, Ind., Jan. 13.—Shortly after midnight it was reported that all Iona, Ind., had been destroyed by fire with the exception of two houses, but the report could not be confirmed. Earlier in the night it was reported that Palmer & Sons' merchandise store, the United Presbyterian church, a school building and several dwellings had been burned and that the whole place was in danger of destruction.

Situation In Uruguay.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Jan. 13.—The finance minister of Uruguay has resigned. While a large number of government troops are in the field, no serious engagement with the revolutionists has been reported. Representatives of the commercial interests of the country are working actively for peace, and hopes are expressed that some arrangement will be reached.

Friends Might Rescue.

BRISTOL, Tenn., Jan. 13.—To prevent his friends attacking the Gate City (Va.) jail to release John H. Catrow, who is held on a charge of murdering Deputy Sheriff Ecknickels and John Osborne, election judges, the prisoner has been removed to the county jail at Abingdon, Va., for safe keeping.

Moccasin Floated.

Visitors from Union county were mostly conspicuous by their absence. Among those who called at the Capitol during the day were George J. Tobin, L. T. Thurlow, Robert Meeker and J. F. Buckle, of this city. J. T. MacMurray, Andrew McArdell and William N. Runyon were noted among the absentees.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

A St. Louis Exposition club has been formed at the Y. M. C. A., a number of the members of the association combining to arrange for a trip to the exposition next summer. The party will be in charge of Secretary Robbie, of the boys' department.

Through the efforts of the "Indian tribes" in the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., which have been "scouting" for new members during the past two months, the membership has been increased by twenty-seven. The Spotted Tail tribe secured twenty of the new men and Sitting Bull seven, and as a result the members of the last mentioned tribe will tender a banquet to their opponents.

MR. SCHEPFLIN AT REST

FUNERAL OF DEAD MANUFACTURER YESTERDAY LARGELY ATTENDED.

The funeral services of the late Christian Schepflin, were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 from the house, where a large number of friends gathered to honor his memory. There was a large delegation from the Gesang and Turn Verein, of North Plainfield, of which Mr. Schepflin was an honorary member, and there was also a delegation from the Middlesex Bowling Green Club.

There were many handsome floral tributes, including a pillow from the Bowling Green Club and other friends. During the service Mrs. Giddis, of Dunellen, sang appropriate selections.

Rev. Frank Fletcher, pastor of the New Market Baptist church, spoke eloquently of the noble qualities in Mr. Schepflin's character. He referred of his identification with the interests of Dunellen and Plainfield and of his generous nature.

The interment was made in Hillside Cemetery, and the bearers were Isaac Giddes, Charles Lake and Lloyd Nelson, of Dunellen, and Charles Dobbins, of New York City.

PARK BOWLERS WIN VICTORY

CRANFORD CASINO AGGREGATION DEFEATED IN 2 OUT OF 3 GAMES.

The Park Club bowling team showed marked improvement last night when it took two of the series of three games rolled against Cranford Casino in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament. This gives the Parks a better standing with three victories to eight defeats. Westfield still leads with ten victories and two defeats, while Roselle is a close second.

LITERARY.

The varying possibilities of the next Presidential election are forecasted and analyzed by Mr. Henry Litchfield West in the January-March Forum. He reaches the conclusion that the campaign of 1904 will be fought out upon the tariff issue, and that a continuance of the present business conditions will result in a vote of confidence in the Administration.

The January issue of the Metropolitan Magazine is an extraordinary number, as it contains a Christmas story as well as "A Christmas Reverie," and is on the news-stands some days before Christmas. "The Christmas Peace," by Thomas Nelson Page, is the strongest, most appealing, most engaging short story ever written by this undisputed master of fiction. Like most of Mr. Page's stories, the scene of this narrative is laid in the South during the period of reconstruction, and it glows with kindly philosophy and keen character portrayals. This story is beautifully illustrated with drawings by Blendon Campbell. The other Christmas contribution, "A Christmas Reverie," by Bliss Carman, is written in the inimitable fashion which makes Mr. Carman's writing of such unusual literary importance.

Mrs. W. V. Gorman Dead.

Mrs. Walter V. Gorman, sister to Mrs. Emma E. Montanye, of this city, died Sunday at her home in New York city. She was the daughter of Robert and Lizzie Miller. The funeral will be held tomorrow from the late residence in West 100th street, New York. The interment will be in the M. E. Cemetery here.

The regular meeting of the Catholic Benevolent Legion will be held Friday night.

The officers-elect of Howell Division, Sons of Temperance, will be installed Monday night.

Protective Conclave, Improved Order Heptasophs, will install officers, Thursday night, Jan. 21.

The ball which which was to have been given by the Germania Beneficial Society has been abandoned for the year. A committee meeting held last night resulted in the postponing of the ball until the proposed new Saengerbund Hall is erected.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, R. A., will open up its new rooms in the Babcock building with a big celebration Thursday night. There will be a number of out-of-town delegations present. The meeting nights of the order will be the second and fourth Thursdays of the month, instead of the second and fourth Mondays as heretofore.

In order to work the chief's degree on three members of the Tonaluka Tribe, No. 241, at Cranford last night, about sixteen members of Miantonomo Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, journeyed to that place. The meeting was largely attended and, after the degree work had been completed by the local men, refreshments and a social time were enjoyed. Speeches were made by Past Great Sachem William Newcorn, Deputy Great Sachem D. G. S. Green, Past Sachems C. L. Holstein, Stiglitz, Dreier and others.

ANOTHER NORMAL SCHOOL

EFFORT TO BE MADE TO OBTAIN $300,000 FROM PRESENT LEGISLATURE.

Strenuous efforts will be made by the State Board of Education to obtain from the present Legislature the money for the erection of the new $300,000 normal school provided for in the bill passed last winter. With the single exception the Board is a unit for the new school, and as enthusiastic for its location in the northern section of the State as it was last winter. The report last winter was made by Edward Russ, of Hoboken; Francis Scott, of Paterson; S. St. John McCutchen, of this city; Everets Colby, of Orange, and Louis Bevier, of New Brunswick, a special committee of the Board appointed under a joint resolution of 1902, "directing the State Board of Education to inquire into the facilities now provided for the training of teachers and the cost thereof, and to report thereon to the Legislature at its next session."

Upon the advice of the committee the State Board recommended that a new normal school should be established in the northern portion of the State, and part of the ground on which it based this recommendation was that the present school was inadequate.

When the report had been submitted to the Legislature a bill was passed authorizing the location of the school on a site to be selected by the State Board, but the amount designated in the measure for its cost was not placed in the annual appropriation bill. It is for the purpose of getting that amount in the appropriation bill of the next session that the Board will make its fight.

The State Board has in view a site for the new school, but for obvious reasons it does not want to reveal its locality until the money is available.

The members of the Board expect to encounter much opposition in their efforts to obtain the money, and are prepared to make a vigorous fight.

The Bradley-Martins Outdone.

A costume ball that surpassed the famous Bradley-Martin affair of a few years ago has just taken place. The costumes were the most beautiful and picturesque ever worn worn by a gathering of men and women at an affair of this sort, and represented thousands of dollars. But little publicity was given the ball, and few persons outside of those present even knew that it took place. But the Sunday World has been able to obtain possession of photographs of many of the participants in their costumes, and will present them next Sunday. They make an astonishing set of pictures, for the persons represented are all of prominence in social and dramatic circles. Next Sunday's World.

THE BANKS ELECT OFFICERS

BOARDS OF DIRECTORS CHOSEN BY PLAINFIELD'S THREE INSTITUTIONS.

Augustus J. Brunson was elected president of the First National Bank yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Board of Directors. Mr. Brunson holds a controlling interest in the stock of the bank. He succeeds J. Wesley Johnson, who retires after holding several terms of office. J. A. Smith was chosen vice president yesterday, D. M. Runyon, cashier, and N. B. Smalley, secretary. The members of the Board of Directors were re-elected as follows: J. W. Johnson, J. A. Smith, J. A. Hubbard, A. J. Brunson, W. R. Codington, N. B. Smalley, R. M. Stelle, C. Frank French, P. J. Zeglio.

The directors elected at the annual meeting of the Plainfield Trust Company at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon were: Ernest R. Ackerman, J. Herbert Case, Frederick Geller, Augustus V. Heely, Horace F. Howland, Francis de L. Hyde, James W. Jackson, Edward H. Ladd, Jr., Charles W. McCutchen, Henry A. McGee, Walter M. McGee, George P. Mellick, Samuel Townsend, Lewis E. Waring and Orville T. Waring. It is stated at the company's office this morning that there would be no change in the officers.

The directors of the City National Bank met this morning and re-elected these officers for the coming year: President, J. Frank Hubbard; vice president, J. T. Closson; cashier, William F. Arnold.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—The auction sale conducted by P. H. LaTourette, at 409 West Front street, yesterday afternoon, was successful, all the goods bringing good prices.

—John Scott, charged by James Shay with using vile language, was given his choice of a $5 fine or twenty days in jail, this morning, by City Judge Runyon.

—Miss Margaret Yerkes, of Central avenue, has been called to Bayonne to take temporary charge of the shorthand department of Drake's Business College. Miss Yerkes has been taking the teacher's course at the Plainfield Business College, and has been successful in her work thus far.

Tribune Almanac.

Does The Tribune Almanac encourage that besetting sin, laziness? That charge has been made, and it is by no means certain that a clever pleader couldn't prove the allegation. For instance, the Almanac collects and compresses into one pocket volume facts and data which it would take one weeks to hunt for in newspaper files, official publications and numerous books. Perhaps it would be better if people had to dig out this information for themselves. But there are so many busy persons who really haven't the time that it seems a pity not to gather and arrange it for them.

Inspected Crematory.

Health Officer L. R. Thurlow, J. F. Buckle and President of Common Council R. I. Tolles were in Trenton yesterday inspecting the crematory. After the visit they expressed themselves as being satisfied with the plant, saying it was the cleanest and most modern incinerating they had yet inspected.

Church Social.

The members of the Men's Assembly, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, held a meeting last night. The Woman's Missionary Society of the same church met in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frederick Wenzel on South Second street.

ABOUT THE MAN-HOLE COVERS

LOT FURNISHED ON CONTRACT CONDEMNED AND ANOTHER ORDERED.

Man hole covers, ordered some time ago from James Mabury & Son, of Passaic, and which were recently received here, have been proven to be of faulty construction and a new contract has had to be let out to the Pond Machine Tool Company which concern has recently completed the work at the expense of the Passaic concern. The fault in the ones sent from Passaic is that they were below the grade called for in the specifications. They are too light and therefore could not stand the heavy travel. A new pattern of casting was made. The old covers were stored away yesterday and will be kept awaiting the company's orders. About thirty-five covers were put in place. The specifications called for a weight of 150 pounds apiece.

HASN'T BEEN SEEN SINCE CHRISTMAS

Unaccountable Disappearance of Thomas J. Donahue, a Local Insurance Man.

DEATH OR INSANITY?

LEFT PLAINFIELD DECEMBER 24, TO VISIT NEW YORK FRIENDS.

No Trace of Him in New York Hospitals or Morgues—Had Been Sick for Some Time—Employed by Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

By his unaccountable disappearance for three weeks, Thomas J. Donahue, an insurance man of this city, has caused much worriment among his friends who think that he has either been dealt with foully or has lost his mind and is wandering aimlessly about the country. Donahue is an insurance agent and has been in the employ of the local branch of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company since November 1902, coming here from Brooklyn. He lived at the Belmont Hotel on North avenue. His employer, Joseph W. Graham, the company's superintendent, told the story of his disappearance to a Daily Press representative this morning.

On December 24, Donahue announced to his friends that he intended going to New York city to visit friends over Christmas Day. That he did this is known, for it has been learned that he called at the home of his former landlady at 231 West 23d street on Thursday afternoon. What happened to him thereafter is swallowed up in mystery. Not the slightest trace of him has been obtainable, from the time he made his call on the day before Christmas.

Donahue had been in ill health for some months before his disappearance, though, for the three weeks directly preceding, his condition had been somewhat improved. The New York police have been notified of his disappearance and several of the city's hospitals and the morgues have been visited without the discovery of any clue. It is Mr. Graham's theory that the man is dead or has lost his mind, for otherwise, he would certainly have notified Mr. Graham of the reason for his absence. The superintendent was practically the only friend Donahue is known to have had in Plainfield.

Donahue was of a somewhat morose disposition and made few friends. He was forty-seven to forty-eight years old, though appearing older. He was slightly built, weighing probably 140 pounds. His hair was white, his moustache red turning gray.

No possible reason for his disappearance can be conceived. He was absolutely correct and up-to-date in his accounts. He had no immediate family and no relatives whatever so far as known beyond a brother living somewhere in the vicinity of Boston, Mass. It is not thought that he carried a large sum of money when he disappeared. All of his personal belongings he left at the Belmont Hotel where they still await his return.

Farmers Unfairly Treated.

The opening session of the New Jersey State Board of Agriculture at the State House at Trenton yesterday, was enlivened by the claim made by A. J. Rider, of Hammonton, that New Jersey farmers are not fairly treated by the State's tax laws. Mr. Rider made the claim that manufacturers, with half their capital invested in this State, are not subjected to the burdens placed upon those concerns which are engaged in agricultural pursuits and have all capital invested within New Jersey. He also said that the farmer has to pay one per cent. on every dollar of invested capital.

The total number of call men for the department will be six, two of whom will be connected with the engine house. It is probable that a hook and ladder truck will be added to the equipment of the department.

Wallace M. Brown, Clothing Maker, to Remove His Plant to New York City.

Wallace M. Brown, who has been engaged in the manufacture of clothing on West Front street, will, on February 1, transfer his factory to Grand and Wooster streets, New York. ASSOCIATION TO BE FORMED BY MEMBERS OF REFORMED CHURCH.

It having been definitely decided to form a Men's Association at Trinity Reformed church, the committee in charge of the preliminary plans, composed of E. F. Sheppard, F. E. Smith and A. K. Willett, last night at a meeting of the Consistory of the church, submitted by-laws for the organization and they were adopted. The committee was instructed to issue invitations for a meeing of the men of the congregation at which time the objects and benefits of the association will be presented and there will be an address by the paster of the church, Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, to be followed by an enrollment of members. The success of the movement seems assured judging by the enthusiasm manifested on the part of those in charge of it.

MONEY WANTED FOR PRISONS

LAW BEING VIOLATED BECAUSE OF LACK OF ACCOMMODATIONS.

In the report which has been submitted to the Legislature by the State Board of Prison Inspectors it is recommended that $375,000 be appropriated for the purpose of enlarging the State penal institutions. As far as can be learned at this time there is every prospect that this recommendation will be adopted, as it is imperative that something be done to relieve the congestion in the jails.

With the law requiring that there shall be only one prisoner confined in a single cell, there are today, in some cases, as many as five prisoners huddled together in a cell.

Considering this condition, however, the health record, in comparison to former years, is remarkable. Twenty years ago, with an average population of 900 prisoners, there was 12 deaths, while this year, with an average population of more than 1,000 prisoners, there has only been 9 deaths. The sick list has also been lowered about the same ratio.

In making out the report for last month showing how much food was required, it is interesting to note that 182 barrels of flour and 37,750 loaves of bread were used. There were 22,579 pounds of meat and 4,440 pounds of fish used, besides 2,900 pounds of beans.

TAX BOARD INSTRUCTORS

STATE AUTHORITIES TO MEET LOCAL ASSESSORS TO EXPLAIN NEW LAW.

The revised tax act, which went into effect December 20, 1903, has made a number of changes in the time and manner of assessing and collecting taxes in New Jersey. It is the duty of the State Board of Taxation, under the law, to investigate the methods used by the local assessors in assessing real and personal property, and to furnish them with such information as will assist them in the discharge of their official duties. In order to meet the various assessors and collectors personally, and to explain to them the workings of the new law, the Board has arranged for meetings, to be held in the Court House of each county. The date for the Union county meeting has not been fixed.

PECULIAR CONDITION.

Temperature at Sewer Beds High, Despite the Cold Weather Conditions Prevailing.

A rather interesting discovery has been made at the sewerage disposal plant during the cold weather. Although the air registered ten degrees below zero for several days these temperatures were recorded of the affluent: at the inlet to the septic tank, 56 degrees; after passing through three contact beds, septic tanks and other parts of the plant it registered but 53 degrees. While the lower beds were covered with snow on the upper beds, which, like the lower ones are not protected, excepting by twelve inches of gravel, there was not a bit of snow. This shows how much heat is generated in the beds through the chemical action of the sewerage as it passes through its different stages and it is considered remarkable because of the fact that every twelve hours there is a complete change of sewage.

To be Married in March.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Nettie Leichtentritt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Leichtentritt, of West Front street, to Nathan Samuels, of Brooklyn. The wedding will take place Tuesday, March 1.

PLAINFIELD SCHOOLS AT THE EXPOSITION

Pupils in This City Busily Engaged Preparing Work to be Exhibited at St. Louis.

REPRESENT ALL GRADES

PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE SCHOOLS AND THE CLASSES TO BE IN COLLECTION.

High School Seniors to be Photographed for the Purpose—Part of Exhibits to be Placed in Cabinets and Rest in Book Form.

All of Plainfield's schools will be well represented at the Exposition to be held at St. Louis this year. There will be exhibits of the work in language, geography, arithmetic, history, science and drawing in the grammar schools. Every grade in the schools will be represented excepting the infant classes. There will be photographs of all the school buildings and of several of the classes at work. A part of the work will be bound in book from at the expense of the State and a part will be affixed to cards and shown in cabinets along the walls.

At the High School, the pupils are already preparing work in all branches and the results will be forwarded to St. Louis early in February. Together with these exhibits will be photographs of the High School chapel with the Christmas decorations and also photographs of the senior class.

AGED WOMAN DEAD.

Mrs. Gertrude Harrison, Daughter of Mr. Blackford, Passed Away.

Mrs. Gertrude Harrison, aged 75 years, daughter of the late Nathan and Elizabeth Blackford, died yesterday at the her home on Dayton Melick farm in Piscataway township. Death was due to pneumonia. About two weeks ago Mrs. Martin, a sister of Mrs. Harrison, died at the same place at an advanced age. Mrs. Harrison is survived by a son, George Harrison and a daughter. The funeral services will be held from the late home tomorrow afternoon and the interment will be at New Dover.

New Jersey Leads.

New Jersey exceeds all other States of the Union in the manufacture of high explosives. California, Pennsylvania and Ohio are the only other States in which the manufacture of high explosives and smokeless powder for war and commercial purposes is carried on upon a scale approximating the extent of the industry in this State. Pennsylvania has a large number of establishments, but the plants in New Jersey are, without exception, far greater in size than any found elsewhere, not excepting the great works engaged in the industry in Europe, under government auspices. In the United States, in 1900, twenty-two per cent. of the capital invested in the ninety-seven establishments then engaged in the industry, outside of that which is specifically charged to buildings and machinery, was found in nine New Jersey plants. In the two items of buildings and machinery, New Jersey had 17.3 per cent. of the total.—Ex.

Adjusting Insurance.

The insurance adjusters for the companies represented by W. A. Woodruff, the local insurance agent, have decided that the losses sustained by the Gesang and Turn Verein to the furniture amounts to $1,350. The settlement for the building is still pending. Henry Voehl has settled with the insurance company for $51 for damage to clothing and furniture by the fire.

To Kill Robin Redbreast.

Senator Strimple, of Salem, introduced in the State Senate on Tuesday a measure advocated by the fruit-growers of the State, who claim that they lose thousands of dollars annually by the depredations of robins, that steal their cherries and other small fruit. The bill makes it lawful to kill any robin or cat-bird caught destroying fruit.

Mayor Smalley Ill.

Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of North Plainfield, is confined to his house with an attack of rheumatism. At his home this morning it was stated that it was only a mild attack and would probably be able to be out again in a few days. His two daughters are also confined to their beds with tonsilitis.

School Championship.

The series of three basketball games between Leal's and the High School, beginning tomorrow afternoon, will be for the season's school championship of Plainfield.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

They Are Plainfield People, and What They Say is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press; are published as facts, people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism as rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right here at home, one whom you can see every day leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

Mr. C. E. Hepburn, of 128 Duer street, formerly of Canada, where he first heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have my endorsement for they cured me of a long standing case of backache which annoyed me very much, especially if I took cold, for at such times I was in pretty bad shape. I heard different people speak very highly of Doan's Kidney Pills, concluded to try them, got a box from my druggist, Mr. L. W. Randolph, and used them according to directions, with the above results. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement of a preparation like Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

BOOK NEWS.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

Public Library Notes.

What the Public Library is circulating.

Fiction here, as in every public library leads, though with the comparatively low percentage of 499, or including the juvenile fiction 64 plus. Those to whom this seems large may find comfort in the fact that library users are taking less fiction now than ten years ago by 6 per cent. Quality as well as quantity should also be considered. If the works of authors like Harris, and Roe show but little falling off, those of George Eliot, Trollope, Jane Austen, Thackeray and Balzac increase in popularity, while of present day writers the demand is steady for Howells, Besant, Mrs. Humphrey Ward, Meredith, Aldrich, Crawford, Parker, Page, Conan Doyle and Mrs. Deland.

Next fiction in favor is the department of literature. Here collections of prose and poetry lead, but following these in demand, oddly enough since one so often hears it stated that people no longer read essays, are the English essayists, those chiefly read being Stevenson, Matthew Arnold, Macaulay, Carlyle, Addison and Bacon. American essayists come next, the most read being Emerson, though with the reign of the Nature book, Thoreau, Burroughs and Torrey have a large following. British poets and dramatists are next in demand, nearly twice as much English as American poetry being read. The poets and dramatists most read are Shakespeare, Sheridan, the Brownings, Tennyson, Shelley, Matthew Arnold, Chaucer, Spenser, Milton, Scott, Kipling, Longfellow, Poe and Bryant.

Biography comes next in interest. While this may be partly accounted for by the fact that it is easy reading, records would seem to indicate that it is more read for the side lights thus obtained upon a period or subject, or, for inspiration. Of the former class are the much read Morley's Gladstone, Boswell's Johnson and the Nicolay-Hay Lincoln, while of the latter a good example would be Sabatier's St. Francis of Assisi.

Following biography is the department of travel, the most popular division being general travels, such as Stoddard's lectures. The demand for books on our own country comes next, greatly exceeding that for works on any other country. England is next in popularity, closely followed by Japan and China. Apart from their large use by the general reader, large demands are made upon this department by modern methods of teaching geography, which calls for abundance of supplementary matter to aid in deepening the impression made by the lesson.

Next in favor are historical books. Here as in travel, this country is by far the most read about, and the experience of this Library is the common one, that much of this comes from children of foreign-born parents, a hopeful sign. Of United States histories one-tenth read at the present time, relate to the Civil War period, a seemingly large proportion. Again as in travel, England is next in favor, then general histories of Europe, and next Ancient history.

Scientific books come next, with Natural history books ahead. Among these are classed the delightful books of Seton, Long and Roberts, which continue to be read notwithstanding the recent dogmatic utterances of Mr. Burroughs concerning them. Next to animals, plants follow. The interest in these subjects being evidently greatly stimulated by the emphasis placed upon Nature study. That mathematics should come next is a fact for which the general reader is not accountable, as practically all these books are text-books, and are evidently used for the most serious study. At the present time, of all the sciences, geology is least in demand.

That general periodicals come next is the result of the successful experiment of circulating current numbers of the popular magazines.

Of the main divisions fine arts is next. Books of amusements, classed here are most used, but of fine arts proper, those on design, art industries and beautifying the home lead. The wide circulation of books of this character cannot fail to have its effect in the formation of higher standards of taste. The popularization by good and inexpensive reprints of the masterpieces of great artists has largely affected the demand for popular art books.

Following fine arts in popularity are the books on useful arts, in which recent figures show nearly one fourth of the entire total to have been on engineering, showing that the library's notably fine collection on civil, mechanical and electrical engineering is appreciated. Following are general works on useful arts, domestic science and the building trades.

Sociology is next in order. Here, if folklore is excluded, the largest demand is for books on education, a fact which must have its share in accounting for the excellence of our public school system. Following this is the literature of political economy and the political institutions of this country. The growing interest in "how the other half lives" is reflected in the demand for such books as those of Riis, Willard and VanVorst. As yet comparatively few care for books which aim to do more than to give interesting description of existing conditions.

Religion comes next, and here the books most read are those relating to the Bible, then those on religious history. Books on the life of Christ, and those of a homiletic or devotional character are much read. Of religious writers, the author most continuously read is Phillips Brooks.

Next religion, though far below it in demand is philosophy. Its division of psychology, especially that phase of it dealing with child study, is most read. This demand is largely from teachers. The author here most popular is James. That ethics comes next in favor is a good sign.

Philology tempts but few, its percentage of the whole being but 002.

JAPAN'S ANSWER IN

She Demands Realization of Russia's Pledges.

CHINA'S RIGHTS IN MANCHURIA

Japan Will Resort to Force If Necessary to Sunstain Its Right to a Voice In the Settlement of Manchurian Affairs.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—A dispatch from Tokyo says that Japan's answer to the last Russian note has been handed to Baron de Rosen, the Russian minister, and that negotiations will be continued without any time limit being set for their termination.

The demands which Japan is said to have made, according to reports published abroad, have caused some surprise in Tokyo, according to the dispatch, and it is now stated that Japan never asked for the evacuation of Manchuria, but, on the contrary, frankly recognizes Russia's special interests there and her right to protect them.

Japan only demanded the realization of Russia's voluntary pledges respecting China's territorial integrity in Manchuria and the freedom of residential rights and international trade therein.

The crux of the situation is still Russia's refusal to admit the right of Japan to a voice in the settlement of Manchurian affairs, which Japan considers one of its most vital interests and to sustain which the Japanese government is determined to resort to arms if necessary.

The maintenance of Chinese neutrality would banish the specter of a Russian occupation of Peking which is greatly alarming the Chinese and is causing some uneasiness at the legations since in anticipation of the event of Russia's approach the court would leave Peking, and the capital would be removed to the interior.

A dispatch from Paris says no action has yet been taken in the direction of mediation between Russia and Japan, but it is learned that the powers are desirous of peace in the far east and are considering the desirability of such a step. Whether the proposed action will be joint or independent remains to be determined.

Thus far the representations which Great Britain has made to Japan and which France has made to Russia have been separate and not in the direction of mediation, but rather in the way of advice, that some pacific means be found for terminating the dispute.

Panic at Seoul.

SEOUL, Korea, Jan. 14.—The emperor has issued a pitiful edict stating that the country is likely to be lost owing to the weakness and vacillation of the people, whom he counsels to act for the best in their own interests. The emperor has also issued an ordinance warning the army not to fire in the event of a collision between foreign troops. The entire city is reported to be extremely turbulent.

War Supplies For Both Armies.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—The steamer Coptic, which sails for the orient tomorrow, will carry a quantity of munitions of war consigned to both the Japanese and Russian armies. Stowed in the hold of the vessel are about 400 tons of mess beef of an order of about 2,000 tons given to a local firm about two weeks ago, all of which is to be at this port ready for shipment by the end of the present month. Besides the beef are several hundred tons of pig lead and about 2,000 tons of flour to go to the supply depots of the Japanese army. The beef, according to the plan of shipment as now arranged, is to be transferred to a Russian steamer at Nagasaki that will carry it to Vladivostok.

Yale's President Talked on Politics.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 14.—President A. T. Hadley of Yale addressed Harvard students at the Union upon the topic "Opportunities For Political Influence." Among other things he said: "Politics is a game and must be played out by definite rules. Still no man should be an extremist, either independent or partisan. He should strike a happy medium, but should not enter the political field at all unless rich, for if he does he will have to yield sooner or later to the wrong influence or else get out and starve."

Naval League at Florence.

FLORENCE, Italy, Jan. 14.—A meeting of American residents here promoted by Professor Ford of Baltimore established a section of the Naval League of the United States, numbering thirty-two members. Professor Ford, who is a graduate of the Annapolis Naval academy, was chosen president of the league, and Miss Wilkes, daughter of the late Admiral Wilkes, was elected treasurer.

Explosion Ruins Gas Office.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Jan. 14.—The office of the Pittsfield Gas company, a two story building, about thirty feet square, has been blown to pieces by a gas explosion resulting from a defect in the governor. No one was in the office at the time. The loss to the company is $10,000.

Armenian Found Guilty of Murder.

JOHNSON'S VICTORY

City of Cleveland, After Long Fight, Gets Three Cent Fare.

AGREEMENT MEANS CHEAP TRANSIT

McKenna Ordinance Passed by Council and Ratified by Trolley Directors Provides For Three Cent Fare Within City Limits.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 14.—An agreement between Mayor Johnson and the officials of the Cleveland Electric Railway company for the establishment of the three cent fare within the city of Cleveland in accordance with the terms of the McKenna ordinance passed by the city council will be ratified by the directors of the railroad company at a meeting which has been called for today. The agreement is practically a full victory for Mayor Johnson in the fight that he has waged for nearly three years.

The McKenna ordinance, it has been learned, was drawn with the full cognizance and consent of the railroad officials. It provides for a straight three cent care within certain limits. These limits are at many points coextensive with the city limits and are at no point more than half a mile within the municipal boundaries. Within these limits a straight three cent fare is to be charged. This does not entitle a passenger to a transfer. For a transfer a five cent fare must be paid, as at present.

Without the McKenna limits passengers from the extremities of the city and from the suburbs are to pay 5 cents, as at present. On this fare likewise no transfer will be given. For a transfer an excess fare of 2 cents will be charged, making the total fare 7 cents.

The result of a careful study of the passengers now carried on the lines of the company shows that 85 per cent will pay 3 cents, 12 per cent will pay 5 cents and 3 per cent will pay 7 cents.

Postal Fraud Trials.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Robert J. Wynne, first assistant postmaster general, was the central figure in the postal trial, and when court adjourned he was still on the stand. Mr. Wynne's testimony occupied most of the day, and he was subjected to a rigid cross examination by Charles A. Douglass, counsel for the defense, during which the opposing attorneys had several tilts, necessitating a word of admonition from Justice Pritchard that they must conduct the case in peace. The first assistant postmaster general was plied with questions designed to test his knowledge of the duties of his office. The witness frankly stated that he had often signed papers prepared in Machen's division without examining into their contents because they came to him in official form and because of the fact that he regarded Machen as one of the most expert men in the service and relied on him.

Garibaldi and Sarafoff.

ROME, Jan. 14.—Ricciotti Garibaldi, son of the Italian patriot, not being at present in Rome, has asked Boris Sarafoff, the Macedonian revolutionary leader, to go to see him tomorrow for the purpose of discussing the situation in Macedonia. Sarafoff says he is informed that the Roumanian government is endeavoring to induce the Austrian government to arrest him when he returns to Austria, from where Roumania proposes to have him extradited. Should Roumania be successful in this endeavor Sarafoff says he will be condemned to imprisonment for life on the charge of murder.

Important Divorce Judgment.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Supreme Court Justice Dickey has rendered an important decision in declaring a divorce obtained in South Dakota in 1902 by Mrs. Ellen Theresa Elder from George W. Elder of Bay Shore, N. Y., on the ground of cruelty to be invalid in this state. The court declared that if a decree of divorce obtained in South Dakota is shown to have been the result of collusion between husband and wife, as in the present instance, then such a decree is of no force and effect here and that the parties are still husband and wife.

Bad Fire In Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14.—Fire has destroyed the plant of the Baltimore Badge and Novelty company and ruined the stock of William Lehman & Co., wholesale jewelers. The interior of the seven story building was also destroyed. The total loss was about $150,000. Several employees of the badge and novelty company jumped from a seventh story window to the roof of an adjoining five story warehouse and received slight injuries.

Mack's Condition Critical.

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—Frank W. Mack, formerly superintendent of the eastern division of the Associated Press, who last week was taken dangerously ill at Windsor, Vt., where he had gone to fill a lecture engagement, has been brought to this city in a private car and removed to a hospital. Mr. Mack stood the trip well, and, while his condition is still critical, hope of his ultimate recovery is not abandoned.

Bill Against Scalping Tickets.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 14.—Acting Mayor Hornsby has signed the bill placing restrictions and limitations on the business of ticket brokers. The brokers opposed the bill in both branches of the assembly. The new ordinance forbids brokers to deal in excursion, commutation and mileage tickets.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 14, 1904.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Bryan wants a campaign of conscience to precede the Presidential election next fall. Supposed that he had had enough of such campaigns.

Possibly the announcement of a declaration of war is being held up until Jas. Creelman and R. H. Davis shall have arrived in the orient to take charge of affairs.—Paterson Evening News.

Good thing that lese majestie is unknown to our law, otherwise the editor of the exchange would surely find a complaint lodged against him for referring to THE war correspondent as R. H. Davis. Richard Harding Davis, if you please.

The dignified and concise message of Governor Franklin Murphy is receiving marked attention on the part of the public press, and singular to relate even the minority party's "organs" have nothing but praise to sound in reviewing it. Its business-like tone and brevity commend it to the perusal of the citizen who takes an interest in the State's affair and the subjects of which it treats makes it especially valuable to the members of the Legislature, to whom it is addressed.

After calling attention to the prosperity New Jersey enjoyed during 1903, the Governor speaks of the highly satisfactory condition of the finance, there being a balance of $2,951,637.17 in the treasury at the close of the fiscal year, "the largest in the history of the State."

Admitting that the receipts from incorporation fees are falling off, the Governor at the same time declares that there is no cause for alarm and no fear that a State tax will be imposed.

Passing on from this subject he recommends the creation of the office of auditor of State accounts and he wants the office filled, not by a politician but by an expert accountant, who will make his report to the Legislature annually.

The abolition of the fee system in county offices, a source of great abuse in this State, is again recommended by him.

The deplorable condition at the State prison in Trenton comes in for a share of attention, the statement being made that more than 300 cells are occupied by not less than two persons at the same time. The Rahway reformatory is also over-crowded and a recommendation is made that it be enlarged.

Governor Murphy is much interested in the erection of a State consumptive's home and naturally he wishes to have the oversight of the last Legislature, which failed to pass the measure, remedied as soon as possible, inasmuch as an appropriation for the construction of the building has been made.

Following his statement that the State's hospitals and homes are all doing good work, he refers to a growing evil, the disfigurement of the landscape near railroad tracks by ugly and grotesque signs. Between Jersey City and Trenton on a single line of a railroad there are 1,601 of these signs all obnoxious to the eye. In concluding, a reference to the views from railroad cars he says: "They are disfigured by all sorts of effigies of impossible men and women, and they advertise remedies for all the ills that human flesh is heir to, as well as all sorts of foods and drinks, and the various contrivances born of human ingenuity. In the interest of a suffering and indignant public I present the subject to the Legislature, in the hope that they may be able to find a remedy."

As expected attention is called to the fact that the voting machines introduced at the last election are decidedly advantageous and a recommendation is made that as quickly as possible the improved method of registering the votes be established generally in the State.

A particularly lucid discussion of the child labor law and other labor matters is made a feature of the message and following it is a subject also of much importance. This is the suggestion that the State Board of Taxation and the State Board of Assessors be consolidated in the interests of public economy and because of the similarity of duties of the members of the two bodies.

The Governor again asks that the State Board of Arbitration be abolished.

The results of the new primary election law is a source of gratification to him, but he recommends that some needed amendments be made.

All in all, the Governor's message to the 128 Legislature of New Jersey is a good one.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

Since the first of the week an extra force of men have been employed at the Campbell Printing Press Company's shop in getting out a rush order of goods. Preparations are being made to put on a night force at the shop in a week or two.

John Mairey, of Passaic, who has been employed at the Scott Press Works for the past few weeks, received a severe cut on his right hand yesterday afternoon while fitting a casting in a machine. A physician took several stitches in the wound.

More men are soon to be put on the day force at the Pedrick and Ayres shop. Many of these will be machinists and with a large number of new orders and many still unfilled orders now in the shops the outlook is bright at this factory for steady employment for the rest of the winter at least.

SODA SUCCESS.

Soda success is earned by attention to details.

We've built up a good soda trade by looking after our soda business. We see that the syrups are properly made—see that there is enough to make it palatable—see that everything is kept clean.

Then, too, our soda fountain is the handsomest in the State of New Jersey.

Try our Hot Chocolate, Beef Tea, Tomato Bouillon, Clam Bouillon or Chicken broth 5c per cup. It's simply delicious.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 17—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—How may I overcome my temptations?—I Cor. x, 12, 13; Heb. iv, 14-16.

There is great hope and encouragement in this topic in that it suggests that temptations may be overcome. It would be useless to ask how to overcome them unless first convinced that they may be overcome. And this is the glorious truth. Temptations may be overcome. The adversary of the human soul has no supreme power. There is a power above his that has overcome and can still overcome him. We are not therefore to grow discouraged in our struggle against temptation and against sin. We are not engaged in a hopeless conflict. The battle may be won, and, this glorious fact being true, we should prayerfully and earnestly seek the method and, having it, use it.

Temptations cannot be overcome in our own strength. This has been the delusion that has wrought the ruin of many in the conflict with temptation. Self confidence caused Samson's downfall. He trusted in himself more than in God, played with the tempter and was finally overcome. Self confidence also led to Simon Peter's overthrow. Trusting in himself, he proudly boasted: "Yea, though all forsake Thee, yet will not I. Though I die with Thee, I will not leave Thee." Yet a few hours after this proud boast Simon denied with an oath that he ever knew his Master. Self confidence is a forerunner of defeat. Man has some power of resistance, and he should use all his power against sin, but the power of Satan is greater than human power; hence that alone cannot save us. For this reason the Bible warns us against trust in self. "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall."

Since we cannot overcome temptation in our own strength, in whose strength can we? Only in the strength of God and His Son, Jesus Christ. "There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to all men. But God is faithful who will not suffer you to be tempted above what ye are able, but will with the temptation also make a way of escape that ye may be able to bear it." Christ was "tempted in all points as we are, yet without sin," and now as our great high priest He is at the right hand of God making continual intercession for us and willing to present our petitions to the Father. "Let us, therefore, come boldly to the throne of grace that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need." God's power through Jesus Christ can save us from being overcome by the temptations and trials of life. God has a purpose in temptation. It is the common lot of all men to be tempted. Concerning temptation we need not complain. No favor is shown. All are tempted alike. But what does temptation matter if with the temptation God provides a way of escape or the power to bear it? This He can do and will do if we trust him. Realizing our own weakness, let us put all our trust in God, and then we can say with the apostle, "When I am weak, I am strong."

BIBLE READINGS.

Job i, 1-10; Ps. cvii, 1-8; Isa. i, 16-18; Jer. xxix, 12; Matt. iv, 1-11; vii, 13; Luke xxii, 40-46; Phil. iv, 13; Heb. xii, 1, 2; Rev. iii, 7-10.

Gifts For Benevolence.

These young people have not only given themselves; they have also given their money. In addition to their gifts in other channels, the societies gave last year for benevolence an average of over $50 for each society by actual detailed reports, a total for all the societies that would have to be expressed in millions.

Three societies deserve special mention—first, the Oxford Presbyterian, Philadelphia, which gave for missions last year $1,814; second, the Chinese C. E. society in the Congregational mission, San Francisco, which gave $1,516, and, third, the Presbyterian society, Clinton, Ill., which gave $1,125.—William Shaw in General Secretary's Report at Denver Convention.

Christian Endeavor In Egypt.

The oldest civilization in the world and the youngest Christian organization in the world have met together. Egypt and Christian Endeavor have kissed each other, to adopt the oriental imagery of the country. Here, under the very eyes of the "farseeing sphinx," I find a Christian Endeavor welcome and the Christian Endeavor spirit. At last "forty centuries look down" on this child of less than twenty-two winters.—Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark in "Fellow Travelers."

Pen Points.

A monthly business meeting is a necessity in every society.

The ideal president is the best posted person in the society on every phase of its work.

The foolish committee chairman is the one who does all the work of the committee himself.

The society that does not give attention to its business side will soon suffer on every other side.

The Christian Endeavor society ought to be the pastor's right arm—hard to get along without it.

A written report of every committee at every business meeting ought to be the inflexible rule of every society.

The wise committee chairman does his hardest work in planning to keep the members of the committee busy.

The Christian Endeavor society ought to be in the Sunday school, and the Sunday school ought to be in the Christian Endeavor society.—John R. Clements.

The corresponding secretary who does not give attention to every communication should take note of the amended adage, "A prompt answer turneth away wrath."

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Jan. 17: "My Place in the War Against Intemperance"—Isa. xxiv, 9-11; Hab. xi, 15; I Thess. v, 6-8.

This war is not of recent origin. We need not be discouraged nor faint hearted if the last battle is not fought at once. Because we are of the day we need to be sober and calculate well our campaigns. We cannot afford to make mistakes. We need continual vigilance and ever increasing knowledge and a settled principle based on profound convictions of right so that we can be steadfast. Some things should be settled, at least so far as we are concerned—settled so completely that they will never more need to be debated.

1. What will you do about the use of alcoholic liquors in your own practice? Will you cut them out completely and keep them out? This may cost some sacrifice of pride and perhaps also the society of some with whom you have associated. Think it over, count the cost, consider the worth of the result to be reached and decide. The gain from entire abstinence is worth considering. A sober head, sober body, sober soul mean much in the world's battle for supremacy. A little liquor may not be harmful, apparently, but helpful socially, in business bargaining, in intellectual brilliancy and physical enjoyment. You may be able to keep yourself within bounds of moderation, perhaps. But, candidly and seriously, every prize in pure social life, business, literature and health is surer to the sober man than to the same man with any quantity of alcohol, great or small. Study the case well. If you allow yourself to use liquor at all, you run a risk that some time you will take too much or take it at the wrong time or become dependent on it. In fact, you become the subject and servant and maybe slave before you know it. Let it entirely alone, and you are safe, and there is safety in no other course.

2. How about the sale of liquors in community? Shall we advocate license or work for abolition of the saloon? Indifference and noncommittal attitude are not allowable in our nation where the people are the rulers. You are responsible to take the right attitude. What is right? What is expedient? Beware of ever sanctioning a wrong because there is cash in it. A man may sell his Lord for thirty pieces of silver only to find he has cheated his own soul. No man can afford to do an evil thing for any amount of cash. "Graft" may be popular, but it is fatal to the man who indulges. You may rent your property for the sale of liquor, you may desire the lower taxes on your property because of the license money and so vote for license, you may even share in the profits of the manufacture and sale of intoxicants and at the same time believe yourself a good follower of Jesus Christ. The fact remains, however, you may fail to recognize its force and truth, that you are on the side of all the evil which has been pointed out by the prophets of God for ages as ruinous to body and soul, both in this world and the next. For pleasure and profit in cash you sell your own manhood and the happiness and well being of your fellow man.

What is your place? It is to make no partnership with the evil, but in the best ways you can find to oppose the wrong and to keep from any entanglements with iniquity.

Restore the Balance.

Every solitary kind action that is done the world over is working briskly in its own sphere to restore the balance between right and wrong. Kindness has converted more sinners than either zeal, eloquence or learning, and these three never converted any one unless they were kind also. The continual sense which a kind heart has of its own need of kindness keeps it humble. Perhaps an act of kindness never dies, but extends the invisible undulations of its influence over the centuries.—F. W. Faber.

Christian Faith.

Christian faith is a grand cathedral with divinely pictured windows. Standing without, you see no glory nor can possibly imagine any; standing within, every ray of light reveals a harmony of unspeakable splendors.—Nathaniel Hawthorne.

My Psalm.

It may be dark, it may be light,
The way my path is leading;
But He who formed the day and night
My footfall aye is heeding.

My fields may all be sown with tears,
And grief grow in each furrow.
I shall reap joy in future years,
And—I may reap tomorrow.

These hills I climb seem steep and high,
But more enchanting vision
They will afford me by and by
Of the fair fields Elysian.

Each bitter cup He bids me drink
Is mingled with His sweetness,
And, changed to nectar on the lip,
So I taste love's completeness.

I sleep, but my heart waketh—still
I find Him ever near me.
He giveth songs, for 'tis His will
In dark hours most to cheer me.

And like the happy bird that sings
All night for very gladness
My psalm shall bear me on its wings
From out the realm of sadness.

My wants are to my Shepherd known,
And He will gently guide me.
He tends and guards me as His own
And loves me though He chide me.

When tired, He maketh me lie down
Till heavenly dreams, like pastures green
And rivers of sweet peace, have flown
My spirit and her cares between.

And when my pageantry shall be
The shadows of the silent land
His rod and staff will comfort me,
And I shall clasp His loving hand.

Then He will bring me to His feast,
The banquet of eternal love;
And, though of all His saints the least,
Admit me to the host above.

—Rev. A. Parke Burgess, D. D.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth. 7 Miles from Newark.
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

TWIN SCHOLARS.

They Discovered New Scriptural Writings In a Monastery.

Two English ladies, twin sisters, were deeply interested in Bible manuscript studies. They pursued their studies with enthusiasm year after year. It was their life work. They had heard it suggested that there might be undiscovered ancient writings hidden away in the monasteries of Syria and Mount Sinai.

The idea fixed itself in their minds, which are more like the mind of one person than of two. Scholars say the language Christ himself spoke was Syriac, so the sisters, Mrs. Agnes L. Lewis and Mrs. Y. L. Gibson, began the study of that tongue. When they had familiarized themselves with it they started on a quest among the half hidden monasteries that lie in the mountains one sees while passing through the Suez canal. One, St. Catherine's, is on the slope of Mount Sinai itself. It is the most difficult to obtain entrance to of any of the eastern religious establishments; consequently there, if anywhere, the ladies would be apt to get results from their search. So they knocked at the doors of St. Catherine's.

It was difficult indeed to get in. But the fame of the twin sisters as Biblical scholars was wide. They were Ph. D.'s of the University of Halle and LL. D.'s of St. Andrew's. After they found what they did find at St. Catherine's the University of Leipsic bestowed on them also the degree of D. D. The sisters had letters of introduction to the abbot of St. Catherine's from some of the most distinguished theologians and Bible scholars of Europe besides their university degrees. Although oriental monks consider woman a creature to be horribly afraid of, these two seemed entirely harmless, and they proved by the letters they brought that their intention was just to look for old documents and not at all for men, so they were allowed to enter and go at will through the monastery. There was an unused cell that was full of rubbish, even some faded parchments in it, but the monks had never been able to investigate these.

The sisters searched every nook and cranny in their devoted quest. And finally how their hearts bounded at the end! They came upon a batch of New Testament writings older than any extant in the known world, so old in fact that the date showed them to reach within a century and a half of the time of Christ himself. The writings were upon papyrus, which at first appeared to contain something quite different from original Scripture sayings. But the sisters scanned it closely, and, lo, it was a palimpsest! Paper was scarce in those days.

From a word here and there that had escaped the eraser's touch when he rubbed out the first writing preparatory to inscribing the second the learned twins found there really was an old document under the later one. With infinite pains they applied chemicals to the superposed inscription and effaced it, leaving the older one to be made out with difficulty and with patient study. And their patient study was rewarded by discovering here in the monastery of St. Catherine's an undoubted transcription of teachings of Christ, some new, others different from the ordinary version of them.

One of the most important discoveries of the sisters is that, as is claimed by Jewish rabbis and scholars, the Golden Rule itself is a saying of Rabbi Hillel of Babylon fifty years before the time of Christ. Jesus was not a plagiarist, and he himself in this newly discovered document quotes the saying as from Rabbi Hillel. As found in the Talmud it differs somewhat from the ordinary version. The story there is that a scoffer went to Rabbi Hillel and asked him to state the moral principles of Judaism while standing upon one foot. Instantly the rabbi answered:

"That which ye would not that others should do unto you do you not also unto others."

The ladies at once took photographs, a great number of them, of the precious writings, which of course they were not allowed to remove. The second writing, which they effaced with chemicals, was a later review of some Scripture writings, a review penned by one Father Sebastianan, who thought his comment was of more value than the original sayings. Father Sebastianan long since turned to dust. Nobody even knows who he was, but the writings he erased in order to use the papyrus for recording his own thoughts has now come to be of priceless value because of the original writing, and this writing was brought to light through the labors of two new women of a nation which did not exist when the precious record was made.

Drs. Lewis and Gibson hurried with their treasures over the sands of Arabia by camel back and returned home rejoicing. They will shortly embody their discoveries in a book called "Under the Shadow of Sinai."

MARCIA W. CAMPBELL.

SPORT AT OAKLAND.

Prince Brutus, Favorite, Was Badly Beaten.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Racing at Oakland was marked by a downfall of favorites, not one of them being returned a winner. The greatest surprise was the defeat of Prince Brutus, the 1 to 3 favorite, in the two-year-old event. He was thought to have it at his mercy. Away well, he went wide at the turn and could not catch Marie J., a 15 to 1 shot, who beat him easily. Oarsman was plunged on to win the $1,000 handicap at a mile and a furlong. Falcon Bridge led all the way and beat the favorite a length. The distance was covered in 1 minute 51½ seconds, which is a half second off the California rec ord. Leash proved to be another surprise by winning at 10 to 1, and Nullah also landed at the same odds. Results:

First Race.—Sir Preston won, Hilary second, Saul of Tarsus third.

Second Race.—Marie J. won, Prince Brutus second, Ariste third.

Third Race.—Nullah won, Modder second, Alice Carey third.

Fourth Race.—Falcon Bridge won, Oarsman second, Leader third.

Fifth Race.—Leash won, Billy Moore second, MacGyle third.

Sixth Race.—Colonel Van won, Stillcho second, Sterling Towers third.

Relay Race Canceled.

ITHACA, N. Y., Jan. 14.—The Cornell-Princeton relay race, scheduled as an event of the annual indoor meet of the Boston Athletic association to be held on Feb. 13, has been canceled, as the Princeton runners will at that time be busy with their midyear examination.

Racing at Ascot.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 14.—Four out of six favorites won at Ascot park, the other two going to a second choice and an outsider. E. Walsh and J. Booker were each fined $20 by Judge Hamilton for rough riding.

Racing at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 14.—Hands Across showed the good effects of Hildreth's handling, for he and The Messenger were the only winning favorites.

Governor Warfield Inaugurated.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 14.—Edwin Warfield has been inaugurated governor of Maryland. Despite the inclement weather there was a vast multitude present from all parts of the state to participate in the ceremonies. The inaugural train arrived here from Baltimore at 11 a. m., having on board the governor elect and family, the veteran corps of the Fifth Maryland regiment and a large company of distinguished citizens. The governor elect was escorted to the executive mansion by a legislative committee accompanied by officers of the national guard and two companies of state militia. From thence the party proceeded to the statehouse, where an immense audience listened to the addresses of the retiring governor, John Walter Smith, and Governor Edwin Warfield.

Soldier Killed His Officer's Bride.

TOULON, France, Jan. 14.—Lieutenant Trouille, observing that an orderly named Cretien, twenty years old, was madly enamored of his wife, dismissed the man. Cretien, profiting by the lieutenant's absence, entered the house, where he seized Mme. Trouille and, after a violent struggle, threw her out of the window, killing her on the spot. Cretien was arrested and was with difficulty saved from being lynched. Mme. Trouille was twenty-two years old and had only been married three months.

Navy Clerk Arrested For Fraud.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Thomas Costello, a clerk in the paymaster's department in the navy yard in Brooklyn, has been arrested and arraigned before United States Commissioner Benedict and held in the sum of $5,000 to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of converting to his own use money received as proceeds of junk sales at the navy yard. In all it is estimated that Costello diverted nearly $7,000 in cash.

Noted Duelist Dead.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 14.—William Heinhold, a noted duelist half a century ago and at that time regarded as one of the most expert swordsmen of France and Germany, is dead here of old age. Heinhold participated in the German revolution in 1848 with General Franz Sigel and Carl Schurz. He was banished from his native land and went to France. There he took an active part in the commune, for which a price was placed on his head. Heinhold was eighty-one years old.

Thought to Be the Brainerd.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Jan. 14.—The two masted schooner reported sunk in Long Island sound about three miles off Welch's point, Milford, is thought to be the G. M. Brainerd of Rockland, Me., which left here Monday for New York with a load of paving stone. The sunken schooner went down with sails set, and her topsails protrude above the water as she lies on the bottom.

Domestic Trouble Caused Two Deaths

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 14.—A special from Asheville, N. C., says: "George Corn, a well known farmer of Buncombe county, living in the Pole Creek section, shot his wife dead in their home and then, walking out into the road, ended his own life with a bullet. Domestic trouble is said to have caused the tragedy."

Run on Superior (Wis.) Bank Over.

LOVER IS ACQUITTED

Alois Eckstein, Tried For Murder of Mabel Bechtel, Is Free.

STATE'S ATTORNEY BADLY BEFOGGED

Judge Trexler Prevented the Accused Bechtel Family From Being Put on Trial on Account of Condition of the Prosecutor.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Jan. 14.—Alois Eckstein, one of the lovers of Mabel Bechtel, who was so mysteriously murdered last October, was acquitted of complicity in the crime after a brief trial in which the conduct of the prosecution sorely tried the patience not only of Judge Trexler, but also that of the jurymen and counsel for the defense. E. J. Lichtenwainer, the district attorney of Lehigh county, was so befogged that it was with difficulty the case was carried to a conclusion.

Several times the court interfered and threatened to end the proceedings for the day unless the commonwealth conducted its case in a more orderly manner. At one time the district attorney's assistant in the case took charge only to be set aside by the district attorney later on. The court endured the proceedings until after the jury had been instructed to render a verdict of acquittal, when Judge Trexler adjourned the court.

The district attorney wanted to go ahead with the trial of the accused members of the Bechtel family, but the attorney for the Bechtels protested emphatically. The district attorney, however, was insistent and ordered the names of the defendants called, but the judge interrupted by saying to the district attorney:

"Do you intend to conduct the prosecution yourself or will you rely on assistant counsel. If the latter, the trial will go on; otherwise this court will adjourn until the morning."

"The district attorney proposes to conduct this case himself," muttered the official.

"Then this court stands adjourned," ordered the judge.

Before court opened the district attorney admitted that he had a very weak case against Eckstein and did not expect to convict him. His hope was that something might develop during the examination that would lead to a clew to the real murderer or murderers.

The opening address of Attorney Lutz, who is assisting the district attorney, was exceedingly brief and did not give a strong indication that the commonwealth expected to fasten complicity in the murder on Eckstein. Then followed the calling of eight witnesses. Two neighbors testified to the finding of the dead girl's body, a physician described the wounds that caused her death, Mrs. Allison Brobst, the dead girl's sister; Martha Eckstein, the accused man's sister; David Weisenberger, who has been acquitted of complicity in the murder, and two neighbors told what they knew of the case. The only point brought out was that Eckstein and Mabel frequently quarreled and that Eckstein is alleged to have said to her:

"You are tr

SPORTING NEWS.

BASKET BALL.

Plainfield High School and Leal's School will play a series of three games in basketball, the first game taking place tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The line-up will be: Leal's School—Doane, forward; Chapman and Perkins, forward; Abbott, centre; J. Haughey and Strong, guard; L. Haughey, guard. Plainfield High—Thompson and Freeman, forwards; Guinn, centre; Anderson and Gavett, guard, Fenno, guard.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The Orange Field Club and the Y. M. C. A. will bowl on the association alleys tomorrow night.

There will be a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. bowling league of Northern New Jersey at Newark next Monday night. The schedule for the second round of matches will be arranged. C. B. Koons, secretary of the league, will represent Plainfield at the meeting.

FOUL TIPS.

The management of the Plainfield High School baseball team has secured through B. Mulford, manager of the Alis Club, the use of the Crescent Oval for their match and practise games three times a week. Their schedule is well under way and promises to be a good one.

UP AND DOWN THE STATE

Henry C. Buchanan has been reappointed State librarian by the State library commission. This second appointment of Mr. Buchanan is for another five years. This will give Mr. Buchanan ten years continuous service.

New Jersey has had 77 governors during its 238 years of existence. Of these 37 were provincial governors between 1665 and 1776, and 40 were State governors during and since the Revolution. Since the State was created there have been 23 governors who were Democratic and 17 who were of opposite parties, Federalists, Whigs, or Republicans. The State owns portraits of only 13 ex-governors.

The New Jersey Building, now a fixture for the main street of Haddonfield, is liable to be sold, and that will be the first time it will have changed hands since Isaac A. Braddock purchased it from the centennial commissoners in 1877. After the International Exposition of 1876 Mr. Braddock purchased the structure, removed it to Haddonfield in wagons and re-erected it on the main street, where it now stands.

There are few figures in the naval history of this country more interesting than that of Charles Stewart, commander of the Constitution, and grandfather of Charles Stewart Parnell, the Irish leader. Although he was a native of Pennsylvania, this State has long regarded the conqueror of the Levant with a sense of proprietorship, since his days of retirement were spent in Bordentown. There during the Civil War he was frequently consulted by the Federal Government on matters of naval movements and it was in that place that he died thirty-four years ago.

—While passing in front of the Belmont restaurant on North avenue yesterday afternoon, Frank J. Hubbard had a narrow escape from being seriously injured by a leader pipe, filled with ice, which fell from its fastenings in front of him.

—The tramp problem is to be made the subject of interesting experiment in Middlesex county. The grand jury has recommended the establishment of a chain gang, and the plan agreed upon between the Board of Freeholders and the grand jury provides for the payment of a bounty for tramps.

Franklin Murphy, Governor of New Jersey.

Governor Murphy's second annual message to the 128th Legislature is being more widely discussed than any public utterance has in this State in recent years. Some radical changes are favored, among them being the imposition of a State tax, and one that will be so large as to render it impossible for political parties to pay it for the voters. The consolidation of the State Boards of Taxation and Assessors, the abolition of the State Board of Arbitration, as well as the taxing of all signs along lines of railroads as a preventative measure, are among the recommendations which are considered wise though radical.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

Somerset's Fight.

Somerset and Middlesex Counties have decided to smooth out their dividing line with a good road, but there are no indications that the boundary between Somerset and Union will be made any easier for people to get over if the officials of the former county have anything to say about it.—Newark Evening News.

Anti-Pigeon Shooting Law.

Since the anti-pigeon shooting law was enacted in New York there has been no attempt to repeal it, and it is said that those who formerly sought live pigeon ranges for recreation are now content with shooting at blue rocks, which more severely test the markmanship than live birds. The most influential newspapers in the State are arrayed against live pigeon shooting, and some day it will be abolished.—Trenton State Gazette.

Another "Job."

So New Jersey has lost prestige among the states because its high schools are not high enough and a State inspector of high schools is to be added to the trimmings of the public school system. This proposition has the ear marks of a job. There is no more need for a State inspector of high schools than there is for a State inspector of the moon. If this job gets through, look out for State inspectors of primary schools and grammar schools and kindergartens, with assistants, deputy assistants and assistants of the deputies. There is entirely too much top to the school system now. It needs pruning, not more ornamental top knots.—From the Jersey City Journal.

James Gordon Bennett runs The New York Herald from abroad, editing it by cable when he desires, or discharge an employee. He has the right of way in the use of the cable. He recently paid a visit to New York, the first in three years, and while in the city some interesting stories were told about this unique owner and editor of what is said to be the most profitable news paper in the world. This one is a particularly good one. A syndicate was formed for the purpose of buying the paper, and cable was sent to Bennett: "Is Herald for sale? Price?" In a few hours came back the answer: "Yes, the Herald is for sale. Price, daily, three cents. Sunday, five cents." The Herald is said to net its owner a profit after paying all expenses of over a million and a half dollars a year.—Orange Journal.

Miss Shaw Unreliable.

Sometimes a high-class magazine opens its pages for some unaccountable reason to a sensational and unreliable writer, and thus does great injustice to itself, to its readers and to the topic treated. A marked instance of this kind is found in The World's Work, the article containing Adele Marie Shaw's suspicions with reference to "The Public Schools About New York." Its mis-statements of facts, its unwarranted inferences, its impudent personal allusions to teachers and the glib confessions of the author, which show the recklessly superficial way in which her study (?) of the schools was made, stamp it a wholly unworthy of the place it occupies, and causes the judicious wonder how it got there. * * * Some of her statements are correct, but these are not, as a rule, her own. It is true that New Jersey teachers are not paid adequately, and that many of the classes are much too large, but New Jersey hasn't over 90,000 part-time pupils out of 515,000 registered, as New York has. These conditions have all been known and criticised for years, and they are being remedied gradually. Nevertheless, it is true that New Jersey's schools stand high in any judicious comparison with those of other States, and that they have won gold and silver medals, the highest prizes, in competition with the rest of the educational world. Further than this, the schools in Newark and Elizabeth hold some of these medals.—Newark Evening News

GORDON LIES IN STATE.

Body to Rest in Oakland Cemetery With Georgia's Warrior Dead.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 14. — Banked in masses of flowers, the offerings of loving friends, and covered with the Confederate flag, the body of General John B. Gordon lies in state in the capitol of the state he loved. Through the long hours unending lines of men, women and children have trooped past the casket, catching a fleeting glimpse of the dead commander.

The body arrived in Atlanta shortly before 7 o'clock from Miami. At the state line of Georgia it was received from the hands of Florida citizens and soldiers by an escort composed of friends in his own state. At the station here it was received by a military escort, and, despite the cold, a large crowd gathered. The body was taken at once to the rotunda of the state capitol, where a place of honor had been provided. A military guard stands silently about the casket.

The body will be laid to rest in Oakland cemetery near the spot where are buried Georgia's dead who fell in the war between the states. The funeral will be one of the most imposing pageants ever seen in the south. A battalion of the Sixteenth United States infantry, headed by Colonel Butler D. Price and his staff, will be in line, besides a large number of military bodies from this and neighboring states, many organizations of Confederate veterans, sons of veterans, business bodies and thousands of private citizens.

The following message has been received from Secretary of War Root:

"Georgia and the country may well mourn the loss of a noble gentleman and most useful citizen."

PLUNGED DOWN SHAFT.

Eight Employees of Brown Shoe Factory Taken Out Dead.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 14.—A crowd of employees pressing against the elevator gate on the sixth floor of the Brown Shoe company's building, at Eleventh street and Washington avenue, caused the gate to give way, and ten persons were plunged down the shaft. Eight were taken out dead, and the other four, seriously injured, were hurried to the City hospital.

One of the injured died soon after reaching the hospital and without regaining consciousness.

The employees had assembled at the close of work in the corridors on the different floors waiting for the elevator to take them down. The elevator was at the seventh floor receiving passengers when those on the sixth floor, eager to get near the door and be the first to get into the cage, began to push toward the gate.

Suddenly the gate gave way just as the elevator started to descend, and ten of the employees plunged head first down the shaft.

Saved by a Microbe.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 14.—One tiny bacillus with a long name has intervened between Henry Foster and the hangman's noose. The microbe found its way into the wound of Thomas Gentleman of Fremont, whom Foster shot. Death followed as a matter of course, for the bacillus is deadly and is known to science as the bacillus diplocapulatus-aerogenes. The hospital surgeons at Fremont declared that Gentleman had one chance in a thousand of recovery. This chance was eliminated when the microbe appeared. Because of this the county attorney is compelled to withdraw his charge of murder in the first degree.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 14.—The porte has notified the Austria-Hungarian and Russian ambassadors of its full acceptance of the Macedonian reform scheme and of its consent to the repatriation of the Macedonian refugees, promising amnesty to all political prisoners with the exception of dynamiters. In conclusion the porte draws attention to the armament of Bulgaria and demands assurances that Bulgaria will not be permitted to nullify the work of reform.

Philippine Tax on Silver Money.

MANILA, Jan. 14.—A supplemental act was proposed at the public discussion of the currency question by which a tax will be imposed upon all written contracts made payable in Mexican, Spanish or Spanish-Filipino coins and upon all other metallic moneys not upon a gold basis in circulation in the islands. It also will require the payment of a license tax by all firms conducting commercial business wholly or in part in said currency.

Pensions For Teachers.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 14.—Provisions for the establishment of a general pension fund for teachers in the public school system of the state are made in a measure presented to the senate by Senator Bailey. The bill will not apply to first class cities or other cities which choose to pension their teachers to an amount equivalent to that provided by this proposed law.

ADVANTAGES OF PAID FIRE DEPARTMENT

Volunteer System in the Borough Said to be More Expensive in the Long Run.

A CITIZEN'S ARGUMENT

A NEW APPARATUS NEEDED IN ANY EVENT.

West End Would be a Call Company Horses Not Required at Present —Salaries to be Paid the Regular Firemen.

It has been stated by advocates of a volunteer fire department in North Plainfield that a paid system will be an expensive luxury and that for that reason many of the tax payers are in favor of a continuation of the present fire fighting force. That a paid department will not be any more expensive than the present plan is the claim made by an official of the borough yesterday. The question of cost has been fully considered and the North Plainfield Council is of the opinion that a paid fire department would be cheaper than the present volunteer system.

"When it is considered," said the official in question, "that many tax payers are called upon each year by the volunteer firemen for subscriptions to balls, fairs, bazaars and parades, and the loss of property occasioned by lack of proper dicipline at fires, a paid system properly officered would in the long run be cheaper."

"Many have advanced the argument," said he, "that if a paid system is secured for the borough, a new equipment would be necessary. This does not stand to reason. It is generally admitted that outside of the West End Company's apparatus new apparatus is sorely needed and it is only a question of time when new wagons and, perhaps, a new engine will have to be secured. These would have to be gotten even if the volunteer system is continued. A new truck will have to be secured at some later date, but this too would have to be purchased whether a paid department was incorporated or not."

At present the Chief of the fire department in North Plainfield gets a salary of $150, the electrician $—, and the janitors receive small compensations. Continuing the boroughite said: "A chief of the paid department could be secured at small additional cost, which with his position of building inspector, and fire marshal would give him a good salary. It would not be necessary for him to devote all his time to the fire department. In Warren Engine Company there would practically be two regular men on duty at all hours. One man being in the engine house during the day time and one at night. Each of these could be secured at a cost of $40 a month."

"The West End Company would be made a call company, the Council buying its apparatus. It would be in charge of call men exclusively and arrangements will probably be made to have it respond to all fires within a certain district, probably that prescribed by the new fire ordinance."

"The matter of horses also comes up for discussion. The system followed will probably be that in use at present in which horses are rented; the first team arriving at the house, taking out the apparatus. This would be cheaper than buying horses. It is stated that as soon as the Warren Engine Company was located in the new quarters, it was to have applied for a team of horses, but the rental system appeals more to the economic councilmen as being the cheaper."

LOCAL COUNCIL, R. A., IN ITS NEW ROOMS

Celebrated the Beginning of a New Era by Entertainment and Banquet.

SEVERAL ADDRESSES

ELLIOT BURR, RETIRING COLLECTOR, PRESENTED WITH CHAIN AND CHARM.

Vaudeville Sketches by New York Talent Kept Members Amused— New Rooms Are Ones Used by Local Lodges of Odd Fellows.

The members of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, took possession of their new rooms in the Babcock building, last night, the occasion marking the beginning of a new era in the history of this Council The new rooms are those used by the local lodges of Odd Fellows and are considered among the best-appointed in the city. There was a large attendance of members and many friends to enjoy the most excellent programme presented.

Rev. Dr. Rodman made the address of welcome, in which he gave a few interesting facts concerning the Royal Arcanum and its growth during the last twenty-seven years. He extended to all a hearty welcome. Then followed the entertainment of the evening by "Foster's Funny Fellows," of New York. There were three of them, Mr. Simmons, who gave character sketches and sang several topical songs; Mr. Readner, a sketch artist, who drew amusing pictures with crayon on paper. The third artist presided at the piano, accompanying his companions. The work of all three was clever and kept the audience convulsed with laughter.

Following the entertainment all adjourned to the banquet room, where W. W. Warnock, the caterer, served a collation. The rest of the evening was spent in listening to short addresses by Grand Secretary Albert, of Jersey City; Rev. Mr. Love, orator Plainfield Council, and Rev. Dr. Rodman, also of the local Council, and Supervising Deputy Krennell, of Cranford.

A pleasant feature of this speech-making was the presentation to Elliot Burr, the retiring collector, a gold watch chain with a diamond studded Royal Arcanum charm. Orator Love made the speech which led up to the presentation, and Dr. Rodman presented the token. Mr. Burr expressed his hearty appreciation and thanked one and all for the beautiful gift. In conclusion other remarks were made by some of the officers.

This committee was in charge of the entertainment and other details: Robert H. Lowry, chairman; Edward T. VanWinkle, D. W. Littell, Fred'k J. Pope and Clarence Goss, regent of Plainfield Council.

CHIEF ORDERS FIRE ESCAPES

PROPERTY OWNERS VIOLATING ORDINANCE MUST COMPLY AT ONCE.

Chief of the Fire Department T. O. Doane has given notice to all property owners who are violating ordinances in regard to fire protection that they must put proper fire escapes on their buildings at once. He stated this morning that the number of property owners in the city who are at fault is not great, most of the violations coming in the case of buildings which have been long unoccupied. In case of accident, following neglect to provide fire escapes approved by the building inspector, the owner of the building becomes liable for damage.

The Central Theatre has been provided with all the means of safety in case of fire as ordered by Building Inspector Doane.

EXCUSES FOR NOT BUILDING BRIDGE

Representative of Company Tells Freeholders Why the Structure is Delayed.

MORE TIME IS GRANTED

STRIKES AND HIGH PRICE OF MATERIAL THE ALLEGED CAUSES.

Claim Made That Condition of the Weather Prevents Laying Masonry for Girders—Temporary Bridge Over Green Brook.

More time has been granted the Dover Boiler Works, which has the contract for the erection of an iron bridge across Green brook at Giraud avenue. The Boards of Freeholders of Union and Somerset Counties met yesterday afternoon in the water company's office on North avenue and a representative of the company explained why the delay had taken place in shipping the iron. Strikes and labor difficulties were his reasons, together with the high price of materials and difficulty in securing transportation.

It was reported that the girders had arrived and were on the site of the bridge and that work would be commenced at once towards arranging for a temporary structure until the bridge can be built.

The company claims that cold weather has made it impossible to lay masonry on which to place the girders but when pressed to do something by both boards the company's representative stated that by next Wednesday a temporary structure will be built over which teams may pass. It will be necessary to wait until spring before the work on the permanent structure can be done.

The full boards of both counties were present at the meeting with their counsel. Another meeting will be held at the call of the chairman of the bridge committees of the two Boards.

Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINMENT GOOD

IMPERSONATION OF CHARACTERS IN "THE LITTLE MINISTER."

James Matthew Barrie's appealing story of "The Little Minister" and his trials and tribulations with the wayward Babbie was reproduced last night at the Y. M. C. A. large hall by Albert Armstrong, a well known impersonator, of New York city. It was the fifth entertainment in the Star Course and drew a large audience.

The scenes in the book were pictured in beautifully colored views presenting the familiar figures of Gavin Dishart, Babbie, the doctor, Nannie and all the rest, much as one had imagined them. There was a continuity in the views that lent much added attraction to the story recited by Mr. Armstrong, whose expressive voice was well adapted to reveal the varied character creations of Mr. Barrie.

Something of the simple strength of the story, its grace and beauty and purity of sentiment, Mr. Armstrong's readings were able to impart. One was almost as much interested as in reading the book or seeing the play. The whole story was brought vividly to mind, though necessarily many of the incidents were omitted. The natural colors of the Scottish scenes surrounding the figures in the story made the whole production realistic. It was in every way an excellent entertainment.

"HEAP BIG INJUNS" IN JAIL

THE NOBLE REDSKINS OF WETUMPKAH TRIBE IMPRISONED IN LODGE ROOM.

After the chiefs of Wetumpkah Tribe had been raised up last night and after the noble redmen had feasted bountifully on corn and venison, they prepared to return to their respective wigwams. But the way was blocked. They were besieged. Surrounding on all sides by unrelenting walls there appeared no escape. For one of their number, Clarence Mead, had turned the key in the door of the lodge room, which is in the Coward building, and snapped it off in such a way as to imprison the redskins effectually.

By hammering on the door and raising their voices in warwhoops and catcalls for the space of more than an hour, the unhappy and subdued warriors were able to attract the attention of J. B. Coward, the owner of the building, who took the door off by the hinges, and thereby raised the blockade.

"Heap cuss," said the noble chiefs as they made their exit and filed after the manner of their kind to their own campfires.

FIGHT OVER THE BIRD WILL

SURROGATE IN NEW YORK RESERVES DECISION—BEING TWO TESTAMENTS.

The contest over the estate of William Bird, who died at Dunellen on December 20, leaving an estate valued at a quarter of a million dollars, came up in New York, Wednesday, when one of the wills left by Mr. Bird was offered for probate. The other will is on file at the Surrogate's office in New Brunswick and the hearing on it has been set down for Feb. 18.

Major Harrison Kerr Bird, military secretary to Governor Odell, whose residence is given as New York, filed a will in New York, executed by his father on April 4 last, by which he is appointed sole executive This will leaves the son all his property.

Constant M. Bird, of Larchmont, and Joseph Bird, of Dunellen, both object to the probate of this will, saying that it is not the last will, and was obtained by fraud and undue influence on the part of Harrison K. Bird or someone else. They contend that a will filed in New Brunswick, making a more general contribution of the estate, is the valid testament. Surrogate Fitzgerald, who heard the case, reserved decision on the point of the priority of the wills.

An exhibition of a patent covered coal car will be given tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the freight house on South Second street, near Plainfield avenue, by J. M. Hetfield, of this city, the patentee, and J. D. Loizeaux, William R. Codington and J. TenEyck, who with Mr. Hetfield control the device.

The covering is designed to prevent coal from freezing in the cars in transit and to prevent the snow and ice from collecting in the dumping apparatus. The car will be sent to the coal mines in Pennsylvania where a thorough test of it will be made.

HORSE KILLED.

J. T. Vail Lost $750 by Accident on East Second Street Last Night.

A horse belonging to J. T. Vail, of East Second street, was struck by a trolley car at the corner of Hunter avenue and Second street last night and killed. The animal became frightened by the upsetting of the sleigh which he was backing into the driveway next to fire headquarters and bolted down Second street. The sleigh was wrecked. It is understood that a suit against the street railway company will be brought by Mr. Vail. Both horse and sleigh were of considerable value, the loss being set at $700, half of which is for the sleigh.

THE CLUB'S HISTORY

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR "LADIES NIGHT" FOR NEXT WEEK.

List of Original Officers and Members and Present Organization— Various Entertainments Given— Twenty-Six Members Now.

The members of the I. C. T. Club will meet for the discussion of important business tomorrow night. Arrangements will be made for a "ladies' night" next Thursday and for the anniversary masquerade ball Thursday, February 11.

The anniversary will be the second since the club's founding in 1902, with nine active and seven honorary members. The active members were George Apgar, Charles Suhr, Howard Drake, Evart Leighton, who lost his life in the Westfield wreck, Joseph Bowlby, Charles Peterson, Irving Mills, Charles T. Overbaugh and V. W. Nash, Jr. Of the nine, only two still continue as active members, V. W. Nash, Jr., and Charles Suhr. Three of the original members have become benedicts, Messrs. Peterson, Overbaugh and Mills.

The first president of the club was V. W. Nash, Jr., who was largely instrumental in its founding. Mr. Nash served until last month when he resigned and was succeeded by Leonce Texier. The club is noted for the successful "functions" it has managed. Fairs and a circus, color dance, country dances, masquerade balls and straw rides are a few of the affairs that give an idea of the variety of entertainment afforded the club members and their friends.

The club has at one time or another been represented by basket ball, football and baseball teams. Its present membership list includes twenty-six names.

As at present organized, the club has these officers: President, Leonce Texier; vice president, William Walters; secretary, Arthur Caleen; treasurer, Raymond McVoy; sergeant of arms, Harry Flannery.

BURIED AT HER OLD HOME

FUNERAL SERVICES OVER MRS. ELIZABETH SMALLEY AT SCOTCH PLAINS.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Elizabeth Smalley, of Buffalo, N. Y., who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cora Loper, at Cleveland, O., Monday, were held in the Scotch Plains Baptist church yesterday afternoon. A touching tribute to the departed was the large attendance of old friends who had known Mrs. Smalley during her residence here, nearly twenty years ago. At that time both she and her husband, the late L. H. K. Smalley, were prominent workers in the Baptist church, Mr. Smalley being a deacon of the church for a number of years. The dead woman was 68 years of age; was baptised into the local church April 12, 1857, and had been interested in its works since that time, although after her removal from the village she placed her card in the First Baptist church of Newark. Rev. G. M. Shott, pastor of the church, had charge of the services yesterday, taking for his text "The Shortness of Life." A comparison was drawn to the weaver's shuttle, which soon runs out. During his remarks he spoke of the departed as one who had only several earthly ties to go on before to the reward of the faithful. Interment was made in the family plot in the cemetery adjoining the church. The dead woman is survived by two daughters, one at Cleveland and another at Buffalo.

Injured by a Fall.

James Welch, of Madison avenue, is among the victims of the slippery sidewalks of the past day or two. He fell yesterday on the corner of Madison avenue and West Fourth street, and besides wrenching his back and cutting his face wrecked a case of mounted birds which he was carrying.

Mr. Peterson Buried.

Isaac D. Peterson, who died Tuesday at Muhlenberg Hospital, was buried yesterday from Bethel chapel, Rev. F. D. Tildon, the pastor, having charge of the service. The brothers of the dead man were pall bearers.

DUNELLENITE KILLED BY A DRILL ENGINE

John Schenck Cut in Two in the Jersey City Freight Yards of Erie Road.

HE DIED IN A HOSPITAL

FUNERAL SERVICES TO BE HELD AT DUNELLEN TOMORROW NIGHT.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schenck Aged Thirty-Five Years — How the Accident Happened—Mother at His Death Bed.

Cut in two by the wheels of the drill engine at the Jersey City yards of the Erie Railroad, John Schenck's body lays at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schenck, in Dunellen. The accident happened Wednesday afternoon while the unfortunate man was superintending the shifting of freight cars, and he lived long enough to see his mother, who had been telegraphed for. He died in a hospital at Jersey City Wednesday night.

For fifteen years Mr. Schenck had been connected with the Erie road. He began his railroad career as a brakeman on a freight train and worked his way up until he was given the position of yard master at Jersey City. While performing his duties Wednesday afternoon Schenck gave the signal for the train to approach a switch and as was his custom he jumped on a rear step, as the cars flew past. Ice was on the step but he did not notice it until he fell directly in the path of the train as it entered the switch.

He made a frantic effort to recover his hold but his feet caught in the "frog" and the entire train passed over his abdomen.

He was taken in an ambulance to the hospital where it was seen that he could not live and his mother, who lives in Dunellen, was summoned. She arrived at his bedside a few minutes before the end came.

The dead man was thirty-five years old and was born in the vicinity of Somerville. He celebrated his birthday at his home with his mother, on Christmas Day. He was a brother of Miss Matilda Schenck, of Woodhull & Martin's store and is also a relative of Edward Vail, of fire headquarters.

While the funeral arrangements have not been completed yet it has been planned to hold the funeral services tomorrow night at 7 o'clock from his late residence in Dunellen and the interment will be in the family plot in Somerville, Sunday morning.

NARROWLY ESCAPED DEATH

STRIKING A MATCH WHEN GAS WAS LEAKING CAUSED AN EXPLOSION.

The explosion of a gas range in one of the rooms adjoining the banquet hall used by Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, last night, caused great excitement in the Babcock building. Persons in various parts of the building heard the terrific noise and at first thought the elevator had suddenly dropped from one of the upper stories to the bottom.

W. W. Warnock, together with some of his assistants and a few members of the Council were in the banquet room. Mr. Warnock was preparing the coffee. He had just placed a boiler of water on the range and turned away when David Thomas, one of his helpers struck a match to light a jet. Instantly an explosion followed and only by hair-breadth escape was Thomas saved from fatal injury. He shut off the flow of gas at once, preventing a fire.

The range went all to pieces. The boiler resting on it was demolished and the water caused a deluge. It is believed that the gas had been turned on in the oven of the range and that the igniting of a match caused the explosion. A flying piece of steel damaged a considerable part of the wall, but otherwise there was no loss except the destruction of the range.

Second Accident.

Fred E. Smith, Jr., of West Fourth street, who several weeks ago met with an accident which dislocated his shoulder, is again passing through the severe pain. A few days ago when the arm was removed from the splints, the young man fell again, causing a repetition of the former accident. It will be some time before he will have the use of the arm.

DEMOCRATS BLOCK A HEARST BOOM

Plainfield Club Adopts Resolutions Favoring Any Candidate Who is Named.

HEARST MEN ACTIVE

A MASS-MEETING TO BE HELD IN REFORM HALL SOON.

Officers Elected—Year Book to be Issued—Swackhamer to Address Democrats Here — Ninety Per Cent. of Members Favor Hearst.

So strong has become the sentiment for William Randolph Hearst in the Plainfield Democratic Club that some of the influential men in the organization have been busily engaged devising some scheme to prevent his endorsement at this early day and they say that they have finally succeeded, a resolution adopted at the annual meeting last night putting the club on record as favoring "such candidates for office as will represent the masses." This resolution was introduced for the sole purpose of staving off any endorsement of Hearst, some of the more conservative members believing that the Democrats should await the action of their National convention.

According to one member, the club is almost unanimously composed of Hearst men, at least ninety per cent. favoring his nomination for President. "There is no need of organizing a Hearst Club here," said this man, "for the newspaper man already has the strongest sort of an organization in the Democratic Club." There was not a single voice for Parker, Cleveland, Hill, Gorman, McClellan or Bryan at last night's meeting, but the radical Hearst people, led by Frank J. Shattle, were enthusiastic for the New York Congressman.

J. V. Y. Dilts was re-elected president at last night's meeting and Frank J. Shattle was chosen secretary. H. W. Marshall was re-elected treasurer. Plans for a permanent club house were discussed. There are several sites under consideration. One of these is the old Council chambers in the Coward building and another is in the Marsh building. Neither of these exactly suit the members and they are hunting for other places.

The Democrats intend holding a mass meeting in Reform Hall during the latter part of February or the beginning of March, the object being to stir up Democratic enthusiasm for the fall campaign, it being argued that now is the time to get the party's men to work. Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer will be the speaker.

A year book, containing the by-laws, a sketch of the club and National and State issues will shortly be issued. The committee consists of Vincent Frasee, chairman; Andrew J. Nolan, J. V. F. Dilts and F. J. Shattle.

UNITY LODGE ELECTS.

T. C. Smith Chosen Chancellor Commander of a Local Pythian Lodge.

Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., met last night and elected these officers for the ensuing term: Chancellor commander, T. C. Smith; vice chancellor, William Schloss; prelate, William A. Dow; master-at-arms, George Dean; keeper of records and seals, Frank Putnam; master of finance, Horace J. Martin; master of exchequer, Samuel H. Humpston; master of work, Eugene V. Lorton; inside guard, J. W. A. Bauersachs; outside guard, Charles E. Harris; trustee, three years, T. C. Smith; representative of Grand Lodge, J. W. A. Bauersachs; alternate, James Stansfield.

After the election the officers were installed by Deputy Grand Chancellor McGinley. The trustees announced that the rooms of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, on East Front street, have been leased and that on and after February 1 the lodge will meet every Thursday night, according to the by-laws of the order.

Birthday Party.

A birthday surprise party was given to Allen Coddington at his home in Somerset place, last night, when many relatives and friends were present to help him celebrate. Games and other forms of amusement made the evening a pleasant one and a bounteous supper was served. The affair was arranged by Mrs. Coddington.

—For the convenience of patrons of the store, Woodhull & Martin have had a large canopy placed in front of the main entrance to the store. It extends to the gutter.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

For candy that is fresh, that is delicious, that is healthful, there is but one place to go. H. Mehrten's, East Front street.

Herman Hansen does fine carpenter work at most reasonable prices. Best work done at shortest notice. Let him figure on any contract work you may have. He can save you money.

Charles L. Stanley, the North avenue florist, makes a specialty of house decorating. He has an unusual assortment of fine cut flowers and winter greens. Spring garden work figured on.

If you contemplate papering or painting your house let I. N. Wyckoff, of West Front street, estimate on the work. He can help you to select the proper shades in papers and paint colors and will do the work right.

When you have anything you want moved give William Hand & Son, of East Second street, the contract. This firm is an expert in this business and the greatest care is taken in the handling of all goods entrusted to its care.

There are three reasons why John P. Powers conducts the most popular drug store in town: First, courteous treatment of customers; second, care in filling prescriptions, and third his complete stock of toilet articles, candies, perfumes and cigars.

While you are buying furniture, why not buy the best, so long as you can get the best at such reasonable rates at Powlison & Jones' store on East Front street. You can't buy any better furniture in New York, and you get the biggest and best assortment in New Jersey at Powlison & Jones.

When you purchase handware or kitchen utensils it is quite necessary to patronize a first class store, one with a reputation such as A. M. Griffen on East Front street. For years Mr. Griffen has conducted this business in a manner that has brought him liberal patronage. You make no mistake in trading here.

In these days when there is so much cheap and worthless goods in the market it is a pleasure to trade at Woodhull & Martin's handsome store, where the goods are of the best quality and represent the products of standard houses in this country. You will find the same high grade maintained in every department from that of the housefurnishing to the fine laces and embroideries. You always receive full value and every customer is a satisfied one. A place worth visiting at the store is the department devoted to carpets, rugs, awnings and shades. This is on the second floor easy of access. The stock is an especially attractive one.

LITERARY.

Mr. Bryan's Demeanor Abroad is treated with forced and persistent laughter by those organs in the press which happen to be his political opponents. Is this application of the partisan spirit altogether necessary? Mr. Bryan's conduct on the other side has been admirable, and has been properly appreciated by his hosts. He has behaved not as a politician, with certain principles to exploit, but as a serious American, interested in all he could learn about other governments and glad to discuss his own country with as little bias as might be. He will probably come back with less of the feeling that it is his duty, or his necessity, to see only one side of many-sided questions. Foreigners have enjoyed him because he was representative of fresh Western Americanism, and, at least in casual relations, they are more likely to enjoy that type than the cultivated Eastern type, which is more like themselves. They breathe freshness from a man like Mr. Bryan, and he learns intellectual ripeness and tolerance from them.—Collier's Weekly.

Miss Mary Cain, of Raritan, has returned from a visit with Plainfield relatives.

Miss Ella Wyckoff, of this city, who has been visiting friends in Newark, have returned home.

Miss Ethel Jamison, of Basking Ridge, has been visiting Plainfield friends for a short time.

Mrs. Mary Stevens, of Watchung avenue, has returned from Raritan, where she has been visiting the Misses Gallagher.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

The principal railroads of the country have determined that the ticket broker and scalper shall not profit at their expense during the World's Fair at St. Louis next year, and to that end the Central Passenger Association, in whose territory St. Louis is located, has requested the Fair management to aid in the matter, under penalty of having higher passenger rates to St. Louis during the Fair. In the absence of any anti-scalping law in Missouri, the method to be pursued in preventing the sale of tickets is by injunction. This plan was pursued by the Pennsylvania and other railroads during the Grand Army encampment in Washington several years ago. It was explained by General Passenger Agent Boyd, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, that this method of preventing ticket scalping had been pursued in various States where there was no law on the subject. The St. Louis World's Fair managers are expected to aid in securing the co-operation of the Courts in preventing the manipulation of the low-rate tickets which the railroads contemplate issuing.

Among the distinguished soldiers who will attend the 38th anniversary of the Veteran Zouaves at General Drake's home, in Elizabeth, Monday evening, will be Judge J. O. Julius Langbein, of New York city, the present vice commander of the Medal of Honor Legion. Judge Langbein, who served several terms in the New York Legislature, and who was subsequently elected justice of the Seventh Judicial District in New York city, enlisted, in 1861, in the Hawkins' Zouaves, at the age of 13 years, and served throughout the war. He was presented with a Congressional medal of honor for saving the life of an officer in a desperate battle under a terrible fire of the enemy.

Defense of the Robin.

If all the robins of the State were destroyed, Professor Scott says, cherry, apple, peach and pear trees and strawberry vines would be overrun with insects which the birds now eat and the resultant damage to the growers would be incalculable. What the fruit growers need, he says, is more insectivorous birds, not less.—Hoboken Observer.

The robin, which the agriculturists and horticulturists would slaughter during its nesting season, is said to be the only one of our native small birds that contends with and drives off the obnoxious English sparrow. For that alone he is entitled to our protection, and residents in the cities will prefer that he be rewarded, rather than put on the blacklist.—Trenton Evening Times.

AMUSEMENTS.

Children and women have a feeling of safety in the Majestic where the pleasing extravaganza "Babes in Toyland" is drawing the crowds, because they can see the exits at every hand. The little ones and their elders are this week enjoying a new stanza which has been added to the catchy song "Put Down Six and Carry Two," the new one runs as follows:

If a man who raised some cotton
Had also raised some corn,
And had also raised some whiskers
That the wind blew through each morn.
If he also raised some rabbits,
And shamrocks that are red,
How much would John D. pay him
To raise hair upon his head.

The most successful productions presented in New York during the past three seasons have been Klaw & Erlanger's Drury Lane spectacles, the greatest of which, "Mother Goose," is now drawing wonderfully large and enthusiastic audiences to the New Amsterdam Theatre. The secret of the success of these remarkable attractions, if it be a secret, is that each has given the auditor his money's worth of wholesome and unusually novel amusement. The specialties are numerous, entirely new and original and cleverly interpolated, the music is fascinating, appealing particularly to the popular taste, and the two ballets, "L'Art Nouveau" and "The Land of Hearts-ease," represent the most gorgeous and artistic conceptions in ballot features ever seen on the American stage.

Smoot must skoot or get the boot.

Wonderful how many persons know all about the war between Russia and Japan—which may not occur.

"Laughing Water" succeeds "Hiawatha." Can't Governor Murphy suggest some way to rid the country of this evil.

Judging from the past, probably the wisest thing to be done by the present Legislature will be to make an agreement to adjourn.

It is all well enough for the party's leaders to swear allegience to Theodore Roosevelt, but pray tell us who is paying for all this "literature" which discredits him and places Hanna in the hall of fame.

About the poorest paid persons in the country are the public school teachers and Jersey furnishes no exception to the rule. The future of the country is largely in their keeping, inasmuch as to them is assigned the duty of training the minds which in the next generation will govern the greatest nation on earth. To liberally reward the school teacher is merely discharging a patriotic duty. A bill has been presented in the New York Legislature to pension teachers. Give them their due while they are at work and they will need no pension when incapitated.

Shall I tell you how advertising is one of the greatest economies of the age, how it threatens by its very power of economy? Men say that the cost of advertsiing must be added to the goods and so be a charge on the purchaser. That is undeniable. Far back in the centuries and far across the desert sands I see the camels being loaded with spices and fruits, the handwrought wares. The caravan is starting. With slow steps between armed guards it winds across the uninhabited stretches of the Far East and at ten times the cost of money and twenty times the waste in time that would be needed now it conveys to Egypt the merchandise of Nineveh. Now, John Wanamaker may not be as wise as Solomon, but he can put an advertisement in the morning papers and sell more goods before noon of the same day than all of those camels could carry to market in two months. —Artemas Ward on the National Debt to Advertising.

WOODHULL & MARTIN.

WE are more than pleased with the evidences of approval, on the part of our patrons and the public in general, of our action in regard to the trading stamp inducement. It is hardly necessary to state that we were opposed to this plan. In fact, were strongly prejudiced, but as previously indicated, we are here to supply you with just what you desire. In adopting premium inducements, we spared no pains to obtain that which is most satisfactory and reliable. In presenting to the public the famous "Sperry & Hutchinson" Green Trading Stamps it is with a firm conviction that we are offering the best thing possible in the way of a trade inducement.

DANCE AT CASINO.

Criterion Club's Enjoyable Affair Largely Attended.

The first dance given by the Criterion Club, since it reorganized was held last night at the Casino. An unusually large number of people from this city and out of town made it a successful affair. The music was by Westervelt, of Newark.

The dance was conducted on lines appropriate to leap year. Many of the women present called for their escorts in carriages and took them to the dance, and escorted them home after the last waltz. A feature of the dance was the selections sung by the Myrtle double quartette, consisting of members of the club. In charge of the arrangements was this committee: Harry DeMeza, Louis Gardner, Albert Clark and Clarence Brokaw, assisted by a committee of the whole.

Injured by a Fall.

Charles R. Vardon, of Watchung avenue, met with a painful accident Wednesday night, when he made a mis-step and fell down stairs at his home. He cut his nose, causing it to bleed profusely and he also dislocated his shoulder blade. Dr. Tomlinson was obliged to take six stitches to close up the laceration of the nose.

Whist at Park Club.

The women members of the Park Club enjoyed the regular afternoon play at whist, yesterday, when the usual pleasant features helped to make the affair one of interest to all. There were nine tables and duplicate whist was played, after which light refreshments were served.
